MY MOTHER-IN-LAW.

I have dropped from the ranks of respectable men,
I have ceased to be counted with them
Who seem ashamed to perform, now and then,
What their best inclinations propose.
I have bowed all my manhood contemptibly low;
I'm a comb in an eagle's fierce claw;
I am sunk in the depths of dejection, for oh!
I have married my mother-in-law

She is exactly six feet in her stature erect,
She is enough proportion besides,
And her temper no earthly emotion can curb;
All sentiment is at once overrides.
From the moment I wedded sweet Mary, indeed,
With increasing depression I saw
That till death interfered I should be but a reed
In the hands of my mother-in-law.

She assumes all control of my household affairs:
She discharges fly servants at will;
She commands me to silence by her gorgon-like stares;
She reviews my grocery bill!
She involves me in quarrels by doubting my facts,
Till the customers I monthly withdraw;
And my children, to me distinguished, are wax
In the hands of my mother-in-law.

And since she cohabitates near Mary was born
Both to brighten by her special decree,
And he dotes with all phases of physic forlorn,
From blue pill to concoctile tea!
She deprives her of sweets, and ordains wheaten grits
She subjects her to steaks nearly raw;
And in equal degree her digestion and wits
Are destroyed by my mother-in-law.

For myself, she asserts, if I stay out till ten,
Then I've decency grossly defied,
She recalls her late spouse as a model of men—
Is it strange the unhappy wretch died?
Poor Prometheus once, as old chronicles tell,
An insatiate vulture did gnaw;
Yet I fancy that bird was a mere bagatelle
When compared with my mother-in-law.

But—of course, as you're doubtless aware, I'm a fool
To submit to her away so I do,
I should certainly end her detestable rule
By a bold and indictible coup!
So I've half a mind stand dat to pour down my throat
Many drinks that will conquer my woe,
And afford me Dutch courage to take off my coat
And to wallop my mother-in-law!

Should There be a Dissolution and General Election?

Sir John A. Macdonald's friends are anxiously pressing it on Mr. Mackenzie that as the Reformers have lost several isolated elections since 1874, it is his duty to dissolve the House at once and to appeal to the people. The result of the contests in the two Ontarios is held to put his duty in this respect beyond doubt, and the example of Mr. Gladstone, who dissolved the House and appealed to the people while he still had a majority in the Commons, is appealed to as one that Mr. Mackenzie should follow. In their zeal to have another chance at the polls before the proper and constitutionally limited time comes, our Tories forget the difference between Mr Gladstone's position and that of Mr. Mackenzie. Mr. Gladstone had already been defeated on his most important Government departure, and his majority had by a great number of isolated defeats in the country, and by defections from his followers in the Commons, become so small and unreliable that he felt he could no longer have any confidence in his power to control legislation in Parliament. He consequent[illegible] appealed to the country in the hope that it would punish the Backbenders, and restore to him his controlling majority. The country, however, not failed to do so, but gave the majority to his opponents, wherupon Mr. Gladstone resigned. Now, Mr. Mackenzie's position is nothing at all like this. The great test of party strength last session was on the motion of want-of-confidence moved by Mr. Mackenzie Bowell with reference to the steel rails purchase. It was at once accepted by the government as a want-of-confidence motion, as indeed, it could not but be, and the result on this understanding, when the vote was taken, was as follows:

Votes for Government	124
Votes for Opposition	54
Government majority	70

Or considerably over two to one for the Government. Since then the Government have lost the two Ontarios, which makes a big difference of four votes on a division. So that in case of a like motion of want-of-confidence being brought forward next session in a like House the vote will be as follows:

For the Government	122
For the Opposition	54
Government majority	66

It is then when Mr. Mackenzie has as his supporters more than two members in the House to every one Sir John has—when he has a majority that sweeps everything before it—that Sir John's friends have the impudence of demand from him a dissolution and an appeal to the country on account, as they are pleased to say, of his weakness. Were it not that their victory in Ontario has turned their heads and robbed them of what little common sense they ever had, they must see the folly of asking the Premier to violate the rules of constitutional practice by asking for a dissolution in the face of such a state of things. Indeed, if he were so foolish as to ask for it, the Governor-General would be unfaithful to the duties of his position were he to grant it—in fact, he could not grant it. Imagine the interview:

Mr. Mackenzie—I desire from Your Excellency a dissolution and a general election.

Governor-General—Why? Have you been defeated in the Commons on any important Government measure?

Mr. Mackenzie—No. We have carried everything we brought forward with the greatest ease, and defeated motions of want of confidence with large majorities.

Governor-General—Has anything happened since the session to make you believe that when the House meets again your majority will be so small that you cannot carry on the Government?

Mr. Mackenzie—By no means. The figures show that we will have a majority of two to one on all government questions.

Governor-General—Has any new question arisen since last session on which it is necessary you should receive new instructions from the people.

Mr. Mackenzie—No. The questions to be dealt with remain the same, that though a small opposition composed the Pacific Railway policy, yet they do not profess to have any policy of their own on which a direct issue could be taken. They find fault, but suggest nothing definite themselves.

Governor-General—Then, in the light of constitutional practice and [illegible] on what grounds do you propose agitating the country with a new election seeing that you have an overwhelming majority in the House and have no new issue to ask the people's opinion upon?

Mr. Mackenzie—Why, by the Ontario election we have lost two votes out of a majority of 70, and Sir John Macdonald through his newspaper says I ought to have a dissolution at once in consequence of the loss of those two votes.

Governor-General—Sir John is an ass for talking such nonsense, and you are another for listening to it. There are no grounds for a dissolution and I will not grant it. The interview is over and I advise you to read up your constitutional law instead of muddling yourself with idiotic Mail articles.

Such would be in substance the result of any interview Mr. Mackenzie might have with Lord Dufferin for the purpose of securing a general election, as things now are. However, no such interview will take place. The temporary insanity of the Tories over their unexpected and undeserved victories will affect no one but themselves. The Reform party, both in the Commons and in the country, is still almost over weighed with its own size, and it will take the capture of some thirty more constituencies before the Tories can approach even a tie. If they make that gain within the next fifteen or twenty years—without a split in the Reform party, which is now less probable than it ever was before—they will do all they have a right to expect, and all we have reason to fear. Let them learn "to labor and to wait," more especially to wait.— Hamilton Times.

PETERBOROUGH, JULY 27, 1876

WATER WORKS.

We have felt some little difficulty in the discussion of this subject, arising out of the various interests and consequent costs to the town. It is admitted that the water in the central portions of the town is not at all fit for domestic uses, or at least not fit for all domestic uses. This must necessarily be the cases in all thickly occupied places. The citizens who live in such portions of the town complain of this want of pure water and ask that water works be constructed to supply pure water for their use. Hence arises the question: Will water from the river be sufficiently pure for all domestic purposes? On this we find a diversity of opinions. The out-and-out advocates of a system of water works say, yes, and point to other towns and cities where water is taken from rivers and used for all purposes. Montreal is referred to as one city that uses river water; but those who refer to Montreal and attempt to draw therefrom the idea that because water from the St. Lawrence, above Montreal, is good and may be used for all domestic purposes, forget that the St. Lawrence is an immense river. At the place referred to it has just passed over immense rapids, the very action of which is calculated to make the water better than if taken out of a comparatively small stream in the neighborhood of mill-ponds, where sawlogs, slabs, sawdust, and all kinds of vegetable productions have been and will continue to be, to the no small injury of the purity of the water taken therefrom. We are told, when objecting to the purity of the water, we can have a filter, or filters, but we have not been informed as to the cost of those filters, nor as to their absolute effect in purifying the water so as to make it fit for all domestic purposes. Bold assertions are made and we are asked to receive them as facts. This may satisfy the interested or confiding, but we fail to see the force of assertions not found on facts, and well established facts too. That pure water is a necessary of life and very much needed by those who live on or near George street, is admitted, but the question still remains unsettled, as to whether they would get pure water by constructing water works that would take the supply from the river?

Water for fire purposes is the next phase of this question. It is held by those on George Street, and in the thickly settled portions of the town, that in case of a large fire there is not water enough convenient and available to last over a few hours; and also that it is not now in the power of the fire company to apply it on all sides at once. The town is not as badly off as the advocates of water works represent. A discussion of this kind, a few years ago, cost the people of Peterboro thousands of dollars in increased insurance rates, and we do trust that the advocates of water works will this time be more careful. Reckless assertions may cost us one-half the price of a system of water works.

The Committee appointed at a late meeting of citizens to give a statement of comparative costs of obtaining water from the places spoken of, viz. Dickson's Dam and Hilliard's Mills, have met and will report soon, when we will have the result of their investigations.

They will report on both places, and, we understand, also on the cost of bringing water from Mud Lake.

The cost of piping will be the principal item, which, of course, depends on the weight of the piping. A ten in. pipe five-eighths of an inch thick weighs 65 pounds nearly, per foot, or 135¼ pounds per yd. This can be purchased just now at about 2½ cents per lb., or $4 88 per yard. The cost of laying must be added to this, and to all must be added the cost of machinery, &c. To bring water from Hilliard's mills, extending on eastern and western streets to Bethune street with six inch pipe, and on Brock, Hunter, Simcoe and Charlotte streets to Rubidge street will cost about $30,000, but if such a sum be talked of, a larger sum will be expended it not provided against absolutely. Hence the wisdom of carefulness at first, and as remarked in a late number of the EXAMINER, the wisdom of keeping extravagant men from having any connection with their construction—if proceeded with.

MUNICIPAL COURTESIES

On Thursday last the members of the Town Council accepted an invitation from Mr. H. Calcutt, owner of the steamer Golden-Eye, and Mr. Barber, of the Cobourg Railway, to visit the Town of Cobourg. They were accompanied by several other citizens and by M. Sanderson, Esq., member of the County Council, which body had also received an invitation. The Golden-Eye is a beautiful new fast sailing steamer placed on the Otonabee and Rice Lake waters by Mr. Calcutt with a view to daily communication with Cobourg. The day referred to we had the pleasure of a sail on her, and found her all that had been told us, she is very steady under even a stiff breeze, and very fast. At Campbellstown, James Miller, Esq., Reeve of Otonabee, was taken on board as representative of the County Council. The party arrived at Harwood, after calling at Gore's Landing, at 11 o'clock, and were soon on board the train which was in waiting. All arrived in Cobourg at 12 o'clock and were met at the station by Mayor Guillott and the members of the Town Council, and after formal introductions the whole party were placed in carriages and visited the principal places of that enterprising town. At 2:30 p.m. the party halted in front of the Arlington and were soon comfortably seated around a well laden table hastily got up, as notice of the intended visit had only been received the evening previous, but notwithstanding the short notice the spread did ample credit to "mine host" of the Arlington.

Ample justice being done to the good things so abundantly provided, the usual loyal and patriotic toasts were given by Mayor Guillott and received right loyally. The toast of "The Guests" was also warmly given and responded to by Mayor Toole, Councillors McClelland, Rutherford, and Mr. Edwards. After enjoying the hospitality of Cobourg, and engaging in interchange of their respective ideas on matters affecting both Municipalities, the party left at 5 o'clock p.m. and were soon on their way for Harwood, where they again were taken by the Golden-Eye and safely landed at home in about 3 hours and 30 minutes.

The visit was a delightful one. The Mayor and Council of our sister town did everything to make it pleasant and profitable. The principal places were visited and noted. The town contains many beautiful residences the grounds of which are artistically laid out and beautified. Those of John H. Dumble, Esq., his father, Wm. Kerr, Esq., M. P., Mr. Hargrave, M. P. P., Col. Chambliss and others whose owners have now slipped our memory, are very fine with beautiful grounds. Their Public School Buildings are very neat and of most modern design, but in educational matters Cobourg has long ranked among the first towns in Canada. The town is also aiding the Government in extending the harbor accommodation and piers. The Government paying two-thirds of the cost and the town one-third. When this work shall be completed the Cobourg harbor will be one of the best on the lake.

The Peterboro party returned home quite pleased with their visit, and no doubt benefitted. Mr. Calcutt extended an invitation to the town council of Cobourg to enjoy a trip, and Capt. Bottom offered to extend it to Bobcaygeon. It is expected to take place in about two weeks from that day. These courtesies, it is hoped, will lead to more united action in securing the speedy completion of the railway, and thus afford another outlet to the people of Peterboro and also additional trade to the people of Cobourg. This is much desired and it is hoped will not be long until realized.

WATER WORKS ON THE BRAIN

Our South end confrere is no little agitated over water works. This has become periodical with him, and may continue so, unless some other fancy takes its place. He is eminently a practical fanciful man. In his zeal to stand well before the ratepayers he tries to make it appear in last week's Review that we did not give a fair synopsis of his resolution, claiming that we added the words "this year" to it with intent to injure his standing and defeat this water works project. We have survived numerous attacks from the same source, and will this one also. But it is not strictly honest to accuse us of adding to his resolution when we did not pretend to give it verbatim, merely the intent of it.

Mr. Romaine did, however, advocate the immediate commencement of the works. He did advocate expending the sum of $30,000 now—at once, and afterwards completing the works, under his water works act that provides for expending $100,000. He did urge the immediate action of the town council to provide the money this year to purchase the iron piping and do what excavation and laying of pipe could be done. If once a beginning were made under this Act, Commissioners would follow, and then good-bye to economy,

Now, with all this advocacy plainly enough spoken, both by Mr. Romaine, Mr. Clinton and the Mayor, we could not be far astray in stating that they wished to expend the $30,000 this year. It is true that finding his original resolution would not pass on any terms, he did modify it and fixed the sum at $30,000. Yet we hesitate not to tell the Review it is dishonest in representing that he did not wish the $30,000 laid out this year. If possible, he was desirous it should be done at once. But to expect that our confrere would honestly and fairly discuss any matter, would be expecting that an impure source would send forth pure water. Just as reasonably may the people of Peterboro expect pure water out of the Otonabee River, unless well filtered.

Judge Wilson and the "Big Push" Letter

Under the above head, the Toronto Correspondent of the London Advertiser writes as follows:—

It is a somewhat interesting matter to determine the causes which have so effectually separated Mr. Brown and his sometime friend and follower. The story is long but its main points can be tolerably succinctly stated. Mr. Wilson was originally a member of the Conservative party, and nearly twenty years ago when he was a leading lawyer at Toronto Bar he, along with a good many others, resolved to cast in his lot with the Reformers. When the Double Shuffle was perperated in 1858, and by way of testing the legality of that famous quickstep some of the Tory Ministers or the Crown were prosecuted in the courts, Mr. Wilson was selected to conduct the cases against them; and showed considerable skill and ability in his way of handling it. As a Reformer he was chosen Mayor of Toronto, and as Mr. Brown reminds him in his critique of Saturday last, the hat was passed round freely and to some purpose in his behalf. At the general election of 1861 he ran for West Toronto as the colleague of Mr. Brown, who ran at the same time for the East. Both were defeated. Mr. Brown remained for some time out of public life, but a vacancy occuring in North York through death, if I am not mistaken, of a Mr. Hartman, Mr Wilson was elected for that constituency by the aid of Mr. Brown and the Globe. Shortly after that election the Conservative administration fell on its Militia Bill, and the Sandfield Macdonald Government came into power. In that Cabinet Mr. Wilson held the Solicitor General's portfolio. In 1863 the last Separate School Act was passed. It was introduced by Mr. R. W. Scott, a Conservative in Opposition, but it was supported by Mr. Sandfield Macdonald, who compelled Mr. Wilson and his colleagues to vote for it. For their action they were criticised severly by the Globe and their Reform supporters, and this criticism Mr. Wilson and some other of his colleagues, who were just as much indebted to that organ as he, never forgave. The Separate School vote compelled him to abandon North York as it compelled Mr. Macdonald to abandon North Oxford, the former oak refuge on the Beach, and the latter entered on the nomad life to which he has consistently adhered ever since. From that hour Judge Wilson became a soured man, and he has proved conclusively that if he can forget a favor conferred upon him he has an excellent memory for what he fancies to be the injuries he receives.

As a rule, I believe that Judges in contested election cases should be considered as above criticism. But where a Judge's decisions are all in one political direction, a coincidence so singular can hardly fail to cause remarks. Without imputing political motives to Mr. Wilson on my own account, I am free to state that no Liberal member or his lawyer ever goes before him on an election case without misgiving.

There is here, too, a very general conviction that some part of the feeling he has manifested is due to disappointment at not being promoted to the Chief Justiceship, which, fortunately for Mr. Blake who appointed him, for the Court of Queen's Bench which he adorns, and for the administration of Justice in this Province, was recently conferred upon Mr. Harrison, an honorable Conservative, and a man of ability and learning.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

COUNCIL.—Council met June 29th at the call of the Reeve. Present the Reeve and Councillors Birney, Brownscombe and Leary. Minutes of last meeting read and signed. Petitions read and received from Trustees of S. S. No. 2 praying that the Council would pass a Bylaw empowering them to borrow the sum of $230 for the purpose of making certain improvements on the school house and appendages—By-law passed. From Matthew J. Johnston and others praying that a certain By-law passed by the Council opening up a public highway across lots 9 and 10 in the 10th concession of the township, which is now found to be very difficult to construct, would be changed to one named by them whereby said difficulties would to a very great extent be removed and a better route secured. In connection with the above Matthew Johnston and John Whitfield guaranteed giving free of any expense to the Municipality the right of way through their lands. Mr Eyres said that Dr. Kincaid would also do the same. By-law No. 243 was repealed and By-law No. 245 favoring the object named by petioners received two readings. The following orders were made on the Treasurer: Mr. Rowe $8 for 80 loads gravel, Mr. G. Howden $3 for cedars, plank and nails for culvert on his road division, Mr. Edwards and Mr. Carver $3 each for services as auditors for accounts of 1875. Councillors Leary and Birney were empowered to make such repairs as they considered necessary on the bridge at Foster's Creek. Council adjourned.—COM.

COBOURG.

ORGAN FACTORY.—Our citizens will be pleased to learn that another manufactory and source of employment is about being established in town. We refer to the fact that Mr. O. O. Benson is about to commence the manufacture of parlor and other organs here, and that he is now fitting up as a temporary manufactory, but expects to have one of the new shops about to be erected on King street, when finished Mr. Benson has manufactured some of the best organs in Canada, and expects to do a large business here when he gets his factory and music store in full running order.

PORT HOPE.

PASS HIM ROUND.—The following resolution speaks for itself. "Whereas it has come to the knowledge of the Ottawa Baptist Church from various reliable sources, that Mr. E. S. Watson, one of its members, has, while lecturing on temperance in Western Ontario, brought the name of Hon. A. Mackenzie, and his connexion with this church before the public in a most disrespectful and unchristianlike manner. Resolved that this church does hereby express its strong disapproval of Mr. Watson coudnct in this particular, and, further more, that we wish the public to understand this, Mr. Mackenzie's relations with this church have been of the most cordial character." This same Mr. Watson visited Port Hope and left us an unpaid bill of over $14, for printing, bill posting, and $5 hall rent to the Y. M. C. A. He is certainly nothing but a fraud and cheat, and the sooner the public are made away of the fact the better for all parties concerned. Such men do more harm than they can possibly do good to the temperance cause.—Guide.

THE PORT HOPE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.—The attention of manufacturers nurserymen merchants, and general dealers, is particularly directed to the superiority of the Central Exhibition prize list as an advertising medium, for which advertisements are now being respectfully solicited. The managing committee have arranged for the printing of over 2,000 copies of this prize list, which will be well destributed in the counties of Durham, Peterboro', Victoria, and Northumberland, thus affording advertisers an excellent opportunity of reaching a large number of people with their business announcements. Advertisements will be inserted at the following rates:—One page, $8; half page, $5; quarter page $3; professional cards, $1 each. Cover pages will be charged extra. The prize list is expected to be ready for distribution by the first of August next therefore intending purchasers will do well to secure space without delay. This official prize list is issued by the managing committee of the Central Exhibition, the proceeds of advertisements, &c., going into the funds of the Association. Parties desirous of giving special prizes for any article or animal should communicate with the Secretary immediately. The management of the advertising has been placed in the hands of Mr. J. B. Trayes, of the Port Hope Times, to whom all orders should be sent, or to Rea Dickson, Secretary, Port Hope.—Times.

NORWOOD

ORANGEMEN'S FUNERAL.—On Saturday afternoon last the remains of Mr. Robert Hill, an old resident of this village, was interred by the orangemen of this vicinity he being a member of the Norwood Lodge. A large number of Orangemen, headed by the Norwood Brass Band, preceded the funeral cortege, the appearance of the brethern being very good indeed.—Register.

LINDSAY.

A GOOD IDEA.—The people of Peterboro are again discussing the advisability of constructing waterworks for fire and culinary purposes. Those who would oppose any reasonable scheme to supply the town with healthy water for domestic purposes and an efficient system for fire protection, can hardly have the interest of the town at heart. What would be the cost of waterworks compared with the destruction of a few such buildings as the Peterboro' town hall and new Methodist church, to say nothing about the health of the inhabitants who, it is said, cannot procure good water for domestic purposes? We think our neighbors could not act wiser than to pass a $30,000 by-law under the Act of parliament passed some years ago authorising them to issue debentures for that purpose. —Warder.

HAPANEE.

RESIGNATION AND PROMOTION.—John Campbell, Esq., M. A., head master of the Napanee High School, has resigned his position here to accept the mastership of the classical department of the Peterboro' Collegiate institute. We are both pained and pleased to announce this fact. It is just to add that Mr. C. has obtained his new situation, upon the recommendation of the Inspector. While we condole with ourselves, we congratulate Peterborough upon the acquisition of one of the most successful high school teachers at present engaged in the profession. We are informed that Mr. C. will leave town in about a fortnight, to assume the duties of his new position. We can do no more than offer Mr. C. a continuation of the success that has attended his literary career in this place and Newburgh.—Beaver.

SUSPECTED ROBBERY.—A Jew with $20,000 worth of diamonds in his possession was arrested in Toronto on Saturday, on suspicion of not having come honestly by the same. He had been offering a portion of the stones, which are of the purest water, at much below their value, and it is believed that an investigation of the case may give a clue to some of the late large diamond robberies in England.

STILL THE SAME.—It was evidently a boy suffering as he wrote who penned the following. "Centuries come and go, and how great the changes that take place. The king of to-day is the beggar of to-morrow. Dynasties are overthrown, and the insignificant province springs into a mighty nation. In the rapid flight of time countless deeds of valor and bravery are wrought only to be forgotten like the overchanging scenes in a kaleidoscope; but the boy of to-day who eats green apples experiences the same sensation of pain as did those who existed long centures ago."

CAN'T IMPROVE IT.—The new belt for ladies is said to be made in shape, four of which go around the waist. The Norwich Bulletin, however, thinks it will be difficult to improve upon the old style of belt, which is made in the shape of a cow-shove and has an arm inside of it. It must be observed, however, that this lried usually requires more than four steps!

A SINGULAR COMPLAINT.

The Opposition press in the Maritime Provinces has discovered a new grievance, and this time it is, for a wonder, a real one. The deadhead system is not to be permitted on the Government railway. No person employed on the same has a pass; no member of Parliament has a pass; even railway officials, when they travel on private business, have to pay like other folks. No doubt there may be occasions—the visit of the Canadian Press Association to the Maritime Provinces, for instance, or some great public celebration—when the rule may be wisely and profitably relaxed in the interest of the road and the section of country it traverses, but it is not these exceptions that lead to abuse. Even when for once they have a free story at their tongues end we cannot commiserate the grumblers. Especially is the deadhead business to be deprecated in connexion with Government works. It is almost sure at some time or other to be turned to political account or to give rise to scandal. The Grand Trunk has been in times past eaten up with deadheadism, and there is hardly a railway that has not lost largely by the vicious practice. We are glad to find that at the outset Mr. Mackenzie has taken a firm stand in this respect and are sure his censors in the Lower Provinces will find few supporters.—Globe.

The Montreal Witness says:—It is very gratifying to know that during the whole tour of the lacrosse teams in the mother country, they avoided travelling on the Sabbath,—sometimes even at the cost of great trouble and loss of regular sleep. Also, that no business or correspondence of any kind connected with the enterprise was done by any of the party on Sundays, although the persistent maintenance of this rule several times involved the unpleasant necessity of refusing calls on that day. Such a praiseworthy course is exceedingly creditable, both to their leader and to the men, who while going out to demonstrate the admirable qualities of our national game, evidently took great care to at no time and in no place bring discredit upon the country which they represented, but rather to carry with and leave behind them the most favourable impressions with regard to it; and having been governed by such principles, it is not surprising that the result of the enterprise was triumphant success.

NEW YORK, July 19.—At Pittsville, Pa., on Monday, a little son of John E Cameron, lowered his younger sister into a burning lime kiln for a ride, but was unable to pull the bucket up, and both he and his mother died in the futile attempt to save the girl.

GREAT EXPLOSION!

The boiler of the British iron-clad "Thunderer," on a trial trip in Stokes Bay, exploded on the 14th, killing and injuring a large number of officers and sailors. In two days after another explosion occured at the "Ontario Clothing Store," on the East side of George St., Peterboro, when the former prices of Clothing were blown up the spout, the entire stock had a general shaking up and the prices of Summer and light weight clothing had a fearful tumble down. In order to clear out to make room for our Fall Arrivals we have reduced our prices—regardless of cost—and all who are in want of good goods, or those who buy on speculation would do well to give us a call. An Inspection is all that is required to convince you that we are suffering from the effects of the explosion, when you see the prices we are offering goods at (and selling them). Our stock is large and well selected, we can "Suite" and "Fit" any one who in want of a Suite of Clothes, and sell them at so low a price that you will be convinced that you can save money by trading at the Ontario Clothing Store, we can give you a Large Stock to choose from. We can give you a great variety to select from. We can give you any weight, grade and style you may want, and we can give you a Perfect Fit, and that is what every one should have and which all do get who patronise us.

Beauty and Economy.

These considerations lead all our customers to the conclusion that

BETTER SATISFACTION

IS GIVEN IN OUR

Gents' Furnishing Department

than can be had elsewhere, in Peterborough, for the same amount of money. Complete and very attractive.

White Shirts,—open fronts, open backs, for button studs, or spiral studs. Colored Shirts in all Styles, and exceedingly inviting and entirely new, the very latest. Collars, Linen and Paper, turn over and stand up, long, moderate and short points, buttoned wide apart or close Cuffs, Linen and paper, all widths, two, three and four ply, in all numbers. Handkerchiefs, cotton, linen, silk. Scarfs, wide and narrow. Windsors, exceedingly choice and very inviting in all the newest shades and designs. Bows, Ties, Socks, Suspenders, Belts. Umbrellas in Cottons, Gingham, Gnano and Silk. Gloves, in Kid, Lisle Thread and Cotton. Underwear Department well selected and assorted. GANZIES: Cotton, Merino and Silk, Plain, Clouded and Striped. A full line of Jewelry constantly on hand and well assorted. Just to hand a fine assortment of White Pearl Spiral Studs.

IMPROVED HEART SHIRT

Acknowledged by all who wear it to be Superior in every Respect to any other White Shirt made or worn in the Dominion, is cut on Patterns of the Best Grades, warranted more Shapely, Perfectly Made, True in Fit, Laundred to Perfection, with Full Cuffs. These are Merits which cannot be found in Shirts of similiar qualities slashed out crosswise of the staff, and given out to unskilled hands to make "at home" for poverty wages.

In Commending our "Improved Heart" Shirt to our patrons it would be but commonplace to state that we strive to win the "Highest Standard" for them that they are "Perfect Fitting," that they are made with "Skilled Labour" employed at "High Wages," and we are confident that no shirt of like character and merit are offered, or can be, at any price, we sell them at a price "So Low" that any person can buy one, and wear one, you all know that a perfect fitting, and a perfect sitting shirt, is a comfortable garment to wear, and a part of your dress which you are very particular to have look nice, all these qualities you will find in the Improved Heart Shirt, sold only at the Ontario Clothing Store East side of George st., Peterboro.

Cornwall Canal Enlargement

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the Secretary of Public Works, and endorsed "Tender for Cornwall Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western mails, on WEDNESDAY THE NINTH DAY OF AUGUST NEXT, for the formation of a new entrance—south of the present quarries—at the lower end of the Cornwall Canal, connecting the construction of two Lift-locks, Waste-weir, &c.

The Works will be let in one section, as indicated on the map of that part of the line, which, together with plans and specifications of the various works, can be seen at the office, and at the office of the canal superintendent, Cornwall, on and after FRIDAY the 30TH DAY OF JULY (INSTANT), at either of which places printed Forms of Tender can be obtained.

Contractors are requested to bear in mind that Tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in the case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque, or other readily available security, for the sum of FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS, must accompany each Tender, which shall be forfeited, if the party tendering declines or fails to enter into contract for the works when called upon to do so, at the rates stated in the offer submitted.

The cheques or money thus sent in, will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, satisfactory security will be required on real estate, or by deposit of money, public or municipal securities, or bank stocks, to the amount of five per cent on the bulk sum of the contract, of which the sum sent in with the Tender will be considered a part.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the works.

To each Tender must be attached the actual signatures of two responsible and solvent persons, residents of the Dominion, willing to become sureties for the carrying out of these conditions, as well as the due performance of the works embraced in the contract.

This department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

By Order,
F. BRAUN,
Secretary.

SUMMER UNDER CLOTHING in great variety at T. DOLAN & Co's

NEW BRUNSWICK.—Timber lands in N.B. have fallen considerably of late.

CORNWALL is to have another paper, in opposition to the present government.

LYNDSAY.—Carvell and Keeler charged with burning the Dervoy House have been acquitted.

PERSONAL.—Mr. H. G Rogers, Postmaster, returned on Tuesday from a trip down east, looking well.

REV. H. W. BEECHER was at the Thousand Islands last week. He preached on on Sunday to a very large assemblage.

☞ Leading Sewing Machine Makers recommend CLARK'S Best Six-Cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton. NOTICE THE ANCHOR ON EACH SPOOL.

HOME MARKETS.—The tendency of the wheat markets is downward, the prospects of full crops, it is said, being the partial cause of the decline.

CHANGE OF TIME.—The Steamer Golden-Eye has made several alterations in her time table since our last issue. See time table in another column.

FISHING.—There is good fishing at Burleigh just now. Those who are fond of a day's fun and fishing should not fail to visit the Burleigh Hotel, where they can enjoy both.

MR. ANDREW ALLEN'S model farm near Montreal was the scene of a fire on the 21st inst. The stables and several fine animals were consumed. The cause of the fire is not known.

☞ You will save time and trouble with your Sewing Machine by using CLARK & CO'S Best Six-Cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton.—NOTICE THE ANCHOR ON EACH SPOOL.

COUNTY OF STORMONT.—At the examination of teachers out of 55 candidates only 15 passed. In Glengary 56 presented themselves for 3rd class and 8 for 2nd class certificates, and 33 succeeded.

MUSIC.—The leading Quadrille Bands of the town have amalgamated and have appointed Mr. F. Millar, Bandmaster, as their Secretary, so that parties in need of a first-class band, either brass or quadrille, may be supplied by applying to him.

YACHTING CALAMITY.—The yacht Mohawk at New York was lately struck by a gale and capsized, several persons were drowned and among them Mr. Garner a millionaire and several members of his family, besides a number of other persons The captain of the yacht was not on board at the time.

LEFT FOR ENGLAND.—Mr. William C. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, and Mr. John Garbutt, of Smith, leave to-day on a visit to England and Scotland. They intend to remain about two months. We wish them a pleasant trip, renewed vigor from the refreshing breezes of Merry England and Auld Scotia, and a safe return to Canada.

EXCURSION.—The Young Canadians' L. O. L. will hold their sixth annual pic-nic and excursion on the new steamer "Golden-Eye," to Pic-Nic Island, Rice Lake, on Thursday next. The proceeds are for the furnishing of the new Orange Hall, which, no doubt, will induce a large turnout. The boat will leave the Peterborough wharf at 8 p. m. sharp.

IT is said that several of the St. John saw mills will soon shut down, their operations not being sufficiently profitable to warrant the owners in continuing to run them. Among these will probably be included Randolph and Baker's. On the Miramichi, Guy, Stewart & Co. will probably reduce the extent of their sawing operations by shutting down several gangs.

INTERMEDIATE.—It is reported that only three pupils of the Collegiate Institute have passed the Intermediate examination, and these are from the junior class. When particulars are received the people will be better able to judge of the true cause of so small a number succeeding. It is, perhaps, not to be wondered at when only 234 out of 1,676 for the whole of Ontario, have succeeded in passing.

TO ADVERTISERS.—As we go to press with the first side on Tuesday evening, our patrons will do well to remember that after twelve o'clock, noon, on that day, it will be impossible to make any change in their advertisements for the week. All matter intended for change of advertisement therefore should reach us before noon of Tuesday, and for new matter by noon on Wednesday.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.—The result of the examination for entrance to the Collegiate Institute is not fully known, but not more than twenty out of fifty-six candidates will pass. Of these twenty-five are from the Lakefield school and two from Ashburnham. The report of the Central Board of Examiners has not yet been received, but when received it will not differ much from these figures.

HOW OBLIGING.—The friends of the Pacific Scandal are again assisting Mr. Mackenzie to re-organize his Government by reporting the resignation of Mr. Blake. They say Mr. Blake won't stop in the Government after George Brown's "ferocious attack" upon Judge Wilson! It will be observed that the two events are closely allied, one being indeed the sequence of the other—in Tory eyes!

THE WISH TO FORGET.—An exchange says:—It is astonishing how pleased the Tory press appears to be at the fact—as they allege—of the people forgetting the Pacific Scandal. If the latter was the innocent transaction—merely the excess of "patriotic endeavor"—which they said it was at the time and which Sir John still stoutly maintains that it was, why should they so rejoice because the people are forgetting it?

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE BY AUCTION.—Mr. A. Mowry advertises in another column, that beautiful property adjoining the residence of H. Calcutt, Esq., Ashburnham. It is beautifully situated, in one of the finest localities in the town or village; well improved, containing all kinds of fruit trees, shrubs, etc. The buildings are good and in excellent repair, well suited for a comfortable residence for any person who wishes one.

A GREAT CONSERVATIVE POW-WOW will be held at Colborne to-day, John A. and other celebrities will be present and address the faithful. Sir John's missionary services will not meet the approval of any but the friends and advocates of the Pacific Scandal, which he will treat very sparingly in his speech to day. Mr Cockburn intends trying East Northumberland again it is said, but discretion will be the better part of valor, the Scandal is too heavy a burden to carry through Ontario.

MR. CASEY, formerly a Roman Catholic priest and of the Order of Jesus, addressed the Orangemen at Warsaw on the 12th instant. He is said to have been converted through the labors of Father Chiniquy. He also lectured lately in Norwood in the Presbyterian Church to a large audience. On Sunday he preached in the Presbyterian Church in the forenoon and evening; in the evening the church was literally packed to hear him, among whom, the Register says, were several Roman Catholics.

ELOCUTION.—Mrs. Jennie Bourne is announced to give readings in the Lecture room of the Methodist Church, George street, on Thursday evening the 3rd of August. Mrs. Bourne favored Peterboro with a visit in the winter, and left the most favorable impressions of her elocutionary powers. She has a very pleasing manner, has great control of her voice, can enter into complete sympathy with the spirit of the authors from which she selects, and it assuredly will be a treat for all who can go to hear her.

A STRANGE LIQUOR CASE.—A religious pic-nic was lately held near Mitchell at which intoxicating liquors were sold. The Inspector was present and drank some of the liquor. It was agreed by the Inspector to prosecute one Callaghan for violating the License Law. It was argued that as the sale and proceeds was in the interest of religion, it was no violation of the law, and that the whole thing was religious persecution. What extraordinary reasoning! A fine was imposed but the decision has been appealed against

THE FORMER STATE OF THINGS.—The Woodstock Sentinel says that it is said with authority "that let the vacancies (in the House of Commons) but occur" and the "Liberal Conservatives stand ready to fill them with men who will help to bring about the former state of things.' There is no doubt of it. Tories always "stand ready" to fill any number of offices. A Tory Government can create and fill over 4,000 of them in a few days after it had got "notice to quit," but this is just the "former state of things" that the country don't want.

IN THE County of Bruce there were 100 candidates for examination as teachers. From all quarters we learn that not more than 25 per cent of the candidates succeeded. This indicates the difference of opinion the candidates and the examiners have as to the qualifications of the former. If all who presented themselves for examination had passed, the spirit of their own dreams would have materially changed in a very short time. Many of the candidates were never intended by nature to be teachers, and it is just as well that they find this out at the examinations.

AUCTION SALES.—There will be offered for sale by public auction, at A. P. Morgan's Hotel, Chambers' block, on Saturday, the 16th day of September, at two o'clock P.M., the West half of the West half of Lot No. 5 in the 8th Con., and the East half of Lot 4 in the 9th Con., in the Township of Douro. These are both first class farms, situated near the town. Also at the same time and place, Lots 24 and 25, North of Douro and West of Stewart streets, in the Village of Ashburnham. Further particulars may be had by applying to either John Burnham, Esq., Solicitor, or to Haggart & Brother, Auctioneers.

Jas. A. Patterson, of Toronto, paid us a visit on Tuesday last. He is getting a map ready for the County of Victoria, and intends trying to get up one for this county, if he can succeed in getting sufficient encouragement to warrant his doing so. The map is to be on a scale sufficiently large to make it valuable for offices. It will contain the name of every farmer, with location of buildings, orchards and streams; also a business directory of those who patronize him. We wish him success in his undertaking, as it will be found very useful to the business men of the town in finding the location of people in the country.

MURDERS.—Several murders of an extraordinary character have been committed in Canada during the past twelve months. Wives murdering their husbands, and husbands also murdering their wives. Last week the Torbolton tragedy was chronicled, when a man, Bressenham, shot his neighbour. Yesterday's telegraphic despatches informs us that a man named Beloher, of Merses, shot a neighbour named Kenyon while quarrelling about drawing hay. Two neighbours named Kealy and Hughes, residing up the Gratineau, met and quarrelled, when Hughes killed Kealy with the blade of a mowing machine. What will come next?

LIBERAL.—At the Y. M. C. A. Convention, lately held in Toronto, in about five minutes $10,000 were subscribed to carry on the international work of the association. Mr. John McDonald, M. P., promised to be one of ten to give $1000 provided the balance was made up in ten minutes. His offer was accepted and with the result above stated. Many of the subscriptions were made by parents on behalf of their families. Mr. McDonald caused considerable amusement by requesting the Secretary to put him down for "$5 apiece for twelve" and the Chair man gave a similar amount for eight. This may be considered one of the many advantages of having large families.

THE LEANING OF A STRAW, &c.—The following appeared in a religious paper:—"In the Established Church, Campbelltown, a curious plan was adopted to satisfy the friends of unfermented wine. These were supplied with this in the communion service, while the ordinary wine was served to the majority of the congregation." To satisfy the friends of fermented wine, we should say, why use the "ordinary" wine in preference to the unfermented. We fear the writer prefers it with the spirit in it, to the pure blood of the grape. Religious newspapers should give no uncertain sound in this matter: but the above item from a religious paper, savors of unfriendliness to unfermented wine at communion services.

DUMMER AND LAKEFIELD.—A correspondent from Dummer writes to us complaining of the treatment received by the men from Dummer who took part in the regatta at Lakefield on Dominion Day. He says that the Messrs. Drain won the Double Hunting Canoe race, but were deprived of the reward because the judge did not wish it to go out of the villages If this be true then the committee should confine the competition to Lakefield. Our correspondent feels strongly what he terms an injustice, but for the sake of the good name of our sister village, we hope there is some mistake, merely, no intention of injustice. The correspondence is in pretty strong language which might not be edifying to some of the judges, and hence our witholding it, giving merely the burden of the complaint. A good way for both parties would be to make up their minds to a good square row next year, and make due arrangements for justice, before hand.

THE LATE A. W. KEMPT, ESQ.—We regret to have to chronicle the decease of Mr. A. W. Kempt, Druggist, which took place at his residence, Peterborough, on Saturday last, at the comparatively early age of 64 years. Mr. Kempt was a native of Aberdeen, Scotland. He came to Peterborough in 1850, or 26 years ago, and remained a citizen thereof till his decease. He was quiet and unassuming in his manners, consistent and obliging in business and highly respected. His illness was very short: up till about two weeks ago he was in his usual health and attending to his business, but was then seized with congestion of the lungs from which he never rallied. His funeral took place on Monday, and was very largely attended. He leaves a wife and an only son, Mr. W. C. Kempt, who has been associated with him in business for some time, to mourn their loss, and who have our sincere sympathy in their bereavement.

CRICKET.

COBOURG VS. PETERBOROUGH.

A very interesting game of cricket was played between the Peterborough and Cobourg cricket clubs on Friday last, at Cobourg. Peterborough took the wickets first, to the bowling of Osler and Yorke. The first three wickets went for eight runs, when Rogers and Rutherford got together and made splendid playing; the former made 35 and the latter 10. The last wicket fell for 64. Cobourg were next to bat when no scores of any note were made owing to the excellent bowling of W. Vaughan Lloyd. Their innings terminated for 44. Peterborough again resumed their innings, and the only feature in it was the batting of R. B Rogers, who again played a fine innings of 24, the last wicket fell for 68. Cobourg again went in, having 89 to win, which they did with one wicket to spare. Messrs. Osler and R. Hill made a fair show, their runs being got in very good style. The fielding of the Peterborough team was very wild, being too confident of victory. Owing to the bad state of the ground, there was a great number of byes.

THAT CHALLENGE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The challenge given to the "Champion," by Mr. Howson, was not accepted. Early in the day Mr. Howson was on the ground with the "Brampton Meadow-Lark." He deposited his money with Mr. Blezard, as proposed. Mr. Archibald Shearer took the machine and did some splendid work with it, very satisfactory to all present. The Reaper was used and cut about an acre of Timothy, doing the work well and leaving the grain in nice order. The labor on the team was considered light.—COM.

SPECIALTIES IN MEDICINE.

We publish on our eighth page a lengthy article describing the system of the noted specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo N Y., in which he sets forth with considerable force and clearness his reasons for devoting his whole time and attention to a single department of medicine—the treatment of lingering chronic diseases. The same article also takes up the subjects of diagnosis, methods of consulation and treatment etc, and will be found to contain many valuable hints to the invalid. Dr. Pierce is the author of a work which has already attained a large circulation—"The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser"—containing some nine hundred numerously-illustrated pages and devoted to medicine in all its branches, a work well calculated for the guidance and instruction of the people at large, and which may be had for $1.50 (post-paid) by addressing the author. Dr. Pierce has now been before the general public long enough to enable the formation of a careful estimate of the efficiency of his treatment and his medicines, and the verdict, we are glad to know, has been universally favorable to both.

THE Godreh Signal exposes one of the leading protection fallacies, namely, that a protective tariff on grain would benefit our home producers and prevent so much of the supply for our mills being drawn from the United States. In Goderich and elsewhere in Canada there are extensive flouring mills, which consume large quantities of American grain, mixing it with Canadian, and grinding it, not only for the home market but for exportation. The interests of the farmers of Huron have not been injured by the free importation of western grain, but on the contrary benefited, as all their grain has found a ready sale at the Goderich mills, which were built to a great extent to manufacture American wheat, which can be laid down cheaply on account of the water carriage. Protection would only cripple these mills and would divert a very extensive trade from this country. The fallacy of the protectionist reasoning on this point is that its advocates fail to consider that the exports of grain and its products far exceed the imports, consequently falling in with the delusion that every import of grain draws so much from the pockets of Canadian farmers.

THE Conservative press appear to think it a heinous offence for one who is attacked from the Bench to strike back, or to defend himself in any way—no matter what provocation he may receive, or how unjustifiable the attack. But it puzzles us to see how these newspapers which are so intent on maintaining the sanctity of the Bench, reconcile with such professions the coarse attacks made upon the Minister of Justice, ever since he accepted office? Mr. Blake's position is no less a responsible one than that of the judges; his sense of honor is as keen as theirs, and we do not say too much when we assert that he has more ability than any of them. Yet the Conservative press have attacked him in a most villainous style, while in the discharge of his administrative duties—one having gone so far as to publish a letter charging him with receiving money for the commutation of a death sentence. Is it is wrong to answer the offensive and uncalled-for remarks of a judge, is it right to attack with unparalleled brutality an officer of the law holding a position higher than the Judges, and one who possesses more ability than any one of them in all that constitutes a judicial officer, and the equal of the ablest of them in all that makes a man?—Bruce Reporter.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS ECLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN COLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil, Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Medford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally, as good for horse as for man."—A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rassan, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit.—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle, which annoyed me very much. Mr Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

THE New England Homestead tells us that cucumbers are generally permitted, or compelled rather, to grow flat on the ground, but vines have been trained upon trellisses with the very happiest results. Indeed nature never intended the cucumber for a mere sprawler, as it is usually handled. Provided with something trellis. A low order of trellis, keeping both vine and fruit off the ground, add largely to the yield and the quality When space is an object a great saving of ground may be secured by training upon high trellises. The writer has had precisely the same experience. The stakes or trellises must, however, be twiggy, or the little tendrils of the cucumber cannot lay hold and climb.

DRILL AND HAND SOWING.—Farmers will be interested to know the results of an experiment made during the last season as to the relative merits of broadcast and grain drill sowing, which was made on the State Experimental Farm in Pennsylvania, and from which we learn that 2½ bushels, hand sowed, produced 1164 bushels, while the same quantity of seed on the same ground, put in last spring with a grain drill produced 127 bushels In the face of such facts, it is astonishing that so many farmers fail to become practitioners of the valuable adjunct to husbandry—a grain drill.

SMALL TREES.—Dealers in trees assert that experienced men buy small, thrifty trees, while those who are just starting are anxious for the largest and to be had. Those who are to set trees the coming season will do well to learn from experience of those who at considerable loss to themselves had found demonstrated that small trees are the ones to buy.—N. E. Homestead.

CURE FOR SICKLY POT PLANTS.—A French paper of Scientific on the authority of M. Willermoz, gives the following items for sickly pot plants, which he states has been pursued for some years with unfailing success by M. Lecoq, of Hohenheim. It is recommended in the case of plants which have become sickly through over-watering, repotting too deeply, &c. Amongst the plants so treated were palms, roses, ficus elastic, and others. Instead of changing the soil it is well stirred and soaked with water, heated to a temperature of 123 deg.. (Fahr.) until it runs off freely from the bottom of the pots. After a few days the sickly plants recover their original look of health and, vigor, and begin to grow again.—The Garden.

RESTORING BEES TO LIFE.

A lady in Providence, R. I., related the following story, said the Little Corporal:

Her father once brought home a molasses hogshead to be used for a manufacture. On a rushing day her mother called "Let's throw the ends into it, to soak the molasses from the bottom." The instant she had done so she exclaimed, "Oh I have drowned hundreds of our neighbours' bees." The neighbors was black with bees that were busily appropriating the sweets from what they must have considered an enormous blossom. The good lady made haste with her skimmer to skim the bees from the top of the water, and spread them on a board in the sunshine; but they [illegible] very many died in the sea of water, which they [illegible] before they returned, accompanied by scores of others. They began a curious work They immediately went to work upon the unfortunate bees, turning them over and over and working upon them constantly [illegible] The result of their busy labour was that one, after another gave signs of life, stretched its limbs and wings, crawled about and dried itself in the sun, and flew away. The lady said that these was half a pint at first, and that these assisted, only about a dozen hopeless cases beyond the humane efforts of their brothers.

USEFUL RECIPES.

CABBAGES EQUAL TO CAULIFLOWER.—Remove the outer leaves from a solid small-sized head of cabbage, and cut the remainder as fine as for slaw. Have on the fire a spider or deep skillet, and when it is hot, put in the cut cabbage, pour over it right away a pint of boiling water. Cover closely, and allow it to cook rapidly for ten minutes. Drain off the water [illegible] pint of new milk, or part milk and cream; when it boils stir in a large tea-spoonful of either wheat or rice flour, moistened with milk; add salt and pepper, and as soon as it comes to a boil serve. Those who dislike the strong flavor of properly cabbage [illegible], will not complain of this.

BEETS retain their [illegible] to perfection if they are [illegible] Turn them frequently while in the oven, using a knife, as the flesh is tender to run out. When done remove the skin, and serve with butter, salt and pepper, on the slices.

CUCUMBER [illegible] Prepare a strong brine in which you can keep your pickle as long as you choose After taking them out of the brine wipe carefully, and let them soak a few days in weak vinegar, in order to extract the salt and water. Then slice the cucumbers half an inch thick; put them in a jar with layers of seasoning between each one of cucumbers, two ounce of allspice half an ounce of cloves, one ounce of mace, one ounce of pepper, one ounce of celery seed, and a little chopped onions, with plenty of brown sugar. THE HEAVENLY CITY.

BY H. A. H.

I sit sometimes by the window
As the twilight hour goes by,
Watching the restless moss-twigs
Hours clear against the sky;
And feeling each earth-born passion
Drift from my heart away,
As slow from the city's pure face is drawn
The golden veil of day.

In the west the sky grows deeper,
Till in mystic splendor far—
Like the wall of those unvisited, wondrous depths—
Translates the evening star;
And a yearning enters over my spirit
That grows with the pause abroad,
And I sigh for the "rest that remaineth"—
The rest to the people of God.

Knowing as we are known—
Seeing as we are seen!
O, to be past this weary strife,
To walk redeemed by the river of life,
Proceeding from God's throne,
Through the pastures of living green.

They know no weary night
In the golden city of love,
And Heaven needs not the light of the sun,
In presence of the Holy One:
For the Lord God giveth it light,
And the Lamb is the light above.

And I ask no temple therein,
For lo! our God is there,
His presence filled all to all.
Ah! never within the crystal wall
Can the faintest breath of sin
Disturb the holy air.

Softly ye moments pass
That bring us nearer God!
How shall we greet the radiant morn
When our sorrows die and our bliss is born,
As up stand on the sea of glass,
Having the harps of God!

And the longing grows to a prayer;
Whose, with ecstatic, subduing power,
Come the thrilling words—as if there stood
Beside me one like the Son of God,
With tender, beseeching air—
"Can'st thou not watch one hour?"

And he says, "Fear not; it is I
That help thee by My power;
The tokens are few and the field is white,
And swiftly, swiftly cometh the night."
Jesus, since Thou art nigh,
Help us work, and wait Thine hour.

Yet oft, as I watch from my window,
While the winter eve drew nigh,
The tractors of the tree-twigs
Penciled along the sky—
I dream of a land beyond the sun,
Ard the rays of its holy light I gleam,—
When we shall know as we are known,
And see as we are seen.

THE YOUNGS RECAPTURED.

(From the Spectator of Wednesday, July 26th.)

At an early hour this morning an extra from the Spectator office informed the public that the condemned murderers, John and James Wm. Young, who escaped from the Cayuga gaol some two months ago, had been captured by a detachment of the Hamilton police force under command of Chief Logan.

Although there has been every appearance that for some time past the pursuit of these confessed murderers had been abandoned, the vigilence of Chief Logan and his principal assistants, Sergt. McMenemy and Detectives Rousseau and McPherson, has never relaxed. For more than a week past these officers became satisfied from the movements of the Barber girls, and other circumstances, which, though insignificant to the ordinary observer, are full of meaning to the trained instinct of the detective—from these circumstances these officers became satisfied that the Youngs were hiding in the woods in Glanford. From careful scrutiny and comparison of every scrap of information, they were led at length to suspect that one of the barns upon the farm of Mr. Alex. Birkley was their place of rendezvous. Mr. Birkley's farm is No. 2 in the 1st concession of Glanford, near the town line between Glanford and Ancaster, and is about seven miles south-west of Hamilton. The barn is situated at the back part of the lot, away from the house. It is isolated and skirted on the east by woods, and altogether is a convenient place for the fugitive's retreat.

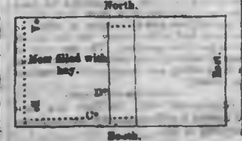
The conviction of the Chief and his officers that this was the hiding place of the Youngs grew so strong that last night they determined to attempt their capture. It was known that the Youngs were desperate characters; their circumstances were, of course, of the most desperate kind, and the probability was that they would sell their lives dearly on the spot rather than surrender. The Chief, therefore, wisely resolved that his attacking party should be strong enough to overcome all resistance in the shortest possible time, and thereby make the capture sure and save bloodshed, for he rightly conjectured that the Youngs were well armed.

THE ATTACKING PARTY.

Last night a party of twelve of the force were ordered to report themselves at the police headquarters for special service at 1 o'clock this morning. Besides Chief Logan, the party consisted of Sergeant McMenemy, Detectives Ferris, Spence, Wark, Wright, Prentiss, Campbell, McFeggan and Robinson. Procuring two carriages the party started up James street, over the mountain. At what used to be known as Terryberry's Corners, about a mile from the brow of the hill, they turned to the westward, passing Barton and the residence of Joseph Rymal, M. P., and soon after turned to the south west. At a few minutes past three o'clock in the morning the party reached a point near the farm of the Mr. Birkley, at which it was prudent to fasten their horses and proceed on foot. Noiselessly as possible they tramped through lanes and fields until they came to the vicinity of the suspected barn. The orders had been quietly given that the men should form a circle round the barn and lie down, and wait the order to close in upon it. At this time the starlight and the first streaks of dawn were struggling with each other, and the Chief deemed it prudent not to attempt the capture until the dawn had become more pronounced, and there was sufficient light to prevent mistakes. When that time had come he gave the signal to advance and close around the barn, which was instantly done. Four of the officers crept through a hole in barn and commenced a search inside. While they were engaged in that pursuit, they heard cries from one of the party that he saw a pair of boots through a crack, and soon afterwards came the word that "they were awake and stirring." The officers within then came out, and the point where the boots had been seen and the stirring heard became the centre of attraction.

THE ATTACK.

The reader will much more easily understand what subsequently took place by referring to the diagram, which shows the plan of the barn:—



A driving way ran through the middle of the barn with a beam about four feet high on each side, and from the beam to the floor was boarded. On the west side of the driving shed was a mow or bin filled with hay from floor to ceiling. It was in this part of the barn in which the Youngs were secreted. The point C. in the diagram marks an aperture in the barn which was their means of entrance and exit. From this point they had worked a passage through the hay—shown by the dotted lines in the diagram—round to the point A. This passage-way was just about large enough for a man to crawl through. The precaution they had taken against capture is shown by the fact that though they entered the barn at the point C, they had crawled all the way through to point A, and it was at that point the boots were first seen, and the stirring heard.

THE CAPTURE.

As soon as these indications of the fugitives' presence were noted, it was but the work of a moment to pry a board off the barn, and through the opening thus made John Young at once appeared, revolver in hand. Quick as thought Sergeant McMenemy seized the pistol, and, in another moment, the hand that held it was in the Sergeant's iron grip, from which no prisoner ever wrenched himself free. A single jerk served to send the discomfited murderer sprawling on the grass, and once more he found himself a manicled prisoner

M'MENEMY'S FAMOUS CRAWL.

Meanwhile Sergeant McMenemy dashed through the opening, from which he had pulled John Young, in search of his brother. He saw the retreating form of the second murderer crawling through the passage-way which we have already described. With a daring which cannot be too highly extolled, McMenemy crawled after him. The situation must have been a trying one, for the Sergeant was alone in a narrow passage in which he could scarcely use his arms, with a convicted murderer, whom he knew to be armed with deadly weapons. However, the singular chase continued for some twenty-five or thirty feet, until Young reached the corner of the barn—marked B on the diagram—at which there was room to turn in. There the murderer did turn, and stood at bay, levelling a large Colt's revolver at McMenemy's head. Whether it was McMenemy's still resolute advance which cowed him, or whether it was that he did not wish to stain his hands with more blood, we cannot say. At all events he did not fire at this point, but fled again, still crawling through the passage with McMenemy after him. At a few feet further on the party outside heard a lively exchange of shots between McMenemy and Young. In singular encounter Young received a flesh wound in the arm, but fortunately McMenemy escaped unhurt. Reaching the aperture—marked C—which was at the end of the passage, Young, instead of coming out of it, dropped down below the beam of the driving way, but still inside the bin or mow. Here he was protected by the boarding which ran from the beam to the floor. But this was his last retreat. The officers drove in the boards, while his bullets were every now and again whistling out among them, and finally secured him, McMenemy arriving in time to take a hand in the capture.

THE BARBER GIRLS.

Soon after the murderers were disturbed, the officers heard female voices screaming within the barn, and they proved to be those of the Barber girls, whose evidence at the trial will be remembered.

After the Youngs had been secured they said that but for the enteaties of the girls they would have shot some of the constables, but as John had no opportunity of sh

CALL THE BOYS TO DINNER.

Come, call the boys to dinner, Nell,
Frank, Arthur, Bob and Will,
And Charley, the youngest cherry that,
Climbing the tree at will.

It won't be merry round, dear Nell,
When they are forced to roam;
Then seek to give them cause to think
Kind, loving thoughts of home.

Give memory of a sister dear,
A mother's tender, kind,
Fill many a youth has saved from sin
In manhood's early prime.

You say they're rude and awkward, Nell,
And so you could and frown;
Then will you called a lumbering dolt
For stepping on your gown.

But when young Willie did the same,
You gave him one caress;
Indeed as if 'twas nothing blame
Have unmeaningly answered.

With strangers you are charming quite;
"Brothers are different things."
To Frank I heard you say, "I don't,"
When kindly asked to sing.

Ah! daughter, these may trifling seem:
But you may find too late
That sisters, and brothers, at length have changed.
Your brothers' love to hate.

Then call the boys to dinner, Nell,
Frank, Arthur, Bob and Will,
And should there be still kinder ones,
While they are with us still.

Self Improvement.

There are many young working men who are anxious to improve their minds by reading and study out of business hours. But too many grow discouraged and fall in their efforts for self-improvement, although they begin with the best intentions.

A want of thoroughness in whatever is undertaken is, perhaps, one great cause of such failures. A practical writer on that topic gives the following good direction. "Never leave what you undertake to learn, until you can reach your arms around it, and clasp your hands at the other side." It is not the amount of reading you run over that will ever make you learned; it is the amount you retain. Dr Abernethy maintained that "there was a point of satisfaction in his mind," beyond which it was not capable of taking in more. Whatever was pressed upon it afterwards crowded out something else.

Every young man should endeavor to carry out himself in the science of the business he has chosen. Without this, he must always remain himself in the lower walks of the calling. The cost of a few cigars will buy all the books he requires, and his own diligence may be made to well supply the place of a tutor. Without such diligence the best teacher in the world could not manufacture him into a scholar. As one strong over a paint will not master it, he must tackle it again. Bitter give a week's study to a page than conclude that you cannot comprehend it.

But though it is wise to give your main strength to your own specialty, you should not confine yourself to such studies exclusively. The perfection of all your powers should be your aspiration. Those who can only think and talk on one subject may be efficient in their line; but they are not agreeable members of society in any of its departments. Neither have they made the most of themselves. They become one-sided and narrow in their views, and are reduced to a humiliating dependence on one branch of industry. It costs nothing to carry knowledge; and in times like these, to be able to put his hand to more than one branch of industry often serves a good turn.

Do not attempt too much in the way of study to begin with; you will curely lose heart if you do. Be humble and modest in your aspirations, and if you are diligent never fear but that you will bear a voice saying: "Come up higher." Be content to gather the precious gold of learning grain by grain; you will soon be able to see the pile growing; and will learn from it the wonderful power of the tireless, which is felt and shown in mental as well as golden grains.—Scientific American

A GENTLEMAN.

[illegible] a man, you have not [illegible] gentleman. You cannot make a gold ring out of brass. You cannot change a Cape May crystal to a diamond. You cannot lead a gentleman till you first lead a man.

A gentleman is not [illegible] gentleman. He has a good [illegible] and depend on the tailor or the toilet. Blood will degenerate. Good clothes are not habits.

A gentleman is just a gentleman; no more, no less. A polished man that was first a diamond in the rough. A gentleman is gentle. A gentleman is modest. A gentleman is courteous. A gentleman is slow to offence, as being one who never gives it. A gentleman is slow to surmise evil, as being one who never thinks it. A gentleman abhors his appetites. A gentleman subdues his feelings. A gentleman controls his speech. A gentleman does others better than himself.

Mr Pimp system will never be much of a gentleman—mirror though he was at English Inhabitants—of whom upon the field at Zutphen, as he lay in his own blood, he waived the draught of cool spring water, that was to quench his mortal thirst in favor of a dying soldier.

St. Paul describes a gentleman when he exhorted the Philippian Christians: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue and if there be any praise, think of these things."

And Dr. Isaac Barrow, in this admirable sermon on the calling of the gentleman, pointedly says: 'He should labor and study to be a leader unto virtue, and a notable promoter thereof, directing and exciting men thereto, by his grave conversation; encouraging them by his countenance and dutifully rewarding the goodness of meaner people by his bounty and favor; he should be such a gentleman as Noah, who preached righteousness by his words and works, before a profane world.'

GOLDSMITH MAID.

The old favorite, Goldsmith Maid, retains all the vigor of her youth and at the ripe age of seventeen has equalled the greatest of her earlier achievements. Her trotting at Belmont Park, in Philadelphia, when she repeated her record of a mile in 2.14, occasioned [illegible] Budd Doble drove the fleet hoofed mare around the track for a mile on a gentle jog, and when she was brought out for the second heat she was full of fire and mettle, chafing her head as cases [illegible] in her team. At the word she shot away like a bullet from a Creedmoor rifle. A slight skip was made near the first quarter post, but Doble, with consummate skill, caught her by the bridle and break was effected, and the first quarter was reached in 33 1-2. The half mile was reached in 1.6 1-2, Another skip betore the three quarter post, Doble holding her close to her work as firm as a rock. The third was now 1.40, and the excitement was intense. All eyes were centered on the game little Queen of the Turf, as closely pressed by the running horse. With [illegible] pushing the Commodore on the wire. At this time thundering down the home stretch, Doble giving her the whip and using every endeavor to bring out the full speed of the best piece of horseflesh on the continent. Nearing the seats, everybody [illegible] and the mare seemed under [illegible] the [illegible] 2.14. The judges placed the figures upon the blackboard and displayed it to the view of the audience, when a wild, enthusiastic shout went up, the whole boys tossing up sponges and their hats in one general, grand hurrah. As the Maid and driver [illegible] to the stand Doble's face was wreathed in smiles, and the intelligent animal [illegible] her ears and seemed to appreciate the ovation quite [illegible] as her master.

One of the most ingenious and useful saws in use in this country is described. It is called the band saw, and is run on two wheels like an ordinary belt. The inventor has first in character, and far enough apart to permit of a thirty inch plank passing between the wheels against the saw. The saw is of course very thin, and is use chiefly for splitting deals and other timber which has been shipped in a rough condition to save breakage in handling. The machine cuts from 10 000 to 15,000 feet per day, with very little waste in the cut. It may be that band saws will before long supersede circular and gangs for cutting the best qualities of pine lumber from the log, being more economical than the one and causing much less waste of wood than the other.

LAKE TIDE.—It would seem as if there were also regular tides in the lakes. The water in the Chicago river on Tuesday afternoon fell suddenly six inches, and an hour later as suddenly rose an inch and a half. This condition of things has been noticed frequently the present season, the change in the range of water sometimes being eighteen inches. At one time during the day there will be a four mile current out of the harbor, while at another the water will move as swiftly the other way.

The Centennial pyramid is composed of sugar. It is an interesting work of art.

The Russian exhibits are said to surpass all others in the gorgeous display of chandeliers.

Of the [illegible] and showy finished buildings on the Centennial grounds.

The Centennial Exhibition cannot be taken in at a glance. A visitor who spends a day in a thorough examination of Machinery Hall, or a compartment with discovered a steamboat and railroad locomotive and many other things which had not been noticed before.

FARM AND HOUSEHOLD

SPONGE CAKE.—Two cups sugar, two of flour, seven eggs, one-half teaspoonful soda, two of cream tartar, or the juice of one lemon.

MARKING INK STAINS (TO REMOVE FROM LINEN).—Dissolve a little cyanide of potassium in water, and soak the linen in it for a short time.

CORN BREAD.—Two eggs well beaten; one-half cup sugar, one pint sweet milk, one tablespoonful soda, three and one-half cups sifted meal, in the last of which put two teaspoonfuls cream of tartar.

LEMON PIE.—One cup boiling water one tablespoonful corn starch, one cup sugar, juice and grated rind of one lemon, butter size of an egg; take this from the stove and add one egg well beaten. To be made with an upper crust.

HARD SOAP.—I have never been able to make hard soap with rock potash that was fit to use. It may be because I don't know how to make it right. I have, however, made very nice hard soap with kalye, which I got at the grocer's; it makes better soap than any I can buy at the stores.

SAUCE FOR ROAST BEEF.—Grate a tablespoonful of horseradish; pound it in a mortar; add half a teaspoonful of salt, a mustard spoonful of dry mustard and the same quantity of powdered sugar, mix gradually with two tablespoonfuls of cream; then stir in quickly one tablespoonful of vinegar.

TO REMOVE MILDEW.—Wet the cloth mildewed with soft soap and salt, let it lie a short time, then wash it in good suds and lay it out to bleach. Or, rub on soap, then scrape fine chalk on it, rub it in well, lay it in the grass when it dries wet it a little; repeat the process, and the mildew will disappear.

PASTE FOR CHAPPED HANDS, and which will preserve them smooth by constant use.—Mix ½lb unsalted hog's lard, which has been washed in common water and then in rose-water, with the yolks of two new-laid eggs, and a large spoonful of honey. Add as much fine oatmeal or almond-paste as will work into a paste.

CREAT OMELETTE.—Put in a stewpan one cup of cream, the same of bread-crumbs, a little salt, a dust of pepper and a little nutmeg. Set over the fire, and when the bread has soaked up all the cream remove from the stove, cool, then beat a dozen eggs, thoroughly mix with the cream and crumbs and fry. Serve as an omelette.

TO BAKE MACKEREL.—Clean the fish; cut off the head, take out the roe, wash it and put it back again; powder the fish lightly with a mixture of salt pepper and finely chopped parsely; put in a baking dish. Pour over it a cupful of vinegar and half a cupful of melted butter. Bake half an hour; but on a hot dish: pour the gravy over and garnish with parsley.

STEEL FENDERS (TO CLEAN).—Dissolve ½lb camphor in 1 lb hog's lard, take off the scum, mix with this as much black lead as will turn the mixture an iron color; rub steel or iron fenders or grates with this mixture, leave it on about twenty-four hours, and dry with a linen cloth. This need not be applied frequently as articles cleaned with it remain bright for a long time.

POTATOES IN CREAM.—Pare down old potatoes to a small size; throw them into salted boiling water and boil ten minutes; drain them, lay them in a napkin, and steam them ten minutes more; then sprinkle salt on them, put them in a pan, cover with cream, and heat gradually five or ten minutes longer. Serve them in the cream. Thus prepared they are exceedingly good.

LEMON MINCE MEAT.—Take six large apples two large lemons, eight ounces of best suet, eight ounces white sugar, a pound of currants and two ounces of candied orange and citron; mince the apples and beef suet fine, add the currants and sugar, squeeze the juice from the lemons into a cup, and boil the squeezed lemons till they are tender enough to beat to a pulp; then add them and the citron cut fine to the mince meat, and pour the lemon over the whole.

GRAHAM GEMS.—Take equal quantities by measure of good graham flour and cold water. Mix and bake in a very quick oven in the small pans especially for gems, and which can be had of any hardware dealer. Succes depends on baking the dough in small quantities, as must be done when the pans are used, and in a quick oven, so that a top crust forms almost immediately and makes the gems light.

APPLE DUMPLING.—Make a crust of one quart of flour, two tablespoonfuls of cream of tartar, one tablespoonful of soda, one tablespoonful of butter or lard, a little salt, and milk enough to make a dough that can be rolled out. Cut the dough in eight pieces, roll them out thin, put slices of sour apple upon them, fold them up tight, and steam or bake. Baking will require twenty minutes, steaming an hour.

IRONING SHIRTS.—A correspondent sends this hint: One of the nicest of laundresses gave me this fragment of her experience in reference to starching shirts. She had noticed that the bosoms never bilster if she starches them on the right side, put if they are apt to do so. She pours her mixed starch into boiling water, instead of pouring boiling water on the starch, and in this way never sees muddled, than is necessary, as the simple starch and water can be saved.

TO RESTORE BLACK GOODS.—Rusty black goods of every kind can be made as good as new by dipping them when perfectly clean in a not very strong solution of extract of logwood, and after drying, sponging them on the inside. No cutting is required. Made up goods as dresses or men's coats, can be thoroughly sponged instead of dipped. Care should be taken that the solution be not too strong, and the oftener the article are washed in the stronger the brighter they will become. This will apply to lace veils, as well as any other article.

APPLE CAKE.—Ten or twelve apples, sugar to taste, the rind of one small lemon, three eggs, a quarter of a pint of cream or milk, ¼lb butter, ¼lb good short crust, 3oz sweet almonds. Pare core, and cut the apples into small pieces; put into a basin sufficient moist sugar to sweeten them; add the lemon which should be finely minced, and the cream; stir these ingredients well, whisk the eggs, and melt the butter, mix altogether, add the mixed apple, and let them be well stirred into mixture. Line a large round plate with the paste, place a narrow rim of the same around the outer edge, and lay the apples thickly in the middle. Blanch the almonds cut them into long shreds, and strew over the top of the apples, and bake from half to three-quarters of an hour, taking care that the almonds do not get burnt; when done, strew most sifted sugar over the top, and serve. This cake may be eaten either hot or cold, and is sufficient to fill two large sized plates.

SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Is a Certain Cure for all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcholic spirits; but the Special Medicine is more especially recommended as an enabling cure for Sexual Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Diseases of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per box, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing

VINEGAR BITTERS

UNTRAMMELED EXPERIMENTS proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon those various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so firmly upon the confidence of mankind, as has this well-known remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men, it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its unrivaled character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted in milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and for those dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a preventive against sudden attacks of croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as many are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still, cases without number, in every part of the globe, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. No complaint is its master. Even the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does it well. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Barytes, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance, it is harmless. It is powerful in curing any ailment, in the least degree, dependent upon malarious poison, and is believed to be the best, safest, surest, and cheapest antidote for all the fevers of Acute and Chronic character, that has been discovered. Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through, the fever districts, will be protected by taking the Ague Cure daily.

For the Cure of Children, arising from disorder of the Liver, it is a perfect remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing, in many cases, remarkable cures, where other means had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold around the world.

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this extraordinary medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. In diseases or affections arising from or aggravated by the scrofulous contamination in the blood, they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

WHO IS SHE?

There is a little maid—
Who is she? Do you know?
Who always has a welcome
Wherever she may go.

Her face is like the May-time,
Her voice is like a bird's;
The sweetest of all music
Is in her flattering words.

Each spot she makes the brighter,
As if she were the sun,
And she is sought and cherished
And loved by every one;

At old folks and by children,
So lofty and so low;
Who is this little maiden?
Does anybody know?

You surely must have met her;
You certainly can guess;
What? sweet? I introduce her?
Her name is—Cheerfulness.

NEWS ABOUT THE YOUNGS.

A REPORTER INTERVIEWS ONE OF THE BARBER GIRLS.

"OH! WELL, LET 'EM HANG!"

(From the Hamilton Spectator, Aug. 2.)

Yesterday afternoon at half-past one o'clock, our reporter found himself on the mixed train going south on the H. & N. Western Railway, on his way to Caledonia, or its neighbourhood, for the purpose of discovering the whereabouts of the Barber girls, and if possible to get their views on the events with which they have been so closely connected of late, and which have given them such an unenviable reputation and notoriety throughout the county. It is almost unnecessary to repeat that the two sisters, Susan and Emily Barber, were discovered in the barn the morning that the Youngs were arrested by the Hamilton police, and ever since that occasion, few, if any, persons have been able to fix their exact whereabouts. Dreading to meet the gaze of inquisitive people, whose eyes were always fixed upon them, once they were pointed out, or perhaps, overcome by fear or remorse for their conduct, they have kept aloof from the eyes of men, and have courted darkness and places of secure retreat. Once they were seen passing along the road together after night, and though they were followed they succeeded in eluding those who were watching them, and escaped detection. Believing that our readers would be interested in a story from their own lips, and believing further that they could throw some light on the wanderings of the Youngs, our reporter determined to hunt them up.—Leading some parties from Caledonia into conversation he was somewhat discouraged at the start. No one knew where they lived or what had become of them. One gentleman heard that they had gone west to some place near London to live with their aunt, but all agreed that they were not in their village, "and if you do find them young fellow," said a gruffy old man, "you bet they won't tell you nothing." At two o'clock the train arrived at Caledonia station. A more dreary or forsaken place than Caledonia appeared yesterday afternoon could not well be imagined. The streets were quite deserted, everything was quiet, and the visitor was impressed with the idea that neither the Barber girls nor any one else lived in Caledonia. After considerable difficulty a rather drowsy looking individual was discovered seated behind the bar of an ice cream saloon and confectionery store, who started nervously on seeing his visitor, and looked the picture of disappointment, as he had evidently been priding himself on the idea that he was the only human being in the village. After the usual formalities he was asked where the Barber girls lived.—The man knew where they used to live, but believed that they had gone out of the country and would not come back to Caledonia again. He looked with some distrust on his visitor after the question about the Barber girls, and it was with some difficulty he was induced to walk down the street a few blocks and point out where the parents of the girls lived. This he did by turning his back in the direction of the building, jerking his thumb over his shoulder, and, after looking around to see if any person had noticed him, strode off looking as though he had stolen something.

The house in which the Barber girls live stands upon a little knoll between the river and the H. & N. W. R. track and is just on the outskirts of the village. It presented anything but an inviting appearance, looking more like an outhouse than a dwelling-place for human beings. Our reporter was obliged to go round the hill and enter the premises by the back way, as there was no means of getting in by the front. The door in the rear of the house was standing open, and when our reporter reached it no person, and but very little furniture, could be seen in the first apartment. A rustling noise could be heard in the next room, however, and after knocking once or twice, a shrill female voice cried out—"What d'ye want?" The knocking being continued, the speaker, with an impatient ejaculation, strode into the middle of the room. This was the mother of the Barber girls. She is a tall, dark woman, apparently about forty-five years of age. Her face is hard and thin, and the features prominent. Her eyes are very black and piercing, and she has lost all her teeth with the exception of two or three in the upper jaw. There she stood "taking stock" of her visitor for several minutes, her eyes fixed intently upon him, and her thin lips weaved like a piece of cloth round the stem of a black clay dundreed. Our reporter asked if Miss Barber was in.

"Which one of 'em do you want?" asked Mrs. Barber, and on being told it was no important business and that either of them would do, she went into the next room and returned followed by Susan Barber. Susan was James Williams paramour and Julius Williams [illegible] for having eloped [illegible] and [illegible] Susan [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS.

Dr. Burnham, chairman of the Committee on Appointments, reported, recommending that Mr. Campbell and Mr. Blackadar be both accepted as Classical and Mathematical teachers in the school.

Mr. Edmison asked who made that report, as he was a member of that Committee and received no notice of a meeting of that Committee.

Mr. Stevenson said that it was signed by the Chairman of the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. Edmison said that he was a member of that Committee, and would resign his position if the Chairman was going to do the business himself.

Mr. McClelland said that Mr. Edmison was going to try and bully the members here to-night as he had done at a former meeting.

On motion of Mr. Robertson, seconded by Mr. McClelland, the report was received and adopted.

SECRETARYSHIP.

Mr. McClelland said that it would be the better way if the Secretary would be elected by ballot, to which the Board agreed to.

On the first vote Mr. Morrow was declared elected, he having a majority of the members present. The vote stood for Morrow 6, Borrowman 1, Johnston 2, Edwards 1.

Mr. Edwards said that it would be necessary for the Board to have the books audited before the bonds of the late Mr. Perry were given up, so as to keep things straight.

Moved by Mr. McClelland, seconded by Mr. Cox,—That the application of Miss Borrowman be referred to the Committee on Appointments with power to act in case of any vacancy occurring.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Edmison, seconded by Mr. Edwards,—That the books and accounts of the late Secretary and Treasurer be referred to the Town Auditors, and for them to report at their earliest opportunity.—Carried.

Mr. McClelland said that the school rooms needed some re-arranging, that in some of the large city rooms there were only 16 or 20 pupils at the most, and in other small rooms there were from 70 to 90 children. He thought that the matter was would be to appoint a committee to deal with it, and he would like to see some remedy move in this matter.

From J. Edwards, tendering his resignation as trustee, as he had added in that capacity early quarter of a century.

Moved by Mr. Cox, seconded by Mr. Edmison,—That Mr. Edwards withdraw his resolution.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Edwards, seconded by Mr. McClelland,—That whereas the great judgment of Mr. A. Dixon our late meeting has been instilled in the insensible wisdom to remove from our midst two prominent and efficient officers, viz: Charles Perry, Esq., our Secretary-Treasurer, and a few days after our worthy Principal, James B. Dixon, Esquire, this Board desires to place on record a passing notice of each. Mr Perry was appointed to the Secretaryship vacant on the death of Mr. O'Beirne in 1874, and during the short period of his connection with the Board he gave ample satisfaction, and it is with deep regret that we witness his being cut off in the midst of his usefulness, and from his affectionate family, by the hand of death.

In view of the death of Mr. Dixon, for a long period the Principal of the Union School, the Board would desire to express their deep sympathy with his sorrowing family in this their and bereavement. The Board would also record their regret at the loss which they have sustained in the removal from amongst them of so able and successful a Teacher. In the arduous and delicate duties devolving upon him, he usually showed himself willing and able to discharge them with benefit to the school and justice to his fellow teachers under him. He spared no pains to secure the efficiency of every department, and labored successfully in raising the character of our Collegiate Institute that it became one of the first in the province. His genial suavity of manner and admirable tact, secured for him the esteem and respect of his fellow teachers, and the Board as well. Generous to a fault and benevolent perhaps to excess, he leaves behind him remembrances of those sterling qualities so rare in this busy and selfish age. By his death the town loses a respected and efficient and successful officer. The Board especially sympathize with the bereaved partners of those respected servants removed from us, and desires that a copy of this resolution, signed by the Secretary and Principal, be mutually sent to Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Dixon.—Carried.

Mr. Johnston thanked the Council for the honor bestowed on him, and that he would endeavor to do his duty to the best of his ability.

Moved by Mr. Edwards, seconded by Mr. Edmison, that Mr. Finlay's resignation be accepted.—Carried.

From W. A. Morrow, tendering his resignation as Trustee in consequence of his being appointed Secretary and Treasurer of the Board.

Move by Mr. McClelland, seconded by Mr. Robertson,—That Messrs. Cox, Edwards, Johnston and the Mover be a Committee to act with the Principal for the purpose of arranging the Department of the Collegiate Institute and Common Schools.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Edmison, seconded by Mr. Cox.—That Mr. Morrow's resignation be accepted, and that Mr. Edwards, Secretary pro tem notify the Council at once.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Cox, seconded by Mr. Robertson—That Mr. Finlay having resigned his position as teacher of Modern Langua es, that Mr. Jeffers be requested to take charge of that department instead of the one to which he was appointed at the last meeting of the Board.—Carried.

Mr. Edwards read over a motion that was passed in the Town Council in reference to the Board sending in their estimates for the years, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Stevenson said that it was impossible for the Board to give them their estimates till after the books had been audited but that there would be considerable sum more wanted for this year than for last.

Mr. Jeffers wished to ascertain in the re-arranging of the school if they had any objection to boys and girls being classed together.

Mr. Edwards said that there should be something done in reference to some teachers who have failed to receive certificates, and that it should be referred to the Inspector, and if he should fail to give one, that then the teachers should not be engaged.

On motion the Board then adjourned.

FIGURES AND FACTS.

(From the Stratford Beacon.)

Last week we published a statement of the agricultural products, exported from and imported into Canada during the two years ending June 30, 1876. We this week publish the value of animals and their produce exported and imported during the same period. We invite our agricultural friends to scan the figures carefully, and ponder their import. This we ask them to do because a labored attempt is being made to throw dust in their eyes—purely and simply for political purposes. Here are the figures:

First on the list we have horses, of which a very large and important trade has taken place between Canada and the United States ever since the war. In 1874 we imported only 794 horses, worth $53,870, to 5411 that we exported in the same time, valued at $ 572,019. The following year we imported a larger number —1727 and exported 4,381, for which we got $4 1,972.

Our dealings in cattle were considerably larger during the same period. It seems we imported in the two years, 9,620 head, to 78,591 that we exported, making a difference in value in our favor of upwards of $1,500,000.

The trade in swine would seem at the first glance to have been largely against us. But this was not the case; for the fact is that swine were imported alive, slaughtered and cured in Canada, then exported in the shape of hams, bacon, lard, &c. In sheep and lambs our trade continued a steady one, the exports and imports for the two years having varied but very slightly—the balance being largely in our favor.

The next most important item of commerce is butter, of which in two years our farmers sold upwards of five million dollars' worth. But look at the figures in cheese. What a change! A few years ago Canada was a pretty extensive importer of cheese, but now she exports over seven million dollars' worth, to the trifle of forty thousand dollars' worth imported. And it ought to be explained here that the imports of butter and cheese were chiefly by British Columbia and Manitoba. Doubtless the enterprise and energy of Canadian dealers will soon—if not done already—divert that item of trade through a different channel.

But what a trade in eggs in two years! No less than a million dollars' worth exported from Canada to about fifteen thousand dollars' worth imported.

In hides the balance of trade was largely against us; but of course having exported our cattle we had to import hides for tanning. And in regard to wool, which also shows a trifle against us in 1875, it ought to be explained that the article imported was chiefly a coarse material for blankets, and of lower value proportionally, while the exports were the finest of wool for the best fabrics.

Summarized the figures show the following totals:

	1874.	1875.
Canada ex. stock, &c. worth	$15,711,207
Canada imported stock "	6,365,779
Balance in our favor	$ 9,227,428
Canada ex. stock, &c. worth		$13,304,061
Canada imported stock "		7,311,048
Balance in our favor		$ 5,993,047

It will thus be seen at a glance that in the two years mentioned Canadian farmers sold for hard cash animals and their produce to the value of upwards of fifteen million dollars, over and above what they imported.

Adding these figures to those we gave last week, they show that we exported $31,748,181 worth more than we have imported. A splendid exhibit truly!

THE RESULTS OF ISOLATED ELECTIONS.

The Hamilton Times gives a table showing the results of all the isolated elections since the general elections of 1874. It shows that in the isolated elections since 1874 there have been elected in all some 65 members. Of these there were

Reformers	37
Conservatives	26
Independents	2
Total	65

That is, that though we did not re-elect all our members we did re-elect the great majority of those re-elected. That is, we took 26 to their 26, in reality—for the Independent members generally voted with us—39 to their 26.

Will our Conservative friends bear in mind several facts:

1. That in the general election of 1874 we had a majority of from 70 to 90 which we had no right to think we could uphold.

2. That since then we have won at the rate of 39 to 26, and with that proportion our ultimate victory is sure.

3. That with the majority we have and the isolated elections since 1874, the crowning of the Conservative party about the victories they have won is supremely ridiculous.

THE HON. E. BLAKE and a number of Canadians of high position are at present in England. Canadians may rest at peace and feel proud satisfaction in the thought that in him Canada has one who in any position and under any circumstances will be a credit to her.

MR. ALF. BOULTBEE is perambulating the country re-organizing the "great Conservative party." Pity the party couldn't find a less obnoxious person to perform such services. Should he visit Stratford in the course of his peregrinations, as he doubtless will, we would take the liberty of suggesting that some member of the faithful ask the virtuous gentleman why every descent man slighted him during the last session he had a seat in Parliament.—Beacon.

CANADIAN CATTLE in considerable numbers have recently been shipped to England and have there found a ready market, any enterprise which offers cheap food is welcomed in England. These, Canadian Cattle though not quite as fat as first class English beef, yet found a ready market as remunerative prices. They netted in Liverpool £33 per head, the cost of shipment was £6 per head. This trade is likely to assume great importance to Canada, as our country is well suited for stock raising.

THE Turco Servian War is marked by much atrocity. The Turks are brave, cruel and relentless, and in this war their policy seems to be to crush out their enemy. They give no quarter, and plunder, conflagration and murder characterises their warfare. Their army being better disciplined and larger than their enemy's they appear to be the most successful, indeed, if it were not for the support given to the insurgents by Russia the resistance would be speedily overcome We cannot help thinking that Russia will out of this war have made considerable progress in her long cherished plan of possessing Constantinople as her capital.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE.—The Globe Printing Co'y announce that they have succeeded in closing a contract with the Great Western Railway Company for the dispatch of a special Globe train from Toronto at five o'clock every morning, running directly through to London, for the exclusive distribution of the Globe newspaper throughout the West. This arrangement will be hard on with great pleasure by its many readers, and must largely increase the circulation of that paper throughout the West. We wish them every success in their new enterprize.

A HEALTHIER CONDITION.—The Monetary Times, in its last financial review, speaking of the increase in bank deposits, says: "Since last July the banks have nearly $4,000,000 more public deposits than a year ago, while their loans to the public are $4,000,000 less than then, a change all the more striking when it is noted that this amount of overdue paper has been accumulated in the same period."

THE Conservatives at Cobourg and along the front are "down in the mouth" at the sorry figure their Chief cut at the Colborne celebration. Thousands waited anxiously for his appearance, but no Sir John came by the expected train. After weary waiting he drove from Cobourg, and the mouldin speech he then delivered, too plainly told the reason of his delay.

TERRIBLE SCAFFOLD ACCIDENT.

THREE MEN INSTANTLY KILLED AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL, MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—A most melancholy accident occurred yesterday afternoon at St Peter's Cathedral, Dorchester street, by which Jas Redcrope, H. Lessard, and Louis Raymond, met

AN INSTANTLY AND FEARFUL DEATH.

The deceased were labourers employed by Messrs. Perrault, the contractors for the masonry of the Cathedral, and at the time they met their death were engaged on a side scaffolding, from which one of the eastern sectional walls was being built.

ALREADY THREE MEN HAD LOST THEIR LIVES

in this building, and yesterday the three persons above mentioned were added to the list. These men and another named Chabot were at work upon a scaffold which was placed against the wall of the Cathedral The weight of the four men with their tools and a large stone, which had been hoisted up, proved too much for one of the joists which projected from the building, and on which the planks were laid.

TOWN COUNCIL.

SPECIAL MEETING.

Special Meeting of the Council was held on Friday evening.

Present—His Worship the Mayor, presiding, and Messrs. Hopkins, Haggart, Douglas, Elliott, Rutherford, Taylor, Dixon and Cahill.

The Mayor stated that his object in calling the Council together was that last night he had received a letter from the Treasurer stating that the town account was overdrawn, and as the By law prevented us borrowing money from any other bank than the Ontario, and as it was necessary to make some arrangements at once, he had ordered the calling of the present meeting.

After some explanatory remarks by the Mayor and others, on motion of Mr. Rutherford the Council went into committee of the whole, Mr. Dixon in the chair.

The By-law was read a second time when the Committee rose and the chairman reported. The By-law read a third time without amendment.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Taylor,—That the By-law to amend By-law No. 315 be now read a third time and passed, and that the Mayor and Clerk do sign and seal the same.—Carried.

The By-laws were then read a third time and passed.

The Mayor read a letter from Mr. M. Y. Calcutt to himself, notifying him that Mr. H. Calcutt had invited the Cobourg Town Council to take a trip on his new Steamer, the "Golden-Eye", on Wednesday, 9th Inst.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Haggart,—That the Clerk be requested to notify the local press of all special meetings of this Council.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Haggart and resolv-d.—That the thanks of this Council be and are hereby tendered to the Mayor and Corporation of the Town of Cobourg for the very handsome manner in which they treated this Corporation on the occasion of their recent visit to that enterprising town; and that in view of the fact that Messrs. Calcutt and Bottum have invited the Mayor and Corporation of Cobourg to take a trip to Bobcaygeon on Wednesday, the 9th of August, that they be invited to partake of a lunch as the guests of the corporation on that occasion, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Mayor of Cobourg.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Douglas,—That the following gentlemen be a special committee to make suitable arrangements for the reception of the Cobourg Council, viz:—Messrs. Haggart, McClelland, Hopkins, and the mover.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

ENNISMORE.

COUNCIL.—Council met in the Town Hall on the 5th inst., present Daniel Costello, Esq., Reeve, and Messrs. Wm Orough, Daniel Shanahan, M. Galvin and Donohoe, councillors. The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed. The council proceeded with the rate for the current year, the full amount required to be levied being $1,269 for all purposes, the rate was struck at 8 mills in the dollar. The Trustees of S.S. No. 3, handed in a statement of the amount to be levied and collected on S.S. No. 3 for new school house, ground, teacher's salary, and other small items for the present year, viz., $1,883. By law No. 149 authorizing the council to lease the Town Hall for five years to the Trustees of S.S. No. 4, for $12 per year, for the purpose of teaching school therein and transacting any other school business received its several readings and was duly signed and sealed. By-law No. 150 authorizing the Council to raise and levy by rate bill for all expenses for 1876, the sum of $1,269, received its several readings and was duly signed and sealed. The different road lists returned were examined and persons not having done their road work in full the Clerk was instructed to levy according to By-law $1 per day for each day left undone along with their taxes, and any pathmaster neglecting to return his road list in due time will also according to By-law incur the penalty of $10. The flooding of the road south of cross again came before the Council. For a number of years past, in the spring, the water rises 4 or 5 feet deep on this road, making it unsafe to travel on. Thomas Galivan, through whose land the water must pass each year, being sued for, refused either to take the contract himself of drawing away the water or allowing any one else in his field to do so. The Council finding some other means must be resorted to, passed the following motion. Moved by Wm Crough, seconded by D. Shanahan—That the Reeve and Clerk be empowered to take the necessary steps for having the water removed from the road south of the cross. A petition from several ratepayers for opening allowance of road in con. 9, was read and on motion laid over for further consideration. The appeal case of owners of land in con. 4, against the decision of the Court of Revision having been withdrawn there was no trial on July 31st. On motion the Council adjourned to the call of the Reeve.

A short time ago Martain Leonard, of this township, while putting paris green on his potatoes, two fine pigs followed him into the field unseen and eating freely of the potatoe stalks both died in a short time.—Com.

APSLEY.

FIRE AND GAME PROTECTIVE SOCIETY.—A meeting, consisting of the delegates from the several districts of the Province, established for the protection of the Colonsay Salmon and Fish and Game Protection Society, will meet at Toronto early in the present month to amend the laws and make other alterations.

ASSAULT.—This case came before James Golborne, Esq., Reeve, in the town hall of Apsley on Monday, the 31st. It appears that a young man of the name of Carl had been paying his addresses to a young woman of the name of Hurley, both residing in Methuen and near neighbors. The girl had been for some time in the house of Mr. Anderson as a servant. From the evidence given, Carl and his sister reduced the girl (Hurley) to leave Mr. Anderson's and go home with them to which she assented, and on Mr. Hurley (the father) going to the house to demand his daughter, Carl armed with a club, assisted him and struck him twice on the head. The case seemed fully proved, and the defendant was fined $5 and costs, one month being allowed for payment.

MIDDLE.

TEACHERS EXAMINATION.—At the last meeting of the Board of Examiners to prepare a report to the Central Committee on such matters of vital importance to the schools in this new section of country were brought before the notice to the Central Committee, praying that body to direct the attention of the Minister of Education to it. The following candidates obtained third class certificates:—Susan Wigmore, 588; Margaret McArthur, 596; Catherine Dower, 592; Mrs. Bayley, 573; Sarah Wood, 585; Emma Burt, 601; Emma Stephens, 576; Wm. Hynes, 584; Fred. Curry, 758; Wesley Down, 600; D. Brokey, 606. The maximum number of marks to pass was 1000. A large number failed to reach the standard.—Post.

THE ADDENDA AGRICULTURAL WORKS BURNED.—ARTON, Aug. 6. This morning, about 3 o'clock fire was discovered in the planing room of the agricultural and sawing machine works of Mr. Jos. Fleury, owner of this village. Owing to the quantity of dry timber in the room, the flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to check them or even to remove anything, and in a very short time the entire works, with the exception of the moulding and blacksmith's shops, built of brick, was in ruins. The destruction of these works will be a serious loss to the village, as it will throw a number of men out of employment. All the tools of the workmen were destroyed, There was no insurance on the building or stock. The fire is said to be accidentary.

RESULT OF MARRYING IN HASTE.—Our readers will remember that a short time ago, a respectable young lady, residing at Millbrook, was married to a man named Love, after an acquaintance of only a few days. The affair created considerable comment in Millbrook and vicinity at the time, and now we have the sequel in the following paragraphs from yesterday's Hamilton telegraph reports of the daily papers. The Globe says:—

"A sensational report was circulated that a man named Love, sojourning at Lynden village, was arrested on several felonious charges. Love was arrested on the charge of deserting a young wife, whom he had a few weeks ago married in Port Hope. He is held in custody until the arrival of the wife and her father. Prisoner had a large sum of money upon his person. The case will be tried before the Police Magistrate to-morrow morning."

The Mail's report gives but little further information:—

"Relative to the telegram from London that appears in the Toronto papers this morning announcing the arrest of Love on some serious charges, the Times says: From all we can learn from the police authorities there is no serious offence charged against Love. Some short time ago he married and has since left his wife. The particulars of an assault case which were given in the papers last week met the eyes of the relatives of Love's wife, and they communicated with Sergeant Mc-Kenzie, who arrested him on Saturday on suspicion. In his possession about $850 in bills were found, but no search was made for any further money. We believe the father of Mrs. Love will be in Hamilton this evening, when a full investigation before the Magistrate will take place. Meanwhile Love is a resident of Wentworth gaol."

This case should be a warning to young girls to be careful of taking up with strangers. Take the sad experience of this young lady, and it will be found that she has paid dearly for her folly. The marriage, we believe took place with the approval of her parents, but the assertion of the young wife almost immediately after the couple left home, shows Love to be a villian of the deepest dye, and we sincerely hope he will not be permitted to escape just punishment at the hands of the law.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST , 1876

M. COLLINS is selling his Groceries at prices to suit the times.

☞ Leading Sewing Machine Makers recommend CLARK'S Best Six-Cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton. NOTICE THE ANCHOR ON EACH SPOOL.

P.O.C.—On Friday evening, last, the Peterboro Cricket Club had a pleasant moonlight excursion on the steamer Golden Eye. The party was a large one and music and dancing the order of the evening.

EXHIBITION.—The annual exhibition of the West Riding of Peterboro Agricultural Society will be held in Peterboro on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 4th and 5th. Competition is open to the whole Province.

CRICKET.—The Port Hope and Toronto Clubs play a match in Orillia on the 11th and 12th inst., for the cup presented by A. Hazel, Esq., President of the Midland Railway, and F. Cumberland, Esq., the Manager of the Northern Railway.

PIC NIC.—The Teachers and Scholars of the Charlotte street Methodist Sabbath School, will have their annual excursion and pic-nic down the river to-morrow. The steamer Golden-Eye will leave the wharf at 7.30 a.m. for the pic-nic ground.

CIVIC HOLIDAY.—A very large petition [illegible] presented to the Mayor asking [illegible] set apart Thursday, 17th Instant as a Public Holiday, which he did, and has proclaimed Thursday next as a Civic Holiday for the Town of Peterborough.

☞ You will save time and trouble with your Sewing Machine by using CLARK & CO'S Best Six-Cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton.—NOTICE THE ANCHOR ON EACH SPOOL.

PIC-NICS for the Sunday Schools of Peterboro are to be held as follows:—To-day (Thursday) the Old Kirk School goes by the Golden-Eye to Campbelltown. On Friday the Charlotte street School goes to the same place by the steamer, and on Wednesday of next week the George Street Methodist Church S.S. goes to Campbelltown.

Go TO M. COLLINS if you want Preserving Sugar—Large lot cheap.

THOUGH the townspeople look for great economy in the expenditures this year, there appears to be no diminution in the efforts of that Street and Bridge Committee to spend the people's money. Not having scope enough on the highways they have recently taken to improve private properties. We shall have something to say in this more next week.

CAMPING OUT.—This is the season for camping out, and we would advise all those who are not feeling like themselves to take a trip for a few days to some of our bush lakes, where, with a change of air, diet, etc., they are almost certain to recruit the languid energies of their tired out constitutions. The delicious little huckleberry has already drawn numbers of our townspeople(by its magic influence) up north.

HOUSEKEEPERS will find the best value in Groceries, &c., at M. COLLINS', next door to McKee & Davidson's Hardware Store.

EGGS.—Another gentleman, residing near Westwood, sends us the following figures as the result of the first six months of 1876 produce from his hens which number thirty head:—January 87 eggs, February 169, March 331, April 257, May 432, June 561, total 1968 which gives an average of 65 eggs per hen. This beats last week's report, as the 108 hens mention in it averaged 56 eggs each during the same period.

LAST Saturday was in some parts of the country very stormy, high winds with terrific hailstorms did much damage. Peterborough is schorching up for want of rain. On Monday, plentious showers fell at Rice Lake and Bobcaygeon. We have frequently observed that the lakes north and south of us cause condensation and downpouring rain which we wholly escape. We would welcome a good old fashioned rainy day.

CANADA LIFE INSURANCE CO. ESTABLISHED 1847.—Intending assurers would do well to examine the standing of this old and firmly established Company. The Canada Life, from the late Government report, stands at the head of all Life Companies doing business in Canada Its rates are lower than American or British Offices, the conditions more liberal and its profits larger. Geo. A. COX, is general agent, from whom all necessary information can be obtained.

THOSE CONCERNED would do well to give M. COLLINS a call for Groceries, as he has it selling very cheap and has a choice selection of everything in his line of business.

THE YOUNG CANADIANS' PIC-NIC.—The excursion held by the above on Thursday last to Rice Lake was quite a success, there being over 200 persons on board. The boat left the wharf at 8.30 a.m. and reached Pic-Nic Island, Rice Lake at noon. There was a good quadrille band on board and dancing to its merry strains was kept up the whole way, both going down and returning. Great credit is due the committee for the able manner in which they made and carried out their programme.

SELF INKING PEN.—The agent, Mr Carrel for the celebrated Self inking Pen with which you can write for 48 consecutive hours, is canvassing the Town and meeting with the success the enterprise deserves. The Pen glides over the paper smoothly and writes as freely as anyone could wish, being always ready for action and thus enabling a person to write more rapidly and with greater ease than it is possible to do with any other pen or pencil. For a person who has a good deal of writing it will be found the very thing that is wanted.—31-tf

C. P. & M. RAILWAY.—The annual meeting of shareholders of the Cobourg, Peterboro and Marmora Railway took place at the Company's Office Cobourg, on Tuesday, July 27th, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Col. Chamblin, Vice-President, Isaac W. Bate, Esq., Directors, Messrs. John H. Shoemberger, G. K. Shoemberger, John D. Armour, P. McCallum Jr., Andrew Bowman and Wm Hargratt, M. P. P. At the meeting the President announced the intention of the new board to enter upon arrangements looking to the resumption of the work of reconstruction [illegible] close of their year of office.

SMITH STREET BRIDGE.—This useless bridge continues useless, the municipalities over the river won't spend a cent in making the costly approach on the Douro side, and the Peterborough council dash not spend their money outside of the municipality. The bridge was built contrary to the wish of the people of Peterborough, and after they had voted down the by-law to supply money for it, All Ashburnham and nearly the entire County Council opposed its construction where it is, and now after costing between $3,-000, and $4,000, it stands half finished a disgrace to all concerned in its structure and useless. Who is to blame?

MR. BRADBURN has a Buffalo artist fitting up his Town Hall in capital style. This hall it is admitted, will when finished, be the finest hall between Kingston and Toronto. Some stupid or designing persons have spread a report that the hall was not safe. There is no stronger hall in Canada, all the partitions between the shops are brick, and all these walls extend up to and support the floor. No crowd that could be put in it would have any effect upon it. The town commissioners provided the plans of the building, and they took extra precaution to secure safety. Broad and ample stairs at each end of the hall afford ready access and egress to and from it.

GAME FOWL AS LAYERS.—Mr. A.H.R. Sproule gives us the following returns as the result of three months laying of his game hens:

May, 8 hens,	.....	141 eggs
June, 12 hens	.....	147 "
July, 12 hens	.....	221 "

Besides these he has a black game hen that laid in May 27 eggs, June 25, July 28, total 80 in three months, who has a hen that has done more? His hens also hatched 73 chicks, of which 62 are living and doing well. Mr Sproule took three 1st and one 2nd prize at the Horticultural Show this summer with some of the above birds, and would be happy to show them to anyone who wishes to see them, if they call at his residence.

CRICKET MATCHES.—On Friday last an excellent game of Cricket was played here between the Old Country v. Canadians. The playing on both sides was very good, the fielding and batting of the Canadians was very much admired. As was generally expected the odds were against the Canadians, but they proved more than a match for their brethern from "over the water" beating them 11 wickets and one run. On Saturday a match was played Lakefield vs. Peterboro' resulting in a victory for Peterborough by one innings and 36 runs, a very bad beating we should say for Lakefield. But why is it when Peterboro' is making such good play that they cannot beat Port Hope?

PROTECT THE SHADE TREES.—The following remarks from an exchange are equally applicable to Peterboro:—"It is very painful, indeed, to any person having sensitive feelings to walk along some of our streets and witness the fearful destruction and devastation that is going on among the shade trees, just for the want of a little care. There are hundreds of trees being fearfully abused and misused by being allowed to sway and slash round in the tree boxes till many of the trees are nearly cut in halves, and many of them will, sooner or later, be broken off by the storms, they will carry on their bodies great frightful scars and wounds while they live, and instead of their being as they should be, 'a thing of beauty and a joy forever,' they become a mere eye sore and a thing causing sorrow to the passer-by."

PIC-NIC AT BRIDGENORTH.—A School pic-nic will be held on the "Plains" next Tuesday afternoon, on the occasion of the opening of the new School building in the village. Games of all kinds will be held on the grounds, such as base ball croquet, quoits, &c., swings for the children, boats &c. In the evening a musical entertainment will be held in the new school building. The "Peterboro' Glee Club" have kindly consented to assist. The young people of the village have organised a choir for the occasion, and will also take part. Recitations and Dialogues by pupils of the school will form a part of the programme. Several speakers have promised suitable but short addresses. No pains will be spared to make the entertainment throughout enjoyable to both young and old. Admission to pic-nic 10 cents, children free, to the school room adults, 15c. children 10c.

DULL TIMES—Owing to the dull times, some imagine that there is no use in advertising their wares, but this is a mistaken idea, as is evidenced by the fact that those who advertise regularly are doing a lively and profitable business On this subject the Boston Post says:—

"Advertising is an indication of intelligence, and intelligence is one of the leading elements of good looks. At all events the world believes in those who advertise, and it plants its dollars in their pockets. Such are the live people, and, in these live days, nobody wants anything to do with any but your live men and women.

"Our advice to everybody—except in matrimony—is to advertise. It is sure to return largely, increase your reputation as a business man, make hosts of friends, and add to the number of shrewd and sensible people in the world, of which there has never yet been an overstock."

In connection with the foregoing, it is only necessary to add, for the benefit of advertisers, that the EXAMINER is the best advertising medium in this county as its circulation is large and steadily increasing.

GOOD FISHING.—A party of gentlemen who have been residing at the Burleigh Bridge Hotel, on Stony Lake, kept by Mr. John Holmes, caught, on Thursday morning last, before breakfast, 153 lbs. of fish, composed of lake bass and muskinonge. The party were composed of Mr. T. Ross, of Hamilton, Mr. A. S. Wink, of Dundas, Mr. T. O. Anderson, of Toronto, and Messrs. W. Dixon and W. W. Johnston of Peterborough. On Wednesday morning Mr. Wink hooked with a trout rod and line, a 15lb. muskinonge, and after running him over a quarter of a mile, landed and gaffed him on a rock without assistance. The fishing at Burleigh has been excellent this season, and gentlemen fishing there bring in every day their baskets filled with bass and their canoes with muskinonge. Stony, Love sick Lake, and Deer Bay afford equally good fishing. We would advise our fishing friends who can spare the time, to take a day or two at Burleigh if they wish to have the best of sport. The two gentlemen last named, were engineered by Mr. Richard Hill, (Trapper Dick) of Lakefield.

GAME LAWS.—We publish the following information respecting the game laws affecting this season of the year, for the benefit of sporting men, and others of our readers to whom it may be of interest. It is compiled from the Act:—

Moose, reindeer, or cariboo, deer and elk, may be killed from the first day of September to the first day of December. Wild turkeys, grouse, pheasant or partridges, from the first day of September to the first day of January. Quail, from the first day of October to the first day of January. Woodcock from the first day of July to the first day of January. Snipe from the 16th of August to the first of May. Water fowl, which are known as mallard, gray duck, black duck, wood or summer duck, and all the kind of duck known as teal, from the 15th of august to the first of January. Hares or rabbits, from the 1st of September to the 1st of March. No person shall have in his possession any of the said animals or birds, during the periods in which they are so protected; provided they may be exposed for sale for ten months and no longer after such periods, and may be had in possession for the private use of the owner and his family at any time; but in all cases the time of killing or taking shall be upon the party of possession. It is enacted that no beaver, muskrat, mink, martin, raccoon, otter or fish shall be hunted, taken or killed, or had in possession of any person, between the first day of May and the first day of November. The penalties attaching to transgression of this law are as follows:—In case of deer, elk, moose, reindeer or cariboo, $50, and not less than $10. In case of birds or eggs, $25, and not less $5. In case of fur bearing animals, $25, and not less than $5.

OUR CALIFORNIA LETTER

ABAHEIM, Los. Angios County,

DEAR SIR:—My last letter, I think, has failed to reach you, and I can in this letter only repeat the leading topics contained in it, and a few words as the season progresses on transpiring events. Our crops, during the months of April and May, suffered severely from the absence of dews at night, and from the dry, scorching days. The barley crop is reported to be very heavy, notwithstanding, and the price has fallen accordingly, it has been sold here at 55 cents per cental, it costs about 30 cents to thrash and bag the grain and the harvesting about 10 cents more, so, you observe, at that figure little is left for putting in the crop or the rent of land. As far as I have been able to learn the yield will be, and has been so far, from 15 to 20 centals to the acre, so that the crop will not reach the estimate placed upon it before harvest. Rye is a good price and will do well this season from the fact that little was sown, there being no market last year for the product—and farmers here run to extremes. Some good samples of wheat have been raised here this year, and tolerably pleasing. The greatest drawback here is rust; wheat, I think, is worth about $1.55 per cental. The corn crop after planting looked backward but the nights during the month of June were foggy and damp which entirely changed the prospect, and now the probability is a fair crop will be reaped. The fruit and grape promises to be heavy. The complaint amongst the vineyards is no sale for wine and low prices, some at 15 cents per gallon; a good deal is made into brandy, and this product seems to be calculated to do the work, being of a very fiery nature. The distillers complain that they cannot work, as the duty has to be paid at once when distilled, they are moving in Congress for a relaxation but with little appearance of success. The dullness in the sale of wines is not without its benefit in a temperance point of view. The people are establishing machines for drying fruit with hot air and steam. This will, perhaps, make a great change as a large market is open within the borders of the United States for the product. At present chiefly the wine grape has only been cultivated—this grape contains too much water and need for raisins—the Muscat of Alexandria and Malaga seems to be best adapted, being a fleshey grape and of a white color. The most of us new-comers have been propagating these kinds, and some of the old vines have been dug up or grafted with these sorts, so that in a few years we may be expected to be able to put in the market as good an article as the raisins grown on the shores of the Mediterranean, and, it is claimed, superior. The fruit dried with hot air is not apt to be wormy when kept for a length of time. The great national holiday has again gone by, a more than usual amount of powder and guns were expended the cause being the centennial year—the effect a good shower of rain shortly after. Business is dull this year, low prices being paid for all kinds of produce. The people about town cannot improve much in the way of building, and mechanics are only partially employed, still, some building is going on. Our County Council, or Supervisors as they are called here, have completed the revision of the assessment rolls which this year foots $15,000-000 for the county. Los Angles city is also included, which must contain at least 15,000 of a population; the city pays the sheriff of the county assessment and her own municipal government besides. The election campaign is now open and each party is girding on the armour. It seems this year to possess more than usual interest to the Sovereign Boys of the U. S., and it sincerely to be hoped that with this election will be done away the many vicious systems that have crept into the affairs of the nation during the years that have passed, and in the future that honor and honesty may prevail in the nation whoever the successful candidates may be.

Yours truly,

J. HUNTER.

THE PRISONER REPENTED— HIS FAREWELL OF HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN—AN AFFECTING SCENE.

(St. John News Aug. 3)

Before to-day's News reaches even a majority of its readers Thomas O'Neil will have paid the penalty of his terrible crime, the murder of his mother-in-law, Bridget Fotbergill. The history of the crime is so well known to the public that little mention is required now. The victim was a native of Carleton. Her daughter, the condemned man's wife, had no lived with him for some time. He held the father-in-law and mother-in-law responsible for this, and his hate on that account culminated in the murder of the old women, though he declares that had he been sober the the murder would not have occurred. There is little in reference to the prisoner's condition to add to what appeared in Tuesday's News. He seems to be repentant and hopes to die a good Christian.

TAKING LEAVE OF HIS FRIENDS.

The last persons, except his spiritual advisers and goal officials, to visit O'Neil yesterday were his wife and two of his children by his first wife—John and Mary Ann, Ellen, who was here at the trial and who went back to the United States has not returned to St. John. The rumour that she had seems to have been made in consequence of a reporter mistaking her cousin for her. Mary Ann is 17 years of age, and is engaged as a domestic with a Portland family, who speak of her in high terms. Poor girl! It was she alone who wept when the verdict of 'Guilty' was returned against her father, and it was she that has since made frequent visits to the goal, some times passing without going in. Her interview with the father yesterday—the last she will have with him in this world—commenced about half-past one o'clock in the afternoon and occupied but a short time. Then the two John, aged 21 years, entered the cell from which his father will be led fourth this morning to die on the scaffold. The interview occupied half an hour, and was very affecting. The condemned man seldom to the youth very earnestly, counselling him to keep out of trouble, and above all things never to touch liquor. Rum, he said, was the cause of most trouble, and it was sure to bring ruin as well as disgrace upon those who became slaves to it. The interview with the wife commenced immediately after John's departure, and ended about three o'clock. She seemed to realize her peculiarly distressing position. She had lost a mother at the hands of O'Neil, and must to satisfy that loss she loose a husband on the gallows. The interview finished, O'Neil was in a terrible condition, and his cries might have been heard on the street. What a change was there? How unlike the devil-may-care Tom O'Neil of a few months ago was the Tom O'Neil who had but a few hours to live. It floods of tears, loud and earnest-sounding prayers meant repentance, then the unfortunate being was truly repentant. He was visited soon afterwards by Rev. Father Michaud, who remained in the cell nearly two hours. Rev. Father Murray visited the murderer at nine o'clock last night, and was still there at midnight.

SPECIALTIES IN MEDICINE.

We publish on our right page a lengthy article describing the system of the noted specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., in which he sets forth with considerable force and clearness his reasons for devoting his whole time and attention to a single department of medicine—the treatment of lingering chronic disease. The same article also takes up the subjects of diagnosis, methods of consultation and treatment, etc., and will be found to contain many valuable hints to the invalid. Dr. Pierce is the author of a work which has already attained a large circulation—"The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser"—containing some nine hundred numerously illustrated pages, and devoted to medicine in all its branches, a work well calculated for the guidance and instruction of the people at large, and which may be had for $1.50 (post paid) by addressing the author. Dr. Pierce has now been before the general public long enough to enable the formation of a careful estimate of the efficiency of his treatment and his medicines, and the verdict, we are glad to know, has been universally favorable to both.

THOMAS' ECLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN COLD.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR OUR PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil, Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Peterboro Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all"—J. H. East, Hotel Keeper, West Ebelford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different, medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally, as good for horse as for man."—A. Mayhew, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rennie, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. Mr Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

GREAT EXPLOSION!

The boiler of the British iron-clad "Thunderer," on a trial trip in Stokes Bay, exploded on the 14th, killing and injuring a large number of officers and sailors. In two days after another explosion occured at the "Ontario Clothing Store," on the East side of George St., Peterboro, when the former prices of Clothing were blown up the spout, the entire stock had a general shaking up and the prices of Summer and light weight clothing had a fearful tumble down. In order to clear out to make room for our Fall Arrivals we have reduced our prices—regardless of cost—and all who are in want of good goods, or those who buy on speculation would do well to give us a call. An Inspection is all that is required to convince you that we are suffering from the effects of the explosion, when you see the prices we are offering goods at (and selling them). Our stock is large and well selected, we can "Suite" and "Fit" any one who is want of a Suite of Clothes, and sell them at so low a price that you will be convinced that you can save money by trading at the Ontario Clothing Store, we can give you a Large Stock to choose from. We can give you a great variety to select from. We can give you any weight, grade and style you may want, and we can give you a Perfect Fit, and that is what every one should have and which all do get who patronize us.

Beauty and Economy.

These considerations lead all our customers to the conclusion that

FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

INDIAN MEAL ORDER CAKE.—Five gills of meal, three ounces of butter, one teaspoonful of salt. Mix up with milk. Bake on a board before the open fire. Split each half into three parts, and warm each before the fire.

NICE MUFFINS.—One quart of flour, two eggs well beaten, two ounces of butter, one pint of milk, one-teaspoonful of salt, one gill of yeast. To be dropped from a spoon into the oven, and baked quickly.

ORANGE CAKES FOR BREAKFAST.—1 quart of flour, one cupful of butter, four eggs, two table-spoonfuls of yeast. Make into a stiff batter at night with milk. Next morning add a tea-cupful of cornmeal. Beat all well together, and put into cups, to rise before being baked.

CAKES OF SMALL HOMINY.—Take off small hominy, boiled soft, one pint, and one egg beaten light; mix them, and stir in a spoonful of flour and a little milk, with a very small lump of lard or butter. Let the batter be tolerably thin, and poured for baking into cups, saucers or small tins.

RECIPE FOR FRENCH SOUP.—Take four pounds of veiny part of rump of good beef, not fat, one pound of veal off the leg, four carrots, two parsnips, four onions, one head of celery, four cloves. To be put on the coals—not over the fire—at eight o'clock in the morning, and let boil slowly till two o'clock. When it begins to boil, add two table-spoonfuls of salt; no pepper. One gallon of water.

BLANC-MANGE (first-rate recipe).—Season one quart of rich cream to your taste, or say, put five ounces of sugar, and ten drops of extract of vanilla, lemon or rose. Whip the cream to a stiff froth. Pour one pint of cold water on one ounce of isinglass; let it simmer on embers until perfectly dissolved. When lukewarm, pour the cream slowly in, beating it all the time, till stiff enough to drop from the spoon. Then put it in moulds.

BAKED PLUM-PUDDING.—One pint of grated bread crumbs, one pint of raisins or best dried cherries, three-quarters of a pint of suet chopped fine and shredded, one pint of sugar, one pint of milk, three eggs, half a pint of chopped apples, and one nutmeg. Put the milk on last. The eggs must be beaten very light, and stirred into it with enough flour to make the mass stick together. Bake only half an hour and serve it with French sauce.

BOILED PUDDING WITHOUT EGGS.—Two and a half cupfuls of sifted flour, one cupful of molasses, one cupful of chopped suet or butter, one tea-spoonful of soda, and one of cream of tartar dissolved in a cupful of milk or cream. Boiled in a floured cloth, and also eaten with sweet sauce. This is a good plain pudding for family use, and may be turned into a plum pudding by the addition of raisins.

RECEIPT FOR HALIBUT OR HADDOCK. First boil your fish; lay on fish dish; take a cupful of the water the fish was boiled in; add half a pound of butter; beat five eggs, the juice of four lemons, some grated nutmeg together. When the butter has boiled once or twice, add the eggs and pour it over the fish; garnish with parsley; you can add a little sugar to the gravey.

BEAUTIFUL CAKE.—Three cups of sugar, two of butter, six of flour, one of sour milk, (or sweet), with a little cream, five eggs, nutmeg, and a little fruit of any kind, one teaspoonful of soda, two of cream of tartar; two loaves.

STOVE POLISH.—Stove Lustre, when mixed with turpentine, and applied in the usual manner, is blacker, more glossy and enduring than when mixed with any other liquid. The turpentine prevents rust, and when applied to an old rusty stove, will make it look like new.

TO COOK CODFISH.—The best way to cook codfish: Strip it of its skin and cut it in pieces about the size of one's hand; place it in water and allow it to simmer on the stove until it becomes tender. It should never be allowed to boil. Boiling hardens and darkens the fish, and deprives it of much of its flavor.

To remove, from any dry goods, fresh paint, before it becomes dry and hard, rub briskly with a dry crust of bread.

Dry buckwheat flour, if repeatedly applied will remove entirely the worst grease spots on carpets or any other woollen cloth, and will answer as well French chalk for grease spots on silk.

WHAT IS SALERATUS?—Wood is burnt to ashes, ashes are lixivated; ley is the result. Ley is evaporated by boiling, black salts is the residum. The salt undergoes purification by fire, and the potash of commerce is obtained.—By another process we change potash into pearlash. Now put these in casks and place them over a distillery mash-tub, where the fermentation evolves carbonic acid gas, and the pearlash absorbs it and is rendered solid, the product being heavier, whiter and drier than the pearlash. It is now saleratus. How much salts, ley and carbonic acid gas a human stomach can bear and remain healthy is a question for a saleratus eater. Some people say saleratus will not harm the stomach. It is a ley.

DIPTHERIA.—A Hamilton (South Australia) paper publishes details of Greathead cure for diphtheria. The disease is declared by Mr. Greathead to be of hydrated growth, and that the germs of it floating in certain impure atmospheres were inhaled by human beings. For a grown person, four drops of sulphuric acid diluted in three quarters of a tumbler of water; with a smaller dose for children. The effect of this treatment was instantaneous, the acid at once destroying the parasites and the patient coughing up the obstruction. The papers have teemed with accounts of sufferers who have recovered in a few hours by adopting the 'Greathead' treatment. Children almost previously in a dying state were declared to be playing about within ten minutes, and at a computation some fifty of their sudden recoveries have been placed on record.

DON'T CUT THE TURNIPS.—Turnips are a profitable crop, if grown on rich land. Five hundred bushels to the acre are often grown at a cost of about $15, including gathering and putting them in a cellar, root-houses, or buying them, making the cost only three cents a bush. Some varieties may be sown in July, the flat variety in particular, which is frequently sown among corn, immediately after the last hoeing. Care should be taken not to sow the seed too thick as thinning out is not generally practiced when grown in this way; nor is any weeding done. This decidedly is the cheapest way that a crop of turnips can be grown. Cover the seed by a brush drag drawn between the rows of corn. Some farmers objects to growing turnips to feed to cows, on account of giving the milk an unpleasant flavor; but this is obviated by feeding the turnips, either when milking in the morning, or immediately after milking, and no bad flavor is imparted to the evening's milk.

VINEGAR BITTERS

WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS possess the most wonderful invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the glow and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no ... medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

As occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

Select Poetry.

The Dewdrop and the Heart.

The night was dead, but, dying, gave
Forth tenderness of purity dead;
The morning smiled, and, waiting, found
The things its all its beauty nearly.
Calmly and modestly it lay,
Cradled in moss, a liquid gem,
Watocshed by art, worthy a place
In Nature's fairest diadems.

Calmly it lay, content to be
A drop of dew, and doubting more,
Till Phoebus rose, and then, forsooth,
It's happiness for ave was o'er.
The dewdrop gazed, and, gazing, longed
For brilliancy and sparkling sheen:
"Would that a diamond I could be,
Set coronets of lasty green!"

Then turned it to the sun, and cried,
"Give me, oh give me, of thy light!
Grant that with Phoebus' glittering
My bright form may to-night!"
"Forbear! O do what you, Phoebus said:
"Then ashest what is death to thee;
Shalt not forsake thine shadows gave,
But with the late consigned be."

"Give me light, pure, heavenly light;
I long for it, for it I pray."
"Well, since thou will, poor foolish thing,
I give it thee—the light to shine."
The dewdrop sparkled in its pride.
Nor stayed to think upon the cost;
In truth a diamond it seemed,
A while it glittered—and was lost!

And as the dewdrop, so my heart,
Untenanted, joyless, calm and free,
Until the God of Love arose,
And in his beauty smiled on me.
Then prayed I for the gift of love.
Nor heard his words in warning giv'n.
But prayed again, till love was mine;
I loved—and love my heart has riven!

LOCAL.—The heat during the last three days of last week was intense, the thermometer ranging up to 98 in the shade, and never falling below 75 at night. A large number of children are "laid up" in consequence, and our medical men are kept on the move.... Certain parties from Lakefield who were camping in the neighbourhood of Burleigh Falls Hotel, but who shall be nameless for the present, stole Holmes' big gobbler and seven half grown turkeys. When discovered by the feathers they said that they had belonged to some partridge. Where is our Game Inspector, and why don't he "go for" 'em" shooting season out of season for.... Upwards of a 100,000 saw logs, comprising three of the largest drives of the season, arrived in Katchewanooenka a day or two since.... On Thursday last Dr. Bell came into our sanctum and presented us with a beautiful ripe tomatoe of the variety known as "Keys Early Prolific," which weighed about half a pound, and for which he will please accept our thanks. This is the first ripe tomatoe we have seen grown in this county this season, and we would like to know whether any of our colems can beat it.... A young man called Darling, residing in Douro, about two miles from this village, fell from a ladder on Saturday evening last, striking his shoulder. Dr. Bell replaced it on Sunday morning.

The second Moonlight Excursion of the Lakefield Brass Band was postponed from last Thursday night to Monday evening, in consequence of the "Chippewa" being unable to force her way through the large number of saw logs which obstructed the several channels. The evening was all that could be desired and about 40 couples of happy people enjoyed the trip. The band discoursed some choice music during the evening, and altogether the excursion was a most pleasant one.

The second Excursion of the Lakefield Brass Band was postponed from last Thursday night to Monday evening, in consequence of the "Chippewa" being unable to force her way through the large number of saw logs which obstructed the several channels. The evening was all that could be desired and about 40 couples of happy people enjoyed the trip. The band discoursed some choice music during the evening, and altogether the excursion was a most pleasant one.

The steam launch "Tiger," Mr. H. Nesbitt, master, made her trial trip yesterday. At the invitation of Mr. N., several of our business men availed themselves of the opportunity so kindly offered for enjoying a trip up the lakes to the Burleigh Falls Hotel. Considerable difficulty was experienced in passing through the several drives which obstructed the passage, but clearing them, a safe, quick and pleasant journey was made, and all report, on board themselves as having enjoyed with the "Tiger's" performance. The boat will not be placed on the line for a week or two yet, as the owners are [illegible] making [illegible] a few alterations before bringing him prominently before the public.—News.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 17, 1876

VALEDICTORY.

As the readers of the EXAMINER are aware, by report at least, Mr. Stratton so long connected with this paper has retired from newspaper life. In doing so he takes this opportunity of returning to his many friends and patrons, his most sincere and heartfelt thanks for their friendship and liberality to him during the [illegible] years. Under some difficulties he undertook the management of the EXAMINER in 1864, when its circulation was not one-third of what it now is. Although a stranger to the people of the the town and county he has found that they were not slow to encourage his efforts in the cause of Reform principles and the promotion of all moral questions affecting the town, county and province. On his taking charge of the EXAMINER many were the fruitless efforts made to prevent the extension and growth of the influence of the paper, by maligning and defaming and abusing its Editor; but during the whole twelve years not one entire column has been written, (if placed together) to defend his character or his acts. These have been left to the people, and he to this day is willing to abide by their decision. He cannot but acknowledge the support obtained from Conservatives, and he trusts that now that he has retired from political strife he will be able to retain their friendship and good-will. He freely forgives all the hard words uttered against him and unjust comments made to injure him. His desire for the future is to live so that bidding farewell to earth he may be at peace with all men, but especially prepared for the peace that knows no strife or contention.

It is needless to say that the EXAMINER will still be continued in the Reform interests, and he hopes will still be the outspoken advocate of all good words and works.

Attempts have been made by men with Conservative tendencies to purchase it, but it is no use trying. The EXAMINER is and will continue a Reform paper. It is not my intention to take up space in self laudation. What has been done is well known to all in the county. To them we would now say, our newspaper work is done, and may all our readers endeavour to live that they may give up their labour in peace, and be prepared for an abundant entrance into that kingdom where there will be no political strifes—where selfishness will be lost in the nobler work of serving the King of kings day and night, forever.

INTERCHANGE of COURTESIES

On Tuesday the Mayor of our sister Town of Cobourg and several members of its Council paid a promised visit to our town. They arrived about 12 o'clock m., by the "Golden-Eye," and were met at the wharf by Mayor Toole and members of Council and prominent citizens, and were escorted round town in carriages.

The party was composed of the following gentlemen and ladies:—Mayor Guillet, and Councillors J. Vance Granby, D. McAllister, (also of the SENTINEL) Adam Dickson, R. Mullholland and lady, Thos. Gilbard and lady, Town Treasurer, W. H. Floyd and daughter, Clerk, Major H. Smith and wife, Town Solicitor, and the accompanied guests were W. Richardson Esq., and W. Delaney, Esq.

On their arrival they were conducted to the Huffman House, where a lunch was provided in the best style.

Mayor Toole presided. On his right Mayor Guillet of Cobourg, and Judge Dennistoun. On his left W. H. Scott, M. P. P., and other prominent citizens.

After due attention had been given to the "good things provided," Mayor Toole stated that they had considerable of a programme to go through, and that they would have to be as speedy as possible with the speeches and toasts as Mr. Bottom was waiting with his boat at Bridgenorth to convey the party to Bobcaygeon. He felt that there were many present who could do more justice to the matter than he could, but he would not try to overdo the thing. We live in a world of fashion, and different countries have different ways of doing justice to toasts, but he would merely propose the health of "Our Queen" which no doubt would be drunk with enthusiasm.

Major Boulton said that it was not necessary to respond to the toast, and to save time he thought they had better dispense with a response.

The Mayor in proposing the toast "The Governor-General" coupled with it "The Lieutenant-Governor," he said that he was the Queen's representative in this country. There were many present who were personally acquainted with him, but he was sorry to say that he has not the pleasure of his acquaintance, but from what he had seen and heard through the papers, he was always ready to do anything that was for the good of the country.

Dr. Kincaid said that he had been requested to propose the toast the "Army Navy and Volunteers," but he knew that there were gentlemen present who could do more justice to it than he could. He referred, as he usually finds in such duty to this toast, about the way the Volunteers have of late been neglected, trying in a modest way to reflect on the present Government. He was pleased to say that he belonged to the Volunteers, and that it gave him much pleasure in proposing the prosperity of the "Army and Navy of Great Britain, coupled with the Volunteers of the Dominion."

Major Smith and Mr. Floyd of Cobourg and Major Boulton responded in fitting terms and hoped that if ever the Volunteers were required, as in 1866, that there will be no time spent in bringing out the Volunteers.

The Mayor then proposed the health of "The Mayor and Councillors of Cobourg and their friends."

Mayor Guillet, of Cobourg, said that he felt incapable to do justice to the toast. By the manner in which they have been received here to-day, they were pleased to receive the resolution from the Peterboro Council thanking them for the way in which they had treated them, but owing to their not hearing about their coming until a few hours before their arrival they could not get them the desired hospitality which they would like to have done. He congratulated Peterborough on the rapid progress of the town and was surprised to hear that the affairs of the town were managed at as low a rate of taxation as they were. He hoped that these meetings would be the means of bringing the two towns into closer relationship. The town of Cobourg has lost everything but her honor. When railroad enterprize was ahead of the country we failed, we were determined to build the road to Peterboro but after spending the last cent Cobourg had, they have not got the road yet, they enlisted some Americans to assist us, and fight the battle, but when they came to that watery chasm and could not get across they thought it better to have half a loaf than no bread, and were satisfied with having the Marmora mines, since the old company became embarrassed, after having the bridge about half built, the ice took it away. He said Col. Chamblin gave him him authority to state as he was unavoidably absent, that if they would send a deputation to Cobourg they would make arrangements to have the work completed at an early day. He referred to the great harbor privilege at Cobourg, and also the low rates for shipment, much lower than they were from Bellaville, and urged that the people of Peterboro take such steps as will lead to the road being built at once, as it is to their interest as well as that of Cobourg. Then thanking them again for the hospitable manner in which they had been received he took his seat.

Mr. Mullholland also responded, and thanked them for the manner in which their health had been received.

Mr. Calcutt said that the boat was waiting and that the people of Bobcaygeon were expecting them early, but as it was now getting late they had better adjourn from here.

The carriages were waiting at the door, and no time was lost in making their way to Bridgenorth, where the steamer Ogden was found ready to proceed on her journey to Bobcaygeon. The beauties of the route for a pleasure trip have been so frequently described that it would be out of place for us to even attempt it. The trip was made in good time, and on arriving at Bobcaygeon were met by about 100 of its citizens, while several carriages were ready to convey the excursionists around the Village, which they did in a manner highly creditable to the committee who had the management of the affair. The Village is rapidly progressing and will be incorporated about the first of the year. After viewing the village they were entertained to a banquet in the village hall, where the tables were well covered piled with the dainties.

Mr. Bick, Reeve of Verulam, presided with the Mayor of Peterborough at his right and the Mayor of Cobourg at his left. The usual loyal toasts were given and were responded to by several of the Bobcaygeon firebrands in a very friendly manner.

The Mayor of Cobourg, on behalf of the Corporation, thanked the inhabitants of Bobcaygeon for the very handsome manner in which they had been received by them, and that the County owes much to this gentleman for the enterprise He believed that the people of Bobcaygeon were their true friends, and that if they only helped them a little the road would be running here in a short time. There is a general sympathy for the road, and if the people only put their shoulder to the wheel and help us, we will succeed. We cannot get along without you, and if Peterboro does not do something the trade would go past their door and go to Lindsay. As you all well know, Cobourg has exhausted herself in trying to assist the road, and they are now looking to the people of Peterborough and Bobcaygeon to assist them and we are certain they will do so. I am sorry that Mr. Armour or Col. Chamblin are not here to speak for themselves, but am sure that it was no fault of theirs not being present on this occasion, and if Bobcaygeon would send a deputation, the Cobourg people would meet them half way.

Mayor Toole said that he joined with the Mayor of Cobourg in feeling that thankfulness was due to the people of Bobcaygeon for courtesies received at their hands, and that great credit is due to Messrs. Calcutt and Bottom who were the means of bringing about this gathering here to-night. He expressed himself sorry that the people of Cobourg had failed thus far in their railway enterprise. The people of Peterboro' have always been successful in their railway enterprise, and if the people of Bobcaygeon wish to have connection between the two municipalities they had better make an effort at once.

Mr. Calcutt made an excellent speech explaining that it was no fault of Peterboro that they had not got the road, as Peterboro' had coaxed at one time to spend dollar for dollar and had several by-laws passed giving them grants, but the times were so hard the Cobourg people could not push the road, and the consequence was the By-laws fell through.

A vote of thanks was then tendered to Messrs. Calcutt and Bottom for their liberality in placing their Steamers at the service of the visitors.

Major Boulton kindly placed the Str. "Chippewa" at their disposal to visit Stony Lake and Mount Julien yesterday, which was accepted. They had not returned when we went to press.

TRIED TO BREAK JAIL.

On Tuesday, James Ryan, who is confined in jail here, for the murder of his wife, made an attempt to break jail and had succeeded in almost reaching the top of the wall. It appears that one Morrissey, from Ashburnham, is at present in jail, on account of insanity. Ryan has been practising for some time, getting on the shoulders of Morrissey and thus aided obtained hold of a window sill. He was somewhat afraid the first attempt and got down again. Ryan's designs were frustrated through an insane man, named Abner Cavener, from Belmont, who expressed to the jailor a strong wish to get out of jail. The jailor told him he did not see how he could get out unless he could scale the wall. Cavener said he could do so if he were permitted to get on Morrissey's shoulders as Ryan had done. This aroused the suspicions of Mr. McWilliams and he quietly set a watch and found Ryan practising how well he could stand on Morrissey's shoulders. He also watched them at one attempt to get on the wall, but this time Ryan feared that the jailor was on the other side of the wall. Ryan, however, made another attempt on Tuesday. He took his slippers and placing them inside his pants at the waist got on Morrissey's shoulders. By this means he got up almost on to the top of the wall. The jailor had prepared to meet him at the top, and as Ryan raised his head he found Mr. McWilliams ready to place his hands on him. He felt surprised a little, but said he had been so long confined he thought he would get on the wall and take a look at the town. He was quickly in close custody again, where he will be saved the trouble of another attempt. Mcmurray will find a new commission and the unfortunate Ryan will have still to undergo his trial and be dealt with according to law. This attempt to get away has led to an examination of the place, and from this examination it is found that any active prisoner with very little assistance could reach the top of the wall and once there, it would be an easy matter to jump down and walk away. This should be seen to, as notwithstanding the usually quiet nature of our citizens a case might arise demanding safe keeping.

The Unemployed in New York.

The Opposition papers in Canada are at present engaged in proclaiming with all their might and main that everything in the Dominion is going to the dogs on account of the Grit Government, and especially from the want of adequate protection to native industry. Once get that, and we are assured all would be well. The winter of our discontent would become glorious summer. It is not perhaps said in so many words that the workingmen in the States are at present living in comfort, but this is left to be understood from the talk about the Canadian population going away to the other side as if glad to escape from starvation and death. What appears on the other side of the picture?

The New York Herald has instituted very minute and comprehensive enquiries into the state of the labour market in that city, and the extent to which skilled and unskilled working men are at present supplied with the means of feeding themselves and families. The result is stated in the following suggestive facts:—

(1) There are at present in New York FORTY THOUSAND WORKMEN out of employment.

(2) Since the panic in 1873 matter have every year been growing worse, and have now reached their lowest ebb.

(3) What wages are paid to those actually employed are at least, on an average, fifty per cent, lower than they were before the panic.

(4) While everything hither to has been quiet among this great army of unemployed, there is every reason to fear that if a change for the better does not speedily come, and that at no distant day, quiet will not be maintained.

(5) Of all the working-men and women in New York, Usually fully employed, 40 per cent, are at present altogether idle, but in the course of three months the per centage of the idle will be up to, at least, 60, which presents a terrible look-out for the winter months.

(6) From a list furnished by the Working men's Assembly of the State of New York it appears that out of a grand total of 102,400 workmen according to average years 86,960 ought to be at work. Actually there are only 64,100 employed, showing a difference of unemployed, over average years of 22,860. It is proposed to get up a monster demonstration of the unemployed, with their wives and children. This display of the wretchedness of the working men of New York is expected to take place the day after to-morrow. Is there anything approaching to such a state of things in any place in Canada? If so, where? Let the Opposition papers give the particulars.

The Conservatives and the New License Law.

In their short-sighted eagerness to injure the local Government the Conservatives of Ontario are more and more making opposition to the license law a plank in their platform. They are finding, according to their own account of things, that law is everything that is bad, and that it would be far better, therefore to return to the old order of things. That the present license law is perfect would not be said by its most strenuous supporters. But that it is a very important step in the right direction is beyond all doubt This will be acknowledged by every Conservatives in the Province who is not blinded by partisan feeling, and who is at the same time anxious to advance interests of the country In their wild and unreasonable hunger after office, the Local, like the Federal Opposition is ready to take up any cry and advocate any cause, if by so doing it is thought the Ministry may be weakened and the loaves and fishes brought within reach. In such circumstances great mistakes are apt to be made. It is too often the case that Mr. Wilson Croker's course is repeated, when that gentleman in his assault on Macaulay meant murder and committee suicide. A very considerable number of Conservatives throughout Ontario are very anxious to reform the drinking habits of the country. They are convinced that what has been done tend in this direction, and they will not go even with their political friends in a policy which they feel to be at once retrograde and injurious.

A day or two before the election in Glengarry the Mail had a trumped-up story to the effect that the Tory spouters were refused a hearing at Dunvegan. The Cornwall Freeholder knocks the bottom out of the story. It says: "A charge such as that made by the friends of Mr. McLennan against the people of Dunvegan cannot be against any locality in Glengarry. There is not any where from the Atlantic to the Pacific a people so absolutely fair and free in the matter of liberty and speech and the franchise as the people of Glengarry. The charge of rowdyism was never made against them before; and we are happy to say that it has not yet been made upon any better authority than that of the professional politicians who have been giving Glengarry their attention for the last two or three weeks. If there was any rowdyism at Dunvegan it must have occured not on account of any desire to prevent freedom of speech, but in consequence of the presence there of such gentlemen as Mr. Poulibree, late of North York. It was a brilliant conception, the bringing of Mr. Boulibee into Glengarry. The ex-M. P. P. for North York was much better in Chicago when after a night on 'tear' with a number of the civic dignitaries of that city, as he tells it himself, 'at five o'clock in the morning the only man to leave that room with money in his pocket was Alfred Boulibee.'" And this same Mr. Boulibee is the newly appointed Missionary of the great Conservative party.

Toronto Telegram: The Hon. Edward Blake has been detained in England, we understand, owing to the pressure of public business at the Colonial Office, which has delayed the settlement of the questions that occasioned his visit to England; but he proposes to sail by the steamer of August 21th. It must be a matter of congratulation to all dwellers in the Dominion independent of their party predilections or personnics, that Canada has been able to send to the Motherland so competent and talented a representative as the Minister of Justice, and one who is in every respect eminently qualified to put the Canadian view of matters affecting colonial interests before the Imperial authorities. We believe there is every reason for being satisfied with the result of Mr. Blake's mission.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

LATEST DESPATCHES ON THE EASTERN QUESTION.

BELGRADE, Aug. 14.—A salute of one hundred and one guns to-day announces that the Princess Mathai has been safely delivered of a son.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Advices state that the Servians captured Brisunski on the river Drina on the 8th inst. The Turks lost 200 men.

BELGRADE, Aug. 14.—Rumours of approaching Ministerial changes are subsiding. Prince Milan declares that the condition of the Servian forces is satisfactory and announces his resolution to continue the war to the last extremity.

A Constantinople special says that the Sultan has, to a great extent, been relieved of his physical suffering, but sinks deeper and deeper into a settled melancholy madness. He asks to be taken out of his cruel position, as he cannot bear it. His abdication would be effected, and he would be glad to retire, but that his immediate heir and younger brother are disinclined to take upon themselves the burdens of the Imperial dignity.

The Porte disavows any intentions to interfere in the election of a ruler to occupy the throne of Servia, but a heavy indemnity will be demanded from Servia with guarantees against future hostilities.

Fifteen prominent parties have been arrested in Constantinople, including Ismel Pasha, the leader of the old Turkish party, charged with conspiracy to murder Midhat Pasha and the leaders of the Liberal party.

The Servian Prime Minister opposes peace, and promises to wait the result of the forth coming battle in Barya Pass, where General Tchernayeff's forces are concentrated.

A Belgrade special to the Daily News reports that the military situation is unchanged. Gen. Horvatovich has been reinforced and remains at Banja, on the southern road into Morawa valley, opposing the Turkish advance from Gnjilane. Col. Baker is entrenched opposite Lescovo on the northern road from Saitschar into the Morava valley, and resists the approach of Osman Pasha from Widdin. This position of the Servian forces, however, is considered defective. The two commanders are too far apart to support each other, and the fall of one extremity insures the abandonment of the other.

LONDON, Aug. 15th—The Standard's Vienna despatch says a part of the Crown jewels of Servia have been sent to Vienna as security for a loan of 62,000 florins.

Costan Paha arrived at Trebinge on the 13th instant with 2,000 men. He encountered none of the enemy.

A TRAGEDY IN MONTREAL.

A FATHER FATALLY STABBED BY AN ITALIAN WHILE PROTECTING HIS CHILDREN.

MONTREAL, Aug. 14—A horrible stabbing tragedy occured last night in Quebec suburby. About seven o'clock a number of girls were gathered around the door of a labourer named Jules Lefebvre on Fullum street, and were amusing themselves by swinging, chatting, and laughing, when three Italians came along, all intoxicated, and stopped in front of where the girls were seated, and grossly insulted them. The father, Jules Lefebvre, being inside the house, immediately ran out when he heard the men insulting his children, and struck one of them, Seraphin Millasi, with his fist, whereupon another of the Italians rushed at him and plunged a dagger into his side above the hip, and then with his companions ran off and concealed themselves in a bush adjacent to the house. Information was sent to the police, and a posse of them started in pursuit, armed with revolvers, and succeeded at 2 o'clock this morning in arresting Milasi and Ferari, whom they brought to Lefebvre's house to be recognized by him; and when Ferari was brought before him he stated "You need not look further, I am the man."

Alderman Grenier took Lefebvre's dying bosition.

The wife of Lefebvre has been insane for about three weeks, and owing to the tragedy last night she was obliged to be removed to an insane asylum. Lefebvre was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, and his wound was examined: The dagger pierced his side to a depth of two inches, and there are small hopes of his recovery.

IMPERIAL CABINET CHANGES

The Manchester GUARDIAN'S London dispatch says:—Mr. Disraeli's acceptance of the Privy Seal occasioned almost as much surprise as his elevation to the Peerage. The object is to secure him a post to fall back upon if it should prove that his health is not strong enough for him to lead in the Lords next session. It is expected the title of Earl of Beaconsfield will be supplemented by those of Viscount Hughenden and that of Baron Disraeli.

Michael Hicks Beach, Bart., Chief Secretary for Ireland, will probably succeed Sir Charles Adderly, President of the Board of Trade in the Cabinet, if the latter is raised to the peerage.

The SCOTSMAN says:—A trustworthy correspondent informs us that Mr. Disraeli's elevation to the peerage is the first step toward his resignation of the premier ship, not now, but before the beginning of next session. Earl of Derby is mentioned as the new Premier.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 17, 1876

M. Collins is selling his Groceries at prices to suit the times.

Rain and the Barnums have secured the Music Hall for the 19th and 21st Instant.

Dominion Monthly.—The New Dominion Monthly is to hand and contains its usual very interesting reading matter.

Leading Sewing Machine Makers recommend CLARK'S Best Six-cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton. Notice the Anchor on each spool.

Agricultural Show.—The Township of Otonabee's Agricultural Society intend holding their annual show at Keene, on Friday, 6th of October.

The Weather has been unseasonably hot during the past two or three weeks, but a change has taken place, which renders life more endurable.

Oak Orchard.—Don't forget the O. Y. B's Pic-Nic to Oak Orchard on Tuesday next.—Carriages leave town at 7.30, a.m., for Bridgenorth, sharp.

☞ You will save time and trouble with your Sewing Machine by using CLARK & COE'S Best Six-Cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton. Notice the Anchor on Each Spool.

Go to M. Collins if you want Preserving Sugar—Large lot cheap.

Query.—We have often been asked why the hands of the clock on the east side are not put in running order. Is it because Ashburnham did not contribute towards the erection of it?

Telegraph.—New poles and wires have been put up along George Street to Mr. Cox's new block, opposite the Examiner Office, this week. We believe it is the intention of the Company to run the both Telegraph Offices.

Narrow Escape.—Whilst a man was repairing the plaster on the north side of the "Commercial House," on Monday, the ladder on which he stood fell with him to the ground, a distance of about 15 feet. Strange to say he received no hurt from the fall.

Personals.—Messrs. R. Rider and R. Green of this town, and Messrs. A. P. Brown and W. J. Wallace of Lakefield, left on this morning's train for the Centennial. We wish them a happy and pleasant time while in Uncle Sam's territory and safe return to Canada again.

Schools.—The schools of our town did not commence duties yesterday on account of the Civic Holiday to-day. The holidays were extended till Monday. Parents should see that their children are there promptly on Monday morning so that the teachers can form their classes at once.

Eggs Again.—We have received from another gentleman in town the number of eggs laid by seven hens in the first six months of this year. The hens averaged 55 eggs each during that period. This beats any we have yet received of common hens. Mr. Sproule's game hens have not yet been beaten.

Off the Track.—As the Lakefield train was leaving the station here on Monday, she got off the track owing to one of the switches having been left open after the preceeding train. It took some time to get things to rights again. The passengers had to remain there till six o'clock. No other serious inconvenience occurred.

Masonic Pic-Nic.—The Masonic fraternity of this town intend having a grand Pic-Nic down the river in the course of about two weeks. We learn that the Masons of Lindsay, Lakefield, Port Hope and Cobourg have been invited to attend. This no doubt will be the Pic-Nic of the season. The time and particulars will be given in a few days.

Personal.—We are glad to be able to state that Joseph Walton, Esq., has so far recovered from the injuries he sustained about six weeks ago, by his horses running away, as to be able to come to town. We wish him renewed vigor and strength, and hope that he may be able to take his place in the agricultural interests of the county at the Central Exhibition at Port Hope this fall.

Condolence.—Our deepest sympathies are with the late Proprietor of this paper in the sad bereavement of a much loved daughter. Her decease took place at Kirkwall, County of Wentworth, on Friday last, and the remains were brought to her father's residence, during Saturday night, and on Sabbath were placed in the vault of the Little Lake Cemetery until Monday, when they were committed to their last resting place.

Gr. Paul's Sabbath School Pic-Nic.—A very pleasant and successful gathering of teachers and scholars, together with a great number of their parents and others, numbering about 800 persons, took place at Campbelltown last Thursday. The party were conveyed to the grounds by the Steamer "Golden-Eye." After enjoying themselves and partaking of refreshments, all returned home highly delighted with the Excursion, the day being one of the finest of the season.

Police Court.—(Before D. G. Hatton, Esq., P. M.) Friday, August 11—H. T. Evans charged with assault and threatening a son of J. Gibbs' was fined $2 and $2.75 costs, and bound over to keep the peace for one year. Mr. Helm had several boys summoned for robbing his garden, but only one lad named Guerin appeared and was fined $1, the P. M. warning him that if he ever came up for a similar offence again he would send him to jail. Warrants were issued for several other boys.

Thos Concannon would do well to give M Collins a call for the course, as he is selling very cheap and has a choice selection of everything in his line of business

Centennial Excursion.—We see by an advertisement in the Toronto Globe that the Masonic Fraternity of that City have made arrangements for a cheap excursion to Philadelphia, to start from there on the 26th Instant.—The fare for the round trip will be eight dollars, and one fare added from places outside of Hamilton. The party is, however, not restricted to Masons only, but also to masons friends. This probably will prove to be one of the largest and probably the cheapest excursion to the Centennial of the season.

Boating Club.—At the monthly meeting of the Peterborough Boating Club, held on Monday evening, the Regatta Committee reported that they had made arrangements for a Regatta on August 31st and September 1st. The Secretary read letters as to a regatta at Orillia this month, to which the club is requested to send a crew. He was instructed to write for further particulars, and to say that a crew would go if possible. The question of revising the constitution was postponed. Several new members were duly elected.

A Black List.—The following paragraph appears in the Cobourg Sentinel: Could not the same advantage be taken here of a very salutary law? "The License Inspector has furnished all the liquor dealers with a list of names of persons to whom intoxicants must not be sold until further notice. This is a necessary and righteous provision of the law, and it is to be hoped that every one concerned will use the utmost diligence to give it full force and effect. It is to be hoped also that others whose names may soon be placed on the black list, will take the hint, and refrain from pursuing a course which leads only to shame and misery."

Election Protest.—We understand that Mr. Scott has deposited $100 as security of costs, and has given notice to appeal to the full court on the point that the time for trial had elapsed before orders were made. The time for trial may be extended, but Mr. Scott and his friends will have to stand before the "bar" once more. From an advertisement in the Review we clip the following which shows for itself whether the time has elapsed or not:—"The unreasonable haste in which the trial of the Election Petition is now being urged on, after many months of delay and inactivity, renders it necessary that Mr. Scott should take this course of possessing himself of information with which to meet the Petitioner's case."

Game Protection.—The August meeting of the Game Protective Society was held at the Rathbun House on Tuesday of last week. It was decided to put on special detectives on the back lakes or the Otonabee River this year. A communication from the Secretary of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association, calling for a meeting of delegates at Toronto of each Game Protective Society in the Province was read. A delegate from the Peterborough Boating Club was presented and requested that the meeting appoint a committee to act in conjunction with the Boat Club committee in taking steps to prevent a construction of the sawdust nuisance. A committee was appointed to act. After other business the meeting was closed.

Powers of School Boards.—In answer to a correspondent the Globe gives the following, which will be of interest to our Town readers:—"The High School Board has a right to demand from the municipal council of the town a sum sufficient for the payment of the High School expenses for the year, over and above the Government and County grants.—Part of these expenses may be for the erection of a new building, as in your case, and even then the Council have no option but to raise the money. They have, however, the privilege of choosing whether they will raise it at once by local assessment, or by the issue of debentures, or by an ordinary loan. The Board would seem to have the power to compel payment by the Council of the whole amount within the year, as according to a recent decision of the Court of Queen's Bench, the terms used in the High School Act, 'school accommodation and maintenance,' include the erection of new buildings as well as the repairing of old ones."

Grand Encampment of Oddfellows.—At the annual meeting of the Grand Encampment of Oddfellows in St. Catharines on the 2nd inst., the following officers were elected: Grand Patriarch, W. H. Cole, M. P. P., of Brockville; Grand High Priest, John Young, of Chatham; Grand Senior Warden, E. R. Robinson, of London; Grand scribe and Treasurer, M. Dawson of London; Grand Junior Warden, Thos. Woodyatt, of Brantford; Representative of the Grand Lodge of the United states, Past Chief Patriarch, J. Hans Perry, of Whitby. After the installation of the officers the Grand Patriarch elect, W. H. Cole, announced the following appointed officers:—Grand Marshal, John G. Moore, of Belleville; Grand Inside Sentinel, Henry Nell, of Sarnia.

The Income Question.—The Barrie Advance reports the following case: His Honor Judge Gowan gave decision in a case the other day which affectionally reaches the vexed question as to whether, in an assessment for income, the individual should be assessed only for the amount over and above $400. The case before him was that of Mr. J. P. Fullarton who appealed against the sum for which he was set down, urging that it was only the excess of income over $400 which should have been computed. His Honor, however, held the purport of the law to be that the full amount of all income which exceed $400 should be taxed. This must assuredly be the meaning of the statute, for if it were not, $399 of income would be acquired to entitle one to a vote under the Income Franchise Act, and an assessment of $400 income, while the Act fixes as the requisite sum, would be worthless, and the real object of the law would in consequence be defeated.

ORILLIA.

Port Hope vs. Toronto.

August 12.—In the match played at Orillia on Friday and Saturday, between Toronto and Port Hope Cricket Clubs, for the cup presented by Messrs. Cumberland and Hugel, Port Hope came off victorious by 88 runs. The fielding and bowling on behalf of Toronto were by no means up to the mark. In the second innings of Port Hope, Read and Bletcher made a good stand, and 50 runs were telegraphed before they were separated. The match concluded at one o'clock on Saturday, and speeches were made by Col. Cumberland and Mr. Hugel, on the ground. An invitation was extended to the members of both clubs to partake of dinner at the Couchiching Hotel, where ample justice was done to the good things. After dinner a few speeches were made, and the parties separated, conducted here by special trains. On Friday a band from Port Hope enlivened the field with a few choice selections, and performed at a hop in the evening at the Couchiching. It was decided to play the final match next year on or about the same day.

OTONABEE.

Council.—Council met 17th July. All the members present. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. A By-law to authorize S.S. No. 9 to borrow $551.75 for the purpose of building a new school house. Also a By-law to appropriate money to certain roads and appoint commissioners to expend the same, were passed after the usual reading. The Reeve and Mr. McIntyre were directed to inspect a culvert made by Mr. John Hazlitt, for the purpose of having a dispute in regard thereto settled. The Treasurer was directed to pay the following, viz., John Reid P.L.S for measuring work at Emmerson's hill $4, John Taylor for cedars 60c., Campbell, McNeil & Co., for wood for town hall $6.75, Wm Lundy for gravel $4.44, Walter Renwick do $14, P. & E. Clancy for 2 stone hammers $3, Maurice Landrigan for gravel $6.50, S. Sargent for taxes remitted (error in assessment) $2,90. The Reeve was authorized to borrow what money may be required for paying amounts expended on roads. The statute labor of division No. 02 ordered not to be laid out until latter end of September next, as a new bridge to be built at Hickson's creek, cannot be advantageously be done before that time. The Reeve was directed to make search in Registry Office in regard to road on lot No. 26 in 13th con. A grant of $1 per week was made for keep of H. McManus from 29th May last. Council adjourned to 18th Sept. Com.

VACATION.

Who does not look forward to vacation as to some golden leisure, and entertain vague fancies concerning the pleasures it has in store, and picture it as a season flowing with milk and honey! The very word is an inspiration to the tired worker; the very thought is like the blowing of wet winds over arid deserts. It is a dream we indulge in during the heat and burden of the day, and, like our finite dreams of infinity, it does not comprehend half the blessings to be enjoyed; for, in the first place, vacation allows us to become satisfied with leisure, while it teaches that there is positive happiness in earning our bread by the sweat of the brow; after a fortnight's idleness we begin to believe that downright labor is not the curse it is supposed to be. The overtaxed brain or muscle requiring the respite which this period offers, we have sometimes considered whether a day here and a day there exempt from business, and making up in the aggregate the month or fortnight of the ordinary person's vacation, would not be more conductive to enjoyment and health than to take it in the mass, when we are at a loss often to know how to dispose of such unwonted holidays, such a luxury of vacant hours, when no duty constrains and no bell calls.

It is a happy thought, however, which moves the greater number of us to take our relaxation at about the same season of the year, since we are all aware that the enjoyment we share with others is trebled. If Jack's vacation occurred in December and Gill's in August, what a mistake that would be! nothing but nature would be worshipped at picnics; there would be nobody to man the pleasure-boats, and no partners at the beach hops: surely it would be a vacation scarcely worth the name. This season of recreation, is, furthermore, something which we enjoy not only while it exists, but prospectively and retrospectively; it is the basis toward which we look when our burdens seem too heavy for us, and the vision sends us back refreshed to our toil; we indulge, in prospect, in a thousand gratifications, which, though never realized, perhaps gives us a sort of happiness not exactly calculable, but not without its effect upon the moment, and furnish a kind of marginal illumination around the heavy text of this work-a-day world. But the day-dream does not, by any means, beggar the reality: there are pleasant accidents of sun and shower which we had neglected to count upon; imprisoned at desk and duty, we had forgotten that the wild rose grew so fair and generously; the jingling of the dollar had made us deaf to the aerial music in the pines; the balance sheet of the ledger had obscured much of the beauty of nature; but the year's work ended, and the year's tribulations behind us, we become "light-hearted as a plunging star," though it need hardly be said that one must not carry his carking cares of the future into this halcyon period, if he would reap its harvest.

THE CHAMPION CUP.

SECOND AND DECIDING RACE.—THE MEADOW-LARK'S VICTORY FIRMLY WON.

Saturday dawned with a dead calm and a heavy fog, and so far as weather indications went they were exactly contrary to what was desired. But time was lost in no preparing for what afterwards proved to be the deciding race of the series for the cup. The fog lifted somewhat about nine o'clock and for a short time it looked as if there might be wind.

THE STAR'S

At 10.15 the tug took both the Madeleine and the Countess into tow and proceeded to the vicinity of the starting point. The fog at this time had cleared down, and the wind was very light from the south-south-east. At 11.30 both yachts cast off from the tug and set their sails. The first signal was given at 11.52.25, and the 2nd at 12.02 03. At this time the yachts America and Wanderer were in the vicinity, the former having made every preparation to take part in the race. All her dunnage was sent ashore, and she had on board a racing crew numbering more than thirty—General Butler, who was on board, expressed himself determined to beat both the Madeleine and Countess, he having suffered defeat the previous day. It is only necessary to say of the America and Wanderer, that the former made an excellent race, beating the Madeleine out to the stake boat. The Wanderer was left behind before the turning point was reached and gave up the chase.

THE RACE.

On the start both yachts seemed disinclined to go over the line owing to the lightness of the wind, but when the time for starting had almost expired the Countess, being ahead of the Madeleine, went about just under the latter's bow, and forced her to back and go over the line to leeward. The official time of the start was as follows:—

Madeleine, 12.17.20.
The Countess 12 17. 58.

The yachts stood out on a starboard tack, the Madeleine drawing ahead but going to leew rd of us. The wind was very light at first, but a little out side a steadier breeze was found and we gradually but slowly gained on our opponent and were beating to windward of her. At 1.25 we were ahead of her and well to windward. The position the Countess seemed able to maintain, but Captain Elsworth was not satisfied, and he gave her a good full sail, evidently with the idea of passing the Madeleine to leeward. For three hours both yachts stood on this stretch. Going about, the Madeleine was first at 3 19. She was three-quarters of a mile ahead of the countess. The breeze freshened slightly here, and the contest began to gain on the Madeleine. All eyes were looking for the tugboat around which had to be passed, and at 4 o'clock she was sighted nearly five miles to windward. At 4.41 the Madeleine, a mile went about and stood out for the tug. At 4 54 she once more went into stays, hoisted her fore club and jib topsail and tore off on the turning mark, which she rounded at 502. The Countess stood out at 4 57 towards the stake boat, heading south-east. At 5.09 she went about for the buoy and turned it at 5.13'41.

As each yacht rounded, the revenue cutter Grant saluted with two guns hearty cheers from the crew. It was a straight run before the wind, and the Countess winged out her foreboom to port, and set the main topmast staysail upside down on the fore topmast head. The balloon jib was sent up to the mainmast head and the tack-guide over to the fore-boom, The large fore topsail was ginged out abreast of the mainmast, and made to do duty as a spinnaker and water-sail. At first she gained on her opponent, but the wind became lighter and lighter, and finally she met the ebb tide, and her progress was very slow. Finally she crossed the line at 8h. 08m. 58s., the Madeleine having done so half an hour before.

The following are the official figures:—

MADELEINE.	H.	M.	S.
Start	12	17	21
Finish	7	37	11
Elapsed time	7	19	47
Corrected time	7	18	46

THE COUNTESS.	H.	M.	S
Start	12	17	58
Finish	8	03	58
Elapsed time	7	46	00
Corrected time	7	46	00

Thus the Madeleine won by 27m. 14s.

After crossing the line the countess was left becalmed. The club boat steamed away, but the Herald steam yacht came alongside and kindly towed her up, and she made our way slowly to the club anchorage ground, brought up about ten o'clock.

The World of to-day (Sunday), speaking editorially of the race, says:—"The first Canadian yacht which has challenged the winner's of the Queen's Cup has proved herself no unworthy champion, and we believe we only echo the general conviction of all who witnessed the two races when we say that it is easy to conceive of very slight changes in the conditions of the contest which would have led to a very diverent result So far as the Canadians are concerned, they need not be ashamed of their representative; and so far as the Madeleine is concerned, she may well be proud of her success. The adventure of the Countess of Dufferin will doubtless give a considerable stimulus to shipbuilding in the New Dominion. If it does, it will not have been made in vain for the material, as in no event can it have been made in vain for the moral interests of the important nationality which is quietly founding itself in the north."

The Invalid—A Pen Picture.

See her pallid countenance, but a short time ago the picture of ruddy health, the envy of the school and the pride of the household. She was always welcomed by her schoolmates, for her lithe form and pleasing disposition carried cheerfulness into their ranks. Diligent, punctual and exemplary, obedient and graceful at home. She won the hearts of all. But, alas, she are sorrowed. Those rosy cheeks and ruddy lips are blanched by Consumption. The voice once so enchanting in laugh and song is feeble, hu-ky and supplanted by a hollow cough. Let us approach her couch gently and take her hand Do not shudder because of the feeble and passionless grasp The hand once so hearty and plump is emaciated and shows bony outlines, while the cords and tortuous veins are plainly mapped upon the surface. The pulse that bounded with repletion, carrying vigor to the whole system, and imparting life, beauty vivacity, health and strength; is delicate to the touch. The Feeble heart cannot propel the thin, watery blood with force Must we lose her while yet in her teens? Companions and friends gather around with words of cheer and consolation, and depart with moistened eyes and silent steps. Must we lose her? No! there is relief! We can stay this destroyer of our happiness and not suffer the loss of so bright a gem. Something more is required now than dietary and hygenic observance, for nature, nature calls for aid and she shall have it Take this pleasant medicine. It is invigorating, How it allays the irritable cough, improves the appetite and digestion and sends a healthy tingle through the frame. The blood is enriched, force increased, and the heart bounds with a new impulse See her face brighten by degrees; the color is returning, her voice is gaining clearer, and pleasant words are spoken The strength falters yet, but is gaining Let us take her out in the warm sun-shine. In a short time she will be able to go without our aid, a cheerful girl This delightful medicine must be God-blessed It is restoring health to our loved one. She is emerging from her sickness sweeter and nobler than before, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery must have the credit. It has saved her.

S. R. Eels, druggist, of West Union, O. says that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has effected a wonderful cure of Consumption in his neighborhood.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—Permit me through the columns of your paper to make an explanation to the farming public regarding the challenge which appeared in a former issue of the Examiner and its remarks, as well as the former match alluded to by Mr. Howson, in his communication.

Sometime in the latter part of June, when canvassing in the northern part of Dummer on the road known as the "English Line," I met Mr. Gibson, the Agent for the Meadow-lark, with the farm of Mr. Matthews, to whom he had sold a machine, when the results and demerits of the two machines were well discussed, and an agreement entered into to test the capabilities on cut grass in that locality as soon as possible. Mr. Howson leaving Otonabee Mr. Payne, another purchaser of the Meadow-lark, who was also present, put myself to the time and place, and sadly him thereat. When Mr. Howson had gone, viz 12th Payne and myself saw Mr. Hamblin, who remarked that the trial should take place on his farm in a finished heavy clover on the 6th day of July, the farmers in the neighborhood to keep receiving information to that effect; and in Norwood on the 27th June I saw Mr. Howson and satisfied him in the presence of witnesses as to when and where the match was to be held, when he promised to be there and compete. The Editor of the Norwood Register was also furnished with a notice of the trial but did not publish it until the day on which the match was to take place. On the 6th of July I was on Mr. Hamblin's farm with the Champion and from 40 to 50 farmers who had assembled to witness the contest prepared to meet Mr. Howson and his Lark, and waited till a late hour in the day, but as every one knows, he for some reasons of his own failed to make an appearance. The Champion was then put into the clover and did its work to the entire satisfaction of every one present, and several machines were sold on the ground.

This is what the Agent for the Meadow-lark is pleased to call unfair on the part of the Champion, and to show his love of justice and fair play he publishes his challenge in the Examiner giving his rival two days only in the busiest time to prepare to compete, and then, too, on conditions over which he had no control, and with which he would be foolish to comply.

The last condition of this challenge is "That the Agricultural Association of the East Riding of Peterboro' receive $25, the remaining $25 to be disposed of as may be decided by Mr. Reeve and Deputy-Reeve of Otonabee." Mr. Howson's good intentions towards the Agricultural Society are very commendable, and such to meet my entire approbation, but the other clause is most absurd, and certainly has greatly amused the many who have read it. On what terms the fair play the Meadow-lark Agent professes to be so fond of, and what has the Reeve and Deputy-Reeve of Otonabee to do with prize money fairly and honestly won at a competition of this kind? Had the Champion been placed in the contest and been declared by the majority of the farmers present the best machine, would it be fair for the Reeve and Deputy-Reeve of Otonabee to come forward and intimate that a piece of road or a bridge in their township stood badly in need of repair, and that they had decided to appropriate the remaining $50 of the money to this purpose. Mr. Howson says his idea was to hold over the money on charitable intentions, I make public acknowledgment that which should be in every way encouraged, yet when I give to charitable institutions I think it better that I should make the presentation myself, but to him when thinking of charitable institutions the form perhaps of the Meadow-lark Agent bounced up in the distance.

Mr. Howson had circulated the report that he had written me a notice of the match ten days previous, but on the ground confessed that he had not done so. Is this a specimen of the fair play he so much admires?

These, Mr. Editor, are the reasons why I refused to put the Champion into a field with the Lark, and I gave them to Mr. Howson on the day of the trial in the presence and to the satisfaction of the majority of the farmers present. The Meadow-lark Agent of course had his machine on the ground, but as there were unfortunately a few obstructions in the way—some of the guards came to grief, as I noticed three broken on the machine. As the match however had fallen to the ground, I, with the assistance of the farmers present, used my best endeavors to arrange for another on the same farm any day during that week, on terms to which neither party could possibly object, but all efforts were unavailing.

As I have used Mr. Payne's name in this communication, I give a copy of a letter written to Mr. Glen, the President of the Joseph Hall Manufacturing Co., Oshawa, wherein he gives his opinion of the two machines.

Hall's Glen, July 22, 1876.

To F. W. Glen, Esq., Oshawa.

Sir,—This is to certify that I gave my order for a Brampton Meadow Lark Mower to Mr. John Howson the agent for Haggar Bros., with the assurance from him that it was the best machine, although in my own mind I considered the Champion the best. I afterwards gave Mr. Moore, your agent, my order for a Champion as the Meadow Lark was not shipped as soon as ordered. Shortly after this the Meadow Lark came to hand and I was compelled to take it and give it a trial. I have tried it and broken two of the guards and the tongue, I have had considerable trouble with it, and altogether am quite dissatisfied with it. On the other hand I have seen my neighbors Champion work and like it well, and consider it far the best machine in every respect. The Meadow-lark has no tilt which is a great disadvantage.

Mr. Moore kindly cancelled my order for the Champion as I am compelled to take the Lark. Wishing the Champion every success.

I am, Sir,
Yours truly,
GEO. A. PAYNE.

We continually see and hear a great fuss about matches between mowing and reaping machines, but after all a match is no benefit to the farmer who contemplates purchasing a machine, as instances have been known where a good machine has been beaten by one very inferior simply because it was operated by an experienced driver, so that a contest is to the inexperienced farmer rather a detriment than a benefit, and the true test of the machine is when it is in the inexperienced farmers hands.

Apologizing for having trespassed so much on your valuable space,

I am, Sir,
Faithfully yours,
FRED. J. MOORE.

Norwood, Aug. 1st, 1876.

Owing to want of space we were compelled to leave over the above communication last week.—Ed. Ex.

—ELECTRICITY—

THOMAS' ECLESIOR OIL—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

What they Say of it! A few Facts for the People.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil. Read the following, be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Ferguson Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. Hy Reed, Bond Keeper, West Hereford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years and here tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it ever since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and find it is equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Hayden, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Rannen, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. H Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. Mr Mayhew of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most reliable medicine."

The Conscience and Future Judgment.

I sat alone with my conscience,
In a place where time had ceased,
And we talked of my former living
In the land where the years increased.
And I felt I should have to answer
The question it put to me,
And to face the answer and question
Throughout an eternity.
The ghosts of forgotten actions
Came floating before my sight,
And things that I thought were dead things
Were alive with a terrible might.
And the vision of all my past life
Was an awful thing to face,
Alone with my conscience sitting
In that solemnly silent place.
And I thought of a far-away warning,
Of a sorrow that was to be mine,
In a land that then was the future,
But now is the present time.
And I thought of my former thinking
Of the judgment day to be,
But sitting alone with my conscience
Seemed judgment enough for me.
And I wondered if there was a future
To this land beyond the grave;
But no one gave me an answer,
And no one came to save.
Then I felt that the future was present,
And the present would never go by;
For it was but the thought of my past life,
Grown into eternity.
Then I woke from my timely dreaming.
And the vision passed away,
And I knew the far-away warning
Was a warning of yesterday,
And I pray that I may not forget it,
In this land before the grave,
That I may not cry in the future,
And no one come to save.
And so I have learned a lesson
Which I ought to have known before,
And which, though I learnt in dreaming,
I hope to forget no more.
So I sit alone with my conscience
In the place where the years increase,
And I try to remember the future
In the land where time will cease.
And I know of the future judgment,
How dreadful soe'er it be,
That to be alone with my conscience,
Will be judgment enough for me.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

White Sacques.—White muslin sacques are the popular garments this summer for wearing with colored skirts, in preference to the pleated waists that have been so long used. The latter are not entirely discarded, but are not considered as dressy as the sacques, which are worn on the street as well as in the house. These sacques are really basques, as they have two darts in each front, and have regular side bodies, but they do not fit the figure as closely as basques that are lined. Some are made longer in front than behind, but the newest are even all around, and fall quite long over the hips. Victoria lawn is used for plain sacques, fine French nansook for nicer ones; linen sacques are made to order, and are liked by many for their coolness, but as they rumple and show soil readily, the furnishing houses do not keep a supply of them. Victoria lawn sacques are trimmed with tucks and ruffles are used; those edged with lace are not liked for day wear, after the street. They cost from $4 up French embroidered sacques are $7. For more dressy occasions are puffed sleeveless sacques, with over-skirts to match. The sacque is entirely of puffs of cheer white orhandy, with insertion between, and is edged with lace. The tablier is of diagonal puffs also, while the square straight back breadths are of the muslin, widely bordered with puffs and lace. They cost $32, without sleeves; if sleeves are added, they are $37.

White suits.—White suits, though seldom seen on the street this season, are as popular as ever at the watering-places and for house dresses. Victoria lawns and nansooks are most used; pique has lost favor, except for morning wrappers. The simplest suits are made with sacques shaped by darts, long round over-skirts, and demi-trains. They are trimmed with tucked ruffles or embroidered flounces, headed by clusters of tucks. At the best houses those made in the neatest manner cost from $20 to $25. Very dressy costumes are trimmed with duchesse lace and fine needle-work. The Spanish flounce on the lower skirt is cut in points and filled in with duchesse lace. The long upper skirt is draped much shorter on one side, and has an apron front. The basque has Marine Antoinette sleeves. Long-looped gros grain ribbon bows are worn with such dresses. For more dressy costumes there are princesse dresses of white organdy, richly trimmed with lace, and worn over slips of colored silk. The silk slip fits the figure like a glove, and is buttoned behind. The over dress may also be fastened behind, but is more usually open in front, and has a Watteau or lace jabot down the back that conceals the buttons of the silk under dress. There are many narrow flounces alternating with lace, and arranged in vandykes up each gore of the skirt. The neck is cut out square, and is filled in with a lace chemisette. A wide sash of silk is worn around the hips very low down, and is knotted behind. The silk slip has a lace and muslin flounces around the small part of its edge that is not concealed by the over dress.

Ladies' Lingerie.—The furnishing houses are constantly making improvements in under-clothing, in design, in fabric, and in trimmings. The simply shaped French sacque neck has come into general use. For stout ladies it is appropriate, because it adds nothing to their bulk; when worn by those who are slight it is cut quite broad and made full around the body. The novelty in these is the Pompadour chemise, made square and half-high on the shoulders. That is almost without fullness hence it is cool and pleasant for summer wear; it requires to be almost as carefully fitted as a dress. Sacques chemises are made without an opening in the neck; in many cases the sleeves are cut in the garment, but many perfer to sew them in separately; the gussets of sleeves and the small gussets of the band are entirely out of use. The hem around the bottom of the chemise is about two inches wide; a cluster of small tucks is sometimes placed above the hem. Diagonal puffs of linen cambric, with insertion of lace or embroidery, or else tucked bands between, trim some of the bandsomest chemises. The edges are finished with lace or with finely crimped ruffles edged with Valenciennes. The most substantial, and therefore most popular, trimming is needle-work done on the garment, and clusters of fine tucks sewed by hand. Imported linen, percale, and Madapollam chemises are ornamented in this way. The plainest have say-tooth points and long eyelets neatly wrought; others have the wearer's initial embroidered on the front in an ornamental design; more expensive garments have an elaborate design worked in a deep point in front reaching almost to the belt, while the sleeves are covered with needle-work. The models used in the French furnishing houses are now imported and sold here. There are heavy French percales, hand-finished, with even round threads, used for winter under-clothing and for skirts, at from 25 cents to 40 cents a yard soft-finished French cambrics of lighter quality, for summer lingerie, cost from 50 cents to $1 25 a yard.

SPECIFIC MEDICINE.

Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcholic spirits; but the Special Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by devaiating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing Dyspepsia I recommend processor WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swollen Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine has anything won so widely and so deeply upon our confidence, or wrought such cures, as the remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in public estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with the antidote for them.

Although scaled Consumption is thought incurable, still even cases of this class, where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of these yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Bronchitis and Sudden Sprains find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Simple and Prompt Remedies find great protection from it.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Mercury, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance, it is neither in large nor small doses injurious to any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts are truly the wonder and astonishment of the world. Without a parallel in the history of American medicine, this antidote is entitled by the people to the supreme confidence which it has received, and to the extensive use which it now commands. Containing in itself the principles of purification, it counteracts and expels the miasmatic poisons, and thoroughly eradicates them from the system. Hence, when once taken according to directions, it will be found to protect the patient from any further attack, however exposed to the influence of the disease. Travellers and residents can defy the fever-breeding malaria, and even those who have become poisoned, and have shaken from them the effects of the disease, can, by the use of this Cure, thoroughly expel the lingering evil, and prevent a return of the fever. Full directions in several languages accompany each bottle.

For Liver Complaints, and the Diseases it produces, this Cure is unrivalled. It is an excellent remedy, stimulating to healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold throughout the world.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were speedily afflicting, have been radically cured in which great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tyrant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection through out the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, laberies may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, in length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Weakness, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion of Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

A Picture.

Her eyes are fairer than the light
Of stars that shine the clouds between
Or summer even, when in their flight
The planets out of heaven lean.

Her cheek is fairer than the rose
That blushes in the warm June sun,
And all its spicy soul bestows
The wandering winds upon.

Her smile is like the flickering rays
Which coruscate across the night,
And set the Northern skies ablaze
With far-reflected light.

Her words are like the gems that fell
From fabled lips in fairy lands;
And be it with me ill or well,
Lies in her two white hands.

Her voice is like the singing brooks,
Like summer gales the pines among:
All heaven for me is in her looks,
And life or death upon her tongue!

The Port Hope Central Exhibition.

Our readers will bear in mind that the Port Hoper's are making every arrangement for to make the Central Exhibition there a success. We have several times noted the progress of the arrangements which are now about complete. We trust that all interested will contribute towards the Show, and help our sister town in making it in the agricultural interests surpass the one held here. To those who are concerned we commend the subjoined remarks from the Port Hope TIMES:—

"We are glad to be in a position to say that all the arrangements for holding a successful Exhibition here are about complete, and we earnestly hope to see a large number of the farmers of the four Counties enter their products for competition; the committee of management have performed their duties faithfully and well, and it would be too bad to allow a feeling of apathy on the part of those most interested—the farmers—to creep in and lessen its importance. We are not only anxious to see our own farmers keenly contesting the honor of securing prizes, but we would like also to see those residing at the most distant points put forth their best efforts in the same direction. In awarding prizes the question of the location of any exhibit or will not come up at all and whoever has the best article can depend on being awarded the prize, and we are desirous of seeing such a commendable spirit of rivalry spring up among the farmers of these counties interested that will surely result in a marked improvement in the class of stock and crops raised in the future. Let us feel assured that our agriculturalists really appreciate the importance of this combination of a number of societies in one object and all danger of a possible failure is swept away, and the Central Fair will become a fixed institution that can be depended upon annually. This will not only stimulate the farmers to do their best to excel in one or more branches, but will also induce a great many manufacturers of agricultural implements to attend our fairs, and by comparison our farmers will be enabled to select the best and most useful implements to aid them in their work. This of itself is of sufficient importance now that so many kinds of machines are made for the use of farmers to induce a feeling of interest in all working even a few acres of land, while the benefits to be derived from observing or inspecting the good acts of a large area and consulting with those who are most successful in farming, besides comparing experiences in regard to experiments of different kinds of crops, will be of great value, and a bond of union will be created that will be eventually of incalculable value to all who aspire to be fully up in every branch of their calling. No industry can be more advanced by steady and close calculation than that of farming, for in a business point of view purely that crop which is most suitable to the soil worked must be the most profitable, and the larger the crop taken off a piece of land the more valuable it becomes and the better is the owner of it rewarded for his toil and care. Fairs in other places, such as the Guelph one for instance, have attained a more than Provincial reputation through principally the agricultural population putting forth every effort in their power to make it successful, and while our Exhibition may yet be said to be in its infancy the magnificent start made last year gives promise if followed up in proper spirit of eventually attaining to proportions second to none in this Province. We trust, therefore, that there will be no lack of interest among the farmers of any part of the territory whose Societies have intimated their intention of taking part, and that all will bring to Port Hope every article they think of more than average merit."

APSLEY.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.—An Agricultural meeting was expected to be held in the Town Hall of Apsley, on the evening of Saturday, the 5th, but from some cause or other it did not take place. Attention has been often called to the want of interest shown by several of the farmers of this district in this enterprise, and were it not for the untiring energy and zeal of Jas. Golborne, Esq., Reeve, Dr. Clegg, and a few others, the society, which has now been formed four years, would otherwise have fallen to the ground. Persons seem only anxious to join the society and pay their entrance fee, to be able to exhibit their specimens of stock and other produce at the yearly show, not for the interest and improvement of agriculture, but simply for the prizes to be gained. At the last meeting, which was held, Messrs. Anderson, McIlmoyle and Golborne used their utmost endeavours to procure names for the subscription list, and it appears these few gentlemen bear the onus of the whole affair.

CHURCH.—Morning service was held in St. George's Church, Apsley, and conducted by Philip Harding, Esq., lay-reader. It is understood that this gentleman will be ordained shortly by the Lord Bishop of Toronto. We are sure that Mr. Harding is well qualified for the Holy Office and wish him God speed in his new calling.

CROPS.—The fall wheat crops, which promised very favourably, have not met with the various expectations, chiefly, it is supposed, on account of the severe frosts late in the summer.—Gore Herald.

HORWOOD.

BUSH FIRES.—During the past week a very serious bush fire took place in Mr. Wm. McCarthy's woods, just verging on the village, on one day, indeed, rather too close for comfort or pleasure, as the fire got great headway, and the smoke totally enveloped the village. The fire at times was fanned by a sweeping wind, and the season being remarkably hot and dry, the grass in the vicinity being like chaff, igniting every dry substance in its rapid progress. Several timber fences were burned, and the fire spread with such strength it passed through a field of standing grain, and destroyed a large quantity of it. Many of the farmers in the vicinity have had narrow escapes from losing their buildings, and those who have cedar fences around their farms are most thankful that it escaped them, as they would have been burned to the ground. Many of the farmers have had to turn out with their teams and help to draw water to extinguish the flames, and those who have had their fences burned have had to work hard to put up new ones. Those who had fire thousand dollars given them to start with, but started fair with a good thousand dollars to the good. Those who have by their own exertions acquired it have had hard work to keep it, and only by great exertion succeeded in doing so. The fire spread with such rapidity that many people had to run for their lives, and could not save anything. Many of the farmers have had their harvests destroyed, and it is a wonder that more damage was not done. A FEW FACTS for the PEOPLE.

The best way to meet the quasi arguments at present being used to deceive the people in reference to the political leaders of the present day, is to give facts. They may not be pleasing, but they will be convincing to the earnest enquirer after truth.

A contemporary says:—

"There are people who labor under the delusion that Sir John A. Macdonald possesses administrative abilities in a remarkable degree. He was so long virtually at the head of affairs that a great many persons do not stop to enquire what placed him there, or what kept him there, or what was his record while he continued there. If anybody imagined that Sir John A. Macdonald ruled Canada for twenty years by virtue of his administrative talents, as applied to the ordinary affairs of Governments, they are woefully mistaken."

William McDougall, who now travels the Province with Sir John to all the picnics, said of him a few years ago:—"No "Minister ever committed more fatal or "disastrous blunders; no Minister ever "more palpably neglected his duty. In- "competence we know reigns in every "department." That—three years after Confederation—was the deliberate verdict of a colleague of Sir John A. Macdonald, given in the most formal and authorative manner to the world.

A remarkable fact is that when the Government to which Sir John belonged came into office in 1854 the finances of the Province of Canada were in a condition of great prosperity. There was a surplus of $1,600,000 in the Treasury; $2,600,000 stood to the credit of the Government for public works executed and public dept redeemed out of surplus revenue.

What did he do in a short time? In three years, under the Sir John's regime, the Treasury was empty, the amount to credit gone, and the Government in debt to its bankers to the tune of $2,400,000. In 1854, the entire expenditure was but $4,160,000, in 1857 it had increased to $7,600,000. The Crown Lands expenditure equalled 75 per cent of the income in 1856, and 70 per cent in 1857; there was a discrepancy between the real and actual expenditure of the Government of no less than $3,696,312.

How did he meet this unsatisfactory state of things?

The most desperate expedients had been resorted to raise money, old Supply Acts had been disentombed, and debentures issued under provisions practically obsolete; even the Rebellion Losses Bill, although every claim thereunder had long since been paid, was made to serve the purpose of raising some $264,000; large sums were advanced from time to time without the authority of Parliament—in 1855, $408,083; in 1856, $187,965; in 1857, $257,779 in 1858, $466,106. The most reckless if not fraudulent conduct had characterised the operations of the Macdonald Government in raising loans. A sum of $500,000 was placed on the market at 98½ per cent which, when the first delivery was made, was actually quoted at 105 to 106 per cent, and before the whole transaction was closed it no less than 111½ to 112 per cent. A supporter of the Government got 97½ for $80,000 worth of Hamilton debentures, although at the time they were quoted at 80 in the market.

Another important fact:

In 1861 the Macdonald Government had accumulated a deficit of no less than $1s,900,020, represented by a permanent charge of $750,000. In 1860 no less than $490,510 was discovered to have been expended without the consent of parliament; in 1862 the Finance Minister had to admit a deficit of $5,152,000.

Sir John kept himself in office by bribing Lower Canada with money of which Upper Canada paid two-thirds, and then remunerating Upper Canada out of her own pocket. And so Sir John A. Macdonald bought the majorities that condoned his sins in the old Provincial Legislature. He increased the expenditure and the debt of the Province. The expenditure increased in the six years 1867 8 to 1873-4 from $13,486,000 to $23,316, 000, four millions of which was added in the last year of Sir John A. Macdonald's tenure of office; a deficit of three millions, on estimates virtually prepared by the Macdonald Government had to be met by their successors: and the public debt had increased from $63,000,000 at the time of Confederation to $151,000,000 on the 30th June, 1875, the additions being wholly within the period of Sir John A Macdonald's Administration, or resulting from engagements already incurred when they quitted office.

In building the Intercolonial Railway his extravagant recklessness knew no bounds, and the result was under a corrupt compact with Sir George E. Cartier—the longest and most undesirable route; he allowed the contracts to be issued before the surveys were made; he issued the contracts on a false principle profits of evils of all kinds, and in direct violation of the advice of the Engineer-in-Chief; he made the furnishing of supplies to the road a matter of political favor and patronage absolutely, the country being robbed at every turn by partizan supporters of the Ministry of the day. Meantime the disputes and difficulties between the contractors and the Government were endless, and the work has taken no less than eight years for it completion, while as forcibly stated by an ex-Cabinet Minister, "eight millions of dollars were thrown into the sea" owing to the original blunder of the wonderful administration.

These are a few of the many facts that have come to light, and a few more may be so issued for the information of the people.

CIVIC HOLIDAY.

Thursday last was kept by the citizens as a holiday, at least shops were closed and business suspended. The Firemen had their annual Pic-Nic down the river, and we understand a very enjoyable day was spent, and, as is usually the case with our Firemen, they did all in their power to have the large number who patronised their pic-nic enjoy themselves. A large number of our citizens visited Stony Lake and vicinity, and returned at an early hour well pleased with the day and its enjoyments. Not a few stopped at home and tried to enjoy themselves in walks and talks and pleasing society, and we hope they succeeded. They are not so ready to reveal their pleasures—or the contrary, as to do either would cause them to be smiled at, perhaps. There was nothing of importance to attract the Merry-Andrew, or the lovers of fun in general—all was quiet. The Chief Constable was not much if any, in demand, so that the civic holiday did not leave many reminiscences of the way such days are too frequently spent. It is no small matter of pleasure this to have to give publicity of such quietness and good behaviour. It may be that we are too fulsome in our praises of the way the day was spent. In some of the out-of-the-way places more sombre actions may have been enacted. If it is so it is just as well that they should remain unknown to say except the unfortunate participators. A holiday well spent is a blessing, but ill-spent, proves an evil which not unfrequently lengthens out into endless sorrow.

ASHBURNHAM.

The new school house in the Village of Ashburnham is being completed by Mr. Wand, the contractor. Already the trustees have taken possession of one room, which Mr. Weod, the Principal, now occupies. The building is a very chaste one, and is calculated to contain four rooms, although only one of them will be required for some time. The trustees have wisely erected a larger building than is at present required, and hence as the village grows there will be ample accommodation for the increase of children of school age. In the end this will be a very great saving of money to the people. The whole has been constructed under the supervision of Mr. Barchard, Architect, and reflects great credit on him, as well as on the wisdom and liberality of the Trustees, who have thus in advance provided abundant school accommodation to meet the wants of the village for years to come. Mr. Wand has done his work well, and the villagers ought to feel proud in having such a school building erected for their accommodation of their children.

The Scottish American Journal New York says:—"The people of Canada may be rejoiced to learn that the difficulty between the Grand Trunk and the Great Western Railway Companies is satisfactorily settled, and that an arrangement has been entered into by the two London boards which will be binding for ten years. The details of the arrangement are left in the hands of the managers in Canada, but the principle laid down for their guidance is that there shall be a division in certain proportions between the two companies of what is known as competitive traffic. This is likely to introduce to the more harmonious working of the two lines, and to the general interests of the country.

EXPLOSIVES.—As it has been reported that a number of parties have been catching fish with dymant in the waters of the Ontario and some of our back lakes, the following notice has been issued:—"On the recommendation of the Honorable the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and under the provisions of the Act passed in the session of the Parliament of Canada, held in the 31st year of Her Majesty's reign, chaptered 60, and known as 'The Fisheries Act,' His excellency, by and with the advice of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada, has been pleased to make the following fishery regulation:—The use of explosive materials to catch or kill fish is forbidden in the Dominion of Canada."

Says the Hamilton Times: At the recent Tory pic-nic Mr. Macdougall ventured the opinion that he has often thought he was a better Tory than Sir John himself. As Mr. Macdougall himself has been generally looked upon by the Tories as being so unbridled a Radical that he would prefer Government from Washington for Canada to Government under the Queen, the Conservatives must look upon this as a rather suspicious compliment to their Chief. The facility, however, with which Sir John sold out or rather gave away the rights of Canada to the Yankees when he was at Washington, seems rather to confirm the idea that he is even less imbued with the spirit of Canadian patriotism than the man whom once he was wont to call 'Look-to-Washington-Macdougall.' They are clearly not an ill-mated couple in this respect and may well go the hunt together.

COUNTESS OF DUFFERIN.—In connection with the late race for the Queens Cup the N. Y. World. On Sunday 13th speaking editorially says:—"The first Canadian yacht which has challenged the winners of the Queen's Cup has proved herself no unworthy champion, and we believe we only echo the general conviction of all who witnessed the two races, when we say that it is easy to conceive of the slight changes in the conditions of the contest which would have led to a very different result. So far as the Canadians are concerned, they need not be ashamed of their representative; and so far as the Madirna is concerned, she may well be proud of her success. The adventure of the Countess of Dufferin will doubtless give a considerable stimulus to ship-building in the New Dominion. If it does, it will not have been made in vain for the material, as in no event can it have been made in vain for the moral interests of the important nationality which is quietly founding itself in the north."

The following cannot come will go able Canadians to form some opinion of California advantages,—"Mr. John A. Scott, of Stratford, has received a letter from his son, John A. Scott, Jr., who went to California over a year ago. The letter is dated from Morgow Mill in California. He is engaged there as a mill wright at from $4 to $6 a day and board. The question of the importation of Chinese labour was attracting much attention and bothered in the general feeling that their presence had a demoralizing influence. "You ask about the grand scenery: when I see anything that beats a good farm in Dummie I will let you know. As to wages they are like everything else in this country, very unsettled. Were I to tell you that I am making from $4 to $6 a day, you would think I was making lots of money, but then comes your $1 and $2 a day for board, and other things in proportion. You ask how I am paid? Weekly, monthly, and yearly. This year I am getting interest on my money. The rate of interest on first-class security is from 15 to 20 per cent. The people are pretty keen in their habits generally, but a well conducted man will find his life and property just as safe here as in any other country. One drawback—and a very serious one it is—there is neither church nor school within fifty miles of where I am."

M. GIBLIN is selling his Groceries at prices to suit the times.

The only persons the Conservatives could get to assist Sir John A. Macdonald at the Kinmettine pic-nic were four renegade Reformers—Macdougall, Leader and the two Gibbons. We suppose they also are of the "noble band" the selfdenying spirits of assisting Sir John to redeem the country. Where we (Mercury) add Bunbloe to this list, the band is a precious one indeed.

Our estate friend of the Cobourg World nicely corners up Sir John and his reckless assassinesis in the following paragraph:—"The Mail is caught in a nice little trap. He first says that the Hon. John Simpson had '$300,000 of Dominion money in his coffers, which was not drawing a cent of interest, and then declares that at this time Mr. Brown wrote him the 'Big Push' letter—leaving the intended inference that the application was answered with these funds. To support this inference, he adds that 'Sir Hugh Allan's money was at least his own; but Mr. Simpson's belonged to the country. There is a certain class of people who are declared to require good memories. The Big Push letter was written in 1872, when Sir John Macdonald's government was in power, and when Mr. Simpson's bank had no Dominion money. Now, if the Ontario Bank had Dominion money in 1872, not drawing interest, it was Sir John Macdonald's fault; and if it had not, Mr. Simpson could not have paid such money in answer to the appeal. Which horn of the dilemma will the Mail trade? In point of fact, Mr. Simpson swears in his preliminary affidavit in the libel case, that he never forwarded a dollar in reply to the Big Push letter. But the Mail has got himself into this muddle in his eagerness to misrepresent—forgetting that even his falsehood could not alter facts and dates."

We take the following from the Stratford Beacon for the benefit of our street and Bridge committee:—"Attention has been called to the great expense likely to be entailed upon the town in the maintainance of the many miles of wooden side walks which now involve the town in even a tolerable state of repair. Our large cities and towns have already given considerable attention to the subject, and many of them have spent considerable sums of money in experiments most of which have proved partial failures. Detroit claims to have solved the main questions involved—cheapness and durability. After testing a great many varieties, the Detroiters have, at last, come to the conclusion that, for durability, cheapness and other essentials, the cedar block pavement far surpasses any other. It is exceedingly simple in construction, consisting of cedar trees cut horizontally into blocks, which, without any further dressing or preparation than stripping off the bark, are placed on and upon a layer of gravel, and the upper ends coated with tar, the whole being finally covered with sand and gravel. This pavement, which is comparatively inexpensive, will last, it is calculated, for 15 years without needing repair, and can at any time be easily mended on account of the simplicity of its structure.

THE WAR IN THE EAST.

BELGRADE, Aug. 22.—A special despatch received here claims that the Turks were repulsed twice during Monday.—Despite their numbers they were unable even to approach the fortifications of Alexinatz, and only succeeded in burning some Christian villages.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 22.—A despatch from Vienna to Le Nord says, whatever may be the issue of the fighting now going on, there is every reason to expect that the mediation offered at Belgrade will be accepted.

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The accounts of the fighting near Alexinatz, are still conflicting. The Porte has sent a telegram to its representatives abroad announcing that the Servians, who concentrated all their forces, one half hour's march from Alexinatz, have been completely defeated.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A despatch from Belgrade says Gen. Tchernayeff sends frequent despaches urging Prince Milan to continue the war. The Prince appears to be still undecided. It is understood that only three of the Servian Ministers favor the continuance of the war.

A despatch from Semlin says it is stated in well informed circles that the Servian Prime Minister Ristics, interviewed M. Cartnoff, the Russian representative at Belgrade, on the 11th inst., and appealed to the Russian Government to permit Russian officers and soldiers to enter the Servian army. He also asked for pecuniary assistance, as Servia had determined to continue the war. The Russian Government has replied, granting the above requests under certain conditions. In consequence of this arrangement the Sclavonic Committees in Russia have commenced sending funds in large amounts. Russian officers and sub-officers in parties of ten, reach Belgrade almost daily, passing through Roumania unhindered. The officers give their services gratuitously. A number of other officers are expected shortly.

It is officially announced that the Servian troops under Gen. Horvatovitch yesterday recaptured Gurgusevatz and occupied Treibaft.

SALONICA, Aug. 22.—The officers implicated in the murder of foreign consuls were formally degraded to-day before the public, and salutes exchanged between the forts and the foreign men-of-war.

Reports from Alexinatz are still confused and conflicting. The actual state of affairs, as far as known, is as follows:—The Turks from Gurgusevatz, under Eyoub Pasha, and the army from Nissa, under Ali Saib, have effected a junction, and on Sunday were four miles south-west of Alexinatz. Ali Saib's vanguard attacked the Servians on Monday and met with a repulse. Since that there has been no serious fighting down to early Tuesday morning, and Alexinatz had not then been attacked. A special despatch from the Bucharest correspondent of the Daily News, who accompanied Mr. Schuyler in his tour of investigation, says Mr. Barin's report of sixty villages burned and 12,000 persons killed by the Turks does not include outrages committed in the district north of Balkant, nor in district of Sophia. Forty villages were burned north of the Balkans and seventy south. Mr. Schuyler has not completed his investigation, but he estimates the number killed at 60,000 in the district of Philippopolis alone. The regular troops are more cruel than the Beshi Bazouks and no doubt the massacres were committed with the sanction of the authorities. Outrages continue to occur and the Governor of Philippopolis wants cavalry to quell the Mussulmen. Mr. Schuyler thinks thinks there is immediate danger of additional massacres. He will suggest to his Government the following measures:—The hanging of four Leaders in these atrocities, the disarming of the Mussulmans and the rebuilding of the burnt villages at Government expense as these measures cannot be left to the authorities.

LONDON, Aug 23—A Belgrade telegram confirms the report of the re-occupation of Gargonovatz and Trenibahe by the Servians. Karim Pasha withdrew his forces to sustain the present operations. He has 40,000 men, which force is insufficient for an attack on Alexinatz, General Tchernayeff having 70,000.

The Ballinafad Murder.

GUELPH, Aug 22.

This village and the country for many miles around it were early on Monday morning thrilled with the startling news that a horrible murder had been committed some time during the preceding night near a small country hamlet—it can scarcely be to used a village—named Ballinafad, some six or seven miles west of Georgetown, on the seventh line of the township of Esquesing. The announcement of such an event, under any circumstances, would be an unusual occurrence of excitement, but in a quiet country place the news came to have at an electric pace, even without the aid of telegraph wires, and the intensity of feeling which it produces is little short of actual frenzy. The circumstances attending this murder, as they became known to the public, were not calculated to moderate such a feeling. Everything that adds a double horror to a deed always horrible was present. The victim Robert Whiteside, was a man best nearly double with age, he having reached, if not passed, the Psalmist's limit of threescore and ten; the deed was committed at the dead of night, in a place which even in the quiet country is very lonely; the old man was cruelly struck down by repeated blows on his head with the back of an axe, which was found near his body where had apparently been no struggle—there could be little; and, lastly, there was every reason to suspect that some one who knew the premises well was the murderer, and that money was the motive which prompted the deed.

THE VICTIM,

Robert Whiteside, was an Irishman by birth, and settled on the farm on which the murder took place about 50 years a go He was very miserly in his habits, so much so that he would scarcely allow his children a proper amount of food, and that of the poorest quantity. He gave them little or no schooling, and, indeed, was in all his dealings a miser; he owned 400 acres of first class land in one block, and although he has been on it for many years, it is still a forest with the exception of a little clearing of some five or six acres near the centre of the farm, and the occasional hemlock trees cut down for their bark and hardwood which he had sold for fuel. The land is worth a great deal of money. He had been a cripple for some years back, though otherwise very hale for his age.

THE SCENE OF THE MURDER.

The place is about as lonely as could well be imagined, being a small, irregular semi-circle of cleared land, surrounded on all sides by dense forest, and looking like the very abode which a hermit fled of the world would be likely to choose. The house is a small log structure, rather shaky in appearance, with a kind of a hay shed attached to one end. Everything about the place indicates a total disregard of "heaven's first law." A few ill-kept apple trees, a straggling grape vine and some wild looking shrubbery almost hide the front of the house, while the rear is well protected by the solid woods. The small plot of ground immediately fronting the house, and in the corner of which (close to the woods and 125 yards from the house) the body was found, seems to have borne no crop at all this season. Outside of this is a small field of wheat. Beside the foot path, and not far from the fence running between the two fields, the deed was committed.

THE WEAPON.

There is as yet no clue to the ownership of the axe which was found about a yard from the body, and with the back of which the man was killed. It is what is called around farm houses "an old axe," used for splitting, and other such purposes as that. There were marks of blood encrusted both on the metal and on the helve. Four or five heavy blows on the head had apparently been struck with it, leaving the skull shattered in a horrible way. When the body was found the right pocket of Mr. Whiteside's trousers, in which there was about $100, was torn out completely.

An inquest was begun on Monday and will be resumed again on Thursday.

Municipal Courtesies and the Cobourg Railway.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—The visit of the Town Councils of Cobourg and Peterborough to the village of Bobcaygeon last week had a significance beyond the mere matter of a friendly visit. This visiting of itself is pleasant and agreeable, to say nothing of the pleasure experienced this hot weather from the cooling breezes off our back lakes. All parties seemed to enjoy themselves amazingly, and were loud in their praises of the beautiful scenery ever and anon being displayed. At the banquet in the Town Hall in Bobcaygeon, the various speakers, especially those of Cobourg and the village of Bobcaygeon, pointed out the advantages to be derived from the speedy construction of a railway from the front to the rear. The gentleman who conducts the "Bobcaygeon Independent" however, threw a bomb shell into the camp by announcing there was treachery if not treason in the compact, that while both ends, i.e., Cobourg and Bobcaygeon were loyal and true, there was a hitch in the middle. Perfidious Peterboro had not done what she should have done—had in fact at times said one thing and done another—and as a consequence Bobcaygeon was yet without a railway, and Peterboro was the cause of the failure. When desired to name the action and the time, he failed in doing so, thereby leaving the impression that he could not, and in the opinion of the meeting basely slandered a town that has done ten times as much as his village to secure the construction of the very road, now so much desired. I maintain that in place of Peterboro hanging back, it has ever been most forward in doing everything reasonable to secure the road. We have not perhaps done all that Cobourg asked us to do—well for us that we have not. Cobourg while energetic, public spirited and liberal, yet wants wisdom and judgment in railway matters. No Municipality in the Dominion has been so unfortunate in its railway schemes as Cobourg. It spent enormous sums of money in bridging a lake three miles wide, and after having completed it in two or three short years it failed, and the road was useless. From 1857 up to now, the road from the south shore of Rice Lake to Peterboro has been of no avail for traffic. About the year 1872 Cobourg having received some public money revived the idea of renewing their road to Peterboro, and from there northward to Chemong Lake, Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls. A Deputation was sent to enlist the co-operation of Peterboro in the scheme, and at once Peterborough acquiesced, got up, published and submitted a By-law to the ratepayers. The necessary assent was given and Peterboro passed their By-law granting a bonus to the Cobourg, Peterboro and Marmora Railway and Mining Company, to the extent of $80,000 to aid in the construction of the Railway of the said Company northward to Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls. The act of the Legislature authorizing the building of this road, and authorizing the town of Peterboro to aid by way of bonus to the Company, in the said construction, enacted that it should be lawful for the said Corporation of the town of Peterboro by such By-law to impose such conditions upon which such aid should be granted as the said Corporation should deem expedient, which conditions upon the acceptance by the said Company of the aid so granted should be binding upon the said Company.

This By-law provides that $40,000 of said grant should be given to said Company as soon as the said road was in running order, except as to the filling in of Rice Lake—from the town of Cobourg to Chemong Lake provided it was so completed and in running order before the 1st of April 1873. $20,000 when the road was in running order to Bobcaygeon provided that was done before the 1st of March 1874, and the remaining $20,000 when the railway was in running order from Cobourg to Fenelon Falls provided this was done before the 1st of March, 1875.

The above conditions were accepted by the Company but none of them were fulfilled. In the latter part of 1873 a deputation from the Cobourg Railway Company came out to Peterboro and represented that from the magnitude of the work the Company had failed to complete the first portion of the road in the period allotted, asking for an extension of time wherein to complete the road and for the handing over $40,000 to the Company upon their giving security. Another By-law was drawn up embracing the extension of time as asked for, viz., to Bobcaygeon to 1st Dec. 1875 and Fenelon Falls to 1st December 1876, and for handing over the $40,000 by receiving security, to go on with the work. This By-law was duly submitted but was disapproved of by the ratepayers.

In February or March, 1874, another deputation came out asking for another extension of time.

A third By-law was drawn up in March, 1874, stipulating that said and time should be given, provided that the Company by the 1st of September following, would by a binding agreement entered into with the Town in a penalty of $10,000 to commence and complete the said portions of the said Railway, in the periods agreed upon. This By-law was also submitted to the Ratepayers, and assented to by them, but as before the Company failed to carry out the terms upon which the aid was to have been given.

A fourth By-law was submitted in December, 1874, and passed, and in view of all these facts Peterborough is charged with obstructing the work, not heartily in the cause and exacting too stingent terms in connection with the grant. Cobourg has shown itself reckless, rash and unwary. It is high time that they learned this. That chasem in Rice Lake has swallowed up hundreds of thousands, and can swallow millions more. It was good for Cobourg that Peterborough surrounded the grant with wholesome restrictions. Few Towns would have done so much under the circumstances as Peterborough has done to secure connection with the places referred to.

It first advocated the construction of a railway about 1846, and many of the town and country people took stock in the undertaking. and which stock they had to pay. The town took stock in the Port Hope, Lindsay and Beaverton Railway Company in 1857, to the extent of about $170,000. The town at this present time has a pecuniary interest in the Midland Railway to the extent of $76,900, and in advocating the construction of a rival railway the town is jeopardizing the realization of this large sum.

There were four attempts to give the Cobourg Road $80,000 to aid in the constructing of the railway from Cobourg to Bobcaygeon, and in every case but one it was Cobourg that failed to carry out the bargain. It is somewhat cool and impudent to be told that Peterborough had played false to its plighted faith. It has spent time and money to advance the connection of the rear with the front, at a greater sacrifice than either ends of the road. The opening of the road to Cobourg at once interferes with the Midland road. The traffic is not sufficient to employ two roads. If the existing road suffers by the building of the rival one, how can we expect our money from the former? The marvel to me is how Peterborough in view of all the facts ever gave any encouragement, or promised aid at all. It has learned by now at all events that the proposed undertaking is too vast, the inducements of a return for such large outlays, too, forbidding to proceed with the attempt, and that self-interest—that just law of nature—lying at the root of nearly all human actions, prompts to look after our own interests. A railroad from Cobourg to Bobcaygeon will benefit Peter borough very little; not surely to the extent of $5,000 per annum—the interest and sinking fund of the proposed bonus.

PETERBORO.

STONY LAKE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Would you allow me a small space in your valuable paper as it is a matter that concerns the whole neighborhood, I think it should be made public. On the 3rd of August, the owners of the steamer Chippewa gave public notice that there would be an excursion on Stony Lake and that the boat would call at McCracken's Landing and Gilchrist's Bay to take on parties wishing to go on the Lake at six p.m., but no boat arrived although there were several parties who had travelled four and five miles only to be disappointed. This is nothing new, for the proprietors of that boat when it is not a real pecuniary advantage to them. But when we take into consideration that we are principally of the Clear Grit stamp here we need not wonder at the disappointment, as the owners of the Chippewa are good Liberal Conservatives and therefore would be doing their party a disgrace to accommodate a few Grits. I understand that there is now another boat on the Lake so we may hope for a little more justice and less extortion. Hoping that the owner of the new boat will meet with every success. I am, yours, etc.

ORDINATION.—The Lord Bishop of Toronto will hold (D.V.) his annual Ordination in St. John's Church Peterborough, on Sunday, October 29th.

☞ You will save time and trouble with your Sewing Machine by using CLARK & CO'S Best Six-Cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton. Notice the ANCHOR on each Spool.

SIR JOHN.—It is rumoured that Sir John A. McDonald intends to return to Kingstonand make it his home again. He moved to Toronto some time ago, and has been plumbing new there.

CHURCH SOCIAL.—A social in aid of the building fund of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, will be given at Mr. William Snyder's, Ashburnham, on Wednesday, 30th inst., at 7 p. m. Admission 25 cents.

FERRIER'S PIC-NIC.—The annual firemen's Pic-Nic was held on Thursday last, the Steamer Golden-Eye taking the party to Rice Lake, etc. The day was delightful, the number large, and all passed off cheerily.

PUNCH AND THE DUKENFIE'S.—Two very successful performances were given by this troupe on Saturday and Monday evenings. The hall was well filled on both occasions, and their performance gave good satisfaction.

OGLE R. GOWAN, well known in Canada, especially as a leading Orangeman and Grand Master for about twenty years, died on Monday last. He was a native of the County of Wexford, Ireland, and emigrated to Canada in 1829.

NOTICE.—The party that took the key of WM. MCCULLAGH'S store door on Thursday last, can have the lock at half price by calling at his store, as he has no further use for it, having put on one of Bertram & Co's Burglar Proof Locks.

PERSONAL.—A. Smith, Esq., of the firm of Boyd, Smith & Co., has been to the Eastern Province and can side for the benefit of his health. He is expected home next week, and we are glad to state he is greatly improved in health and strength.

DUCK SHOOTING.—The open season for duck shooting has commenced. From what we can learn it is evident that the game is likely to be scarce this season. However sportsmen can have lots of hunting, if nothing else, for if the game is scarce they will have to hunt for it.

BLACK LIST.—The License Commissioners of Brockville are getting up a list of persons who are in the habit of getting on the tight, and particularly those who appear on the streets in an intoxicated state during the day time. The ENTERPRISE remarks, "somebody is sure to get hurt."

O. Y. B's PIC-NIC.—The Orange Young Britons held their annual Pic-Nic to Oak Orchard-this year, on Tuesday last. There was quite a large turn out, and they returned home in the evening well pleased with the trip, and spoke very highly of the courtesies received at the hands of Capt. Bottom.

STEAMER S. S. EXCURSION.—The Orange Street Methodist S. S. Pic-Nic down the river on Wednesday last, on the "Golden-Eye," was very successful. There was a very large number present, of both parents and children. They returned home early in the evening well pleased with the day's enjoyments.

CRICKET.—The second eleven of the Peterboro' and Lindsay Cricket Clubs, played a match on the grounds of the latter on Thursday last, which resulted in a victory for the Peterboro' boys by four wickets. Lindsay 1st innings 34; 2nd innings 73, grand total 107. Peterboro', 1st innings 67; 2nd innings, with 4 wickets to spare, 62. The return match will be played here on Monday next.

PINK-EYED DISTEMPER.—An exchange says a new horse disease has made its appearance and threatens to spread over the country. It is not at all dangerous, and resembles the epizootic of 1872. The symptoms are swelling of the legs, slight running at the nostrils, swelling of the eyelids and pinkish coloring of the eyes. The disease is variously described by horsemen, but the term generally applied to it is "Pink-Eyed Distemper."

GAS.—The following has been handed in with the request that we give it a place in our columns, with a view to comparing the cost of gas light in different towns in Ontario.—Guelph, $22.50 a gas lamp per year, to burn all night; Belleville, $20.00, all night; Port Hope, $27.50, to twelve o'clock; Ottawa, $28.00 for lighting and $4.00 per lamp per year for repair; Brockville, $18.00, and two lamps to burn all night; Peterborough, $20.00 to twelve o'clock.

NOT CORRECT.—In a newspaper report of a late meeting of the School Board, some members are represented as saying there were four teachers in the employment of the Board without legal qualifications. This is not so. All the teachers employed up to the holidays were legally qualified to teach, and we have not heard of any teacher employed since; hence, how can there be four teachers of such a class. The truth is the report is not correct.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.—Intending exhibitors to the above Exhibition to be held at Port Hope, will do well to remember that all entries are requested to be made before the 15th of September, and that they can become entitled to exhibit free of charge, on paying one dollar to the Secretary of any of the agricultural societies, under whose patronage the Exhibition is held, before the 15th of September, after that time they will have to pay two dollars to the Secretary of the Exhibition.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—Perhaps, says a contemporary, few are aware that under the "Weights and Measures Act of 1873," the use of the Imperial gallon and its parts, as liquid measures, is imperative. Nine-tenths or more of the measures now in use are the Wine Measures which can be legally used only with a special understanding is entered into by buyer and seller. If this be true most transactions in buying and selling liquids of all kinds must be illegal, and all venders are liable to the penalties of the Act.

COUNTERFEIT BANK BILLS.—The Kingston WHIG says: "Recently we referred to the issue of counterfeit bills in Toronto almost the exact counterpart and purporting to be the genuine paper of the Branch of the Bank of British North America at Kingston. Yesterday the teller of the Merchants' Bank, an expert in his business, was imposed upon by the passage of one of these bills. The bill was a perfect imitation, save a couple of dots instead of circles on the corner. The public are again warned to be watchful of these counterfeits."

ROYAL ARCH MASONS.—The Grand Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons of Canada held their annual meeting in Albert Hall, Toronto, on Wednesday, 9th inst., when the following officers were elected: L. H. Henderson, G. E., Belleville; F. J. Menet, G. H., Toronto; Fr. Edgar, G. I., Montreal; Dani. Spry, G. S. E., Toronto; F. R. Dupard, G. S. N., Hamilton; G. Cruzan, G. P. S. Kingston; David McLellan, G. T., Hamilton; J. G. Burns, G. R., Toronto; T. J. Reed, London, G. Janitor. The Grand Chapter will meet in London, Ont., in 1877.

TURNIP INSECT.—The Guelph MERCURY learns that a new and destructive pest has attacked the turnip crop in some sections of the Province. It is not the fly or flea hopper, which only attacks the plant in its early rudimentary stage, which is now past. A farmer in the Township of Nichabin states that as he proceeded to single out his crop lately, he found large patches, several yards in length, cut down in drills, apparently as if the root had been eaten away by a cut worm. These plants are entirely destroyed, and the same effect has been noticed on several other farms.

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.—Our readers will notice by an advertisement in another column that the Provincial Exhibition for the present year will be held in the City of Hamilton on the 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd days of September Prize Lists are now ready, and can be obtained from the Secretary, Mr. H. C. Thomson, Toronto. It is absolutely requested that the entries must be made at the following dates:—Horses, cattle, sheep, swine, agricultural implements, and machines, on or before Saturday, the 12th of August; grain, field roots, and other farm products, machinery (by other than agricultural purposes, and manufactures generally, fisheries, Monday, August 28th; horticultural products, ladies' work, fine arts, &c., Saturday, September 2nd, two weeks previous to the exhibition.

POLICE COURT.—On Monday morning, 21st inst., Ann Brennan was brought before the Police Magistrate on the charge of being a disreputable vagrant, and was sent to gaol for six months at hard labour. B. Reynolds was brought up on a charge of selling liquor without license, but was postponed till Tuesday on account of his wife and a man named W. Smith not appearing; warrants were issued for their arrest.—George Northey charged with assault on his wife with intent to do bodily harm, pardoned to be tried by a jury, and was committed for trial. B. Learin charged by the License Inspector with having ale in his cellar, and all other necessary appliances for the selling of liquor. After the evidence had been heard the case was dismissed. Complainant to pay costs. On Wednesday Mr. B. Reynold's case was dismissed until Monday.

NOT THE THING.—In the past, custom has decreed that white ties were alone the distinguishable feature which marked "gentlemen of the cloth" from the more common order of humanity, but the Centennial year has brought in an innovation, and no longer does the rule hold good. On the other side white ties are quite fashionable with the sports, to the disgust of the sedate reverend ones who previously have regarded it as their sacred calling. The white tie fever has slightly touched this town, and supposed "clerical gents" are fast springing up. The Lindsay POST says that "we have the healthiest lot of looking preachers in our town any person ever saw," but we just ask him to strike this town when some of the sports are trying "to put it on," and he can form his own opinion. The fraud is not exactly right, and the best way to curb it is for the preachers to ask them forward to close the meeting. We observed our "devil" had one on the civic holiday, but then he is quite clerical looking.

ERRORS IN VOTERS' LISTS.—A correspondent writes to the London FREE PRESS:—"I have just been looking over a copy of the list of voters, recently printed, in which no fair as my judgment guides me) I think there are several serious flaws. A very large number of the names are wrongly spelt; and the question naturally arises how can such parties vote aright? They are made to swear that their name is on the roll; and if any one is fastidious enough to dispute it, I am of the belief they cannot vote. In addition to this I find that a considerable number of the names of non-residents are not on the roll, so that they will not be entitled to vote next year." The errors in the spelling of names in voters' lists generally are so numerous and of such a character as to call for a reform in the matter. If clerks were directed to correct erroneous spelling when copying the lists from the assessment rolls, a great improvement would be effected. The subject is, however of so much importance that it ought to be considered by the Legislature.

A BRIGHT PROSPECT.—In connection with the completion of the Victoria and Whitby Railways, the Lindsay correspondent of the Bobcaygeon INDEPENDENT, predicts that "in another year we shall entirely absorb the trade arising from the lumber operations of the back country. The town of Peterboro' held on to this as firmly as it could, and for many years ranked next to Ottawa as a lumbering centre, but we now feel secure of getting this trade for Lindsay, and then this town will grow faster than ever Peterborough did. The opening of the railway to Kinmount in conjunction with the construction of the line to Port Perry, cannot fail to have the effect of removing the lumber business from Peterborough to Lindsay, and though the lumber operations are at present small, they are still worth having, and in a year or two they will revive, and again be the means of circulating large sums of money. In two years from the opening of the Victoria and Port Perry railways we will knock Peterborough into a cocked hat, and take every lumberman off its streets."

THE REGATTA.—Arrangements have for some time been made for the annual regatta, under the auspices of the Peterborough Boating Club, to take place on the Little Lake on Thursday and Friday, August 31st and September 1st. The sports will commence each day at 1 o'clock sharp. The following is the programme:—

THE RECORD OF THE YEAR

Is such an original and valuable magazine that its popularity is rapidly increasing. As an instance of its reputation among Journalists, we quote the Trenton Press, which says:—

"Among the myriads of magazines that have appeared upon the stage, no one of such general and permanent value, and none that seems destined to so long and useful a life as the RECORD OF THE YEAR, has ever fallen under our observation. Although but few numbers of the Record have been published, yet the character of the future is so fully indicated, that we have no hesitation in predicting for it a success such as few publications have been attained by any other like publication in this or any country. It is what its name purports,—a record of all important events of the year,—a collection of wit and humor,—a scrap-book of the best poetry,—a history alike of sycnts and of literature—in short of everything that a scholar or gentleman would choose to remember."

Price 50 cents a month, or $5.00 for a year's subscription—postage paid by the publishers. Yearly subscriptions begin with any month. G. W. CARLETON & Co., Publishers, Madison Sq. New York.

Calcutt in reference to the grade of the Smith Street Bridge was referred to the Smith Street Bridge Committee, with power to have the work completed.

GRAVELLING ROAD TO CEMETERY.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Haggart.—That the action of the Street and Bridge Committee in reference to gravelling of the road from George Street to the Cemetery be confirmed, and that the Street Inspector be authorized to inspect the above as being in accordance with specifications, and also that he have the proper culverts placed where necessary, and also water-tabling. The whole expenditure not to exceed $200.—Carried.

REPORT OF FIRE, WATER AND GAS.

Mr. Paterson, as chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, submitted the following report:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterboro':

GENTLEMEN.—In reference to the Chief Constable's report on the street lamps, we find on an investigation that there is no agreement properly signed or executed with the Gas Company, which according to the By-law should have been done, but as that time (that is the five years, which the conditions of the By-law bind the Company too) has expired, we therefore recommend that a new agreement or contract be entered into with the Gas Company, and that a committee be appointed to confer with said Company and draw up an agreement and submit it to the Council for their approval at the next meeting, and also in reference to K. Burnham's communication asking permission to erect sheds on his lot south of Simcoe Street, we recommend that the conditions of By-law No. 388 be carried out, and in accordance with said By-law we recommend that Messrs. Rutherford, Douglas, Hopkins and Taylor be a Standing Committee to whom all plans and proposed changes are to be submitted, and that the third clause of By-law No. 279 be amended, so as to allow of the erection of sheds and one-story buildings in the rear provided the material used is in compliance with the By-law. And as to R. O. Helm's account, asking for $5 as a fireman we could not entertain it, but recommend that he get $2.50, and for the last half year $7.50.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

W. PATERSON, JR., Chairman.

Mr. Dixon thought that it was not right to allow wooden buildings to be erected inside the fire limits.

The Mayor said that the material that would be used would not interfere with the present By-law.

On motion, the report was received and adopted.

TRUSTEE APPOINTED.

Moved by Mr. Douglas, seconded by Mr. Elliott.—That Geo. E. Shaw be appointed Trustee in place of W. Morrow resigned.—Carried.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

Moved by Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Dixon,—That the resignation of Mr. Thornton be accepted, and that the Mayor be requested to issue his warrant for to hold a new election for a member to take his seat.—Carried.

POUND-KEEPER APPOINTED.

Moved by Mr. Dixon, seconded by Mr. Douglas.—That Mr. T. Beavis be appointed pound keeper for the present year.—Carried.

COMMITTEE TO ARRANGE FOR GAS.

Moved by Mr. Haggart, seconded by Mr. Paterson.—That the Water and Gas Committee be a Committee to meet the Gas Company and report to this Council at next meeting.—Carried.

SNOW BY-LAW.

Mr. Rutherford thought that it was a good time to have the Snow By-law passed, and he would move for the second reading.

On motion of Mr. Rutherford the Council went into committee of the whole on the second reading of the By-law, Mr. Dixon in the chair.

Mr. Rutherford said that he thought the ratepayers and others in the town wanted this By-law passed, so that those who would not could be made remove the snow from off the street in front of their premises in winter. As it was, people coming to town during the stormy season thought that Peterboro' was a nice little town, but always had their mind changed when they could not get along the public walks for the banks of snow, and he was of the opinion that Peterboro' was ahead of Lindsay and they could have the snow removed from off their streets.

Mr. Cahill said that he did not agree with Mr. Rutherford in this snow business, to compel people who owned property in town to have the snow removed within two hours after 9 o'clock. Suppose for instance either He or I was away from home working in the country, how were we to get home to remove the snow; or perhaps we could not get a man at that particular time for love or money; and how were the ladies who owned property in town going to do? were they to be compelled to get out and shovel snow? He thought that it was time enough to pass the By-law when the ratepayers petitioned for it.

Mr. Rutherford said that there were petitions sent in some three or four years ago, and that this By-law had been before the Council about three years and they could never get it passed; that he did not ask for everything the By-law had in it, and moved to have certain parts of the first clause expunged.

Mr. Douglas said that the best thing they could do would be to EXPUNGE the whole By-law.

On motion of Mr. Cahill the committee rose and left the By-law the same as it was before.

LONDON STREET.

Mr. Rutherford complained that the Street Inspector would not repair the sidewalk on London Street.

Mr. Cummings said he usually did anything the Committee or the Council asked him, but wanted to know if he was going to obey the THINGS of the Committee. He said that the sidewalk on the Bridge and on London Street and on Simcoe from Water to Queen Streets needed new sidewalks, and he did not wish to spend such a large sum of money without the authority of the Council.

Mr. Cahill said that Mr. Rutherford was the chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee, and the committee are not responsible for the Chairman's acts; as he had expended large sums of money without ever consulting the committee, and he wished it understood that Mr. Rutherford was the committee himself.

Mr. Rutherford denied this, and challenged Mr. Cahill to mention what he had ever done.

Mr. Cahill mentioned the filling of the garden in the North Ward. &c.,

WATERING STREETS.

Mr. Dixon said that the committee on watering the streets had agreed to pay Mr. Long $200 on acct. on conditions that he would water the streets till the end of October, but the chairman would not issue his order, and asked for instructions in the matter.

Moved by Mr. Haggart, seconded by Mr. Dixon.—That the Treasurer be instructed to pay Mr. Long the sum of one hundred dollars for watering the streets, with the understanding that his contract would extend to the latter part of October.—Carried.

Mr. Long had received $150 on account before.

Instructions were given to the Street Inspector to have such repairs as were necessary done to the sidewalks.

ESTIMATES.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Taylor.—That the Clerk be authorized to refer the estimates of the School Board to the Finance Committee as soon as he receives the same.—Carried

The Council adjourned for one week.

LAKEFIELD.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The council met pursuant to adjournment. Members present: Messrs. Dinwoodie, Strickland, and the Mayor in the chair. Minutes of former meeting read and confirmed. The swamp question came up for discussion. Mr. Booth presented a petition from George Nichols et al, praying that immediate action be taken in this matter. Councillor Shields entered and took his seat. Moved by Mr. Dinwoodie, seconded by Mr. Strickland, That the petition of Mr. Nicholls and others be received and that the Clerk be instructed to lay the necessary papers before Messrs. Poussette & Roger at once, and obtain their legal advice on the drainage of said property, and report the same at the meeting of this council on Monday evening next.—Carried. The Reeve called the attention of the council to the fact that he had succeeded in obtaining the sum of $50 from the County Council for the purpose of repairing the road from Lakefield to Young's Point, and hoped that the council would grant a $100 for that purpose provided that the Douro Council would expend a like amount. The question provoked considerable discussion in which all the members took part, and it was finally. Moved by Mr. Dinwoodie, seconded by Mr. Shields, That this council expend the sum of $100 on the road to Miller's corner provided the Douro Council expend a like amount and that a Commissioner be appointed by each Council.—Carried. Accounts were presented as follows:—David Smith and W. C. Baldwin, each, amounting to $47.34.—Moved by Mr. Shields, seconded by Mr. Dinwoodie That the following accounts be paid viz: D. Smith $1 cents; W. C. Baldwin, $47.43.—Carried. Moved by Mr Strickland seconded by Mr Dinwoodie That the road commissioner be instructed to construct a culvert on the concession line, on the road to Heath's.—Carried. Mr. Horner addressed the council in reference to the leveling of the street in the neighborhood of the railway station, and said it was the intention of the company to raise the track. Moved by Mr. Dinwoodie, seconded by Mr. Shields, That Mr. Horner be allowed to take sufficient earth from the concession line to level the land in front of the railway station, provided that he does not injure the roadway.—Carried. On motion of Mr. Shields, seconded by Mr. Dinwoodie, council adjourned till next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Inspector of one of our prominent Fire Insurance Companys was in the village taking notes last week, and expressed his surprise that there was no "fire appliances" and stated that he would have to instruct his agent to raise the rates if no action was taken by the people. We would ask how long are our 'Fathers' going to dilly-dally over purchasing a fire engine or establishing water works; like Millbrook or Barrie, they will come to their senses when it is too late, and our fine village is reduced to an ash heap.

MR. JAS. CALVERT of the 12th Con. Harvey, had one of his legs broken one day last week whilst engaged in logging. Dr. Adams of this place was called in to attend the sufferer, and under his able treatment Mr. C. is now doing as well as can be expected.—News

It having been lately intimated by the representatives of American Companies that the legislation contemplated by Government would lead to their altogether withdrawing from Canada, assurers in such companies desirous of joining an institution like the Canada Life, permanently established in the country, are informed that in many cases this can be done, With an Actual Reduction of Yearly Expense.

The superiority of the SINKING FUND system for the repayment of Loans, over the old plan of having the principal fall due in one sum, has been so fully established both in this country and Europe, that the Directors of the Midland Loan and Savings Company consider any lengthened reference to it unnecessary.

Select Poetry.

Bear and Forbear.

Be careful, ye whose wedded hearts
Are lovingly united:
Be heedful lest an enemy
Steal on you unawited!
A little wily serpent hath
With graceful, lithe, and supple form,
Or, blinding in a different guise,
A thorn among the roses!

Be careful, ye whose marriage bells
Now merrily are ringing;
Be heedful of the bitter word,
The answer keen and stinging.
The sharp retort, the angry eye
Its vivid lightning flashing,
The rude air which so sadly light
Are daily, hourly, dashing!

"Bear and forbear," the only way
To tread life's paths together.
Then sunny, and wholesome, shining sun,
Or cumbl'ous, dark, cloudy weather
Two loving hearts dissolved in one,
That cannot live asunder,
Have put love's golden armor on—
Oh, world, look on and wonder.

USEFUL RECIPES.

TOMATO AND BEEF STEW.—Slice three pounds of lean beef and seven moderate size tomatoes with one onion. Cut the tomatoes up into small pieces, and chop the onion fine. Stew slowly add salt, a few cloves, and, just before it is done, a little butter and half a gill of catsup. The remains of this dish may be kept and heated over the next day, if desired.

TOMATO CATSUP.—To one peck of ripe tomatoes put one tea-cupful of salt. Cut the tomatoes in small pieces over night. Lay them down in an earthen vessel or china bowl. Sprinkle the salt well through them. In the morning put them into a preserving kettle and boil them two hours. Take it off, and strain them through a fine sieve to get them return the juice to the kettle, and boil it half away. Flavor to your taste with powdered Cayenne pepper, allspice and cloves. Do not add the spices until about half an hour before it is done. When cool, bottle it, corking with new corks. Scald the corks before inserting them. After you have filled the bottles, pour into the top of each one a tea-spoonful of sweet oil. It will keep better in consequence. Always shake the bottle well before using the catsup.

TOMATO CATSUP No. 2.—One peck of tomatoes, half a dozen onions chopped fine, two table-spoonfuls of black pepper two table-spoonfuls of allspice, two table-spoonfuls of cloves, two ounces of celery seed, a quarter of a pound of salt, or more if liked, one pound of brown sugar, and one quart of strong vinegar. The proportions used in this recipe are particularly recommended and it may be relied upon as being generally admired when brought upon the table.

WINTER SAUCE OF TOMATOES.—One gallon of strained tomato juice, two pounds of sugar, seven tea-spoonfuls of salt, four table-spoonfuls of black pepper half a table-spoonful of allspice, three table-spoonfuls of mustard, half a pod of red pepper, a little horse-radish. Boil and just before taking off the fire add one quart of good vinegar.

RIPE CANTALOUPE PICKLE.—Take one bushel of cantaloupes, pare, and cut them into small slips. Put them into a stone jar, and cover them with cold vinegar, letting them stand all night. Throw that vinegar away (it need not be of the best kind), and take two quarts of good vinegar, six pounds of brown sugar, half an ounce of cloves, half an ounce of allspice, and a few sticks of cinnamon. When the mixture comes to a boil, throw in the cantaloupes, and boil one hour, until they look clear. Then put them away in glass or stone jars. They grow better for six weeks, and are better the second year.

TO CAN PEACHES.—Half a pound of sugar to one pound of peaches. Put the sugar on the fire with a little water: let it boil until the syrup is clear; then put in the peaches, and let them boil until heated through. Take the peaches out with a perforated ladle, and then to every eight pounds of the fruit put two tea-spoonfuls of Spear's fluid. Put it into the boiling fluid after the fruit is taken out. Pour the hot syrup over the peaches, and no sealing of jars is necessary. This recipe has been proved to be reliable, and if you prefer to put up your fruit without sugar, it may be done by using more water, but otherwise proceeding as directed above.

PEACH PIE (Fresh Fruit).—Select a pie plate that is not too deep, and after arranging a lower crust, fill with peaches halved, stoned, and pared; sprinkle sugar over them, and bake until done. Canned peaches will answer as well as fresh ones if some of the syrup from the can and a small quantity of sugar are added. When cool, spread over it the whites of two eggs, beaten very light, and flavor with rose-water or vanilla. Sprinkle over the top three tea-spoonfuls of sand sugar, and let it brown in the oven a few minutes.

CORN SOUP.—To each quart of young corn cut from the cob allow three pints of water. Put the corn and water on to boil. When the grains are tender, have ready two ounces of sweet butter mixed smooth with one tablespoonful of flour. Stir the batter into the soup and let it boil ten or fifteen minutes longer. Just before taking out of the pot beat up an egg and stir into it with salt and pepper to your taste.

GRATED-CORN FRITTERS.—Take a dozen well filled ears of corn grate the pulp off well, and add two eggs and a little salt. Mix well, and fry like small pan-cakes, taking care to have them thoroughly done. Should the sugar be very young and milky, a little flour may be added—say, a small table-spoonful. These fritters are delicious, and very much resemble oyster Fritters in flavor.

NUTMEG OR CITRON MELON PRESERVES.—Cut the melon into slices half an inch thick. Take off the rind Keep them in salt water for three days. Boil them in fresh water six hours, changing the water three times. Make a syrup of one and a half pounds of sugar to one pound of fruit, seasoned with extract of lemon, mace, cinnamon, and white ginger scalded and dried, to your taste. Boil the fruit in the syrup till it is perfectly transparent. During the whole process the boiling must be very slow or the fruit will boil to pieces.

SWEET-POTATO PIE.—Boil the potatoes; peel and slice them. Put a layer in the baking dish, either with or without pastry. Dot it over with butter, sprinkle with sugar and a little allspice, or any other seasoning you may prefer. Proceed in this way until the dish or plate is full; then pour over the top milk or cream until the pieces are well soaked. Then bake slowly and carefully till done.

HOME-MADE BAR SOAP.—To seven and a half pounds of grease add three pounds of resin. Let the grease stand to melt the resin nearly cold; then put on the fire, adding slowly a cupful at a time of water, until you have used as much as two gallons. Boiling half an hour, add two pounds of resin. Boil again until the latter is melted. Then stir, in two even pints of salt, and add turn out into moulds.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the Purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compositions. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.
They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, blood and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting disorder in any other part, thus derangements are the first origin of disease.
Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—
For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.
For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.
For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.
For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.
For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.
For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.
As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.
An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists, that who feel decidedly well, often think that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and removing effect on the digestive apparatus.

Burnett's Extracts
The superiority of these Extracts consists in their great purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the fanciful fruit flavors now in the market. They are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality, and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need be used.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the glow and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. It should be used merely for a
HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 31, 1876

WATER WORKS.

Our contemporary the Review waxes indignant at some of our citizens who at a recent "Public Meeting" had the manliness to express themselves not prepared to advocate Water Works at the present juncture. When it is remembered that the Romaine By-law for Water Works was a few months ago voted down by the almost unanimous vote of the ratepayers, it does not become our contemporary to be abusive of respectable and respected citizens who express themselves at a meeting of the people, called by the Mayor, for the express purpose of considering the subject. At our public meetings let our townsmen be invited to full and fair discussion, let all aspects of a subject be submitted, and then the people who may be called upon to vote on the expenditure of public money will do so with a thorough knowledge of the subject. To call men like T. G. Hazlitt, D. W. Dumble, W. J. Mason and Jas. Hall, M.P. "obstructionists", and refer to them in scurrilous personal remarks is not the way to invite co-operation, nor is it such treatment as good taste or decency calls for.

Let every scheme stand on its own merits, the arguments for, or against, are in themselves of the same value, irrespective of the party advancing them; but when men of property and position in the town make known their views on public measures, let them be received with respect, and at all times let us rathea invite the interest and consideration of our leading men than attempt to bully and brow beat and deter them from giving their counsel in matters of great public importance.

We are convinced that it would be a good thing for the town if we had a complete system of Water Works, and with it a complete system of drainage.

It would also be desirable if the water supplied were good for culinary purposes. The question as affecting Peterborough, however, is not an abstract question. It is a question of taxation. Unless the town is suffering for drinking and washing water, there is no urgent necessity for plunging into debt for Water Works to supply water simply for culinary purposes The water in Peterborough generally speaking, is healthy and good.

The water supplied by cisterns for washing purposes is obtained in abundance and at trifling expenditure.

But the only water to be had by Water-Works is the vegetable-stained water of the Otonabee, who is prepared to pay for the privelege of drinking it? It is simply absurd to think that Peterborough will tax itself for the privlige of drinking the river water.

And now in respect to Wate-Works for fire purposes.

First.—Water-Works are by no means an infallible preventative of fires—as witness the fires in Toronto, Hamilton, Quebec, St. John's, in all of which places are Water Works of a very expensive character

Secondly,—the risk from fire in Peterborough is small, owing to the character of our buildings and the smallness of our blocks; and if the fire By-laws were not openly and willfully violated by our Council the risk would be less.

Thirdly.—The Crock and the Otonabee River give water in abundance, so that every part of the town which it is proposed to reach with Water-Works could be reached by hose from the steam engines.

Fourthly.—The expense of Water-Works would not be less than $60,000, the interest of that money would buy a new steamer every year, or it would in two years buy two more new steamers and thereafter keep up continually three fire companies.

Fifthly.—Water-Works almost of necessity means drainage—or double expenditure—and double taxation.

Sixthly.—The reduction of rates for Fire Insurance would be inappreciable, as it is admitted that the rates in Peterboro are about as low as they could be made.

Are we then in such a position that we must of necessity for the best interest of the town begin a system of public expenditure for Water-Works and drainage? In our opinion, we are not.

We have nothing to say against Water-Works and drainage. We admit all, or much that can be said in firm of them, but we unhesitatingly say that the time has not yet come when it would be judicious for this town to plunge into the great and uncertain expenditure which would inevitably result from entertaining the schemes of the Water-Works promoters at the present time.

A CUT at the Tory missionary—by the London Advertiser. By degrees the whole truth comes out. We know now why the men and boys of Dunvegan refused to keep quiet at that Glengarry meeting in which the "outrage" was committed. They would not be compelled to listen to Mr. Alfred Boultbee, though he came as missionary from Sir John Macdonald. Perhaps they are to be blamed, but if so the blame must be extended to the Legislature at Toronto, whose members used to file out into the corridor as soon as Mr. Boultbee began speaking, during the last session he occupied a seat in that body. When the meeting at Dunvegan had been freed from the obnoxious presence, the electors were both quiet and respectful.

GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE IN ELECTIONS.

(From the Hamilton Times.)

Sir John A. Macdonald, in the newspaper which he has chief control, has recently brought forward the charge that Lieutenant-Governor Macdonald directly interfered in the Glengarry election.

The evidence to the contrary has been so strong that the leading Conservative newspaper was has compelled to withdraw its charge and offer a half-apology for having made it. Now let us see the other half of the picture. For it we are indebted to the Montreal Herald.

In the good old days, the days gone by forever it may be hoped, Lieutenant-Governors under the active agency of Sir John Macdonald, were wont to write strange letters. Here is one for instance. Sir George Cartier running for a constituency in Montreal was defeated, and here follows the testimony of a Conservative Archbishop of Manitoba appointed by Sir John Macdonald and controlled by him. Archbishop Tache said in evidence:

"When we heard that Sir George (Cartier) was defeated, I received a letter "from Lieut.-Governor Archibald which "I produce:

THURSDAY MORNING.
5th September, 1872.

MY DEAR ARCHBISHOP.—Now or never. Do not let the chance which will never recur be lost. Could you see me to-day.

Yours, very sincerely,
A. G. ARCHIBALD.

"On the same day I went to him, who "explained to me that it seemed to him "it would be highly advisable that Riel "(who was then a candidate for Provencher) should retire and allow Sir George "to be elected. * * * * saw "Riel. * * * He gave me in writing "his conditions of withdrawl in favor of "Sir George. I returned to Mr. Archibald and stated the conditions and my "self wrote at his desk a translation made "by himself and which he was to have tele-"graphed to Sir George. * * * * Mr. "Archibald, as he told me, telegraphed to "Sir John instead of Sir George, and on "on the 10th September, I received from "Mr. Archibald a letter, which I produce:

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
FORT GARRY, 9th September, 1872.

MY DEAR ARCHBISHOP.—I have this moment received your note of this morning. Mr. Menard is now engaged in posting the proclamations in Provencher's. They will be up in every public place in the county during the day. They should elect Sir George by acclamation without stipulation or conditions.

"The next day I think I wrote to the "Governor that if he wished a favorable "reply, he must try and take some steps "to ascertain whether Riel's conditions "had been accepted or not. On Thursday "morning, about the 12th September, I "received a note from the Lieut. Gov-"ernor, which I produce:"—

September 12th, 1872.

MY DEAR ARCHBISHOP.—I received last evening a telegram from Sir John to say that he had received my message and sent it to Sir George, and that he expected a reply to-day and would forward it to me at once. I see that he thinks the constituency ought to elect Sir George promptly and without stipulation. They could safely confide in premises which, being already made, can gain no strength by repetition. You shall have the answer of Sir George whenever it arrives.

Yours sincerely,
A. G. ARCHIBALD

"The same evening I received from "Mr. Archibald what he said was a copy "of a telegram from Sir John, as follows:

OTTAWA, 12th Sept., 1872.

TO GOVERNOR ARCHIBALD.—Sir George will do all he can to meet the wishes of the parties. His statement should be satisfactory.
JOHN A. MACDONALD.

MR. DISRAELI has issued a farewell address to his constituents, the electors of Buckinghamshire, by whom he has been returned to the House of Commons continuously since 1847. He says: "Throughout my public life I have arrived at two chief results. Not insensible to the principle of progress, I have endeavored to reconcile change with that respect for tradition which is one of the main elements of our social strength, and in internal affairs I have endeavored to develop and strengthen the Empire, believing that the combination of achievement and responsibility elevates the character and condition of the people."

The Toronto Telegram administers the following dignified rebuke: While Sir. John continues to educate the people of Ontario on matters of political morality, his special organ continues to dive into the depths of scurrility and abuse. During the past few days it has treated the Lieut. Governor, the Premier, and Minister Laird to a specimen of how coarse and how malicious it can be when it has a purpose to serve. The Lieut. Governor was accused of having violated the dignity of his office by writing letters to his old political friends in Glengarry during the late election there. The Mail professed to have "proofs" of the offence, and proceeded to indulge in its favorite pastime of mud-throwing. The Lieut-Governor promptly denied the charge, and the Mail has up to this time failed to produce its "proofs." Its charge against Minister Laird was that he was stirring up sectarian strife in the Province Edward Island elections, instead of attending to the duties of his office. The charge is disproven by the fact that, at the time stated, Mr. Laird was quietly engaged in departmental work at Ottawa. There is nothing new in the assault on the Premier. It is the old Lachine Canal scandal dragged out again, and made to do service in the absence of anything better. Thus the good work goes on, and the "Reaction" is aided and encouraged. No man, however honest, and whatever may be his position, is safe, provided a thrust can be made through him at the Government.

VAIN BOASTING.—We are no admirers of a policy of detraction that would take from any of our public men the meed of praise which is justly his due, nor can we share in the party rancor that would deny to Sir John A. Macdonald credit for furthering any good measure in the Legislature. But when we find him reduced to the humiliating necessity of being his own trumpeter—as at the Centre Welling ton picnic the other day—boasting that not one Act had been passed during the space of twenty years which he had not proposed or revised, and adding, "the proofs that the laws which governed the country were wise were to be found in the fact that no alteration had been made in the legislation," we think it is time to refer briefly to the record of his doings. It is unfortunate for Sir John that he should be troubled with such a treacherous memory. A cursory glance at the statutes shows that in 1874 alone over a score of Acts were passed to amend the carefully "revised" Acts of which Sir John claims the paternity during his tenure of office as Attorney-General or Minister of Justice. An examination of the statutes of 1875 and 1876 reveals an equally large number of Sir John's Acts revised and amended—their faulty construction rendering the changes imperative. In this connection it should not be forgotten that Sir John displayed his lack of courage in dealing with measures of vital importance, such as the Merchants' Shipping Bill and the Election Law, and it is notorious how abortive were his efforts to frame a Supreme Court Act. As we have said before, we have no desire to detract from Sir John's merits whatever they may be, but they must be based on more solid grounds than those given to the Tinkettle tea-party.—Stratford Beacon

LINDSAY.

TRUSTEES ARRESTED.—No little excitement was occasioned in town last Saturday by the action of the Chairman of the Board of Education in obtaining warrants for the arrest of Messrs. Leory and Fee, for wilfully absenting themselves from an urgent meeting of the Board and thereby preventing a quorum for the transaction of important business. Chief Constable Douglass had the papers and after a march up and down street found the two recalcitrant trustees sitting on a dry-goods box on Kent-st., discussing the situation with Mr. Rodden. They were taken into custody and held in proper recognizances to appear at five o'clock Saturday afternoon to answer the charge. The Police Court room at the hour stated was crowded to excess, and the street adjacent thronged by citizens anxious to learn the result of this prompt application of an unthought of provision in the school law. Mr. Martin acted as Counsel for the defendants, and Mr. Ketchum occupied a like position for the Board. The testimony of Messrs. Spicer, Secretary of the Board, and Mr. Gates, the Chairman, was taken on recalling the meeting; and after some preliminary cautioning the Court adjourned till Monday morning at ten o'clock. Post.

PRESENTATION.—Monday evening a number of the parishioners of St. Mary's church, Lindsay, repaired to the residence of the Rev. Father Stafford and presented him with a complimentary address and a purse containing over six hundred dollars and a ticket across the Atlantic, on the occasion of his departure on a visit to the "Old Country." The address was read by Mr. John Knowlson and the presentation by Mr. T. Keenan.

THE ADDRESS.

To the Reverend Michael Stafford:

REV. AND DEAR SIR.—On behalf of your parishioners we approach you on this the occasion of your contemplated voyage to Europe, undertaken with the hope of recruiting your failing health and beg you to accept this purse which as a sacred duty of gratitude your congregation has contributed for the purpose of aiding in defraying the expenses incident to such a journey.

Your devoted parishioners one and all have realized the fact that your arduous duties in connection with those works of magnitude which you have undertaken and completed since you came among us in the erection of churches, school houses, and our magnificent convent, as well as your unflagging exertions for our spiritual and temporal welfare are seriously telling on your health, and that a trip across the ocean with a few weeks rest in a more genial clime have become absolutely necessary to enable you to labour amongst us with your accustomed zeal for our good and the honour and glory of God.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to you in that while solicitous for our spiritual good you have ever been anxious to save our wants and requirements received paternally in the promotion of the education of our rising offspring—and we most heartily congratulate you and ourselves that your labours in the cause of temperance have been attended with great success and productive of so much peace, wealth and happiness to us all.

In conclusion we express our regret that any necessity should exist for your leaving us even for a short time, and trust that before many days shall have passed you will be restored to us with renewed health, and that the Almighty giver of every good gift will long spare you to continue your ministrations amongst us. We pray that God will bless you and grant you a prosperous voyage and a safe return;

(Signed) JOHN KNOWLSON,
T. KEENAN,
C. L. BAKER,
JOHN KENNEDY,
T. W. POOLE,
JOHN CONNELLY,

and a number of others on behalf of the whole congregation.

REPLY.

FATHER STAFFORD was unprepared for the occasion, and in the course of a few remarks, said:—I do not intend to make any formal reply to your kind address, but there is one part of it in which you speak of the works of magnitude which have been done by me in this parish. I have only done those things which I considered requisite for the well-being of my people, those things which were in fact forced upon me to do, for wherever there is a large, influential and intellectual body of Catholics education institutions of the first-class must spring up. I did what I could. I worked for your interests as I best knew how; another man might have done more. I did my best—and whilst some may think that all was not necessary to be done, and that we could have got along with less. I have always felt that you, my people, were with me in all my undertakings, and if I labored with you that you also have cheerfully the burdens imposed upon you. I have a few words to say of my intended visit which may be said outside of the purpose with which you come here. No matter what else I may accomplish, if God gives me strength it is my intention to go through the schools and colleges in England and Ireland to see if out of them we can get any person or any system which would help us in putting our boys' school in a better position than it is at present. I wish to see a school here in which the boys may get as good and as thorough an education as our girls are at present receiving in our convent from the ladies of Loretto. I hold now as I always held that boys should not be taken away from home influences; from the presence of the mother and sister at an early age to be sent to college. Eleven of our boys are going from home this year in this way and if I can do anything to remedy this and to provide for those boys at home the education which they are compelled to seek abroad I shall have done one good thing by my journey. Other objects I have in view for your benefit, which, if I succeed in accomplishing both you and I will have cause to rejoice. Your present is an exceedingly generous one. I know what you—what all my people have done in this matter. I thank all from the bottom of my heart. I ask to be remembered in your prayers whilst I am absent, and I will not—I cannot forget you. May God bless you.

DURING Monday nearly all the parishioners called upon Father Stafford to say good-bye and wish him a pleasant voyage and safe return, and early Tuesday morning a large number accompanied him to the Midland Railway Station. We understand that owing to the short time intervening a good many of the parishioners in the country who would most willingly have contributed to the presentation could not be seen. In fact contributions came in after the presentation had been made. Those who were not seen in connection with the presentation will therefore understand that want of time was the reason. As one of Father Stafford's parting words we may mention that last Sunday morning he briefly exhorted his congregation to see that the children were sent to school regularly, so that the reputation of Lindsay and Ops should be maintained. He also gave reasonable advice to the temperance society and urged its members to renewed efforts in the cause of temperance.

BOBCAYGEON.

BOBCAYGEON, Aug. 26.—The visit paid last week to this village by the civic authorities of Cobourg and Peterborough has been the cause of a revival if interest in the Cobourg and Peterborough railway, and again there has been much talk of the possibility of extending the line to this place.

Mr. David Hunter having resigned his seat in the Council, a new election to fill the vacancy will take place on Monday, the 18th September.

On requisition from the inhabitants of the inhabitants of the village, the Reeve has announced that Monday Sept. 11 will be held as a civic holiday. Capt. Bottom will run an excursion on that day to Oak Orchard, where there will be a regatta, Indian Races, and a general days fun.

Mr. Thomas Ellis, for many years a member of the municipal Council, who was attacked with paralysis, and partially lost the use of one side, is now recovering. and strong hopes are entertained of his permanent restoration.

Pigeons are plentiful all through the Harvey woods.

BOBCAYGEON, Aug 28.—Fire broke out this evening in a boot and shoe store, owned and occupied by Joseph Garden The flames quickly spread to the adjoining shop, also owned by Garden, and occupied by Charles Sauermann as a jewellery store. Garden saved nothing, losing his entire stock, as well as some money, not even saving his books The most of Sauermann's stock was saved. The fire originated from the bursting of a coal oil lamp. Mr. Garden was badly burnt. This is the second time within two years he has been burnt out. He is insured.

XANTIPPE.

It seems that the memory of this woman, like that of her renowned husband, is likely to be kept alive to the end of time. She is said to have possessed a very irritable temper, and her name has become a synonym of "vixen," or "scold." It is more than possible, however, that the judgment passed upon her by mankind has been too severe. A more charitable disposition would undoubtedly have discovered in her, many good qualities, and have attributed her failings more to physical infirmities than to moral obliquity. The party most intimately acquainted with her, and therefore best able to form a correct opinion, gives her credit for many domestic virtues. It is now well known that many of the diseases to which women are subject, have a direct tendency to render them irritable, peevish-crore, morose, unreasonable, so that they chafe and fret over all those little ills and annoyances that a person in health would bear with composure. It is fair to infer that most of the tantrums of Xantippe were due to these causes alone: and could Socrates, as he returned from the Senate, the Gymnasium, or the Athenæum, have stopped at Postle & Mortar's Drug Store and carried home a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, now and then, no doubt he might have evaded many a 'curtain lecture,' allayed many a 'domestic broil,' made it much pleasanter for the children, and more enjoyable for himself, and rescued his life's name from the unenviable, world-wide, and eternal notoriety it has attained. Thousands of women bless the day on which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was first made known to them. A single bottle often gives delicate and suffering women more relief than months of treatment from their family physician. In all those derangements causing headache, dragging-down sensations, nervous and general debility it is a sovereign remedy. Its soothing and healing properties render it of the utmost value to ladies suffering from internal fever, congestion, inflammation, or ulceration, and its strengthening effects tend to correct displacements of internal parts, the result of weakness of nature supports. It is sold by all druggists.

WATER WORKS.

To the Editor of the Review.

First I would have the fire cherish truth,
As heaven's own star to virtue's youth;
Next, ever fair, and fearless be,
Dislike all base heaven's primest duties.

SIR,—While I feel it my duty to correct the misstatements made in your notice of the meeting convened to receive the report of the committee appointed to ascertain the cost of Water Works, from the "Dickson and Hilliard dams respectively." I do not purpose entering into a newspaper controversy on the subject.

Notwithstanding the charges so wantonly preferred, as to my motives in the position taken by me at that meeting, I may say that I, together with others interested, feel very indifferent as to the location of the contemplated works, farther than our desire to have them constructed in the most efficient and economical manner, so as to keep down the rate of taxation which in all conscience is increasing with sufficent rapidity.

But, Sir, my present intention is not to discuss the question of Water Works, nor the respective advantages of the different sites, which no doubt will be done more fully when the subject is again mooted, but to show that you have given a grossly incorrect representation of what transpired, and to prove that your allegations are "wholly untrue."

It is not true that Mr. Dumble and I united in "rejecting" the report of the committee.

It is not true that I complained that the Dickson property had not been chosen as the site for the works.

It is not true that I stated there [illegible] no opposition that night had I been treated with about the water.

It is not true that I am opposed to Water Works unless I can make money out of them.

Nor is it true that I gave the lie to the Chairman because his decision was not in accordance with my personal interest.

Your statement that Mr. D. and I united in "rejecting" the report is "proved" to be "false" by the report of the meeting furnished in your own columns, showing that Mr. Dumble moved in amendment—"That the report of the Committee be received."

This amendment I seconded, assigning as my reasons for refusing to "adopt" the report that the committee had not given sufficient information to warrant the ratepayers in committing themselves to "any scheme," and that while they had furnished such meagre information on the question entrusted to them, they had shown an undue desire to commit the town to a scheme concocted and proposed by themselves, gratuitously,—recommending the location of the Works where they in their wisdom pronounced "the most convenient and desirable."

The Committee entirely overstepped the powers relegated to them in "recommending any place" for the erection of the Works, and they willfully set aside that part of their instructions requiring them to ascertain what terms could be obtained from the owners of the dams in question, Mr. Lundy stating that they had decided on Mr. Hilliard's as the proper place, and therefore did not consider it necessary to make any further inquiry.

While urging the above reasons for refusing to "adopt" the report, I at the same time advocated that the report be received, and the question left open for more mature consideration, taking the position adopted by one of the most influential members of the Committee, Mr. Jas. Hall, M. P., who is perhaps as well qualified to give an opinion as any other Gentleman on the Committee, and who expressed himself very decidedly against adopting the report until further information could be obtained.

A still further discrepancy between Mr. Hall's views and the rest of the Committee appears from the fact that he stated the estimate was made for a nine inch main, while the report gives us a ten inch

In the discussion of the amendment to the Mayor's resolution"—in urging that no particular report should be procured—I stated that if the Committee had honestly carried out their instructions, and had not voluntarily stepped out of their way to influence the question, and to foist upon the meeting their own private views, there would not in all probability have been the same amount of opposition offered; and warned them that if a like course were followed by the Council it would not promote the object they desired to accomplish. That while I was indifferent as to where the Works were placed I would insist upon everything being done above board; and upon a proper estimate of what the Works would cost from the two places respectively being obtained, so that the ratepayers who are to be saddled with the immense outlay involved may be in a position to form an intelligent judgment when called upon to decide in the matter. This is all I urged, and this I only considered fair.

When "the Mayor's Resolution"—for it was his—prepared by him and only moved and seconded by Messrs. Hamilton and Lundy, at his suggestion—was rejected by a decided majority—in his disappointment and chagrin, he so far forgot his position, as to attempt by one of his akiful "dodges" long practiced upon the Council, to set aside the deliberate decision of the meeting and to have the question again submitted. To this unfair and partizan conduct I objected, and when he had the effrontery to state what few in the meeting believed, that if the vote had been reversed he would have taken a similar course! instead of "giving him the lie" as charged by you, with my usual temerity, I frankly expressed what I have no doubt was the conviction of a large majority of those present, when I said "I do not believe it."

I readily understand the disappointment and annoyance experienced by His Worship on finding his pet scheme so unceremoniously set aside for the present. Had he succeeded in badgering the town into his well concocted scheme, the expenditure of another $30,000 of their money would have made his seat in the civic chair amply secure for another year. Verily—"The best laid schemes o' mice and men gang aft agee."

To the charge of mercenary motives, I have only to say that the offer made on a former occasion to the town by the representatives of the Dickson Estate is a sufficient answer. You are the only man in Peterborough of sufficient perspicacity to detect such a motive, and certainly the only one capable of making such a charge. But we know you, Sir, to be a man of nice distinctions, and largely possessed of the gift of "fore-knowledge"—for did you not predict, "after the meeting was over", that it would "end in nothing being done." Wondrous foresight! Marvellous prescience!! A perfect Prodigy and no mistake. "It is not therefore to be wondered at that you so readily discovered the mercenary motives dictating my course on that occasion. Well may it be said—

"None but thyself can be thy parallel"

I have now done with all the charges prefered—excepting one.—That of being an "obstructionist," and to this I plead guilty, but in the following sense.

The man who buttons his pocket to prevent the footpad from abstracting his purse, will no doubt be denounced by him as an obstructionist.

And he who bolts his door and stands upon his guard to prevent the burglar from dispoiling his house will unquestionably be called an obstructionist. And just in like manner, I with others who desire to protect our property against foolish and extravagant expenditure, expect to be so branded by the whole herd of reckless and designing speculators.

Yours, etc.,
T. G. HAZLITT.

WATER-WORKS.

MR. EDITOR,—There must be some persons in this town whoare over anxious to get water-works. Will you please tell us if the people don't want them will they still be built.

The people voted down the By-law for the Smith Street Bridge, but somebody built it nevertheless. Please tell me who is running this town, the people or a ring? We always had the idea that if the people voted down a money By-law the expenditure would not be made, but Mayor Toole and his ring construe the Municipal Law differently, and he says "that the proper "way is to let the contract and get the "Mayor's signature and the Corporate "Seal on before the vote comes off, and "if the people vote down the By-law, all "right, go ahead and spend $8,000 of the "peoples money on a crooked, narrow, "useless, half finished bridge."

"Please Sir, is this the ring that wan't to start the water-works?

Me and a lot more of us who pay our taxes is waiting for a reply.

Mayor Toole says that the pick and shovel is going to run this town, but Sir, me and my mates is pick and shovel men, as pays their honest taxes, and don't sneak out of them by tricks like some of them enlightened ones, who wonder at any body in this age of the world questioning water-works, my eye!

Give us a chance at pickings and we will vote for water-works too, but we won't go with that ring, for there wouldn't be enough for the wolves.

Personal.—Mr. W. H. Lithgow, on leaving Peterboro' for San Francisco, last week was entertained to a supper at Faucher's Hotel, as a mark of respect in which he was held by his many friends and well wishers.

Awaiting an Answer.—No other explanation is needed. Those who cannot understand what we said before must rest satisfied in themselves, and this will please them better than anything in the matter-world.

Valuable Property for Sale.—On Wednesday next the valuable property belonging to the estate of the late firm of Nicholls & Hall will be offered for sale at the new buildings, next to Hall, Innis & Co's Store, Simcoe Street, at 10 a.m.

Montreal House.—Messrs. Lasher & Lowry have secured the services of Mr. J. O. Madison, as Cutter. He comes here well recommended as being a First-class Cutter, and no doubt will receive a good patronage. Look for their advertisement next week.

Harvest.—The settlement of the harvest in this part is being dispatched very fast.—The reports are not so flattering as were anticipated earlier in the season. The grain crops are injured from various causes, but we sincerely hope not so much as to be seriously felt.

Personal.—Edg. Fearne, Esq., County Clerk and Treasurer, has returned from the Centennial well pleased with what he saw and having profited some by what he heard. We hope the trip will be a cause of pleasant reprospect to him till another one comes round.

Tents.—Mr. J. Z. Rogers has a splendid assortment of Water Proof Tents. Parties who intend taking a trip up the lakes will find it to their advantage to call on Mr. Rogers before purchasing elsewhere, as he has some splendid tents which he intends disposing of cheap.

Religious Calendar for September.—Sunday 3rd, Twelfth Sunday after Trinity: Sunday 10th, Thirteenth Sunday after Trinity: Sunday 17th, Fourteenth Sunday after Trinity: Thursday 21st, St. Matthew; Sunday 24th, Fifteenth Sunday after Trinity; Thursday 29th, Michael and All Angels.

Sad Bereavement.—Mr. Robt. Wainright, Butcher, has had severe family bereavements during the week, having lost his two daughters, aged respectively 13 and 14, by diphtheria, one of them dying suddenly on Friday and the other on Monday. The parents have our sincere sympathies in their sad affliction.

Gravelled Roads.—The Town Council have gravelled the road to the Little Lake Cemetery. They intend to make the way to the grave easy and pleasant. It is well that they think of this bestmen. Some Councillors endeavor to get all they can at their own doors. Perhaps they hope soon to be at peace with the world.

The Tiger.—This new pleasure Steamer is now running on Clear Lake and Stony Lake waters. She is small but a fast sailer, and is likely to do a good business. They are providing a scow for pleasure parties and towing.—Messrs. Nesbitt & Boswell will not be wanting in their efforts to accommodate and please the public.

Steamer Chippewa.—The "Chippewa" had to return to Mt. Julien after 9 o'clock, p.m., on Thursday last. She had just returned from an excursion but had to leave immediately to accommodate some excursionists from Toronto who hold them to their advertised hours of passage leaving Toronto and reaching Mt. Julien the same day.

The P. O.—The Stratford Post Office remains open till 7 p.m. in the evening, instead of 6 p.m., as heretofore. This change will be accepted with gratitude by mechanics and others whose avocations prevent them from attending earlier in the day. When will Peterboro' do likewise. They could take time hereafter in the morning instead thereof.

Farm for Sale.—Mr. Adam King, of Douro, offers his farm for sale by auction, this week. It is just four miles from town, and contains 200 acres; is well improved, and would be a good investment for an enterprising farmer. Any information about said lands can be obtained from Haggart & Brother, Commission Merchants and Auctioneers.

Look Ahead.—Those merchants who think it doesn't pay to advertise their business in dull times and between the seasons overlook the fact that those who, for example, at the present time have in mind certain purchases they intend to make next month, are quietly on the look out for the best place to trade. They unconsciously turn to the advertising columns of the paper.

Pic-Nic.—It is said that the enterprising firm of Messrs. Mowry & Forsyth, Ashburnham, intend giving their employees a Pic-Nic on the "Golden-Eye." This is very commendable on their part as a day spent in this way is far from being lost eventually since it tends to strengthen the bond between both parties. We hope that other firms will follow the good example of the Ashburnham one.

A Noble Example.—The Peterborough correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent says: "Two young ladies set a noble example the other day by wearing the ordinary bread brimmed 25 cent straw hat with a plain band." Ah! what heart-aches, what days of cheerless toil, and sleepless nights would be saved the brand-winner of the present day if the girls of our country would simply and economy in the matter of dress.

Civic Holiday.—Lakefield had a Civic Holiday on Thursday last. It is fast aspiring to the ways of Towns and Cities—pardon, Sir!—for the most of their evil ways too. We don't envy it, however; when it grows to be a City Peterboro will have got up there and all will be one place of which Lakefield will be a Ward or Suburb. Both may await this much wished for good time. They will meet yet and enjoy a holiday as one people.

The Union School.—The teachers are now fully organized and at work. It is hoped they will in future find time to work in the interest of the scholars and have less time for personal bickerings and contentions after honor and self aggrandizements. If they work more zealously in the interest of their pupils they will have less time to quarrel and bring the Institution into disgrace. Will the Board and all concerned take a note of this?

Runaway.—On Tuesday morning as the horse and waggon of Messrs. Foy & Starr were standing opposite Mr. Garvey's Store, the horse took fright and ran violently up George Street, and turning the corner at Hunter Street left waggon and all its contents in front of Roddy's Hotel. Fortunately no harm was done beyond the upsetting and breaking of the waggon and some of its contents. Would it not be well for parties to see that their horses are tied while standing on the streets.

Masonic Picnic.—The Masons of Peterboro intend holding their Annual Picnic at Gore's Landing, Rice Lake, on Thursday, Sept., 7th, the Golden-Eye having been engaged for the occasion. The Masons of Lindsay, Cobourg Port Hope, Norwood, Hastings, Lakefield and Campbellford have been invited to take part in the gathering. Boat leaves the Peterborough wharf at 8 a.m., sharp. Tickets 50cts. Arrangements have been made for dinners at Harris's Hotel, Gore's Landing, for 25cts.

New Tailoring Establishment.—We would call the attention of our readers to this new Department which Hall, Innis & Co. have added to their business. They have engaged a First-class Cutter and are now prepared to make clothing to order equal to any City in the Dominion. Their stock of Tweeds, in Scotch English and Canadian, are large and choice. Coatings, Vestings, &c., in great variety. We would recommend all in want of a First-class article to give them a call.

What a Shame.—The big town of Peterboro' has had to apply to the little Village of Ashburnham to furnish what the big town could not or dare not do. After all it is better to comply with the terms of the Village than have their unsightly folly remain a monument of their childishness. Ashburnham will build two more bridges for the town if she furnishe the money—one at the Point and one at Dickson's Dam. Money's no object, when bridges are wanted! The paying of taxes is nothing these prosperous times.

Too Inquisitive.—If some men were fully aware of the amount of positive falsehood they promote by over inquisitiveness into other people's private affairs with which they have no business whatever, they would perhaps restrain their curiosity a little. If any person is so mean as to ask a question that should not be answered, need he wonder that another may be mean enough to tell a lie to keep him in ignorance.—Yet nothing is more common then than there is too much inquisitive searching into other men's matters by persons who dare not for shame tell one half their own secrets.

Welcome.—Doubtless amongst the most welcome visitors that have visited our town for some time past was the copious shower of rain on Friday last. For some time previous great inconvenience was experienced by the citizens from the great quantities of dust carried about by the least breeze of wind. But this state of things was speedily remedied by the gushing torrents of rain giving the streets of the town rather the appearance of a rushing rapid river than of dusty thoroughfares. So great was the shower that in a few minutes a large box on George Street was carried a considerable distance down the stream.

Police Court.—On Monday 28th Ben. Reynolds' case for selling liquor on Sunday 13th, was again brought up. B. Reynolds sworn, said: Did not sell any liquor on this Sunday; I do not attend to the selling of refreshments in my house; my wife generally attends to it when she is well enough; my son about 9 years of age also attends to it; there is nothing in the bottles only coloured water; there is a beer pump, bar and bottles the same as usual, but no liquor in them; there was none given away. The Police Magistrate said that having the necessary applicances for the sale of liquor was enough to warrant the inspector bringing him up, and on account of this he would allow defendant no costs. The case was dismissed. Inspector paying $3.60 costs.

Streets and Bridges.—The $6,000 appropriated by the Council for the Street and Bridge Committee is exhausted, and the poor fellows are calculating how much they can exceed the estimates with impunity. They have a Committee walking about looking for some new world to conquer. Their Engineer was surveying the Conger Hill. We understand they have given Mrs. Riordan notice to quit as the hill is wanted to fill up some holes in front the doors of several voters. Tis a pity there is not a granite hill somewhere in the town. It might engage their attention for a few seasons, as their aim is evidently to keep the Devil at bay by constant employment rather than by enjoying the pleasure of idleness and economy for a season.

Excursion to Niagara Falls.—An Excursion to this celebrated resort will take place on Thursday, Sept. 14th. Tickets are to be issued from the different places along the M. R. R., and will be limited to 500 so as to prevent overcrowding. The moderate price of $2.75 for the round trip will be charged, and a small additional charge from the Village of Niagara to the Falls. The excursionists will leave here at 6 a.m., and embark on the Steamer Norseman at 7 a.m., reaching the Falls at 1 p.m., leaving in time to allow a good look at the many wonders of this world-famous spot without keeping them too long from their avocations. A Brass Band will go in attendance. Further particulars by reference to our advertising columns.

Law.—Mr. R. E. Wood, recently of Mr. W. M. Scott's Office, has successfully passed his examination at Osgoode Hall, and has been admitted as an Attorney and called to the bar. Mr. Wood has a host of friends here who congratulate him.....Mr. Frank Keenin has passed his second Intermediate Examination.....Mr. G. W. Hatton has passed his first Intermediate Examination. We congratulate the young gentlemen.....Mr. Alexander Haggart, recently of Mr Edmison's Office in this town, and so well and favorably known in Peterboro,' having been admitted to practice, and called to the bar, has entered into partnership with Mr. G. H. Watson one of the most promising and successful young lawyers in Toronto. The firm is Watson Haggart. Mr. Haggart's ability, industry and good principles will ensure him success.

Rev. Mr. Torrance.—We had the pleasure of attending St. Paul's Church on Sabbath evening, and listening to an excellent sermon preached by Rev. Mr. Torrance, Rector of the Church. The attendance was fair for an evening service; the attention was marked, and the singing of the choir was particularly fine. The Rev. Gentleman took for his text the beautiful passage recorded in the last chapter of the book of Revelation. "And the Spirit and the Bride say come; and let him that heareth say come: and let him that is athirst come." Those words will live long under the system of Mr. Torrance. The sermon was earnest, profitable and telling. We congratulate the congregation upon the possession of such a Rector, and wish him success in the sacred one whose laborers have been long and honored among them, and who has now retired from the active duties of the ministry.

Town Clock.—It may be interesting to our readers to have the mystery solved why the Town Clock does not indicate fast time on the east side. Our superintendent is very much exercised and puzzled over this, and surely the problem must be a difficult one that flounders such acute powerful minds. But to ordinary minds the simple reason is this—the hands of the clock as at first being considered too small to be clearly seen all over the town, were enlarged together with the dial, and the result of this is that now the power of the clock is not sufficiently strong to overcome the greater resistance of the wind and keep it running. Would it not be well if the proper authorities would see to this and have it remedied as at present no blame can be attributed to any person but the Town Council. Perhaps the building may be some way connected with the office of our contemporary where everything runs wild for the want of sufficient brain power to manage it.

Engineering.—The Corporations of Douro and Ashburnham so highly appreciated the benefits of the Smith Street Bridge which cost this town so much that they won't spend a cent in making the approach to it on the Ashburnham side. The Municipal law provides that Peterboro' may assist Ashburnham to do the work, but won't allow the expenditure of town money outside the corporation. See how nicely this difficulty is gotten over. Ashburnham had previously voted $200 to the work, to be paid to Ashburnham ratepayers when the work was complete. Now Ashburnham offers to do all the work, giving $50 towards it, and Peterboro' agrees to accept her by paying all the rest. This is getting over the law with a vengeance, but it is rather thin. The people have wrong childish

Life and Death.

At morning I went on the mountain's brow,
In its May-wreath crowned, and there
Saw day-rise in gold and in purple glow.
And I cried—"O Life, how fair!"

As the birds in their bowers their lay began,
When the dawning chased the night,
So wakened for song in the breast of man
A passion heroic and high.

My spirit then felt a longing to soar
From home afar in its flight,
To roam, like the sun, till from shore to shore,
A creator of flowers and light.

At even I stood on the mountain's brow,
And rapt in devotion and prayer,
Saw night dim in silver and purple glow,
And I cried—"O Death, how fair!"

And when the soft evening wind, so meek,
With its balmy breathing came,
It seemed as though Nature then kissed my cheek,
And tenderly signed my name!

I saw the vast Heaven encompassing all,
Like children the stars to her came;
The exploits of man then seemed to me small—
Nought save the Infinite's name.

Ah! how unheeded, all charms which impest
The joys and the hopes that then prize,
While the eternal thoughts in the poet's breast,
Like stars in the heavens, arise!

USEFUL RECIPES.

To Clean Painted Walls.—Use strong ox-gall fluid.

Cleaning Boots.—Oil the sole of the boot under the arch of the foot.

Mice and Rats.—Red pepper inserted in their holes and runs will drive them for ever away.

Starching Black Calicoes.—We find nothing so good as rinsing the starch quite deeply.

To Cure Scratches in Horses.—Wash the heel clean with warm water and supply castor oil. I never knew this remedy to fail.

Blacking Stoves.—Persons desiring to make blackening stick to the stove, will find that by a little sugar with it, it will do so.

Treatment for the Hands.—Rub the palms of of the hands thoroughly with cologne just before putting on kid gloves, it keeps them from perspiring.

Using Ashes.—If ashes are sifted they will make nice hard walks for a kitchen. The fine siftings, if used in the barnyard, are excellent for the chickens to scratch in.

Cider Cake.—Two cups of sugar, one cup of butter, five eggs, one and a half cups of cider, with one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in it; spices or nutmeg to taste; four and a half cups of flour, two cups of fruit.

Soft Soap.—With a box of powder called kalye—to be had at the grocer's or druggist's—about fifteen gallons of excellent soft soap may be made, with very little trouble. Full directions for making it are on the box.

Batter Pudding.—Put on the stove one quart of milk to heat. Then make a thick batter with half a pint of milk and buckwheat flour. When at the boiling point pour the batter gradually into the milk, mixing thoroughly and a little salt. Serve with sugar and cream.

How to Fake Graham Bread.—Make the sponge as for other bread, and with white flour. And when ready mix with Graham flour. The dough should not be very stiff. Work it well; let it raise well and then bake. Do not put in any sugar; it injures the taste of the bread.

Stuffed Tomatoes.—Get them as large and firm as possibly; cut a round place in the top of each and scoop out all the soft parts; mix with stale bread-crumb some onions, parsley, butter, pepper and salt; chop very fine and fill the tomatoes carefully; bake in a moderately hot oven; put a little butter in the pan, and see that they do not burn.

About Boiling Eggs.—There is an objection to the common way of boiling eggs which people do not understand. It is thus: The white under three minutes' rapid cooking becomes tough and indigestible, while the yolk is left soft. When properly cooked, eggs are done evenly through like any other food. This result may be obtained by putting the eggs into a dish with a cover, as a tin pail, and then pouring upon them boiling water, two quarts or more to a dozen eggs, and cover and set them away from the stove for fifteen minutes. The heat of the water cooks the eggs slowly and evenly and sufficiently, and to a jelly-like consistency, leaving the centre or yolk harder than the white, and the egg tastes as much richer and nicer as a fresh egg is nicer than a stale egg, and no person will want to eat them boiled after trying this method once.—Boston Transcript.

FARM HINTS.

Orchard Grass.—Writing of orchard makes me think of a rent entry in my memorandum book, "Orchard grass in full blossom June 5th." I have no record of other years, but think it is several days late this year. It usually blossoms just in advance of or nearly simultaneously with red clover. I like it better and better every year for home consumption. It is not so good to sell, and every farmer should have a field or two of orchard grass and clover to begin haying with). It enables him to begin two weeks earlier than if he waited for timothy to be fit to cut, when clover and timothy are sown together. The hay made thus early, is green and beautiful, fragrant and cures easily, for the grass is stiff enough to keep the mass, even when in cocks, light and open, so that there is little danger of heating as when there is much fine grass such as red top, etc.

Weeds in pastures, fence corners, road-sides, corn or potato fields, should be collected and burned if in blossom or seed. No other manner of disposing of them is safe, but this ends them. Remember that oats or barley from scattered seed in the newly sown wheat are weeds as much as any other plant, and should not be permitted there. Where rag-weed has been allowed to cover the stable, it will pay to mow and rake it off, rather than plow down the ripened seed and stock the ground.

Horses.—A perfectly clean cool stable, is preferable to a bed in a bare pasture field, for a hard-worked team. If however, there is a good piece of pasture handy and the stable is neither clean nor cool, the pasture is to be preferred. But horses need their usual feed before being turned out. They cannot live and work without sleep, nor sleep if they must pick a bellyful from the fence corners at night. Horses' feet and legs should be washed every night.

Cows.—The yield of milk will fall off now without some fresh succulent feed. The suckers from the corn-field; leaves from mangels, cuts, headed cabbages, or best of all, stable especially provided corn-fodder, or oats and peas mixed, will be useful to keep up the supply of milk. Next month's butter is only second in quality to June butter, and to keep up the supply of milk is important, and easier to do than to restore it after it has fallen off.—American Agriculturist.

One of the Testimonials!

From Dr Duncan McCallum, Montreal—

"The undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joints, contracted as that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but above applications of Dr. Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured.

I owe this testimonial to the public to the profession and to the merits of this valuable remedy.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no [illegible] will [illegible] one is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault of neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cases are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by powerfully, though [illegible] on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate into healthy action the vital functions of the body, removing the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice, or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fever, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Paralysis of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy, Erysipelas, Scrofula, or Blood Poisons, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two daily to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

As occasional doses stimulate the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

The superiority of these Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market. Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

XXXVI. UP IN THE MORNING EARLY. BY JOHN HAMILTON.

Could blaws the wind frae nae ith to south,
The drift is driftin sairly;
The sheep are rowting in the heuch,
O ohrs, it's winter fairly.
Rise up in the morning's no for me.
Up in the morning early,
I'd rather gae supperless to my bed
Than rise in the morning early.

Loud roars the blast amang the woods,
And tirls the branches barely;
On hill and haugh hear how it thuds!
The frost is nipping sairly.
Now up in the morning's no for me,
Up in the morning early;
To sit a nacht wad better agree
Than rise in the morning early.

The sun peeps owre yon southland hills
Like ony timorous carlin;
Just blinks a wee; then blinks again,
And that we find severely.
Now up in the morning's no for me,
Up in the morning early;
When maw blaws in at the chimley cheek,
Wha'd rise in the morning early?

Nae hiniker hill on hedge or bush,
Poor things, they suffer sairly;
Baith cot and maun a' the plisks,
A' day they feed but sparely.
Now up in the morning's no for me,
Up in the morning early;
A pennyless purse I wad rather dree
Than rise in the morning early.

A canie house and cantie wife
Are keep a body cheerly;
And pantries stowed wi' meat and drink.
They saften unco rarely.
But up in the morning—na, na, na!
Up in the morning early;
The gowans maun glent on bank and brae
When I rise in the morning early.

DISTRICT NEWS.

LAKEFIELD.

OUR Cricketers have had a busy time this week. On Tuesday their plucky brethren of Apsley tried their mettle but through various causes operating against them the Lakefield willow proved altogether too strong for them and they were badly beaten; as a consequence Lakefield stock stood high in the market and bright anticipations of the morrow were freely indulged in by our players. Alas, how quickly were these brilliant prospects to be dispelled, and they in turn compelled to acknowledge defeat at the hands of the Peterborough gentlemen of Wednesday who proved the victors and had ten wickets to spare. When taking into consideration the manner in which the match was conducted yesterday and the feeling of dissatisfaction which prevailed among our own players at the conduct of certain local gentlemen, no other result was expected by us. As a sequence to yesterday's match, we have been informed that several of our best players have decided to leave the club until it is brought under a different management when they will once more be prepared to handle the willow and defend the honor of Lakefield again.

One day last week a little daughter of Mr. Blomfield's was badly poisoned with poison ivy, the result of an experiment. The little girl had heard some person say that all parties were not liable to injury by coming in contact with the ivy, and, in order to satisfy herself on this point while at the "Mx. Julien" the other day, she went into the woods, collected a quantity of the leaves of the vine, mashed them up fine and rubbed them over her face. She is perfectly satisfied now that she at least is not one of the favored few who are exempt from the ivy's poisonous influence, as she has received such a bad dose that it is only by using her hands to raise the eyelids that she can possibly see. Dr. Bell is attending her.

In consequence of the continued dry spell and the carelessness of certain parties in putting out fires within the time prescribed by law, a large amount of timber, and, in some instances: hay, has been destroyed in this vicinity by conflagrations in the woods to the north of us.

Mr. JAS CHARLETON of this village, recently had a fine calf poisoned by eating some potato stalks which had received a dose of Paris Green about three weeks ago.—News.

KINMOUNT.

A Kinmount correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent relates the following: Some time since Mr. Bates, the father of our resident medical practitioner, fell into ill health, and consulted some of the leading medical men of the Province. They treated him for a complaint of the liver. In the hope that the change might prove beneficial Mr. Bates removed to Bobcaygeon for a brief period, and was then induced to visit Kinmount, where he arrived in a very reduced and infirm condition. Dr. Bates arrived at the conclusion that the seat of Mr. Bates' complaint was the lungs, not the liver, and treated him accordingly. This treatment, combined with the pure and healthy atmosphere, brought about a very singular result, for during a fit of coughing Mr. Bates felt something become loose and shortly after he coughed up a large beech nut. It appears that about a year since Mr. Bates accidentally swallowed the nut, which must have lodged in the œsophagus and gradually worked for itself a retreat in those bronchial cavities which perform the work of oxygenating the blood as it flows from the auricles and ventricles of the heart The nut was still perfectly sound and was only slightly discoloured. Since the occurrence of this event Mr. Bates has made rapid progress towards recovery.

PORT HOPE.

POISON IVY.—Pic-nic parties, and others, going to Rice Lake for pleasure, should be very careful of the poison ivy which grows in abundance on some of the islands. Very few know the weed when they see it, and consequently may get severely burned every season by the poison. The best way to do is to select a camping ground where nothing can be seen but the ordinary grass. Avoid sitting or lying down on any spot, no matter how cool, shady, or inviting it may be, where there are any weeds growing among the grass, unless you are convinced that you know the nature of the weed.—The ivy has a leaf similar to the Virginia Creeper. but the vine seldom grows more than six or seven inches high Its poison is very injurious, generally, although some people are not affected by it Out of the pic-nic party last week, six were injured more or less, and Mr Wm. Coulrane very severely. Parties at Rice Lake, owning boats, or keeping hotels, should warn excursionists of the spots where the ivy exists, but such is seldom done.—Times.

It is no wonder that those parties from Port Hope got so badly poisoned, when they gathered the ivy and made wreaths for their hats with it But in case any of our friends go pic-nicking to the lake, if they will bring a small piece of green copperas with them, and they should happen to get poisoned wet the opposite and rub on the spot it will cure it instantly —ED. EX.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION GROUNDS.—The Executive Committee of the Central Exhibition paid a visit to the grounds on Thursday last, to see how the work was progressing. The grounds are beginning to assume a good condition. An excellent horse ring has been laid out and levelled, and the stables, both single and double, are nearly completed. Considerable grubbing has to be done yet, but that will not take a great deal of time. The preparations point to a successful exhibition, and the commissioners are using their best endeavors that nothing for the convenience of exhibitors shall be lacking

It was necessary Sunday to have one of the engines on Cavan street to guard against danger from the fire in the swamp back of Bedford street.—Times.

HARVEY.

Scott's Mill takes its name from the late Mr. Scott of Peterborough, and is well known throughout a large part of the country for the beauty of its scenery, rivers, lakes and extensive rocks, also for its vast gardens of huckleberries, but the mills are the centre of attraction; gain on at their operations, and go north from ten to twenty miles where the timber is cut in winter—and here we are informed there is good timber limits which will last for twelve or fourteen years—and as it only takes from three to four weeks in driving the logs to the mills you can easily perceive that a vast amount of expense is thus saved when compared with other firms which require two years, and that these mills are in a prosperous condition; everything is complete and in good working order, under the management of Mr. McMartin (cereal canny Scot) who knows how to manage his own business and sticks to it tenaciously, this setting a good example to the men who all seem to take the hint. Here about ninety thousand feet is sawed every day by five gates or five gangs of saws. The lumber is piled on both sides of a track about one mile long, in twelve or fourteen feet blocks, thus making a solid line of two miles of sawn boards, and looks more like a wood yard for the whole continent of North America than anything else. Nine barges are employed in carrying away the terminus of the Port Perry Railway—three of these to be taking in cargo, three to be towed along the lakes and three to be unloading, thus the work is carried on unremittingly for about five months during the summer.

A GLANCE AT THE BOARDING HOUSE.

The boarding house has no special attraction outside and is just a large square unshapely mass, but you would be surprised with the order inside, and the business like way in which Mrs. McMartin conducts everything, assisted by six strong healthy looking females who seem to be able to act their own part; everything goes smoothly, no dis-satisfaction so far as we have been able to ascertain, and, best of all, a good table is always kept.

There are about thirteen or fourteen houses giving the place the appearance of a village. Mr. Farell, foreman in the mill, occupies the Mansion house, and considering the mixed multitude who are employed around here, the morals are very good, only one outbreak having occurred here in a long time and that by the ladies, who have became rather prominent for hand lifting back this way of late. Here also school and religious services are held every Sabbath.—News.

FENELON FALLS.

SLUGGISH.—In the Island of Ivica affection is displayed by firing charges of gunpowder at the legs of the beloved object; in the township of Somerville, they adopt the same singular means of evidencing a direction opposite sentiment; but as hatred is generally much more ardent than love, simple gunpowder is not strong enough to express it, and something more potent is consequently mixed therewith Somebody in that township hates Mr. Robert Ellis, blacksmith, of Bury's Green, and therefore fired at his legs as he stood in his own door-way on a recent evening. PETERBOROUGH, SEPT., 7, 1876.

FOR WHOM IS SIR JOHN BIDDING?

In his Halton speech Sir John publicly and emphatically announced, that the principles of the Liberal Conservative Party were elastic—very elastic. We seriously needed this utterance from the leader of the party, to apprise us of the fact that any one who has watched the course of political events, or paid any attention to the doings of that party during the last fifteen years, is long since aware of the looseness of the ties which bind it together, as well as the make-shift and hold-office policy with which it is attempted to rule and govern. We would not at this time have referred to this declaration were it not for another utterance to which we have adverted in another column. He tells us that with the exception of Messrs. Mackenzie, Blake and Cartwright—who are able men, the ministers are a set of ninnies, and yet he announces himself in favor of coalition, and is ready to receive with open arms returning prodigals or new disciples no matter of what previous faith. Surely he wants no fools or ninnies in his camp. Whom then does he want to coalesce with? Evidently Sir John A. wishes not "to waste his powder and shot on small game," but Sir Hugh like, strikes at the head, and yet have not these able men been tried and found true?—Have not blandishments—stronger even than calling them able men—been heaped upon them, and the sweets of office been dangled before them; still they flinched not. What does Sir John mean? Has he an idea of securing these three able men as followers? Not he, and his sneer at the other members of the ministry is from the teeth out. He is well aware that Mr. Smith and Mr. Laird have both been premiers in their respective provinces, while Messrs. Vail, Burpee, and in fact nearly all the others have been Crown ministers in their own provinces. It is just possible that John A., beginning to learn through these picnics something of the weakness and inability of his Ontario following, flings out the flag to even "ninnies," satisfied that anything will be an improvement on his present surroundings. Well on this he has a right to know, and on this we respect his judgement.

POKING FUN.

Is is possible that the President of the L. C. A. of the County of Halton was poking fun at the Chieftain and party in the address read at the Halton picnic? Truly such a thing would be monstrously wicked. Why even the thought is almost treason! and yet when we think of Sir John in the midst of such a galaxy of notables—James Beaty, Jr. Q. C., North York Boultbee, Gibbs the lesser—and hear the aforementioned President declare —"you have displayed wisdom in selecting for your associates, men of ability,' we cannot butsuppress a grim smile; nor the feeling that the President of the Liberal Conservative Association of the County of Halton was, even at the expense of the party, perpetrating a joke. This conviction is further confirmed by the memory of his past surroundings. As we were chiding ourselves for making too liter l an application of the above quotation, suddenly there burst into our memory the names of Dr. Robitaille, Gibbs Senior, Senator Aikens, Mr. John O'Connor, and we smiled again and said, "Truly Mr. Beaty of Halton is a man of humor and must have his joke."

The address continues—"You are no slanderer of men"! True, says The Chief in reply, "I am no slanderer. At times my truer consciousness may compel me to call his members of the present administration ninnies, not fit for a seat in even a County Council—but gentlemen I never slander! Never!—I may speak of Mr. Smith as doing nothing, and not knowing enough to do that; of Mr. Vail as once being a seller of clay pipes and block tobacco; of the whole pack as a set of red-blooded fellows not having a drop of blue blood in their veins—but gents I never slander—I work for the people. I am truly, l'homme du peuple.

The town of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, was on Sunday almost completely destroyed by fire. It is situated on the Yamaska River, about 30 miles from Montreal, is the county town of St. Hyacinthe county, and has a population of four thousand. The buildings were mostly of wood, and the fire engine of the town was next to useless. Added to this, a strong wind was blowing, and the flames were carried with lightning rapidity from one end of the place to the other. Hardly any of the contents of the burned structures were saved. One woman is known to have been burned to death.

ASSAULTING AN EDITOR.—A Toronto report says: "Hon. J. B. Robinson, M. P. for West Toronto, yesterday administered a severe thrashing to John Ross Robertson, proprietor of the Evening Telegram, for publishing an extract from the London Advertiser, affecting his character as President and a director of the Northwestern Railway. Robertson got out a warrant against Mr. Robinson for assault and a fine was imposed and costs was inflicted upon Mr. Robinson.

AUDITORS REPORT.

To the Chairman of the Board of School Trustees.

GENTLEMEN,

We the undersigned Auditors of the Town of Peterborough beg leave to report

That we have carefully examined the books of your late Secretary-Treasurer, together with the vouchers and notes placed in our hands, and have prepared them from the following statements:

1st. Detailed Statement of the Receipts and Expenditures of your Board from the 1st day of January to the 8th day of July, 1876.

2nd. Abstract Statement of the same.

3rd. Classified Statement of salaries paid during the period. The above statements show a balance as against your late Treasurer of $71.56. But your Auditors have a grave doubt respecting the correctness of the following entries on the credit side of the cash book, viz:

Deposit	$36 00
"	16 50
"	69 70
"	7 50

And we desire to call the attention of your Board to the same. All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. PENDRY, } Auditors
W. EASTLAND. }

Moved by Mr. Edwards, seconded by Mr. Smith—That the Auditors statement and report on the late Treasurer's accounts be referred to the Finance Committee requesting them to examine the same and to act in the matter as the facts warrant.

Moved by Mr. McClelland, seconded by Mr. Smith—That the report be referred back to the Auditors for them to give a fuller report.

Original motion carried.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Edmison, chairman of the Finance Committee read the following report recommending the payment of the following accounts, etc.:

E. Walton	$4 88
Boyd, Smith & Co	4 80
R. Romaine	5 40
S. Johnston, for wood at school	1 25

And as to the further sum of $30.40 claimed by Mr. Johnston for cutting wood, your Committee have failed to find any agreement on the part of the Board to pay Mr. Johnston this sum over and above salary and without evidence of such an agreement they cannot recommend its payment.

Your Committee have also prepared the estimates for school expenses for the current year amounting to the sum of $160.35, and have handed the same to the Town Council with a requisition from the Secretary-Treasurer for the same amount to be provided by the Council.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. EDMISON, Chairman.

TEACHERS SALARIES.

Moved by Mr. Edwards, seconded by Mr. Smith—That hereafter the Treasurer be instructed to pay the teachers' salaries quarterly instead of monthly as heretofore.

Messrs. Edmison, Robertson and Johnston objected to the motion as there were some of the teachers who could scarcely get along without waiting till the end of the quarter, and that as the mechanic gets his wages every Saturday night the teacher should get his monthly anyway.

Mr. Cox said that the only difficulty would be the first quarter.

Mr. Edwards said that there was no storakeeper in the town who would not give them anything they wanted on account if they would pay them at the end of three months, as it was it gave the Chairman a great deal of trouble. The motion was put and lost. Yeas—Messrs. Edwards, Smith and Cox. Nay—Messrs. Johnston, Edmison, McClelland, Robertson and Shaw.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

Moved by Mr. Edmison, seconded by Mr. Cox—That the resignation of Miss Dowling be accepted, and that she be relieved from her engagement at the end of the present month, and this Board embraces this opportunity of expressing the high esteem in which they have always held her as a teacher in the Public School and to express their regret at losing her valuable services. Carried.

TEACHER WANTED.

Moved by Mr. McClelland, seconded by Mr. Smith, that the committee on appointments be instructed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Dowling.—Carried.

SALARIES TO BE PAID MONTHLY.

Moved by Mr. Cox, seconded by Mr. Johnston, that whereas the Teachers Salaries have recently been paid very irregularly in some cases, monthly and in some cases quarterly, be it resolved that in future they are all paid monthly. Lost. Yeas—Cox and Johnston. Nays—Shaw, Edwards, Smith, Robertson and McClelland.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT.

The Principal, Mr. Jeffers, handed in his report on the School, which is as follows:—

To the Board of Education, Peterborough:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN:—

Although your schools have been in operation but two weeks, the work done in them during that short time is of a very important character. It becomes my duty at this meeting to present a report of that work for your approval. In the organization of the schools two objects have been kept in view; first, the efficiency of the schools, and secondly, the economy of school-room, in order, if possible, to save the expense of erecting a new building in this year.

The classes of the Collegiate Institute were first organized, and the following changes made. The college of study has been divided into five grades. The boys and girls are in separate halls separately, but those of the same grade taught together. Each teacher, except myself, has charge of a part of his grade, and is responsible for the punctual and regular attendance of the pupils in that grade. Mr. McKee has charge of the junior or first grade. Miss Preston of the second; Mr. Karl of the third; Mr. Blackadar of the fourth; and Mr. Campbell of the fifth grade.

Another change is that all the teaching is performed in subjects, and not by forms, accordingly Miss Preston becomes Assistant English teacher, and Mr. McKee, assistant Mathematical Teacher.

By the above arrangements the salary of one teacher has been saved in the Institute, and one large room rendered available for the Public School. The services of Miss Preston not being required elsewhere in the Institute, she was persuaded to accept charge of a grade in the Public School, and you have thereby secured the services of a 1st class Normal trained teacher in a most important grade.

In regard to the discipline of the Institute, I have reserved to myself the direct supervision of each pupil, and the exercise of any pressure in order that the teachers may be free to use every art of persuasion in connection with the giving of instruction, and also, that the discipline being exercised by one person, it may be equal to all the pupils. A daily record is kept of all who are late or irregular, or who fail in their recitations during each day, and this record will be produced at the end of each term.

Again, the time-table has been so altered that the day instead of being divided into ten recitations of thirty minutes each, is divided into nine recitations of fifty minutes each, thus lessening the number of tasks for each day, and giving more time to the teachers for explanation of the lesson and for thorough questioning.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—After spending several days in the various rooms, and examining the pupils partly by oral and partly by written questions, it was discovered that there was a grade lacking in the organization and that the work laid down in the Official Programme as the 3rd Class was only imperfectly done, and accordingly the pupils who entered the 4th Class were unprepared for their promotion. It was found also that there were two teachers doing the same work, viz.:—2nd Class Official Programme, and also two teachers doing 4th Class work. It therefore became necessary either to reconsider the engaging of two new teachers to supply the Class omitted, or to classify boys and girls together, and re-grade the course of study to suit our necessity.

The latter course was adopted. The programme of studies has been arranged in nine grades, and each teacher made responsible for the working of a single grade. The advantages of grading will be that the work to be expected from each teacher, though less in quantity must be proportionally more thorough, while the children will be encouraged by easier and more rapid promotion from a class to a class, to the grading of the Public Schools. In this organization of your Schools the grades of the Collegiate Institute will be in regular succession from the highest grade of the Public School. Fidelity to this Programme will remove the possibility of your Public Schools being sacrificed to the Collegiate Institute. They must mutually aid one another.

The average attendance for the month of August was for the Collegiate Institute 153, for the Public Schools 693.

Your obdt. servant,

J. FRITH JEFFERS, Principal.

Sept. 5, 1876.

He also stated that he had visited the Auburn School and found that there was only part of a fence around it, that the School was very dirty, as there was a Sunday School or Church held in it every Sunday, and recommended that it be cleaned up as it was not fit to teach in, either for teacher or scholars.

Mr. McClelland stated the building had been painted last year.

The Report was adopted and the suggestion referred to the chairman of the Property Committee.

The Board then adjourned.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met in Special Session on Thursday evening, August 31st, at 8 p.m.

Present, His Worship the Mayor, and Messrs. Cahill, Hopkins, Paterson, McClelland, Cook, Dixon, Douglas, Menzies and Rutherford.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Clerk said that he had received the return from the Returning Officer of the Third Ward, stating that Mr. Menzies had been duly elected in the place of Mr. Thornton resigned, and that he had given him the necessary qualifications.

From John Ritchie and others asking to have the sidewalk on the north side of London Street between George and Read Streets repaired.—

From P. Haggarty informing the Council that the water from the high lands on McDonald St. injures his property, and that he could have the same repaired at a cost of $5. Referred to the Street Inspector to report to the Council.

From the Secretary of the Fire Brigade giving the names of the parties who had been dropped from the list.—Received.

From Geo. A. Cox asking permission to lay a crossing on George Street in front of his new block.—Received.

From R. Lundy asking for the use of the Fire Engine to fill some vats in his tannery, and he would bear all the necessary expenses.—Grant'd

From James English, Engineer of the Fire Department, asking leave of absence for two weeks from the 1st September.—Granted on condition that he leaves a competent person to take charge in his absence.

ACCOUNTS.

D. G. Henthorn, livery	$40 00
John McDonald, lumber	855 00

The accounts were referred to the Finance Committee to be paid if found correct.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Cahill, Chairman of the Finance Committee, submitted the following report:

The Finance Committee on appointing the rate for the present year's taxation beg to report that they have carefully gone into the several items, and have arrived at the following:

There have been some heavy expenditures during the present year, especially on the items of Charities and Streets and Bridges. The uncommon hard winter accounted in a measure for the extra outlay under the former head, and the new bridge on Smith Street, across the river, absorbed a large portion of the latter.

They find a heavy demand made upon the Municipality by the Board of School Trustees of the Union School compared with last year. This is partly accounted for that in last year's estimates there was the sum of $2,000 credited as being levied in excess of the year previous estimates as well as from the fact that the Government Grant for the Collegiate Institute is reduced this year some $1900 below last year's allowance, thereby causing a much heavier rate for the Institute than formerly. The Trustees have also included $500 as the price of a lot for a school site—a matter, your Committee are of opinion, might have been very well deferred till the Board were ready to build.

Last year the amount asked by the Board was $7,574, this year it is $12,325, making an excess of this year's school assessment over last year of $4,751, representing the difference between the rate of 3½ mills on the dollar in 1875, and 5¼ mills in 1876. There is an item this year of $1,862 in connection with the new offices in the Town Hall.

In arriving at the rate to be levied your Committee considered that the amount of $2,500 should be placed among the Receipts, as the sum given to the firm of Paton, Moir & Co., and which your Committee recommend that the Council do take steps at once to collect this amount, as the firm have utterly failed to complete the agreement under which the grant was made. They have therefore in anticipation of realising this amount placed it on the credit side.

They have therefore been enabled to keep the rate within the reasonable bounds, having fixed it at 11¾ mills on the dollar being only 1 mill more than in 1875.

Herewith we attach the estimates in detail and hope the Council will adopt the figures therein.

Estimates of the Receipts and Expenditures of the Town of Peterborough for the year 1876, for striking rate:

Your Committee would also recommend that a grant of $30 be given to the Firemen's Band.

THOMAS CAHILL, Chairman

Mr. Cahill said that the Council had no control over several items in the expenses. For instance, Schools, $6,325; Salaries, $4,479; Administration of Justice, $1,525.72. The Council has only the control of one-third the Expenditure.—He only made these statements so as to let the people know where the money goes to.

Mr. Menzies questioned whether the Council would receive the money from the Auburn Woolen Mills and the Nicholls & Hall estate in time to help them this year, and he would move that the rate be made at 15 Mills instead of 11¾ so as to go out at the end of the year with nothing left behind for their predecessors to make up.

Mr. McClelland said that it was stated in the report that there was a large sum wanted for school purposes this year than last, which was not the case. There was $7,574 raised last year by rate for school purposes and a $2,500 By-law for to build the South Ward School. The expenses will be but little more this year, on account of a new roof being put on the school, and that had to be done. And he agreed with Mr. Menzies that the Nicholls & Hall affair and the Auburn Woolen Mills should be left out of the receipts.

Mr. Douglas also agreed with Mr. Menzies and Mr. McClelland.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Cook,—That the report be received and adopted.

Mr. Menzies moved in amendment that it be simply received, as there were two items in the report that was doubtful whether it would ever be collected or not, and said that 15 or 16 mills would be nearer the mark.

Mr. Hopkins agreed with Mr. Menzies. He said we did not know whether we would get these sums as Mr. Nicholls had put the case in higher courts, but he thought that 15 mills was too much but would like to see a sufficient sum raised to pay off the debt, say about 12½ mills.

The Mayor said that the report had taken considerable time and labor, and thought the Committee had fully given our Assets and Liabilities. He did not see the use in making the rate such a sum as would leave a surplus in the bank at the end of the year. He considered those items good and thought that there would be no difficulty in getting them.

Mr. Cahill thought it a pretty small piece of business for a member of the Finance Committee, (Mr. Rutherford) after helping to form the report to go back on it as soon as it was brought before the Council.

Mr. Paterson agreed with Mr. Cahill, and said that if he made a report he would certainly stick to it, though he was always ready to be corrected if he was not right.

The Mayor did not believe in carrying over a balance from year to year.

Mr. Cahill thought Mr. Menzies wanted to raise more than would meet the expenses. Our Town Solicitor says that the claims are perfectly good, and what more should we want.

Mr. Menzies asked if a deficiency had not been left over from last year.

The Mayor admitted that a deficiency had been carried over from last year of $2,700.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Cahill.—That the rate be struck at 11¾ mills.

Moved in amendment by Mr. Menzies, seconded by Mr. Douglas.—That the rate be 12 mills.

The original motion to have the rate at 11¾ mills on the dollar was carried.

The By-law was then read over a third time and passed, and the Clerk and Mayor authorized to sign and seal the same.

GAS REPORT.

Mr. Paterson, Chairman of Gas Committee, reported that the contract with the Gas Company had expired, and that at a meeting at which Messrs. Stevenson and Dumble represented Gas Co., it was agreed that the contract be renewed for five years, the Company to keep four lamps burning all night in future. 1 at Chambers' corner; 1 at Bank of Commerce; 1 at the corner of George and Hunter St.; and 1 at Town Hall; that lamps would be kept in repair by Company at $1 each, or else glass when needed to be furnished by the town and put in by the Company. Also ordering the offender of a report for the conviction of injury be fixed at $10. Contract to last five years.

Moved by Mr. Paterson, seconded by Mr. Douglas,—That the report be received and adopted.—Carried.

MARKET BY-LAW.

Moved by Mr. Hopkins seconded by Mr. Paterson.—That the Market By-law be reconsidered.—Carried.

Mr. Hopkins said that the Clerk complained that it was not paying him, and wanted the Council to compel those selling wheat, peas, oats, &c., to come on to the market also: if the Market Clerk could not make it pay, why next fall the tolls would sell for less, and the town would be loosing the money.

CROSSING.

Moved by Mr. McClelland, seconded by Mr. Paterson.—That the application of Mr. Cox to lay a crossing on George Street, at his own expense be granted.—Carried.

The Council adjourned for three weeks from the following Monday.

DISTRICT NEWS.

NORWOOD.

BURN FIRES.—For a week past bush fires have been raging to an alarming extent to the northern part of Dummer and the eastern part of Belmont, in both places doing considerable damage to valuable property. We have been informed that Mr. Robt Anderson, of the latter township, has lost a large amount of his standing grain, and that other farmers also have had narrow escapes of losing their growing crops. Barns and other buildings were endangered, but by the exertions of farmers in the neighborhood, these were saved from destruction. The long bridge crossing Deer River was also burnt. In Dummer though the fire is an extensive one, we have not heard whether any crops or buildings were burned.

COBOURG.

A $10,000 FIRE.—Cobourg, Aug. 30. A large fire broke out this morning about one o'clock and totally destroyed several buildings, amongst which were W. L. Payne's agricultural implement factory, also the Royal Hotel on Division St. Mr. Payne had $5 000 insurance on his factory, but it is not known at present weather the other buildings are insured or not. Loss will be over $10 000.

AFTER.

A large fire occured here this morning about 1 o'clock, destroying Devins' hotel, Payne's foundry and machine shop, and three dwellings on Division street. The heat was intense and at one time threatened to be one of the most disastrous fires Cobourg ever experienced. Archer's buildings were badly wrecked and were saved with difficulty. All the buildings opposite the fire got badly scorched and present a roasted piearan e. Had not saving the Methodist church were very slim at one time, but the wind shifting to the east assisted the firemen in their work of protection. The Fire Brigade worked admirably well and are worthy of their good name.

PORT HOPE.

A LARGE HOTEL.—We understand that Mr. Charles Seymour is contemplating organizing a Company to build a first-class hotel, similar to the "Arlington," of Cobourg. We have no doubt but that under proper management such an enterprise would be successful and would also be a great advantage to the town. There can be no better place found for such an hotel than Port Hope; the delightful scenery and the splendid opportunity for lake bathing cannot be surpassed.

HARVEY.

COUNCIL MEETING.—Council met at the Town Hall 26th August, 1876, on call of the Reeve. All the members were present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. Communication read from the County Clerk, directing the amount to be levied for County rates for the current year. Accounts were presented and read from C. Stewart, Robert Rowe, Scott & Edwards, and W. D. Vosburgh which will be paid as soon as the funds will permit. A By-law was passed through the various readings, to provide for levying the rate for the current year. The Clerk was instructed to notify the Collector to have his bonds ready for approval at the next meeting of the Council. On motion the sum of $10 was granted as charity to Mr. Cavert, and Mr Hall appointed to purchase a barrel of flour and other necessaries therewith. The sum of $10 was granted for the statute labor from Lot 6 to Sandy Creek; $10 for the side line road west from Lot 8, in the 18th con.; also $30 to be expended on Graham's hill; also $10 from north side of Lot 6 to Graham's hill; also $10 on Wm. R. Johnston's road between Lots 10 and 11 in the 15th concession. On motion the Council adjourned to meet at the Clerk's office until next Friday in September next.—Sun

THE STANSTEAD TRAGEDY.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—The quiet little village of Derby Line, a few miles from Stanstead, was yesterday the scene of a tragedy which, in view of the

REVOLTING OBSCENITY

with which the chief actor shot down his victims, is certainly without a parallel in a recent history of this Province. Among the boarders at the Derby Line Hotel there have been for some time past a gentleman named Brigham and his wife, whose maiden name was Hayden. More recently a sister of Mrs. Brigham, a Mrs. Hayden, who, owing to the

PROFLIGACY OF HER HUSBAND,

has not been able to live with him for some time, and has been staying with her sister although threatened by Hayden with the pistol if she would not return to him again. On Wednesday last, Hayden registered his name at the Ottawa Hotel in this city, having just returned to this part of the country from one of his excursions, which he was accustomed to take at intervals, and proceeded the same day to Stanstead. On his arrival he told at least 50 people that he had come there to shoot his wife. He had

THREE REVOLVERS IN HIS POSSESSION,

He having borrowed the third from a man whom he told he was going to shoot "Calder's dog," an animal at which he was offended. About noon yesterday Hayden suddenly made his appearance in the hall of the Derby Line Hotel, and Mr Brigham, who was expecting a call from him, came out of the sitting-room off the hall and accosted him, asking him what he wanted. Hayden replied that he wanted to see his wife, and when the former said "she will not see you any more," Hayden then drew a pistol and

SHOT BRIGHAM THROUGH THE RIGHT BREAST

causing him to to fall fainting on the hall floor, the ball having entered his lungs. Hearing the report of the pistol, Mrs. Brigham opened the door leading into the hall, whereupon Hayden rushed past her into the room, drew a revolver, and through the body, one ball passing completely through, while the other lodged there. Brigham had by this time temporarily recovered, and although weak from loss of blood, he heroically staggered towards the door and seized Hayden, who, who is a small yet wiry man, as he was rushing away from the scene of his second murderous act. Grasping him around the neck Mr. Brigham held him until others, attracted by the reports of the revolvers or pistols, came to his aid. The fellow was immediately taken before a magistrate and

SHOT HIS WIFE TWICE

TAKEN TO THE NEAREST GAOL.

Hayden came originally from Boston, Mass., where he carried on a boot & shoe business some seven or eight years ago, and afterwards was engaged in the manufacture of hoop skirts. He inherited from his father a fortune of $40,000, and afterwards obtained $10,000 from his uncle. Some years ago he married Miss Sperling, whose parents lived near Stanstead, and who had a large fortune in her own right, said to have been about $50,000. All this property he squandered in a few years. The physicians who are attending the sufferers have little hopes of their recovery.

PROTECTION.

The following extract from the speech of Mr. Marshal, one of the representatives from Illinois, delivered in the House of Representatives, at Washington, on a short time since, show how protection works in that country:—

"The farmer starting to his work has a shoe put on his horse with nails taxed at 67 per cent.; driven by a hammer taxed at 54 per cent.; cuts a stick with a knife taxed 50 per cent.; hitches his horse to a plow taxed 50 per cent.; with chains taxed 67 per cent. He returns to his home at night, and lays his wearied limbs on a sheet taxed 58 per cent.; and covers himself with a blanket that has paid 250 per cent. He rises in the morning, puts on his humble flannel shirt, taxed 80 per cent.; his coat, taxed 50 per cent., shoes, taxed at 25 per cent., and hat, taxed 70 per cent.; opens family worship with a bible taxed 25 per cent; and kneels to his God on an humble carpet, taxed 150 per cent. He sits down to his humble meal from a plate taxed 40 per cent.; with knife and fork taxed 35 per cent.; drinks his cup of coffee, taxed 47 per cent.; or tea 68 per cent.; seasons his food with salt, taxed 100 per cent.; pepper, 297 per cent; or spices, 370 per cent. He looks around upon his wife and children, all taxed in the same way, takes a chew of tobacco taxed at 100 per cent.; or lights a cigar taxed 120 per cent.; and then thanks his stars that he lives in the freest and best governed country under Heaven."

How does our canadian protective farmer like the picture?

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—It is amusing to notice how lugubriously the Editor of the "Review" whines over "the personal" abuse heaped upon him in last week's "Examiner" Yet the language made use of by yourself and your correspondents is MILD and gentlemanly contrasted with the article in the "Review" which called forth the rejoinder complained of.

It is quite right and proper for the gentlemanly Editor of the "gentleman's organ" to use just such terms as may be suggested to his PURE mind, when applied to his opponents. But for the same, or even much less offensive language to be employed when applied to himself changes its aspect altogether. The difference between mum and tums, or "whose ox was gored" is forcibly exemplified in the case of this MODEL EDITOR.

And yet I think his case is not altogether hopeless. The tone of his mournful valedictory to the Water Works question, in his last issue, is quite encouraging, and implies a more hopeful state of mind indicating unmistakably the salutary effect of the moderate dose of HIS own medicine—somewhat DILUTED—so opportunely administered in your last issue.

Should the Editor of the REVIEW adopt the following advice, I have no doubt the symptoms of "Water on the brain," so apparent heretofore in that DIGNITARY, will soon wholly disappear.

1st Let him study the question of construction of Water Works from the standpoint of those who have a large amount of taxes to pay, and who consequently are better able to form a correct opinion as to the necessity of such expenditure.

2nd—Drink more PURE COLD WATER as found in all our wells, WITHOUT MIXTURE, and he will have less reason to complain of its "poisonous" properties.

I have been drinking the UNADULTERATED water from the wells in Peterboro' for nearly 30 years, and have yet to discover the deleterious qualities complained of by our Peterborough hydrophobists.

And last, though not least, let him preserve the EXAMINER of August 31st—keep it by him as the "man of his council" and read it over carefully every week immediately before entering upon the important duty of writing his leading article, and I have no doubt ere the inception of another scheme for Water Works a radical cure may be pronounced. For which none will be more truly grateful than

Yours,

MEDICUS.

FIRE TRAPS.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

The Town of Peterborough has a very stringent Fire By-Law; sometimes it is forced, sometimes it is not. If Mr. Thomas Hoskins, who is paid $250 a year to look after such matters chooses to let the By-law be treated as a dead letter the Council does not interfere, but if Mr. Irvin shakes his head your building must square to the By-law.

Recently Mr. Burnham erected in the centre of the town a shed 100 feet long.—Mr. William Clinton has built a number of wooden sheds, and Mr. Bradburn is erecting a huge wooden fence on Farmer's old place.

Now poor men naturally ask is there one By-law for the poor and another for the rich. Surely our Councillors are not honest in asking for a large expenditure for Water Works when they are daily permitting the erection of huge wooden sheds to facilitate the destruction of the town. There is an old saying: "That an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Would it not be well to enforce the By-law rigidly. It cost trouble and expense to get it up. It was revised by the present Chief Justice Harrison, and is really a good By-law. If instead of winking at its infraction the Council would go a little further, and cause every stove pipe and cook house to be inspected the people would be pleased. If a disastrous fire such as has lately consumed $2,000,000 worth of property at St. Hyacinthe should occur in Peterborough, don't say it was for want of Water Works, but say that a negligent official willfully and against the protest of the people permitted the erection of wooden sheds throughout the very heart of the town.

Yours, &c.,

ONE WHO SEES.

"O wad some power the gift to gie us,
To see oursel's as lithers see us."

Behold that pale, emaciated figure, with dark sunken eye, like some criminal about to meet his fate! See that nervous, distrustful look, as she walks along with a slow and unsteady step. The pink has left her cheeks and the cherry her lips. The once sparkling, dancing eyes are now dull and expressionless. The once warm dimpled hands are now thin and cool. Her beauty has fled. What has wrought this wonderous change? What is that which is lurking beneath the surface of that once lovely form? Does she realize her terrible condition? Is she aware of woeful the appearance she makes? Woman from her very nature, is subject to a catalogue of diseases from which man is entirely exempt. Many of these maladies are induced by her own carelessness, or through ignorance of the laws of her being. Again, many Female Diseases, if properly treated, might be arrested in their course, and thereby prove of short duration. They should not be left to an inexperienced physician who does not understand their nature, while, before, incompetent to treat them. The importance of attending to Female Diseases in their earliest stages cannot be too strongly urged. For if neglected, they frequently lead to Consumption Chronic Debility, and often to Insanity. In all classes of Female Diseases, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is without a rival. No medicine has ever been so successful in The Peoples Common Sense Medical Adviser, of which R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., is the author and publisher, is an extended treatise on WOMAN AND HER DISEASES. Under this head, the author, in offering to which woman is confident can fully consult, accurate, easy, and a sure cure of treatment suggested. Every woman, as she valuable book. If she is diseased, this Adviser will show her how she can be restored to health and also direct her how she may ward off many maladies to which she is constantly being exposed. Let every suffering woman heed his timely advice and send her health as there see her. Price of adviser, $1.50 (post-paid) to any address.

BUSH FIRES.—The bush fires are getting uncomfortably close to the town. Unless rain falls soon, great damage must result from them. The amounts of the prizes will be $4. $3, and $2.

WASN'T INVITED.—A business man accosted a gentleman from the country the other day, saying: "Why don't you trade with me?" "Because, said the individual, you have not extend'd an invitation to me to do so. I read the paper every week, and I have never seen an advertisement of yours in it, and I never go to places that I am not invited."

FAIR DAY.—Tuesday was the September fair. There was a large number of people in town—mostly young people, with a few of the elderly members of families. The day was reasonably spent. The people were orderly, although the presence of "tangle-leg" was here and there visible. Quite a number of pe sons showed signs of being at the Fair.

PROFANE SWEARING.—The people of Port Hope becoming annoyed at the obscene language heard upon their streets, are agitating severe punishment upon all found guilty of the misdemeanor. The GUIDE asks why the law is not enforced against profane swearing, on the public streets? The same question may be applicable to many places, not excepting this town.

"A HOTTER PLACE.—The other day, when mercury was dancing around a hundred degrees above zero, a sainted sidewalk layer, who was rapidly losing some of his surplus flesh by sweat was heard sweetly humming the following beautiful verse:

"There's a place that is warmer than this,
Where never a collar can stand,
Where you can only bubble and sizz—
Will you come to that beautiful land?"

THE ONTARIO FREE MASON.—We have received No. 1 of a new publication to be published in the interest of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, A. F. and A. M. Not being a member of the mystic order, we cannot speak in regard to these matters, but as regards the general appearance and contents we can commend it. It is published monthly, by the Compagnon Publishing Company, London, Ontario, at 75cts. per annum.

A GOOD LAW.—In the County of Peterborough there is endorsed a By-law which makes it unlawful to start bush fires between the 1st of July and the 15th of September in each year.—This is in order to prevent if possible, the devastating bush fires which have been so mostly damage in different sections of the country and it might be adopted with profit by other counties, as bush fires are not yet a thing of the past.

Also at the same time and place, lots 24 & 25 north of Douro and west of Stewart Street, Ashburnham. For further information apply to John Burnham, Solicitor, or Haggart Bros. Auctioneers.

GUN POWDER ACCIDENT.—While Master Willie Dixon, son of the late lamented Principal Dixon, was pounding some powder in a mortar, it exploded, with such violence as to produce very serious effects. The house was filled with smoke, and but for the presence of mind shown by the inmates, a fire would have resulted. The boy has been confined to bed since the accident, but is now slowly recovering from his injuries which were very severe. His arms, face and chest are badly burned and it will take the utmost care to prevent him from being disfigured for life.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Mr. S. White has opened out his new stock of boots and shoes in Mr. Lech's new store, George Street north where he will be prepared to supply his old customers and new ones with everything in the boot and shoe line, either ready-made or made to order. He is so well known his friends only require to know where he is to call on him. Mr. Lech has just completed the building in first-class style, and fitted it up very neatly. Mr White will be glad to see all his own friends at his new stand, likewise as many new ones as possible. We wish him every success, and hope his business may increase largely.

A SPORTING CASE.—Judge Wilson has rendered a decision which will interest the patrons of the race course, if it does not instruct them. Proceedings had been instituted against the managers of the race meeting at Oshawa for the recovery of a purse claimed to have been won in the two mile dash by "Passion." The horses were started by flags, but the judge rang the bell for a recall. The rider of "Passion," notwithstanding the recall, went over the race course and claimed the money, maintaining that the starters having dropped the flags the judges had no right to interfere. The Judge gave his decision in favor of "Passion."

ESTRAY CATTLE.—It will be well says an exchange for those who happen to take up estray cattle to know the rules necessary to be observed before any expenses they may be put to for feed, etc., of such cattle:—"At once, as soon as the beast is taken up, word should be sent to the Clerk of the township, and then, if a public journal is at all convenient and likely to reach the section from which such beast is supposed to have come, an advertisement should be inserted describing the time the beast was taken up, and its color, etc., so as to lead to its recovery by its owner. If this course is pursued there will be found no difficulty in recovering reasonable charges, but it is running considerable risk to keep a beast for two or three weeks, or a month or two, then advertise, and when it is claimed, present a bill for all the keep consumed.

FIRE.—On Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock, the fire bell sounded the alarm, and in a few minutes the streets were thronged with persons anxious to find out the whereabouts of the fire, but the continual stream of persons rushing over the Bridge and along Elizabeth Street, soon revealed the fact that the house belonging to Mr. P. C. Taylor in Ashburnham, was in flames. The fire originated through a defective stove pipe. The Engine, considering the many disadvantages arising from the great distance from the water, and the length of hose that had necessarily to be used, did good work and succeeded in quelling the fire and prevent, ing it from spreading to other adjacent buildings. The house was occupied at the time by Mr. John Frazer and Mr. J. McAuliffee, but through the prompt exertions of both firemen and citizens most of the household effects were saved.

POLICE COURT.—On Tuesday, John and Wm. Parrington were accused by Geo. Stethem with injuring his fruit trees. Mr. Stethem said he did not wish to push the charge, but only to protect himself. He was not the only sufferer. The Magistrate dismissed the boys, warning them and their companions. Mr. R. N. Roddy was brought up by the Inspector on the charge of an infringement of the Fire By-law, on Lot no. 3, north of Hunter and east of George St., said lot being in the range of the fire limits, contrary to the By-law. Mr. Roddy said that he was only building a fence and roofing in a temporary manner, and that what he was doing was done with the sanction of certain members of the Council, and he asked to have further consideration and to let the matter stand until after a meeting of the Council took place that he might bring up the matter before them, and get permission to finally complete what he is doing, he undertaking in the meantime to discontinue the work. The case was adjourned till the 19th inst., at 10 a.m.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—Here is one of the clauses of the Weights and Measures Act now in force in Canada. Perhaps it would be well for all concerned to read over the clause and be governed accordingly. A penalty of from $5 to $30 is not easily met these times:—"Sec. 27.—Every trader, manufacturer, carrier, public weigher, gang measurer, surveyor, or the any other person, who after the expiration of time appointed under this Act for the first inspection, in the Inspection division in which the carriers on his business, offers for sale or uses, for any purpose of buying, selling, or charging, for the carriage of any goods, wares, merchandize or thing, for purpose of charging for or ascertaining the price to be paid or the charge to be made therefor, any weight or measure, or weighing machine which has not been duly inspected and stamped according to this Act, or which may be found light, deficient or otherwise unjust, shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall on conviction, incur a penalty of not more than fifty or less than five dollars for each such offence; and every such unstamped, light, deficient, or unjust weight, weighing machine, or measure so used, offered to sale, or found in his possession, shall on being discovered by the Deputy Inspector, be forfeited and forthwith seized and broken by him, without suit or other authority than this Act."

Dixon's Saw Mill commenced running on Tuesday last. ....The Firemen's Band went to Lakefield on Tuesday evening to give the villagers a serenade.... There was another street row on the corner on Tuesday evening.... How about the Fire By-law in the meantime now-a-days.... The tin shops are about closing early in the evening so as to give the clerks a chance.

BOOKBINDING we will find the best value in Gemetries, &c., at M. COLLINS', next door to Mellon & Davidson's Hardware Store.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—You will do me a favor by inserting the enclosed, in your valuable paper, which speaks for itself.

Yours truly,
WM. EYRES.

Springville, Aug. 1st 1876.

To the Editor of the Millbrook Messenger:

Dear Sir,—In your paper of the 17th March, 1874, I find a paragraph headed, "Cobourg Court." Here is a copy of the article:

"At the same time that the Division Court was sitting, in the Court Room in the Town Hall, on Wednesday, March 17th, our Methodist friends had an important duty to perform, being no less than trying one of their local preachers, the Rev. Richard Clarke, for "lying and slandering," charges brought against him by Mr. Wm. Eyres, jr. There was a large gathering of the Ministers of the Church, and, after a careful hearing, and ample time being taken to well weigh the evidence, we are pleased to say that the Committee fully and explicitly cleared the Rev. Gentleman from every charge made against him, declaring to him that he had, if anything, leaned too much to the side of mercy, considering the various phases of the case."

In your paper of the next week, you say, "We got your information from the party accused."

I might have seen fit to have replied to the above, sooner, had it not been for the fact, that the case was still in Church Court, my charges being made on the 16th June, 1874, and the last verdict bearing date 16th June, 1876.

Now, as a rebuttal to the above false verdict, and believing, as I do, that the Conference, in their final verdict ignored the doctrine of restitution, as taught in the Bible, I, therefore, hand to you for publication, true copies of the verdicts rendered in this case, and other information, which I consider necessary that your readers may understand the nature of the case.

As before stated, this case was commenced on the 16th of June, 1874, when I sent my charges against the Rev. R. Clarke, to the Rev. J. Brock who was then chairman of the District. He replied on the 20th June, saying—"I have carefully examined the words and nature of your charges and specifications, and I am satisfied that I dare not call Mr. Clarke before a committee, for the expression of an hypothetical opinion on a subject which should have been introduced into a Quarterly Official Meeting." He further said: "If you will furnish me the names and addresses of such persons as you regard as witnesses, from them I may be able to ascertain what improper language, words or actions, if any, of which Mr. Clarke may have been guilty: and that, if necessary, I may administer such gospel reproof and admonition or whatever our Church law requires."

On the 8th July I replied, again presenting my charges, as found before, demanding investigation. On the 16th July, the Brock again wrote, and urged me to furnish the names and addresses of such as I regarded as witnesses, etc., saying, "If you refuse to comply with my request, I must there seek information when I can—among members of the Quarterly Official Meeting." I then appealed to the Rev. Dr. Wood, who was then President of the Conference, and on the 17th March, 1875, after much difficulty, we had a trial, in course of which the following discussion, in substance, took place, when considering the second charge. The President said, addressing Mr. Clarke, "you believe this man (myself) guilty etc., why did you not proceed against him?" "O, that was difficult," answered Mr. Clarke. The President replied, "what about difficulties! why did you not proceed?" O, said Mr. Clarke, "I had no evidence." To this the Dr. sternly answered, "then why did you not keep your mouth shut? At this trial there were present, the Rev. Enoch Wood D.D., President of Toronto Conference; Rev. Jas. Brock Chairman of Peterboro District; Rev. C. Fish of Peterboro: Rev H. McDowell of Oakwood: Rev. J. W. Savage of Omemee; Rev. W. L. Scott of Lakefield and Rev. R. Godfrey of Bobcaygeon. The Rev. J. W. Savage was appointed Secretary.

My charges preferred against the Rev. Richard Clarke were:

1st Falsehood.
2nd Slander.

1st I charge that at the meeting of the Millbrook Circuit, held in Millbrook Church on Saturday the 2nd of May, last, in his place he did in substance say that I stood charged with the crime of adultery, and to that day I had not denied it.

Whereas, at the meeting held in the same place last August in the presence of a fuller Meeting than usual I did positively and in toto, deny the aforesaid charge of adultery, and that, in his place, then and there he did acknowledge and accept, as he determed it my unqualified denial.

2nd I charge, that at a special meeting of the same Board, held in the same place, on Saturday the 16th of May, last, when speaking of the meeting of this Board, held last August, and in reference to the aforesaid charge of adultery, he did in substance say that he could to that meeting believing me an innocent man, he left it believing me guilty and he believed me guilty to-day.

Whereas, there was not a particle of evidence adduced at that meeting, or at any other time, to warrant the utterance of such damaging statements, that he did foully slander my character.

WILLIAM EYRES.

Springville, July 8th, 1874.

The report, as this trial was as follows:

We, the committee called to investigate the aforesaid charges, preferred by Mr. Wm Eyres against the Rev. Richard Clarke, having carefully examined the statements made, and the evidence given in support thereof, have unanimously arrived at the following conclusions:

Charge No. 1. Falsehood.

Respecting the first charge, we unanimously acquit Mr. Clarke of the charge of Falsehood, yet we deeply regret that some of the statements made by Mr. Clarke, for want of being made thoroughly explicit, were calculated to convey a meaning and produce an impression, which we believe he never intended.

Charge No. 2. Slander.

Respecting the second charge, we unanimously acquit Mr. Clarke of the charge of Slander, yet we unanimously agree that the words used by Mr. Clarke, being personal and offensive to Mr. Eyres, a member of the Quarterly Official Meeting, and being contrary to the laws, rules and usages of our Sacred Church Courts, and should be withdrawn in a similar Church Court to that in which they were uttered. We therefore recommend that the Chairman of the District be respectfully requested to attend the next Quarterly Official Meeting of the Millbrook Circuit, to be held in the Month of May, 1875, and that Mr. Clarke shall be required to appear before the aforesaid Quarterly Official Meeting and shall then and there retract and withdraw the aforesaid personal and offensive expressions.

3rd. In order to carry into effect the foregoing findings and to avoid the possibility of collision between parties, we require Mr. Clarke to simply read the following form of withdrawal and retraction at the next Quarterly Official Meeting of the Millbrook Circuit:

Whereas at a Quarterly Official Meeting held at Millbrook on the 2nd day of May, 1874, I made use of language that was personal and offensive to Mr. Eyres, a Member of the said Meeting, and this being contrary to the rules, laws, and usages of a Sacred Church Court, I here retract and withdraw the said offensive language and I deeply regret that I suffered any circumstance to betray me into the use of language, contrary to the laws and dignity of a Church Court.

JOHN W. SAVAGE,
Secretary

Against the above verdict I entered a protest, claiming that it was in opposition to the evidence, as the specifications were fully proved, he offering no opposing evidence, and that it appeared, by his form of retraction, that it was a greater sin to violate the laws of the Church Court than to wrongfully seek to destroy the character of a member thereof; and that Mr. Clarke, had in Quarterly Official Meeting, just before uttering the above offensive words, passed my character and renewed my license as a Local Preacher, without one word of objection. If it but due to the President to say he left Millbrook before the above verdict was rendered and I am not aware that he ever endorsed it. My protest being entertained, I applied to the President for a certified copy of the evidence as recorded by the Rev. Secretary, which I put before the witnesses whose evidence it was said so pe. Every one of them refused to be bound by it, declaring under oath, or otherwise, "that it was not correct, that it contained statements not made by them, or that there were important omissions." I returned the above mentioned *copy of evidence, with the aforesaid declara*tions and affidavits attached, memorializing the Conference, and praying that they would investigate the aforesaid charges preferred by me against the said Rev. Richard Clarke.

The Conference, held in Picton, in June, 1875, ordered a new trial, appointing the Rev. Dr. Nelles, M.A., President of Victoria College; Rev. Dr. Jeffers, now President of the Conference; Rev. E. B. Harper, M.A., Rev. N. R. Willoughby, M.A. and the Rev. R. Jones, a committee to sift on the case, with the Rev. Dr. Wood who was then President of the Conference, Chairman.

On the 16th February, 1876, at 2 p.m. the above committee met in the Millbrook Church and took up this case, hearing evidence until about 3 o'clock next morning, with only a short intermission for tea. The following verdict was rendered;

"FINDINGS OF COMMITTEE ON CASE OF EYRES VS. CLARKE.

1st. Whereas, Bro. Eyres had given in the August Quarterly Meeting a distinct and emphatic denial to the rumors affecting his moral character, and this denial had never been contradicted in any subsequent Official Meeting, therefore the committee are of the opinion that although the charge of deliberate falsehood has not been sustained, Bro. Clarke is justly chargeable with a want of that ingenuousness and christian candor which are becoming in a Christian Minister.

2nd. That Bro. Clarke is guilty of Slander in affirming without evidence that we believed Bro. Eyres guilty of the sin of adultery.

3rd. The Committee recommend that Bro. Clarke be admonished by the President in Conference, and that the findings of the committee and the penalty be read in the August Quarterly Meeting of the Millbrook Circuit.

Signed, S. S. NELLES,
Secretary of Com.

Cobourg, Feb. 19, 1876."

According to our Church Law, this verdict had to go before the Conference, held at Peterboro last June, where Mr. Clarke was permitted to appear and plead his case, for about one and a half hours, I am told, while I was by the law of the church forbidden to enter. Under these circumstances, the following verdict, the final Church one, was rendered:

"Methodist Conference, Peterboro, Ont., 16th June, 1876.

To Mr. W. Eyres, Springville.

Dear Sir,—I am instructed by the Toronto Conference, now in session in the town of Peterboro, to convey to you a copy of the following resolutions passed by the Conference, after due deliberation in the matter of the unhappy difference between yourself and the Rev. Richard Clarke.

On motion it was resolved:

1st. That, whereas, Bro. Eyres had given in to the August Quarterly Meeting a distinct and emphatic denial of the Rumors affect affecting his moral character, and his denial has never been controverted in any subsequent Official Meeting:

Therefore the Conference is of the opinion that although the charge of deliberate falsehood has not been sustained, Bro. Clarke is chargeable with a want of that Christian Candor which is becoming in a Christian Minister.

2nd. That Bro. Clarke has been harsh and imprudent in affirming without evidence that he believed Bro. Eyres guilty of the sin of adultery.

3rd. That Bro. Clarke's character do now pass.

I am, dear Sir, yours etc.,

Signed, WM. BRIGGS,
Sec'y of Conference."

Now, Mr. Editor, I would ask is it in the interests of justice that the accused, being a Minister, should be permitted to appeal to the Conference the Final Church, Court, while his accuser, being a Layman, is forbidden even to enter? Is the Conference verdict more correct than that rendered by the highly intelligent and learned committee who sat on the case on the 16th Feb. last, who after hearing both sides and carefully considering the case for about 14 hours arrived at the foregoing conclusion?

From some one answering "Yes" I would like to have a definition of the word "slander," and also his views of the Doctrine of Restitution I also ask how the day arrived when it is safe to commence with "christian candor" in a Minister of the Gospel.

Feeling, Mr. Editor, that it is an outrage committed against society as well as myself, that a man holding a high and honorable position should be in any way tollerated in the utterance of such damaging statements, without attempting to prove their truth—nay even admitting he had no evidence, and that for two years while this case was pending against him, he failed to find even the first common circumstance pointing towards my guilt, while all the time I pressed the case and stood at his door and I now, I appeal to the good sense of your readers and ask, who is safe if such conduct is to be raised?

I deeply regret the necessity which has impelled me to lay this article before your readers, still Mr. Clarke, having made his wicked attack left me no alternative but to hurl his foul slander back to the place whence it came. And the Conference having failed to compel him to retract, I could not do otherwise, as I require no compromise with regard to my character, in the department to which Mr. Clarke referred, and will not accept of any.

Apologizing for the length of this article which after all is only a condensed report.

I am, yours respectfully,
WM. EYRES.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD says that when he and his colleagues went out they left the country prosperous, and wants to know why it is so no longer. Perhaps the cause is that the most notable thing he did was to pile up an expenditure of from 13 millions to 24 millions in six years—four millions in his last year of office—and leave his successors to provide for it, to say nothing of sixty millions of debt and pending obligations added to the national indebetedness, with only a white elephant to show for it.

THERE is scarcely a newspaper published from one end of the year to the other that will not, if critically considered, give offence to somebody in the community. The politician objects to the way his speech is reported. The buyers of one set of shares are offended because the money coin an reports another set as going up or going down Gentlemen who find themselves in the hands of the police are grieved at the licence of the press, which reports their arraignment and trial among the police proceedings. The sympathiser with France is offended at letters from Berlin, and the believer in German unity mourns over dispatches from Paris. The newspaper thus offends some one, just as the weather—rainy to day and sunshiny to morrow—is sure to annoy somebody. The common sense view is that the newspaper is the history of yesterday written to day; that it is the mirror of the time, and that those who conduct it care nothing for individuals, except to do them justice.—Ex.

She came to this country with the first of the Robinson emigration, and settled in Ennismore, where she lived till her decease. She lived in this township 51 years. She retained all her faculties till within a few days of her death. She was always active and cheerful and visited amongst her neighbors and acquaintances. Although she came here in her 50th year, being then past the prime of her life, she has lived to see the forest give way year after year before the wood man's axe, and where it once stood is now fruitful fields and well cultivated farms; the 16x20 Government shanty is replaced by the substantial stone, the handsome brick, or the comfortable frame dwelling house. Thus has passed away one who has been privileged to live so many years, see so many changes, and yet enjoy that measure of health and strength to the end which few beneath her years are wont to enjoy. —COM.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these isDr. Thomas Eclectrical Oil, Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Mhefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Ronan, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit—A. M Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. Mr Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

Just as I am! I dare not tarry longer,
Striving to wash the deep, dark stains away;
Striving to make my faltering spirit stronger,
Striving to teach these dumb lips how to pray

Just as I am—the every past endeavor
But mocks me with the stormy battles be t—
Tho' like the heaving of a troubled river,
In tempest's wrath my weary soul is tossed.

Just as I am, with the old ideals broken.
The old ambitions buried in the dust—
The old ground hopes—once all too sadly spoken
Death as the youth that gave them all their trust.

Just as I am—not in the bounding gladness
That touched with beauty the fair morn of life—
But scourged by mem'ries that are blent with madness,
Pleading for shelter from the noonday strife.

Just as I am—footsore and worn and weary—
Faint from the rugged paths I long have trod,
With pallid lips I cry out "Heaven!"
And at thy footstool lay me down, O God!

Just as I am—the crimson stains upon me,
But they cannot wash me whiter than the snow—
With the dark legions that had well nigh won me,
Thronging my path to mock me as I go.

Just as I am—never again to falter,
Never again, O World! to dread thy frown—
But clasping close the Cross—our blood-stained shiel—
To bear it onward till I grasp the crown!

Praying for What we Don't Expect.

I happened once to be staying with a gentleman—a long way from here—a very religious kind of a man he was; and in the morning he began the day with a long family prayer that we might be kept from sin, and might have a christian-like spirit, and the mind that was also in Christ Jesus; and that we might have the love of God shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost given unto us. A beautiful prayer it was, and I thought what a good kind of a man he must be. But about an hour after I happened to be coming along the farm and I heard him hallooing and scolding, and going on finding fault with everybody and everything. And when I came into the house with him he began again. Nothing was right, and he was so impatient and so quick-tempered. "Tis very provoking to be annoyed in this way, Daniel. I don't know what servants in these days are good for but to worry and vex one with their idle, slovenly ways."

I didn't my nothin' for a minute or two. And then I says, "You must be very much disappointed, sir."

"How, so, Daniel? Disappointed?"

"I thought you were expecting to receive a very valuable present this morning, sir, and I see it hasn't come."

"Present, Daniel?"—and he scratched his head, as much as to say, "Whatever can the man be talking about?"

"I certainly heard you speaking of it, sir," I says quite coolly.

"Heard me speak of a valuable present. Why, Daniel, you must be dreaming. I've never thought of such a thing."

"Perhaps not, sir, but you've talked about it; and I hoped it would come whilst I was here for I should dearly love to see it."

He was getting angry with me, now, so I thought I would explain.

"You know, sir, this morning you prayed for a Christ-like spirit, and the mind that was in Jesus, and the love of God shed abroad in your heart."

"Oh, that's what you mean, is it?" and he spoke as if there weren't anything at all.

"Now, sir, wouldn't you be rather surprised if your prayer was to be answered? If you were to feel a nice, gentle, loving kind of spirit coming down upon you, all patient and forgiving and kind? Why, sir, would'nt you come to be quiet frightened like; and you'd come in and sit down all in a faint, and reckon as you must be agoing to die, because you felt so heavenly-minded?"

"He didn't like it very much," said Daniel, "but I delivered my testimony, and learnt a lesson for myself too. You're right, Captain Joe; you're right. We should stare very often if the Lord was to answer our prayer."—From "Daniel Quorum and his Religious Notions."

LET IT DRY.

Mr. Spurgeon once went to preach in a church a little outside of London. The day was wet and muddy, and the pants of Mr. Spurgeon were plentifully covered with dirt. A good deacon in the vestry said, "Brother Spurgeon, let me get a brush and take off some of that mud, you can't go into the pulpit in that state." Don't be foolish, Deacon!" said Mr. Spurgeon, in his usual goodhumored way. "Don't you see the mud is wet, and if you try to brush it off now, you will rub the stain into the cloth? Let it dry, and then it will come off easy enough, and leave no mark." There is an admirable hint here for every one. When evil spoken against, as we may be for the sake of the truth, and sad men throw mud at us don't be in a hurry in brushing it off. Too great eagerness in this respect is to rub the stain into the cloth. Let it dry, and then, by and by, if need be, it can be removed by a little effort.

If there is a little trouble in the church, don't foster it by haste and hurry in doing something. Let it alone let it dry, and it will be more easily settled than you think now. Time has a wonderful power in such matters, and it is surprising how many things in this world would be far better arranged and how many difficulties easily got over by judiciously letting them dry.—Baptist Standard.

Clay for Sandy Meadows.

Sandy lands that are yielding poorly may be improved often at little expense by top dressing with clay. We have seen meadows made to yield largely simply by dressing with a thin coating of clay hauled from an adjacent bank and scattered over the field during the winter, where, by the action of the frost and the spring rains, the clods were reduced to a condition to be easily broken and further distributed over the surface. Heavy clay lands are often benefited by dressing with sand or sandy loams. Fields are often located at a short distance from deposits of clay or sand, and may be permanently benefited by top-dressing in the way suggested. Sandy or leachy soils that are not retentive of manures may thus be often so ameliorated as to be made very productive and at comparatively little expense if deposits of clay are near at hand. A few years ago a farmer living in the valley of the West Canada Creek had a large field of sandy land which was so unproductive as to be considered of little value. The land was ploughed in the fall, and during winter the farmer set his teams drawing clay from a bank near the creek and close at hand. In the spring the clay was distributed over the surface as evenly as possible and harrowed in, and the field was then sown with grain and seeded down to grass. A good meadow was thus obtained, which proved productive for a number of years, thought only a light coating of manure was applied from time to time, the field getting no better treatment in this respect than other parts of the farm where the soil was stronger and better.

One of the Testimonials!

From Dr DUNCAN McCALLUM, Montreal—

I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but three applications of Burnham's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured

I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of this genuine article

SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcholic spirits; but the Special Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use. In every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the several viscera to purify the blood that stimulates it into healthy action.—Remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Lassitude and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effects on the digestive apparatus.

The superiority of these Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market. They are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality, and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need be used.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

SEA-SORCERY.

Cheerily blew the soft midsummer wind,
And morn's first freshness had not left the sky,
As our small craft shot past the harbor buoy,
And left the light-house far upon the lee,
And stood right out into the plashing bay.
Leaving behind the sad and sullen roar
Of the great waves upon the rocks,
Tossing the rock-weed madly to and fro;
Leaving behind the voices clear and sweet
Of happy children playing on the beach,
And the one ancient, immemorial man,
Whose dory rocked amid the boiling surf,
While his tan face, as ever, sat with eyes cast down,
Wondering what luck his lines would have that day.
Dimmer and dimmer grew the distant shore:
Down dropped the spires below the violet line
Where sea and sky were married into one,
And still we sailed.

And more and more there fell
Upon our spirits such a subtle charm,
So weird a spell of sea-wrought sorcery,
That all things grew unto our spirit strange.
Strange seemed the sky above, and strange the sea,
And strange the vessels flitting here and there
Across the bay. Strange seemed we each to each
And to ourselves; and when our voices smote
The stillness, half they seemed like voices heard
In lives long gone, or lives that were to be.
Little we spake, and less of words our own;
But now and then some poet's puzzle heard
In that sly time before we sailed away—
It might have been a hundred years ago.
When grass grew all the past, until it seemed
To be no past of ours.

But when the sun
Began to linger toward the western verge,
We turned our prow and bade him be our guide;
Yet more in doubt than faith that we should find
The land from which we once had sailed away—
Ay, whether such a land there was at all,
Save as some baseless phantom of our brains.
And when again we heard the roaring surf,
And saw the old, familiar, storm-bleach'd crags
And the long curves of pebbly beach beyond,
The wonder grew, till it was keen as pain.
Whether, indeed, we sailed away that morn,
Or in some dim, gray morning of the world;
Whether some few brief hours had flitted by
Between the morning and the evening stars,
Or generations had arrived and gone,
And states had fallen 'mid the crash of arms,
And justice grown more ample on the earth.
There sat the ancient, immemorial man,
Tending his line amid the boiling surf,
And still the spell was not dissolved quite.
So long had he been there, it seemed not strange
That he should sit a thousand years and more,
Paying no heed to aught that passed him by.
At length our moorings reached, our anchor dropped,
Amid a crowd we stood upon the shore—
A crowd whose faces looked a trifle strange,
Till from among them came a little child,
And with the spell was not dissolved quite,
Then the charm was snapped.
And I went homeward, glad to be restored
To the firm earth and its familiar ways.

DISTRICT NEWS.

LAKEFIELD.

We are pleased to see that Mr. Holmes has made a great improvement at the Burleigh Hotel by having a piece of lattice work put up at the end of his verandah which was somewhat dangerous before this was done. We understand that one gentleman from the west a short time previously walked right over the end of the verandah and fell on the rocks beneath, but luckily escaped without any injury.

Two American gentleman, one Lakefield gentleman, and one gentleman who lives not more than twenty miles from Port Hope, have been staying at the Burleigh Hotel for the last ten days.—Being very keen and ardent sportsmen, but not being very good flying shots, they purchased a tame goose, it being too fatiguing for them to go out into the woods in search of game, and placing it at a distance of about two hundred yards, opened fire on the bird with their rifles. After firing incessantly at it for about an hour and not inflicting a wound they became disgusted and left next day for their respective homes determining to return next fall better shots. We understand that the goose is to be kept until them gentlemen return again to the Burleigh Hotel, when it is to be hoped that they will kill it in at least three shots apiece, and not keep the poor thing in misery.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD.—The Board met on Monday evening, 28th ult- Present; the Chairman, Messrs. Graham, Clarin, Jury and Galvin. The minutes of the two previous meetings were read and confirmed. Moved by Mr. Graham, seconded by Mr. Jury,—That whereas it has been very difficult to keep the school grounds enclosed, and that said difficulty has been caused by parties visiting the premises for water, both before and after school hours, it is therefore necessary to give proper notice to all parties not to trespass on the premises after they have been closed in the evening until they are opened in the morning.—Carried. Mov'd by Mr. Clarin, seconded by Mr. Jury,—That it is necessary to raise the sum of $1,600 for the purpose of paying Teachers' salaries, and defraying other running expenses of the school for 1876, and that the chairman wait upon the council at their next sitting and request their honorable body to provide the said amount by levy on all the rateable property in the section.—Carried. Mr. Shearer was present and stated that there was but one map of the world for the whole school, whereas there should be one for each department, and that he was under the necessity of changing the map from one room to another which was a great inconvenience as well as damaging to the map. The committee was instructed to provide the maps. The committee reported the school in a satisfactory state as far as they knew of, and the average attendance was good, especially in Miss Irwin's room, being about seventy. The Board then adjourned.

VILLAGE COUNCIL.—The Council met in special session at the call of the Reeve on 30th August. Members present:—Messrs. Strickland and Shields, with the Reeve in the chair. Moved by Councillor Shields, seconded by Councillor Strickland;—That the following amounts be paid, viz:—Chas Payton, 15 days work $22.50; Thos. Johns, 13½ days work, $13.50; John Wood, 11½ days work, $11.50; Jos. Fitzgerald, 1 days work, $2; Chas. Grylls, 8½ days work, $25.50; G. R. Shields, hire of wagon, $5.15; C. A. Soulton, hire of wagon, $2.50, Lakefield News, Printing, $25.75; Chas. Grylls, repairing road, $1.—Carried. Moved by Councillor Shields, seconded by Councillor Strickland,—That a sidewalk 10 feet wide be constructed from Graham's store to Leahy's corner and that four feet cut off the plank be laid down between Dean's corner and the Baptist Church.—Plank to be got fourteen feet long if possible.—Carried. Moved by Councillor Strickland, seconded by Councillor Shield —That the Rendemaster be, and is hereby authorized to expend the sum of eight dollars on Horner's street.—Carried. Moved by Councillor Strickland, seconded by Councillor Shields,—That Rendemaster be authorized to repair the road between Wm. Orr's and R. C. Strickland & Co's office.—Carried Moved by Councillor Strickland, seconded by Councillor Shields,—That the Reeve and Treasurer are hereby authorized to raise the sum of $300 by way of loan for current expenditure.—Carried Moved by Councillor Shields, seconded by Councillor Strickland,—That the Council adjourn.

We have recently heard it reported that Lakefield is to be supplied with banking facilities to a short time, and that an express office will soon be opened.

Wm. Caldwell, Esq., M. D., has been in town for the past few days, and has finally concluded to locate in our midst. We hope many kind will favor Dr. with a visit.

CORONERIAL.

THE RATE is two cents on the dollar.

THE PETERBOROUGH BAND.—The members have called a meeting for next week to consider a proposal to visit Peterborough and Bobcaygeon! We should further say that they also wait for the municipalities interested, especially Peterborough, taking that action which is necessary on their part to guarantee that good faith, which was pledged by Mayor Tool at the recent meeting. He said Peterborough was prepared to do what was "fair," and that they would "revote these sums when they were assured the project would be carried out." We have now the fullest authority for giving the requisite assurance and for saying that on the action of Peterboro and other places, but chiefly on the action of Peterborough depends whether the road shall be constructed immediately, or as soon as needed legislation is obtained. We would also suggest that it seems to us more equitable that the money should be voted to be paid pro rata as the road progressed, rather than that a stated sum should be paid on completion of the road. We trust our Peterboro friends will see the appropriateness of this, as the cost of building the road in the first instance will be very considerable. So far as Bobcaygeon is concerned, we are quite confident that the open and frank pledge of the Reeve, that as soon as the Company were ready to proceed with the work, they would be willing to vote them a bonus, will be fully and faithfully redeemed in its entirety. Taking all these things into consideration, we are justified, we think, in looking forward to the future of our road with strong feelings of hope, and do not doubt that the future will show that our expectations are not unfounded."

FALSE PRETENCES.—At an interim court before Judge Boswell, Andrew McKechnie, of Colborne, was brought up on a charge of obtaining a sum of money from one A. W. Graham, of St. Thomas, Ont., under false pretences. He pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to two months in gaol at hard labour.

SALES OF LAND.—On Saturday last, the Directors of the West Riding and Tp. Hamilton Union Agricultural Society decided to purchase the large field, ten acres, belonging to the Burnham estate, east of Victoria College, and bounded on the north and east by the railway and D'Arcy Street. The grounds are to be fitted up for agricultural show purposes, the necessary buildings being erected next year. The Directors have disposed of the late Agricultural grounds, south of the Arlington, to the Arlington Hotel Company; and we may expect before long to see, as an accomplished fact, the Public park to which we made reference

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, SEPT., 14, 1876.

BE WISE IN TIME.

'Tis wrong to defer preparation while the enemy is battering at the gates.

The great Liberal Conservative Party is at work day and night. Their leading men, Sir John, Alfred Boultbee, William McDougall and many more are perambulating the province appealing to the people to forgive former delinquencies, and imploring the Conservatives, and if they can, also induce Reformers, to return them to power.

The MAIL, and Conservative press every where, is publishing every word that falls from the Speakers' lips, and scattering their sayings, true or false, in every portion of the Dominion that they can reach.

What are Reformers doing? Are they satisfied to rest on their oars while such frantic efforts are being put forth by their adversaries? If they are so satisfied, then they act the part of foolish people, for even his reiterated and undenied statements are too often accepted by the unwary and unthinking who accept their continued repetitions as proof of their truthfulness.

Now that the harvest is over and farmers have time to consider these matters without encroaching on time that should be spent in their farming pursuits, may we not ask them to take a leaf out of the Conservative books and organize. It may be found necessary to hold a few meetings in these ridings to consult the people and address them on the political questions so often rehashed and dealt up by Conservatives, so that the electors may be without excuse in understanding the true state of public matters in the Dominion. If Sir John and Boultbee find it necessary and think it wise to call meetings to address the people on these questions, and if it be true that children of this world are often wiser in their generation than the true children, should not the leading members of the Reform party at once accept the lesson and improve on it?

The EXAMINER has brought this subject again and again before its readers, and would follow in the old footsteps by urging immediate and prompt action. The danger is not as threatening as the Conservatives would have the country believe. Still to be forewarned is to be forearmed.

Do Reformers desire the business of the country in the hands of men who doubled its indebtedness in the short space of five years. At Confederation our debt was $75,000,000, when Sir John resigned it was about $150,000,000.

Do the honest yeomen of the Dominion desire that men whose hands are still defiled with Sir Hugh Allan's $360,000 should be returned to office to involve the country in inextricable ruin and insolvency by an utter disregard of everything but the love of filthy lucre?

Do the electors desire to be governed by men of the Boultbee stripe who are a proverb everywhere?

Is there such indifference to public interests, and are men so wrapt up in their small affairs that they will make no effort to prevent the spread of error and misrepresentation on public questions?

We cannot so persuade ourselves, and therefore again urge organization of the Reform Party in both the East and West Ridings of this County. The formation of associations and the dissemination of correct information on all subjects attracting public attention just now should not be delayed. There will be a cry raised about Reform re-organization and Reform meetings and Reform fears. Let not these things trouble us. It is of more concern to be found doing our duty even though goaded toit by the almost superhuman attempts of the Conservatives to retract ideas of the people at picnics and public meetings.

Who is willing to take the lead in these things? Who is willing to risk the responsibility of letting things alone, on the grounds that Sir John is so well known that he can do no harm? He will be found the true friend of the country and of his party who boldly steps forward and commences organization at once.

The enemies have a power of concentration and organization that we do not possess. The sense of past defeat and the goadings of lost honor, together with a strong desire to wipe out the stains and shame of the Pacific Scandal combine to urge them on to frenzy. This is evident from the present unheard of labor in visiting every part of the Dominion to address the people. William Macdougall was in town on Monday. What errand was he sent on? It will be found hereafter that it was nothing less than to rally the party—and arouse them to action.

While Sir John, McDougall, Carling, Beatty Junior, Carrall, Boultbee, M. C. Cameron, Lauder, and all the lesser lights are compassing sea and land is no time for Reformers to be idle sitting in stolid disregard of the danger to our country which men, whose names have caused our fair and young dominion to stink in the noses of Statesmen of other countries and tarnished our glory and honor, are toiling night and day to re-establish the Macdonald-Tweed system of managing Canadian public business. A word to the wise is sufficient.

PICNICS IN POLITICS.

Sir John Macdonald's bitterest opponents have never denied him the possession of tact, far sightedness, and a power of both finding and using the means of effecting whatever objects happened to be paramount in his wily brain. His thorough knowledge of Tory character has been most amusingly shown of late by the cunning way in which he has gone to work to rouse the drooping spirits of his followers. No man knows better than he how essential good eating and drinking are to the success of a Tory propaganda. The calm, and almost holy sense of repletion, caused by a full stomach and followed by the not less pleasant experience produced by the beer and whisky for the unwashed, and the champagne for the chieftains, are the principal inducements to the Party of Prog to come forward and hear for the thousandth time an unsuccessful attempt at explaining away the Pacific scandal. Sir John was aware of this and bethought him of the Picnic as a means of overthrowing the government. Of course there have been Picnics before this season, and often in the Reform interests, but to Sir John Macdonald is due the credit of organizing the Picnic on a scientific basis. With a well filled inner man enthusiasm begins to rise among the truly "loil" and even the rambling harangues of Orton and Gibbs sound sensible to the gorged faithful. As a deadly political weapon the Picnic has been brought to a high state of perfection by Sir John. It has a wonderful double action, being extremely hurtful to his foes and at the same time pleasing and altogether delightful to his friends. The Pacific Railroad transactions of the Hon. Gentleman with Allan, McMullen and others, sometimes maliciously called the Pacific Scandal, drove him out of power, and he expects the Picnic to drive him back again. We know well that facts, logic, eloquence, are generally considered the most likely things to produce conviction to the popular mind, but Sir John has discovered that "beer and biscuits" are infinitely better and more efficacious with the class which he hopes to "enthuse." Those whom the contagious excitement of righteous indignation hurried into the Reform ranks in the election of 1874 are now being coaxed back into Toryism with the seductions of the festive Picnic. Like the ring master of and itinerant circus, the illustrious and favorite sun of the Conservative party is giving an exhibition of unparalelled attractiveness throughout the country. The street processions of the circus are even imitated, and the hero is led about with as much rejoicing, and of nearly the same nature as if he were P. T. Barnum or the King of Dahomey. You not only see the show but you are fed for a trifle and even at times introduced to the actors. Long live Sir John Macdonald and the Picnic with which he is so skilfully attempting to drive from office that old sober-sides the Hon. A. MacKenzie, who never would provide amusement for the people like the amiable Knight from Kingston.

THE PREMIER AT WATFORD.

The Hon. A. MacKenzie addressed his constituents at Watford, in the county of Lambton, on Friday last. There was a very large concourse of people and he received the most cordial welcome from them. His address occupied several hours in delivering and was heartily received and endorsed by all who heard him. The speech is one of the ablest that has been delivered in Canada since Confederation as it deals with all the questions involved in that Act as well as all the leading events since its inauguration, and completely refutes the charges brought by the Conservative "chief" against Mr. MacKenzie and his colleagues. The extraordinary course adopted by the Conservatives of going from county to county holding Picnics, where free from the presence of their opponents, they can indulge in misrepresentation and defamation, induced the Reformers of Lambton to invite the Premier to address his own constituents on the questions agitating the country, and very successfully has Mr. MacKenzie proved the falsity of the charges and the cowardice of his detracters in seeking to evade the responsibility of their utterances by refusing to make them in Parliament, where the accused and the accusers would be face to face.

It should not be forgotten that at Picnic parties there is, in general, freedom of of speech, and perhaps a liberty in quenching thirst, not permissible in Parliament, and to this may be attributed in some degree the disregard Sir John Macdonald manifests to be restrained by moral principles. This address of Mr. MacKenzie's will disprove the random statements made when under the influence of wine, or champagne perchance, and will place Public questions before the people in all the vividness of their reality that the most wily and cunning shall not be able to mislead the Public. The Reform Press should lose no opportunity of giving it in full to the Electors.

WHY THESE PICNICS?

Desirous of acquainting ourselves of all that is going on around us we have been reading the newspapers and find therein a great fuss about something. At Cobourg, Colborne, Fergus and other places, John A. Macdonald and his friends have been holding monster gatherings where political speeches have been made, and Alex. MacKenzie has addressed his friends in Lambton. Now we as a simple minded people desire to learn what all this is about. Sir John is a canny Scot and there must be something requiring the attention of all Canadians when he leaves his hiding place. The people of Peterboro ought to know what is wrong, and by proposing a question or two we might bring out a few thoughts to Canadians. Sir John speaks of clean hands, when did he wash them? When he said that they were clean, before, we all knew that they were not, they were filthy with another $10,000 of Sir Hugh Allan's money.

Is the moral law changed? It used to read thus: "Let the unclean forsake his ways," etc. But Sir John says he would take another $10,000 to corrupt the people, if the Conservatives but return him to power. Are they so lost to a sense of sin and their own shame that they would do so?

If in 1871 Sir John took $360,000 of Sir Hugh Allan's money to bribe the Electors to send his party back to Ottawa, if he returned to power how much might he again take to buy the retention of power? And we may ask if the Conservatives should place Sir John again at the head of the Government what would they not do? Is it the prosperity of the country or the sweets of office they seek? Sir John is an old man well stricken in years—are these jollifications, all over the country calculated to allay his troubled conscience, when the frailties of old age overtake him? Are his friends at dearees of his moral well-being as they are of appropriating the fat berths in the patronage of their chief?

REV. WILLIAM TAYLOR, D. D.

(From the Montreal Gazette, Sept. 8.)

The sad news reached the city yesterday of the death of the Rev. Dr. Taylor, which took place in Portland, after a short illness, yesterday morning. For over forty years the Rev. Dr. Taylor has filled one of the most prominent pulpits in this city, and though for the last ten years he had retired to a large extent from the actual work of the ministry, he nevertheless took an active interest in the business of the Church Courts of the denomination to which he belonged, and also in all the moral, social, and educational enterprises with which the welfare of our city is identified. In him two generations were united, for, while taking such interests in the present, he also had borne his part in a period of our history as a city in which his energy and zeal were felt on the side of truth and right. But few of his contemporaries of these early days survive him, for although there are not a few older men, amongst us, there are comparatively few who at such an early age were actively engaged in public and professional pursuits. Having due regard to the claims of his sacred office, he took but little active part in politics, but on temperance and other moral and social reforms he was ever a willing and effective speaker. There were stormy times in the earlier part of his ministry, and his strength of conviction and general force and firmness of character secured him many opponents, but his transparent integrity and earnest simplicity won the respect of all. He had many opponents, but no enemies in his public career. On the platform he has always been a power, for, of late years, respect for the man and the wisdom of his utterance made up for the abated fire and force of his youth. There was much in Dr. Taylor's personal appearance to arrest and command attention. He was over the middle height, of singularly graceful figure, with a military case and precision of movement. His face, like his figure, was fit study for an artist. We shall miss this well-known and much respected gentleman, as but few men could be missed. Dr. Taylor came to Canada with the pioneers of the Church, but unlike the late Dr. Thornton, of Oshawa, and the majority of the notable men of that time he did not go West, but found his work here, and he make his grave in his harvest field. And a rich harvest it has been, for no man has been more identified with the upbuilding of Presbyterianism in Lower Canada than he has been. He always was accorded a leading position in the Church Courts, and at the union of the U. P. and Free Churches as was by unanimous choice made Moderator of the first Assembly of the united body. While ever loyal to his own denomination, he was of a most catholic spirit, and rejoiced in fraternal intercourse with brethren of other Churches. As a preacher he was earnest and clear, and perhaps the best proof of this qualifications as a teacher and a pastor is the strength of that congregation, with the upbuilding of which he has been so long and so much identified. It is not generally known that our unassuming fellow-citizen was one of the best Hebraists of the Dominion. During his long ministry, he every day read a few chapters in his Hebrew Bible. He was known to, and in occasional correspondence with, European Oriental scholars. As a controversialist, he happily combined keenness and courtesy. In his old age, he did not forget his cunning, as his recent epistolatory encounter with the Globe and Archbishop Lynch abundantly testifies. His last public appearance of note was the preaching of the sermon before the Synod of Montreal, which gave rise to the controversy above referred to, and his last official act was his conducting the religious service at the funeral of Mrs. Tupper.

Dr. Taylor was the son of a Scotch farmer of Dunfreshire. Next March would have been the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. He was settled in Peebles before coming to Canada, where he had a successful ministry.

For about twenty years Dr. Taylor's health has been precarious, and for the last twelve years, by Erskine church being made a collegiate charge, he has been to a great extent released from the more arduous duties of his profession. Mrs. Taylor died about two years and a half ago, and three sons survive the Rev. Dr., one following the medical profession in Peterborough, and two being resident in this city.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

(From the Montreal Witness.)

On Wednesday afternoon, Erskine Church was filled with a large and representative congregation, on the occasion of the services attendant on the funeral of the late Rev. Dr. Taylor. The church was very neatly draped in black; the front of the pulpit and the railing in front of the choir seats were beautifully adorned with evergreens and immortelles, while the draping was extended up the front of the organ. Nearly all the Protestant clergymen of the city, and a large number of prominent citizens occupied the seats immediately in rear of those set apart for the mourners. The coffin was richly decorated with flowers. Among those present were Revv. L. Galis. G. Lang, Carmichael, Stafford, Lsiug, Ald. McLaren, Mr. Dakers, Mr Hutchinson, etc.

Rev. Dr. BLACK, of Erskine Church, conducted the opening services, and was followed by,

Rev. Dr. WILKES, who bore a feeling tribute to the memory of deceased. In him a standard bearer of the Church had fallen, but though the body of William Taylor lay before them, he had gone above to receive a victor's crown. The speaker having been intimate with him about 40 years, though not connected with his denomination, and in the absence of Rev. Dr. Jenkins, who had been detained in Toronto, would give some account of his ministry. It commenced after the ravages of cholera in Montreal—when the population was reduced to some 30,000—in Bruce's school-room. Subsequently the congregation removed to the old American Presbyterian Church and then to the edifice Lagauchetiere street. His ministry was clear in its enunciation of Divine truth. He was earnest and gave forth a distinct sound in respect to the cardinal truths of religion. He was one of our oldest temperance reformers, and an advocate of total abstinence, using the press and platform vigorously in its behalf. His Catholic spirit was early displayed in aiding to form a Ministerial Association which has continued to this day. Thirty seven years ago, he united with others in founding the French Canadian Missionary Society, proceeding on its behalf. He aided to secure an amended charter for McGill College, and in everything he undertook he persevered to the end. His noble presence calm and dignified demeanor, and generous impulses, combined with his elevated moral principle, caused him to be warmly meet in every walk of life.

Rev. DEAN BOND then offered up an impressive prayer, and after an anthem by the choir the procession formed. The pall bearers were; Rev. Dr. Douglas, Rev. G. Wells, Rev. Mr. Denovan, Rev. Mr. Dumoulin, Rev. Mr. Stevenson, and Rev. Mr. Baxter. These followed his family, three sons—Dr. Taylor of Peterboro, and Messrs. Peter and Alexander; subsequently came the ministers; members of session; elders; trustees and managers. The procession proceeded up Peel street and along Sherbrooke street. The funeral arrangements were very successfully executed by Mr. Armstrong, of Victoria Square.

The Premier at Watford

FULL REPORT OF HIS SPEECH.

(From the Globe.)

WATFORD Sept. 8.

The assemblage of the electors of the East Riding of Lambton to-day was a large and highly influential one, though of course it was not in the nature of a "demonstration" or a "picnic" being simply a meeting at which Mr. Mackenzie was expected to address his constituents on public affairs. The Premier, accompanied by a large number of friends from London, left that city by special excursion train on the Great Western Railway shortly after ten o'clock this morning. The fine band of the 7th Battalion was on board, and performed in an inspiring manner at the several stations. Additions were made to the party at Komoka, Strathroy, and Kerwood, so that a large number were on board when Watford was reached. In addition, a train from Sarnia brought a crowd from the west, and besides the townsfolk numbers drove in from the surrounding country. Watford was tastefully ornamented in honour of the Premier's visit by streamers and festoons. On Mr. Mackenzie alighting from the train, he was received with a rousing cheer and escorted to a carriage, a procession was formed, headed by the band of the Seventh and a local band, and Mr. Mackenzie was conducted to the Metropolitan Hotel, were luncheon was provided. Meanwhile the electors began to assemble in the drill-shed, were the speaking was to take place. The interior of the building had been tastefully decorated with evergreens and flags, and a number of appropriate mottoes such as "Fear God." "Honour the King." "Our best wishes follow thee," "Agriculture," "Cead Mille Failthe," and "Welcome" on one side a painted portrait of Lord Dufferin, with his Excellency's motto, "Per vias rectas." Over the platform, which had been erected for the convenience of the speakers and the reporters, were the royal arms, with the Scottish Lion and the Irish Harp on each side, the whole being surmounted by the "Union Jack," and the motto—"Cé Mar a'tha Sibh as Dubh."

Shortly after two o'clock, the procession which escorted the Premier from the hotel arrived at the drill-shed, which being already pretty full, was soon crowded to the doors. The cheering was most enthusiastic as Mr. Mackenzie entered and took his seat on the platform. The chair was occupied by Mr. Alexander. McGregor, president of the Reform Association of East Lambton; in addition to whom there were present Messrs. C. Southcherd, M. P. for North Middlesex; J. M. Williams, M. P. P. for Hamilton; P. Graham, M. P. P. for West Lambton; Col. Walker, London; W. Ireland, Sarnia, Warden of Lambton; W. Fleming, Mayor of Sarnia; D. Mackenzie, President of the West Lambton Reform Association; John Livingstone, Listowel; G. R. Pattullo, Secretary of the Reform Association of Ontario; Rev. Messrs Thompson, Sarnia; Doak, Watford; Haj, Forest; Abraham, Watford; Sutherland, Williams. Messrs. John McLean, Reeve of Watford: D. Fisbett, Reeve of Plympton; Eccles, ex-Warden; D Glass, London; J. R. Gemmill Sarnia Observer; Cornelius Bousquet: Dr. Billington, Strathroy, Dr. Harvey, Wyomieg; Dr. Smith, Komoka; Messrs. T. Cameron, London; W. Ruck; Ingham, Ottawa; Gordon, Melborne; Rose; Reeve of London; Sinclair, Registrar of Lambton; West, Reeve of Forest; Dale, Wyoming; Everest, Arkons, &c.

Some time was occupied in endeavouring to accommodate the audience with seats, while the band from London played several excellent pieces. At half past two the meeting was called to order.

The CHAIRMAN explained that the meeting had been called to hear an address from their much esteemed representative, the Hon. Alexander Macdonsie, who had not delivered an address in this place for four years.

He then read the following address:—

"To the Honourable Alexander Mackenzie, Premier of the Dominion of Canada.

"SIR.—We, the Reform Association of East Lambton, in behalf of your friends and constituents, most cordially welcome you on this your first visit to the eastern portion of the county since you have been called to preside over the Councils of our Dominion, which forms so important a part of the great Empire to which we belong, and is the brightest gem of all Great Britain's dependencies. During the long and intimate relationship which has existed between us as member and constituents we have ever had the strongest faith in your loyalty, wisdom, and integrity, and in your ability to manage the public affairs of this vast Dominion; and although we have felt the force of the financial depression which has lately swept over this and other countries, paralyzing trades and industries, yet we cannot in any manner hold you and your colleagues responsible for that which they could neither foresee nor prevent. We trust, however, we have nearly recovered from its injurious effects, which indeed have been far less severely felt in this than in any other part of the globe. We thank God that we live under a Government the social, political, and educational institutions of which are surpassed by none; the shadow of our laws affording protection alike to the highest type of the civilized man and the untutored savage. To the just administration of these laws in the peace, quietude, and general prosperity prevailing throughout our land. In Lord Dufferin, the representative of our gracious sovereign Queen, we recognize a gentleman of unswerving integrity and great ability, which fit him for the responsible position he now occupies. Like Alfred the Great, he makes himself acquainted with the manners, customs, and wants of the people over whom he rules. We trust he will return in safety from his present visit to our distant Province on the Pacific coast, and that good will result.

"We congratulate ourselves and the country generally upon having, in your person, a Minister of Public works whose practical experience must prove invaluable in the construction of our railroads and canals, more especially that gigantic enterprise the Pacific Railway, which will open up the great North-west, and develop its immense resources. We trust the Ministry, of which you are the head, will take such measures in the government of that country that the "Great Loan Land" will soon be a thing of the past, and that it may be peopled by a busy, industrious, and thrifty population, whose surplus products will be carried to feed the millions in the older and more densely populated countries of the East. We feel satisfied that you, with your associates, will loose no opportunity of forwarding and devising plans for the development of the field, forest, and mind, as we are eminently a producing people.

"While speaking this afternoon to this vast audience, who have assembled to hear your long-promised address to your constituents, we believe that nothing will occur to lessen the high opinion we have formed of you and your colleagues; and whether your term as Premier be long or short, whether you resign the reins of power to others in the ordinary course or be ejected by the inscrutable will of Providence, such is our estimate of your character, that when you pass from power there will be no stain or blot on your escutcheon—no taint to mar the fair fame of the Hon. Alexander Mackenzie.

"ALEX. MCGREGOR, President. "W. P. MCLAREN, Sec., pro. tem.

"Watford, Sept. 8th, 1876."

Hon. MR. MACKENZIE, on rising, was received with loud and hearty cheering. He said:—Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen,—In the first place permit me to return to you and the Association which you represent my cordial thanks for the very pleasant and kind address which you have presented to me to-day. It is over fifteen years since the relationship spoken of in that address commenced by your electing me as your representative in Parliament, and from that time to the present I have been elected either by acclamation or by increasing majorities, and although there are doubtless many present and although there are in this county a very large number of Conservative gentlemen opposed to myself and my Administration, yet I hope that as their representative, as well as the representative of those whom you especially speak for to-day, there has been nothing in my career as your representative which will bring reproach, either upon the county of Lambton or myself. (Cheers.) It is quite true that I may not be able to do all that I should wish to be able to do, it may be that I have not done all that I ought to have done, but I have at least all that I could. If you are pleased as you have hitherto been to be satisfied with that, my relationship with the county shall continue to be one of the most pleasant that any representative in Parliament in Canada can possibly enjoy. Referring for a moment to the concluding remarks of your address, I shall take good care that, whether in office or out of it, there shall be nothing laid to my charge by any possibility that an honest man at least should be ashamed of. (Cheers) I really feel ashamed at not being able to say that you were mistaken in stating that it is four years since I addressed my constituents in this quarter. I had no idea it was so long, but I suppose you must be right, and I can only offer my humble apologies for having—in the pursuit, however, of public affairs—as your representative, been so apparently negligent of the good opinion of my friends in the neighbourhood of Watford. All I can say in excuse is that it is your own fault: because, if you had not sent me to Parliament, I should not have been Prime Minister, and should not have had the opportunity to stay away so long as I have this time. (Laughter and cheers.) I am glad to find so very large an audience present to-day at what I intended to be simply a meeting of my own constituents in this quarter of the county of Lambton. I promised last fall, when I visited the western section and spoke there, to take an opportunity, immediately after the prorogation of the House last spring, to visit the east side. The pressure of public affairs has been such as to prevent my fulfilling that promise until the present time, but I hope, if I am not able to be present with you, I may be able to show that I have not allowed either the interests of my own county and constituency to suffer, or those of the larger constituencies in which you and I have a large interest. (Cheers.) I shall now proceed Mr. Chairman, to deal with some of the public questions of the day, and I propose to refer very briefly, in the first place, to the events of three years ago, though I shall not deal at the present moment with the immediate cause of the dissolution of the late Administration. I understood the task of forming an Administration as a partial when Canada was anything, politically speaking but a prosperous state. The late Government, for the purpose apparently—because no other reason can be given—of sustaining themselves in power, had cultivated most sedulously sectional animosities and difficulties, and claims of every conceivable kind, in all parts of the Dominion. Previous to the formation of the Confederation now existing I was an ardent friend of that measure. I gave my hearty support to the Government which had it in charge to bring it to perfection. I desired after it was completed to afford the Government that immediately succeeded Confederation every possible assistance in maturing the new political system, conceiting that it was as once in the interests of the country and in the interests of the peoples of the Empire that no man holding any position which would enable him to influence public affairs should with hold his support in that abstract and general sense which is perfectly understood amongst political men from the Government of the day, and for years I gave my earnest, hearty support to a Government to which I was politically entirely opposed, which I believe to be composed of men who had not the interest of the country at heart. Still, they commanded a large majority in Parliament, obtained at the general election in 1867, and I was bound, as a member of that Parliament, though in Opposition, to give my humble efforts, so far as possible, towards the promotion of the general welfare of our Confederation; and I have no doubt that I was amply justified by public opinion, even in the ranks of my own party, in taking this course. But, when we took office, how were we met? From that time to the present moment it has been one continuous storm of obloquy poured from Sir John Macdonald's newspaper, as well as from his own lips, and from those of every man of any prominence politically, who marches in his train, from Mr. William Macdougall down to Mr. Alfred Boultbee. (Cheers and laughter.) It is true the rank and file marching after the hon gentleman do not possess much weight in this county, and in some sections something less than even weight, but such has been the course they have pursued, although they knew that by their course they had prompted a rebellion to the North-west territories, though they were when we assumed office still cultivating that rebellion. Why, the developments in regard to that have been of the most extraordinary character, but they are not referred to in recent pase-prandial deliverance, even when they might be prompted by indisposition. (Laughter.) Does any one fail to remember how, at the time in 1872 when Sir John Macdonald was running his last general election which he won, in his speech at Peterboro', and in other speeches, he wished he could only lay his hands upon that murderer in the North-west? Does any one fail to remember that he told those assembled multitudes at various places in Ontario that but for the action of Blake and Mackenzie in offering a reward of $5,000 for his apprehension he would have had him captured, and tried, and executed before now? But at the very time—we did not know it then, but we have learned it since—he sent $1,000 to liesse men to enable them to get out of the way, and got Mr. Archibald, the Governor of Manitoba, to get 3,000 more to pension them while they were out of the way. (Cheers.) The policy of that Government set class against class all over the country, set creed against creed. We had a religious and political war going on in the North-west, almost a religious war in the east in consequences of the Separate School difficulty in New Brunswick, and the most violent efforts in the Province of Quebec to range the Catholics, as a body, against the Protestants, as a body. We had a general belief that the public men of this country were not such as should be entrusted with the management of the affairs of state, and long before the Pacific Scandal matter came out at all Sir John's Ministry was doomed. (Cheers) The hon gentleman is parading a sort of political circus through the country at the present time. (Laughter.) It is very easy making speeches at a public meeting, but it is a very different thing to make them in Parliament when you are face to face with your opponent. (Cheers.) How is it we never heard those valiant remarks which are made at these gatherings made before our faces? But now he is boasting that he has Ontario at his back, because he has been addressing a few public meetings. Why, in 1872, when he had the advantage of all Sir Hugh Allan's money, and the advantage of the lease of power which he had been boasting he held for twenty years, when he had all the officeholders in the country on his side, with only the little ability he says I have to oppose, succeeded as leader of the Ontario Opposition in beating him in his own Province by a majority of twenty. (Cheers.) But he will find when he comes to try conclusions again upon the ground that he has now taken that he has missed his mark if he thinks the people of Ontario are such absolute fools as he apparently takes them to be. Then, sir, another matter which involved the most serious consequence to this county was the extraordinary bargain which the hon. gentleman and his Administration made with British Columbia regarding the Pacific Railway. I shall refer fully to the present position of that great work in a future part of in my speech, but in order to show the state in which we found the question I shall now briefly advert to a few facts in connection with it. We were all willing and anxious to have British Columbia brought into Confederation. I myself felt as anxious as any man in that Assembly could possible be—anxious to do all that might fairly be asked by a small distant community like British Columbia in order to accomplish that result, because I believed, as I now believe, that all British North America ought to be under the Canadian flag—anxious because this outport stationed on the Pacific was a British colony, standing alone in a position where it might act, if occasion required, as the defender of British American interests on the Pacific coast. I felt that it was a community we should have with us, that we might march on together in that career of prosperity which I believe to be the lot of the British race remaining under the British flag on this continent. I pointed out this in the session of 1871, when the British Columbia terms were being passed through the House that the extravagant terms proposed to that colony should not be sanctioned by us, because it would be impossible for us to carry them out if made. I believe when a Government, a municipality, or an individual solemnly undertakes under bond and seal to do anything in the shape of a bargain, the engagement should be fulfilled and completed if within their power to do it. I pointed out that we were undertaking to do what the British Columbians had never asked. In the first place British Columbia simply asked that we should engage to build a waggon road across the continent to meet the western confines of the eastern settlements; that we should survey a route for a railway, and when it was surveyed that we should expend not less than one million dollars a year on it. But Sir John Macdonald and his Government practically said to them, "Why, gentlemen, you don't ask near enough; we will bind ourselves neck and crob to give you a railway from Lake Nipissing to Esquimalt, on the Pacific, within ten years, and we will complete the surveys within two years." Now Sir, there is not a man in his senses engineer, farmer, or mechanic, who does not know that that would be impossible of accomplishment. (Hear, hear.) I, as leader of the Opposition, pointed this out; I went to Sir George Cartier and others and begged them not to put such an Act as that on the statue book, and we worked up such a feeling against it that it was with the utmost difficulty that they carried these terms through. Why did they want to carry them through? I was willing and anxious, as I said before, to bring in this and other Provinces, but I was opposed to doing it by agreeing to terms which were obviously impossible to be carried out, and which the Government of that day must have known to be so. We were willing to agree to those terms? I believe it was a deliberate game on their part to buy up the votes of all that distant Province, no matter what future misery and heart-burning it might cause to the British Columbians and us no matter how much of your and their money might benefit in an other prize which could not be carried out.

FISHING.—Fishing in Chemong Lake is very poor this season. It is said to be occasioned by the large quantities caught there during the open season of last winter.

PERSONAL.—John D. Armour, Q. C., was in town on Monday. It is said that he is going to defend Jeaper Ryan for the murder of his wife, at the Assizes in October.

A FINE CHICKEN.—A gentleman in town informs us that he has a Light Brahma chicken of his own raising, only five months old, that weighs seven and a half pounds. Who can beat this?

THE GOLDEN-EYE.—The Steamer Golden-Eye met with an accident on Saturday, by which she broke a shaft. She is undergoing repairs and will resume her regular trips to-morrow.

FINED.—Mr. T. Lyle, of Ashburnham, was fined $20 and costs on Thursday last, for selling liquor at the Regatta, and Mr. John Smith, of Indian River, was fined $20 and costs for selling liquor on Sunday.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of George Nick Esq., Reeve of Verulam, with sheds and stables was burned on Monday last. The contents were saved. Loss about $2,000. Insured in the Beaver of Toronto.

FIRE.—On Monday night about twelve o'clock, an old building, south of the Episcopal Church on Hunter Street, was consumed by fire It was undergoing repairs at the time. The loss is not heavy, and is covered by insurance.

GAS.—We have had several complaints during the week that all the gas lamps are not lighted up at night—just the principal ones.—This is not right if it is the case, as the town pay for them all to be lighted, except on moonlight nights.

WANDERING WILLIE was in town on Monday. Is he making arrangements for a picnic in this County, or organizing an excursion to Washington? His stay was not long; his errand was only understood by the faithful members of the L. C. Club.

VITAL STATISTICS.—The number of births, marriages and deaths registered in town during the Month of August was as follows:—Births, 9; marriages, 4; deaths, 10. We think that the Clergy and Medical profession neglect their duties in these matters.

PERSONALS.—Mr. J. Moore wife and sister, and Messrs. Joseph Tully of North Monaghan, Thos. Stoddard and Sylvanus Davies of Smith, left on Friday last for the Centennial.—Mr. A. H. White has returned from Manitoba with the intention of taking up his residence here.

CRICKET.—A match was played at Haliburton on Monday with Fenelon Falls, the latter winning by 113 runs; score—Fenelon Falls, 61 and 128; Haliburton, 32 and 64. For Fenelon Falls, Logan made 7 (not out) and 66; McConell 24 and 16; D. Carson 4 and 24; E. Fitzgerald 22 and 1. For Haliburton, Read made 13 and 4, and Dever 3 and 13.

INSOLVENT SALE.—The sale of the Insolvent estate of Mr. P. D. Doran commenced yesterday, by Mr. A. B. Campbell, the purchaser. As it was bought at a very great reduction, look out for bargains, as the stock must be disposed of in about thirty days. The consignment consists of materials especially suitable for the coming fall and winter dry goods trade.

CHURCH SOCIAL.—As announced, the Social to be held in aid of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, came off on Tuesday, but on account of the breaking of a shaft on the "Golden-Eye" the party were conveyed by the "Whistle-Wing" and was not as great a success as would have been had it been otherwise. We understand another Social for the same object will come off shortly to Cove's Landing.

BUSH FIRES.—Very extensive bush fires are now raging around Fraserville, and a large amount of property has been destroyed already. Mr. Robt. Goodfellow has suffered loss to the extent of $2,000, and several others in the vicinity are having valuable property destroyed.—The want of rain to extinguish the fires that are raging in the country in many parts is felt by a large number of settlers, especially those in the back township.

APPRECIATION.—The ladies of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church of this town, presented their esteemed Pastor, Rev. Mr. Torrance with a very fine and costly silk gown and cassock.—Mr. J. M. Smith, in a short but neat address made the presentation, on behalf of the donors, to which the reverend gentleman made a feeling reply. The gown is a valuable one, having, we understand, been imported from Edinburgh at a cost of $100.

AGRICULTURAL SHOW.—The annual Agricultural Show of the Townships of Dummer and Douro will be held in the agricultural Hall Warsaw, on Thursday, 5th of October. The Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society will hold their annual show in Lakefield on Thursday, October 12th. Central Exhibition at Port Hope on September 26th, 27th and 28th. West Riding, at Peterboro' on October 4th & 5th Otonabee, at Keene, on October 6th.

OFF THE TRACK.—The evening train did not arrive here till 10 o'clock on Wednesday evening last owing to the train running off the track about four miles south of Lindsay. The Lindsay Post says:—"About an eighth of a mile of track was torn up. A number of the passengers walked back to Lindsay, and the others were carried on the engine to Omemee. The debris was cleared away and the cars righted about one o'clock Thursday morning.

PERSONALS.—R. A. Morrow, Esq., has returned from a lengthened stay in Europe, looking well....John Hall, Esq., and Lady of Lakefield, have returned from a tour Eastward, where he was on a trip for pleasure.....Mr. R. Innes, of the firm of Hall, Innes & Co., has returned from Europe, where he has been making purchases of goods for the fall and winter trade. Mr. Innes is looking well....Dr Walter, of Rochester, our old "sport" has again come to Canada, and, we understand, purposes emigrating to our back waters, where he has spent so many happy days.

ACCIDENTS.—An exchange says, the season for drowning is now nearly over, and threshing machine accidents will be in order for some time. Let those who use threshing machines ask none to assist them but careful, thoughtful men; keep all blunderers off the ground; let the owners of machines sternly prohibit all jesting and fooling while the machine is in motion; let no loose ends of clothing be worn by any one engaged. It is the duty of the owners of machines to command the men, and to attend to everything which may insure safety. There are hundreds of persons destroyed every year by threshing mills through thoughtlessness, carelessness and inexperience.

THAT DOG.—Some cruel, wantonly malicious fellow, not friendly to public criticism of the remarks of members of the Town Council, lately attached, to the door-knob of one of our contemporaries, a dead canine. The man of the quill takes the joke well, and insinuates that some one of the City Fathers is missing, and that perhaps his spirit has taken possession of the body of the dead 'Dawg.' As it is merely a question of the relationship of animal matter, outsiders may quietly await the decision of the learned as to the spirit that animated the malicious fellow who was guilty of placing the dead dawg where he did. And whether it was intended to represent a City Father, or merely intended as a fitting receptacle for the departed spirit of him who could disrespectfully insinuate that the relationship of the Misses Amigas to some of our Councillors was so close that the one was scarcely distinguishable from the other "Where, O where! is the little dog gone?"

Housekeepers will find the best value in Groceries, &c., at M. COLLINS', next door to Hall's & Davidson's Hardware Store.

WHAT THE COUNTRY PAPERS DO.—An exchange combats with considerable vigor the argument that the city papers are cheaper and better than the country papers because they give more columns of reading for the money.—Do the city papers, it asks, ever give any home news? Never. Do they contain notices of your schools, churches, meetings and improvements, and hundreds of other local matters of interest, which your local paper publishes? Not an item Do they ever say a word calculated to draw attention to your county and its numerous thriving towns, and aid their enterprise? Not a word And yet there are men who take such contracted views of this matter that unless they are getting as many square inches of reading matter in their own paper as they do in a city paper, they are not getting the worth of their money. It reminds us of a person who took the largest pair of boots in the box, simply because they cost the same as the pair much smaller that fitted him.—Stratford Beacon.

POLICE COURT.—On Saturday, the 9th Inst., L. F. Carpenter charged Thos. W. Rose with assault, and said: I was in defendant's lot digging potatoes, when defendant came there I heard his wife say not to do that, and I saw him trying to take out the pump handle; he failed to do that and then took up a club as thick as my wrist and about two and a half feet long. He came at me with it, and his wife ran and told him not to strike me. I said I would go out and not to strike me. He struck me several times, and kicked me and tore my vest off. He followed me over the fence to the wagon and choked me, but I don't think he struck me with the club. I told him that I was put there by Mr. Stapleton, and had authority to be there. Mr. Anthony Parent gave evidence similar to the above. Mr. Stapleton said that he had put Mr. Carpenter there to harvest the potatoes under an execution, and that the potatoes were advertised for sale. Mr. Scott appeared for defendant, and admitted that an assault had been committed outside of the fence, but he had witnesses to prove to the contrary what the plaintiff had given, regarding what had taken place inside of the fence. Plaintiff was fined $10, and $8.75 costs....ROBBING GARDENS.—Thos. Bradbura charged a lad named Thomas McAlveny with stealing apples out of his garden. The boy admitted the charge, but on account of Mr. Bradburn not appearing against him, the P. M. after warning him let him go, after he had been in the lock-up about four hours.

BREVITIES.—There was another fight in town on Chambers' Street on Monday afternoon between two young men under the influence of "Paddy's Eye-water"....The Young Men's Christian Association Rooms are in the new town hall....Marriage has been recently defined as a "prodigal desire on the part of a young man to pay some young woman's board"....The train left this morning with the Niagara excursionists....Fall and winter goods are arriving in large quantities....Hounds are considered the most useful dog at present, as numbers of them are daily going north to hunt the deer....Two young men belonging to town captured 29 fine black bass at Youngs' Point, on Monday last, in about an hour, some of them weighing as high as 5lbs....A comfortable evening's enjoyment was disturbed to some of our citizens who were camped down the river a short time ago, by the presence of an animal of the male persuasion who took possession of their camp in spite of the threats of our brave men, and they were obliged to seek repose on the limb of a tree which projected over the water until daylight dawned, when their enemy was satisfied. They returned to terra firma after his disappearance, vowing vengeance on him if they had a gun....The Peterborough Troop of the Durham Light Cavalry will meet for their annual drill on Monday next, the 18th day of September, in the Agricultural grounds....The evenings are very cool now....The coolest thing out—ice on the sidewalk....There was a meeting to be held at the Huffman House last night to organize a Foot Ball Club....The 57th Battalion was inspected yesterday afternoon.

LUMBER TRADE.—An Ottawa report says the lumber trade is improving slightly.—Large quantities of lumber are being shipped to the American market.

THE PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.—The total number of entries for this year's Provincial Exhibition of horses are 778; last year, 335; of cattle, this year 471; last year 269; of sheep, this year 792, last year 473; of hogs, this year 295, last year 177.

$5,000 LIBEL SUIT.—A $5,000 libel suit has been entered against the MONETARY TIMES of Toronto, by Young, McNaughton & Co., of Montreal, the alleged libel being contained in the statement published in a June number of the paper that the above firm had started up in Hamilton a haberdasher named Liddel, and whose failure was the cause of the reference.

IMPORTATION OF CANADIAN CATTLE.—A late English paper says:—The trade in Canadian horses and cattle bids fair to affect the home market, as it is increased in importance. Yesterday the Dominion steamer "Dominion" landed at Liverpool 110 very fine beasts, in splendid condition. The "Dominion" also landed three thorough-bred, nine harness and nine cart horses, all very fine. The last importation of these horses brought, by auction, from 75 to 100 guineas each.

COLDS produce catarrh, catarrh produces laryngitis, bronchitis, and consumption. The slightest cold therefore tends toward consumption, and especially is this the case where there is a scrofulous constitution or tendency. Hence, how important that the cold or catarrh, either acute or chronic, should be arrested and subdued at once. For this purpose take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It is unnecessary to add testimonials, as where once tried it recommends itself. It is sold by druggists and dealers in medicines.

TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA.—Meetings have lately been held in several cities of the Dominion with a view of establishing a direct trade between Canada and Australia. Arrangements are being made for exhibiting Canadian manufactures and products at the exhibition to be held at Sydney, Australia, in April next.—Several of our manufacturers, from information gained from Commissioners and others at Philadelphia; and after carefully comparing Canadian and American goods of the class exported to Australia have arranged for shipment of goods and representatives with sample goods have been sent to that country seeking orders for our manufactures. A lively interest is being taken in the matter, and a desire to co-operate in developing this new venture is being expressed by manufacturers in our leading cities and towns. But a short time to prepare for sending the articles intended for exhibition at Sydney remains, as they should be dispatched not later than the middle of October, so that arrangements should be made without delay.

NAPANEE, SEPT. 9.—The Hon. A. Crooks Minister of Education, paid an official visit to Napanee to-day by special invitation of the Teachers' Association of this county. He was the guest of Judge Wilkinson. At 10 o'clock a number of carriages containing the County Judge, J. Hagle, the Warden, Mayor Williams, the County Inspectors of Prince Edward and this county, Mr. Striker, M. P. P., and others, escorted the honourable gentleman to the High School building, which was finely decorated for the occasion. There an address was presented by the Teachers' Association, and a number of questions of educational importance discussed. The chair was occupied by Mr. Burrows, the Inspector. In the afternoon a public meeting was held in the Town Hall, with John Hagle, Esq., the Warden, in the chair. A lengthy and interesting speech was delivered by Mr. Crooks which was received with much satisfaction. a large number of them present representing most sections of the county. At a later stage of the meeting a resolution was discussed in regard to the abolition of the present system of trustee boards, and substituting therefor one board for each township. A lively discussion ensued, and a vote taken strongly favouring the present system.

Is there anything wrong in the Town Council?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Whenever a whole Council is accused of being led by one man, we must infer one of two things, viz:—That the whole body of Councillors are lacking in intelligence or common discernment, or they are a set of knaves. Well, yes! we might infer that that one man is a pretty clever fellow when he can successfully make tender men follow his beck or nod. Now as we know that there are some men of good repute in the Council, and well spoken of, Mr. Stevenson who does the lobbying must be cleverer than they, or they must not be so far-seeing as the reporters who take notes of what is going on.

To give Mr. Stevenson credit for leading a whole Council, gives him credit for an influence that very few men possess, unless on the ground of the venality of a Council or their cowardice. Our City Fathers must see to it that no man appropriate to himself the honor and sagacity that is their due. Mr. Stevenson's accusers are somewhat dull of apprehension indeed, if they cannot see that their abuse of him only raises him in public estimation. Any man who can successfully lead twelve Councillors, deserves a high niche in the temple of Municipal fame. He must be clever indeed. Does envy seek to belittle him? When did his defamers become impressed with the evil he is doing? Did Mr. Stevenson stand in the way of his defamers' preferment lately?

Thanking you for trespassing on your valuable space,

I remain,
IN SEARCH OF LIGHT.

Sept. 11th, 1876.

COUNCIL.—The Council met Aug. 31st. All the members present. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. A complaint was made by Wm Taylor against James Stabler, overseer of highways, for deviating the natural course of the water on his road division so as to injure his, Taylor's, property in con. 8. Councillors Montgomery and Fitzgerald reported that they had examined the premises and considered that if the cut was continued a small distance further it would be a considerable improvement to the road. Mr. Montgomery was instructed to have the cut continued to the necessary distance. A By-law to provide for levying a rate of three mills in the dollar to meet the sums required by the Council of the county of Peterborough, and one half of a mill in the dollar to liquidate the expenses of the Municipality, and a By-law to provide for levying the following sums on the several school sections in the township, that is to say: on No. 1, $320, No. 2, $533, No. 3, $325, No. 4, $330, No. 5, $20, No. 6, $230, No. 7, $400, No. 8, $160, No. 9, $190, No. 10, $220, No. 11, $240, received their several readings and were passed. PICNIC.—The Good Templars of Balsam Grove Lodge held their annual Picnic on the steamer Golden-Eye to Hastings on Wednesday last. The day was fine and a very large crowd, about 250, turned out with them to enjoy a sail on the beautiful new steamer. The party returned home early after having spent a most enjoyable time and were apparently well pleased with the trip. We would say to those who are in doubts as to where to go for a Picnic, take a trip on the Golden-Eye to Hastings, as it is one of the popular places for excursions. The members of Balsam Grove Lodge, I.O.G.T. visited Rescue Lodge of the same Order on Friday evening last and found the Lodge in a very prosperous condition. The entertainment was very good. Bro. Kindred deserves especial mention for his fine address. We wish them every success.—COM.

—ELECTRICITY—

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil, Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and find it to equally, as good for horse as for man."—A. Hayden, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Russan, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. N. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. Mr Mayhew of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

DEAR SIR:—

We are happy to inform you that we have been so fortunate as to Secure as Cutter,

Mr. J. O. Madison,

A gentleman whose name is familiar to the trade of both the United States and Canada.

MR. MADISON is celebrated as the Inventor of a system of Garment Cutting which has been adopted by thousands of the leading men of the craft, and the demand for which is rapidly growing. For the last few years he has devoted his time to giving instructions to cutters on both sides of the lines. This has kept him almost constantly on the road, and the fatigue of travelling was rapidly telling on his health. Desiring, therefore, to give up travelling, and feeling unable to stand the hurry and overwork of cutting in a large city, he accepted the liberal salary we were able to pay and concluded to settle in our town.

MR. MADISON is in receipt of a considerable amount yearly from a Tailoring Institute in Chicago, over which he has control, where cutters are instructed according to his system, this amount together with what we pay him makes a handsome income.

MR. MADISON is able to fit any person without trying the garment on before finished, and can suit the most fastidious as well as those who are less particular. Such a man was needed in Peterborough and we have no doubt will be appreciated.

As we have an Educator of the city men here, there will no longer be any necessity for any gentleman to send his order to the city to secure superior garments. We can equal in style and cut, any work produced on the continent.

We are, &c.,

The Lady and the Flower.

(From the Japanese.)

There was a sweet flower, red and white,
That filled the garer with delight.
Dropped in soft showers the sunbeams rain;
Joy bounded through each teeming vein.
Soone the glad sun, and round it rolled
His quickening heat in waves of gold.
A lady from her chamber came,
As I watched its bells in beauty flame.
Each jewsied branch she closely examed.
Then bore the brightest in her hand.
Across the green she gayly sped,
And, smiling, to herself she said:
"Of flowers that bloom, or birds that fly,
Not one is half so bright as I."
Then from the sun to grateful gloom,
She passed into the fragrant room,
Took down the mirror from its place,
And gazed on her own lovely face.
Close to her cheek then held the flower,
Still sprinkling with a silver shower.
And softly murmured: "Eyes that shine
Like crystals rosy lips are mine.
The foolish flower can never vie
With this fair face—so sweet and shy."
Her husband viewed the pretty scene—
The blossom in its robes of green.—
The smiling girl in silken dress
Rejoicing in her loveliness.
And fain the thrill to monarchs known,—
The darling vision was his own.
Hearing his merry laugh, she turned,
And asked with blush that brightly burned,
"Which is more beautiful?" a smile
Rippling around her lips the while.
A roguish light was in his eye,
And jestingly he made reply.
To draw into some sunny stride
His dear, vain, jealous little wife.
"The flower a thousand times," he cried,
"Ah, would that it could be my bride.
Fair as an angel from above!
My soul is one wild sea of love."
An angry flush swept o'er her brow;
"What think you of your beauty now?"
She said, then dropped the blossoms sweet,
And crushed them with her dainty feet.
Tis for her, who every hour,
Is jealous—even of a flower!

USEFUL RECIPES.

Blackberry Pudding.—One quart of blackberries, one cupful of molasses, one dessert-spoonful of soda, a little salt, and flour enough to make a thick batter. Boil in a bag from one and one-half to two hours, or steam in a mold.

Another Pudding.—One pint of milk, two eggs, a pinch of salt, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, and half as much soda, (or two spoonfuls of baking powder), sifted with enough flour to make a stiff batter. Stir in one pint of berries. Steam one hour in buttered dish or mold.

Blackberry Cake.—Claims a place on the teatable, and is made with two eggs, one teacupful of rich, sour milk, or thin, sour cream, one teaspoonful of soda, one or two cupfuls of sugar, a little salt, and flour to make a stiff batter. Stir in one, two or three teacupfuls of blackberries; the quantity of of sugar and soda depends on the quantity and quality of the fruit.

Blackberry Flummery.—Stew three pints of berries with one of sugar. To a teacupful of ground rice, arrow-root or corn-starch, add enough water or soften it (or good flour will do). When the berries have stewed about fifteen minutes, stir in the rice, and continue stirring in till thick. Eat cold with sweetened cream. It will keep two days.—Country Gentleman.

Ammonia.—No housekeeper should be without a bottle of spirits of ammonia for besides its medical properties, it is invaluable for household purposes. It is nearly as useful as soap, and its cheapness brings it within the reach of all. Put a teaspoonful of ammonia in a quart of warm soap, suds, dip a cloth in it, and go over your soiled paint, and see how rapidly the dirt will disappear; no scrubbing will be necessary. It will cleanse and brighten wonderfully. To a pint of hot suds, add a teaspoonful of the spirits, dip in your forks and spoons, or whatever you have to clean, rub with a soft brush, and then finish with a chamois skin. For washing windows and mirrors, it has no equal It will remove grease spots from every fabric, without injuring the garment. Put on the ammonia nearly clear; lay blotting paper over, and set a hot iron on it for a moment. Also a few drops in water will cleanse and whiten laces and muslins beautifully. A few drops in a bowl of water, if the skin be oily, will remove all greasiness and disagreeable odours. Added to a foot-bath, it entirely absorbs all noxious smells; and nothing is better to remove dandruff from the hair. For cleaning hair and nail brushes, it is equally good. For heart-burn and dyspepsia, the aromatic spirits of ammonia is especially prepared; ten drops of which taken in a wine glass water will give relief. For house plants, five or six drops to every pint of water, once a week, will make them flourish. It is also good to cleanse plant jars. So be sure and keep a bottle of it in the house, and have a glass stopper as it eats away corks.—Sel.

To Remove Freckles.—Scrape horse-radish into a cup of cold sour milk; let it stand twelve hours, strain and apply two or three times a day. Or mix lemon juice, one ounce; pulverized borax, one quarter drachm; keep a few days in a glass bottle, then apply occasionally.

Tomato Salad.—Take ripe tomatoes and cut them in thin slices; sprinkle over them a small quantity of finely, chopped green onions; add salt, pepper, vinegar, and oil, if liked. The oil should be in proportion of three tablespoonfuls to one of vinegar. Serve with any roast meat.

Stuffed Tomatoes.—Get them as large and firm as possible; cut out a round place in the top of each and scrape out all the soft parts; mix with stale bread-crumbs, corn, onions, parsley, butter, pepper and salt; chop very fine and fill the tomatoes carefully; bake in a moderately hot oven; put a little butter in the pan, and see that they do not burn or become dry.

How to Select Meats.—An English journal gives the following hints on this subject:—"Good and wholesome meat should be neither of a pale rosy or pink color, nor of a deep purple. The first denotes the diseased condition the last proves the animal has died a natural death. Good meat has more of a marble look, in consequence of the branching of the veins which surround the adipose cells. The fat especially of the inner organs, is always firm and suety, and never moist, while in general the fat from diseased cattle is flabby and watery, and soreoften resembles jelly or boiled parchment. Wholesome meat will always show itself firm and elastic to the touch, and exhibit no dampness, while bad meat will appear soft and moist, in fact often more wet, so that the liquid substances run out of the blood when pressed hard. Good meat has very little smell, while unsound meat has a disagreeble, cadaverous smell, and diffuses a certain medicinal odor. This can be distinctly perceived by cutting the meat through with a knife and smelling the blade or pouring warm water over it. Lastly, bad meat has the peculiarity that it shrinks considerably in the boiling; wholesome meat rather swells, and does not lose an ounce in weight.

Avoid annoyance; be cautious and kindly. It is not safe to trample upon so humble a thing as a bit of orange peel.

One of the Testimonials!

From Dr Duncan McCallum, Montreal—
I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but three applications of Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured

I offer this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of that genuine article

SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcholic spirits; but the Special Medicine is more especially recommended as an enabling cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency and all diseases that follow as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first brought by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no [illegible] is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood, stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their regular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the disordered action or remove the obstruction which causes it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

The superiority of these Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many of the factitious fruit flavors now in the market. They are not only true to their names, but are prepared from fruits of the best quality, and are so highly concentrated that a comparatively small quantity only need be used.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

FULL REPORT OF HIS SPEECH.

(From the Globe.)

WATFORD Sept. 8.

Unless then I characterize them as idiots who could have no motive at all, I can only come to the conclusion that their motive was the one I have just stated. (Hear, hear.) Well, sir, at the time we assumed office the house had already been broken. They were bound to complete the survey and have the road all located by the 20th of July, 1872. They refused from the day of the commencement of the ten year period, four months after the time when the survey should have been completed, and there was absolutely not a single mile of the road located, and yet the Mr. McDonald was not out of office three months when he passed an act to aid the British Columbia people because we did not keep the bargain. This may seem to you to be incredible. It would be incredible if several of my colleagues were then Sir John Macdonald; but when you have got beside him as long as I have, nothing will seem incredible in the way of political ingratitude and marvellous acts of [illegible] purpose on the part of that hon. gentleman. [illegible] Now, sir, what he did for British Columbia was this: [illegible] on the day, I think, that the bargain he made was published four months before he went out of power. Why, we had a formal protest lodged in the Dominion Government archives by the British Columbian Government of that day, which, as you all know, was entirely devoted to himself, though of course still more devoted to British Columbia. Its members had been working in perfect harmony with Sir John and his friends up to the moment, yet though they are disappointed in the railway, they say it's all Mackenzie's fault; he alone is to blame, and Sir John is "the white-haired boy." (Laughter.) Yes, and a Senator from British Columbia actually stated at a meeting the other day that if Sir John Macdonald had been left in power he did not care how long it would take to build the railway. (Laughter.) This same gentleman denounced the last session because, he did not keep the terms of the agreement. I mention these facts to show what we had to contend with when we assumed the direction of affairs. We had to ensure peace in Manitoba; we had to establish down the religious and national excitement that existed there and extended itself very strongly to Lower Canada; we had to secure some settlement with British Columbia, and we had to secure accord in the Eastern Provinces. Well, gentlemen it is all accomplished. (Cheers.) We have wiped out the rebellion of which was going on in Manitoba, and with it the contention and sectional feeling which prevailed there, and which was directly produced by Sir John Macdonald in violating the rights of the people by sending them a stranger from Ontario to be their governor. (Laughter.) I was ready made to march in and take possession of the country. We have vindicated the outraged law of the country. It was bad enough to act in a tyrannical way with the people of Manitoba, in spite of protests on the floor of Parliament, but he created the offence when he sent such an emissary as he did to the country. It seemed as if he was determined to add insult to injury and to produce that blaze of rebellion which at one time threatened the peace of the Dominion. We have made the utmost possible efforts as I shall show to remove the great cause of trouble in the western section of the Dominion, and we have secured a peaceful settlement of matters that were pending in the east, and I don't know that any Government ever existed in Canada with unstained office with greater difficulties to contend with than we have met and overcome since our advent to power. (Cheers.) Sir John Macdonald, however, says that we committed the first great error, on that I rise to advise his Excellency to call gentlemen to my aid who had not at a former period of their political career worked with me. Mr. Mackenzie has always been opposed to coalitions, he says, and the first thing he did when he had the opportunity was to form one himself. It would, I admit, be a very grave thing if I did want the simple element of truth (laughter), and great constitutional questions, but with the very important [illegible] With whom was that I contested? What single principle did I hold in abeyance in order to [illegible] Administration? With very few [illegible] He and I contested with Mr. Blake and Scott, who, I may be pleased to say, I fought like a beast in the market. Those who know Mr. Scott know him to be one of the most [illegible] honourable men [illegible] whom [illegible] may lot to be associated in public life. (Cheers.) [illegible] a high-minded honourable man he [illegible] the only [illegible] Dominion in the [illegible] of the public.—Mr. Scott was in Mr. Blake's Administration, and was my colleague there when I had the honour of serving under Mr. Blake as the Ontario Administration. Mr. Cameron was also with me for years in [illegible] parliament before the fall of the Macdonald [illegible] istration. There was no difference of opinion between Mr. Cameron and myself, or between Mr. Scott and myself. If I recollect rightly I told Mr. Smith, the late minister of [illegible] Conservative. He never was a Conservative. He was the leader [illegible] a Liberal Administration in New Brunswick, and so Mr. Vail was a member of a Liberal Administration in Nova Scotia for years. Mr. Dodds was also a Liberal in politics. There was not a pretence of a coalition of any kind. I simply asked Parliament, and I ask here, that any one will point out a single principle that avoided in order to consummate. There was a coalition in 1864. Sir John Macdonald spoke of Mr. Brown joining his Administration. Why, Sir, Mr. Brown never joined his Administration. He was a member of an Administration of which Sir John A. Macdonald was a member, but he never took [illegible] to be a member of any Government which he has gone into. Sir John and he [illegible] as humble Mr. Brown be as acting as him as a member of his Administration at one time. He joined that coalition on certain well-defined principles. I did not believe in it myself. I refused to have anything to do with it, and refused to join it.—Poor and ignorant as I am in Sir John Macdonald's estimation, I was offered office in that Government, and wished to get me into it. (Cheers.) I declined to join it, or to approve of the coalition policy of our friends in the House of Commons. I was not a party to it. I approved of the purposes and of giving the Government of the day my support to carry out the policy of the Provinces being confederated, and so did I would give my utmost efforts to [illegible] it, but I did not think they should go into the coalition. Mr. Cameron was also with me for years in [illegible] parliament before the fall of the Macdonald [illegible] istration. There was no difference of opinion between Mr. Cameron and myself, or between Mr. Scott and myself. If I recollect rightly I told Mr. Smith, the late minister of [illegible] Conservative. He never was a Conservative. He was the leader [illegible] a Liberal Administration in New Brunswick, and so Mr. Vail was a member of a Liberal Administration in Nova Scotia for years. Mr. Dodds was also a Liberal in politics. There was not a pretence of a coalition of any kind. I simply asked Parliament, and I ask here, that any one will point out a single principle that avoided in order to consummate. There was a coalition in 1864. Sir John Macdonald spoke of Mr. Brown joining his Administration. Why, Sir, Mr. Brown never joined his Administration. He was a member of an Administration of which Sir John A. Macdonald was a member, but he never took [illegible] to be a member of any Government which he has gone into. Sir John and he [illegible] as humble Mr. Brown be as acting as him as a member of his Administration at one time. He joined that coalition on certain well-defined principles. PETERBOROUGH, SEPT., 21, 1876.

What Might be Expected.

As these pic-nics go on it is found that although they may not be drawing less crowds they are becoming less effective. The utterances of Sir John McDonald are becoming weaker in matter, in tone, in dramatic effect. It is a difficult task to keep up the hilarity necessary to ensure the usual laughter, and at the same time discuss calmly and seriously the great questions that politicians should, so as to properly educate the people in all things that concern them. To allow the laugh and joke to fall through, would destroy the taste for pic-nicking, and therefore common sense generally gives way to jolliness. This is the source of Sir John's popularity; for men desire nothing better than to be gulled, to use a common expression.

At the Belleville pic-nic Sir John disappointed many of his former friends and the country generally. An exchange says "Sir John never appeared to so little advantage as in his new role of a Bay of Quinte Boy." He boasted that 56 years ago, a boy 5 years old, he emigrated to Canada and settled with his parents on the shores of the Bay Quinte, and that it was a proud thought that ever since his entrance on a political life the people around the Bay had supported him. This latter statement is rather a weak one, as the Ottawa Free Press remarks:—"It cannot have escaped his notice that in boasting of the support of the 'Conservatives of the Bay Quinte District' during his career, he recalls the fact that in that district outside the county of Hastings, he can point but to a single supporter in Parliament save himself. Addington, Lennox, Prince Edward, and East Northumberland give testimony though their representatives in Parliament, that at least a majority of the people of Bay Quinte district have no confidence in the Boy."

His Belleville speech like all his speeches at these meetings consists of mere vituperation and abuse of Mr. Mackenzie and his friends, and the querulousness so manifest in the one at Belleville, is abundant proof that Sir John is closely pressed for something to say, to amuse and please his audiences. The beauties of forensic talent will be easily discovered in such eloquent expressions as these:—"Mr. Mackenzie's speech seemed the turning of a rat driven into a corner." What eloquence! what logic! What convincing power there must be in the utterance of such noble sentiments, coming from the mouth of the great Conservative Chief. But he is a gentleman, and has therefore a right to talk nonsense if it so pleases him.

The whole speech at the Boy gives abundant evidence that the speaker is fast declining in years, and with his old age comes the petulishness accompanied by self-laudation so common in advanced years. The whole speech, boiled down, as Sir John would say, amounts to this:

"Mr. Mackenzie was a Free Trader in Dundee, a kind of a mixture in Sarnia, and an out and out Protectionist in Montreal. Of Mr. Cauchon it was only necessary to say that he was an Ultramontane, and that the Globe said his offences smelled to heaven, and the Montreal Hearld said he ought to be hanged. Then there was Lucius Seth Huntingdon, who mounted the Protestant horse at Argenteuil. Mr. Cartwright was ultra royal, and Mr. Huntington was an Annexionist. When I was in England I saw a showman exhibiting a number of animals of different natures together, and this was called the "Happy Family." (Laughter.) They were kept thus by chloroform and conjuring."

Our readers by reading this tit-bit will be able to judge of the sort of twaddle served up at a Conservative pic-nic, and be able to draw their own conclusions as to the sort of politicians Sir John is endeavouring to train up to succeed him.

In the following short sentence taken from his speech, the true character of the man as well as his extensive knowledge of rum compounds, protrude so plainly that they only require to be read to enable all to form their own opinion of the Chieftain. In further referring to the Government he says:

"The Government were like that curious drink compounded by rum to make one drunk, water to keep sober, sugar to make sweet, and lemon to make sour, and a Frenchman who asked what it was, learned that it was called punch."

The whole speech at Belleville consists of such stuff, compounded with jokes and laughter, and yet it is given to the world as the utterance of a heaven-born statesman, who of all men, only is fit to guide the helm of state.

That they are accepted as arguments of fitness for the duties, affords proof to plain that too often the great Chieftain labors under nervous debility and depression of spirit, disqualifying him for taking the leading part in these meanderings, and foolish rambling, nonsensical outbursts of spirits and politics compounded.

RELIGIOUS.

During a portion of last week, Mr. Crombie, Provincial Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has been holding religious meetings in the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches; and afternoon meetings in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, in Mr. Bredburn's New Town Hall. The meetings in the churches have been largely attended.—The Protestant ministers, (except the Episcopal) are all taking part in the work and aiding it all they can. Mr. Crombie is an earnest, zealous worker, and it is hoped that his labor in this place will not be in vain.

There is, however, a disposition to over rate or over estimate the good done at a revival meetings, and perhaps the labors of Mr. Crombie will be no exception to this general disposition of zealous labourers.

It may be out of place for a secular paper to interfere with religious work or religious workers. The most earnest in the religious world have often been the strongest advocates of a monopoly in teaching the way to attain to the goal of Christianity, viz: to heaven and happiness. But in modern times, the right of every layman to discuss questions relating to personal happiness and future blessedness has been largely conceded, although not entirely. The great danger, and error, in these revival meetings is supposing or expecting that every one convicted of sin, and expressing his conviction, and afterwards expressing his enjoyment of what is called peace, is in possession of "the peace that giveth life." After conviction there generally follows sorrow leading to great anxiety, ending perhaps in grief and tears. When sorrow finds vent, a calm takes its place, and the calm of a troubled mind is taken for conversion, and on this rock many thousands are wrecked. They at first consider themselves the recipients of saving grace, because having the witness of peace of mind. The earnest minister accepts it as true, but often only to be undeceived when the converts return again to their former ways. Care therefore should be had that too much stress be not laid on feelings of peace, and that the result of the revival meetings be not based on mere expressions of sorrow, or of new birth. The newness of life that does not manifest itself in a holy walk and conversation will prove a sham. "Show me thy faith without thy works and I will show thee my faith by my works." says a wise teacher.

It is refreshing to witness the prominence given by Mr. Crombie to the great question of temperance. Strong drink is the curse of our land. It is the curse of the family, of the community, and of the Church. Church membership should be a guarantee of christian character and opposition to evil. But if the opposition of church members to intemperance be taken as a test of christian character, then will all the churches be found wanting. Of the 31,000 inhabitants of this county, 20,000 at least will have arrived at an age capable of understanding religious things and will rank themselves in one or other of the different christian churches. They will in fact call themselves christians and perhaps do attend christian worship. But how many of these are arrayed against the monster vice? Indeed, how many of those calling themselves converted, are willing to oppose it? How many of them actually indulge themselves, to use a mild term? Can ministers rest satisfied with converts who encourage a traffic so evil in its tendencies and results? Surely not.

The conviction that is satisfied with a flood of tears will prove just deep enough to produce the tears and no more. And the preacher who calculates results from the gush or manifestation of feelings deceives himself, and very often deceives others.

These remarks are not in opposition to religious activity but rather to urge it to more. The great desideratum of religious life is activity, and the result of these revival meetings must be calculated from the religious activity of those who may become nominal christians through them. Nor will the wise man claim any honor in the conversion of others, only as that conversion leads to good living, and good living must include opposition to evil in every form. But, alas, if this be the test of christianity in men's hearts, where are the christians to be found? The Saviour's test of a mother, a sister, a brother, is and should be still, the test in the churches

SEPTEMBER 14th, 1876.

The Mayor stated that he had called the Council together in consequence of the Town Solicitors having submitted to him a letter from J. F. Dennistoun, President of the Auburn Woolen Company, on the subject of the demand made by them upon the sureties of Paton, Moir & Co., for a re-fund of $2,500 paid by the town under bonus By-law.

Mr. J. F. Dennistoun, President, and Mr. Bertram, M. P. and Mr. G. A. Cox, Directors of the Auburn Woolen Company being present, were, on the motion of Councillor Cahill, invited to address the Council.

Mr. Dennistoun after thanking the Mayor and council for the courtesy they had shown to the Company in thus affording them an opportunity of stating the positon of the Company and their views, gave briefly a history of the formation of the company and of the previous passage of the By-law granting $10,000 to Paton, Moir & Co., by way of bonus, and exemption from taxation for a period of ten years, and explained that in January, 1874, when the company took the property they also assumed the position of Paton, Moir & Co., with regard to the bonus by-law, hence the sureties had written to him as the company would be liable to these sureties for any claim the Town might be able to establish against them, He, feeling assured that the council and ratepayers would on learning the real position which the Town and the Company occupied towards each other, be quite prepared to meet the views of the company and to surrender the bonds and grant exemption from taxation as originally contemplated. It would be remembered that in 1872 a strong desire prevailed in Town to encourage the establishment of manufactures and to aid them by way of bonus and exemption from taxation, and special legislation had been secured authorizing granting of such aid. A difficulty existed about granting such aid to Paton, Moir & Co., as their property was situated outside the limits of the Town, to overcome this difficulty the owners of the property relying upon the exemption which it was intended should be secured to them, assisted in procuring the issue of a proclamation attaching their property to the Town, and on January 1st, 1873, it formally became part of the Town of Peterborough. Paton, Moir & Co., pushed on their work, and on the completion of their new buildings, which had been erected at a very large cost, and the expenditure of money of which the Town got full benefit, $2,500 was paid to them on account of the bonus of $10,000, and this is the sum now asked to be refunded. He then proceeded to point out that the firm of Paton, Moir & Co., became dissolved by the death of Mr. Paton, and Mr. Sheddon, and that in January 1874, the company acquired the property and pushed on the equipment of the same, having until the first day of December then next, to put in the machinery. In the month of June Mr. Moir, on behalf of the company, appeared before the Court of Revision and complained that they were assessed for 300 Mcge a sum, viz: $62,000, and after several adjournments before the Court, an understanding was arrived at that the company should be allowed to retain the $2,500, that they should be exempt from taxation for 10 years in consideration of the large proportion of work that they had done, but that the council would have to take action, accordingly on 10th August 1874, Mr. Moir presented a petition to the council, which was received and referred to a special committee who reported on 16th November 1874, and which report was received and adopted.

The report was as follows:—

Report of the Committee to whom was referred the petition of the Auburn Woolen Company beg leave to report that they have examined both the petition for and the petition against it, and they also submit the resolution passed unanimously at a public meeting called for the purpose of discussing the same, whereby it is recommended to grant the prayer of the said Auburn Woolen Company, your Committee in view of the importance of the question at issue unanimously recommend that a By-law be submitted to the ratepayers to decide the question of the prayer of the petitioners and that in the mean time the Collector be instructed to defer the collection of the tax for 1874 and subsequent years of the ratepayers in favor of the Company which is respectfully submitted.

November 14, 1874.

(Signed) ROBT. ROMANE, Chairman.

WALTER BRAL,
HENRY DEEZ,
PETER HAMILTON.

Resolution passed at public meeting.

Moved by Mr. J. B. Dixon, seconded by Mr. Stratton—That after hearing the explanations of the Directors of the Auburn Woolen Company, this Committee are of opinion that the said Auburn Woolen Company be allowed to retain the $2,500 already paid them, and that portion of their property lying between the Midland Railway track and the Otonabee River together with all buildings erected and to be erected thereon, and all stock and machinery therein be exempt from taxation for the period of ten years from the date of passing By-Law No. — of the Town granting the sum of $2,500 to said Company by way of Bonus, except to the extent of $300 per annum. The $7,500 to be released. Passed unanimously.

ROBT. ROMANE.

He (Mr. Dennistoun,) further stated that a By-law had also been introduced on the 7th December 1874, for the purpose of more formally giving effect to the adoption of the report. He said that after what had occured in 1874, from which they had good reason to believe that they never would be called to pay this $2,500 and further that good faith could alone be kept with them by the carrying out of the understanding arrived at first with the Court of Revision, at a time when they could by an expenditure of a small additional sum have enforced their right not merely to retain the $2,500 but to receive the further sum of $7,500 from the Town and which they agreed to give up, and this endorsed as it was, by the public meeting, and by the special committee, and afterwards by the action of the council before referred to. He (Mr. Dennistoun) further pointed out that although the Company did not in any manner derive any benefit from the expenditure of moneys by the town, either for light, fire protection, police, sidewalks or in any other manner, yet they had been compelled to contribute a very large sum of money to the town in the shape of taxes.

In 1873, they paid	$	360 00
" 1874, "		1380 13
" 1875, "		1061 55
" 1876, will pay		364 40
	$3,166 08

And these figures only represent the taxes on the Mill, there had been paid a large amount further in respect of their other property, their cottages and taxes paid on Mr. Moir's house, &c., the benefit of which the town had got without any equivalent whatever except the payment of the $2,500 now sought to be demanded from the sureties. He further stated that since the understanding arrived at in 1874 in the best of good faith the company should be exempted from payment of taxes on mill except as to extent of $100 a year as named in the report above referred to yet they had paid since then $2,736 18 from which if we deduct the $100 a year for three years $300, we have paid the sum of $2,436 18, which under the understanding should not have been asked. He further pointed out that in 1874 and 1875 taxes had been illegally collected from the company on their personal property to the extent of $1,935 and that the soundness of his position with regard to this sum of $1,935, had been virtually conceeded by the Court of Revision this year, as they had after consulting with the town solicitor struck off the personal property from the companys assessment for this year. He concluded by stating his belief that the ratepayers would be glad to see the mills running again, and that he believed the disposition of the people still was in the spirit, which was evinced at the time of the passage of the By-law and annexation of the property to the town, to meet the views of the company and enable them to get into operation again. The town had made money, a large amount of it many times over the $2,500 now asked for from sureties and they should be satisfied. The demand had been made at a most unfortunate time the Directors were anxious as early as possible to get the mill in operation, the pressing of the claim was an addition to their other difficulties and he trusted that the council would order bonds to be surrendered and would pass a By-law as they had the power to do, exempting that part of the property from taxation that was mentioned in the report adopted by the council on 16th November, 1874, for the period of ten years from 1st January, next. He was not authorised to say by any formal action of the board that this would be accepted as satisfactory but he had no doubt it would be, and that the company would give up any claim they had to the $1,935 which had illegally been exacted from them in regard to personal property.

Messrs. Bertram & Cox, then addressed the council endorsing the statements made by Mr. Dennistoun, and urging the fairness of what was asked by the companys.

We are sorry to have to record the loss to the Collegiate Institute, and to higher education in general, in the resignation and departure of Mr. A. W. A. Finlay, who has so long, and so ably filled the position of Modern Language and Science master in the institution.

We respectfully regret his departure at this time when the school is undergoing change and has special need of all its good men.

In default of a more material expression of good will and appreciation, which his unexpectedly hurried departure prevented, the senior classes sent him the following note.

"A Drop of Joy in Every Word."

FLEMINGTON, Hunterdon Co., N. J., June 26, 1871.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo N. Y.;

Dear Sir.—It is with a happy heart that I pen these lines to acknowledge that you and your Golden Medical Discovery and Purgative Pellets are blessings to the World. These medicines cannot be too highly praised, for they have almost brought me out of the grave. Three months ago I was brought out with large ulcers and sores on my body, limbs and face. I procured your Golden Medical Discovery and Pellets, and have taken six bottles, and to-day I am in good health, all those ugly ulcers having healed and left my skin in a natural, healthy condition. I thought at one time I could not be cured. Although I can but poorly express my gratitude to you, yet there is a drop of joy in every word I write. God's blessing rest on you and your wonderful medicines is the humble prayer of

Yours truly,
JAMES O. BELLIS.

When a medicine will promptly cure such terrible eating ulcers and free the blood of the virulent poison coursing them, who can longer doubt its wonderful virtues? Dr. Pierce, however, does not wish to place his Golden Medical Discovery in the catalogue of quack patent nostrums by recommending it to cure every disease, nor does he so recommend it; but what he does claim in this, that there is but one form of blood disease that it will not cure, and that disease is cancer. He does not recommend his Discovery for that disease, yet he knows it to be the most searching blood cleanser yet discovered, and that it will free the blood and system of all other known blood poisons, be they animal, vegetable or mineral. The Golden Discovery is warranted by him to cure the worst forms of Skin Diseases, as all forms of Blotches, Pimples and Eruptions, also all Granular Swellings, and the worst form of Scrofulous and Ulcerated Sores of Neck, Legs or other parts, and all Scrofulous Diseases of the Bones, as White Swellings, Fever Sores, Hip Joint and Spinal Diseases, all of which belong to Scrofulous diseases.

FIRE.—On Monday evening the barns stables and all the crop and the farm implements of Thomas Herrington, Jr, was destroyed by fire to the amount of about $2000 dollars, nothing being left but the dwelling house alone. The cause of the fire cannot be ascertained but is supposed that some persons seeking for chickens had lighted a match and through it away thereby causing the straw to ignite, as Mr. Herrington says their was no fire about any of his buildings.—COM.

MILLBROOK.

S. S. TEA, CARMEL.—The anniversary of the Methodist Sabbath School, Carmal, was very successful, which came off on the 14th Inst. Speeches were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Hodnett, Winter, and Barker. Excellent music was discoursed by the Methodist Choir, Millbrook. The Tea reflected great credit on the ladies of the vicinity who prepared it.—COM.

LAKEFIELD.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Sanderson of Millbrook has taken up his residence in our village for the purpose of buying wheat. He had rented the large storehouse near the M. R. R., and our country friends had better give him a call before going to Peterborough.... On and after the 14th inst., the steam yacht Tiger will run in connection with the 8;40 A. M. train for Burleigh, &c., every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, returning in time to catch the 3.30 P. M. train for Peterborough....We have been informed that a very valuable fish was caught in Stony Lake last week by an American sportsman. The fish wasn't so very big, but he was heavily laden with a choice stock of fish baits valued at about seven dollars, and was so poor in consequence of carrying them around from port to port that his flesh was unfit for food....THE Village Clerk has made his return to the Register General giving the number of births, marriages, and deaths registered in Lakefield during the year 1876 as follows Births 8 Marriages 14, Deaths 2....Dr. Pierce formerly of Lakefield (now of St. Thomas Hospital, London, England) is expected to receive the appointment as surgeon in the Servian Army....A large bear was seen last Sunday within half a mile of Mt. Julien Hotel....Some fiend dealing the form of a man was guilty of a most inhuman act last Saturday night, in sinking an axe into the neck of a valuable horse owned by Mr. Daubus, of the township of Douro, in order to gratify some petty spite against that gentleman. When discovered the poor animal was almost exhausted from loss of blood, and had a frightful gash in the neck. but with good care may recover from the effect of the wound. Such conduct as this is most reprehensible and should be punished with the utmost rigor of the law. In the interests of humanity it is hoped that the foul perpetrator will be discovered and that he may meet with the reward which his dastardly conduct merits. Hanging would be too good for such a vile wretch.....A verdant sportsman while fishing in the neighborhood of the Mt. Julien Summer Hotel, several days ago, fastened on to a large fish (?). As soon as he discoved that the 'fish' had secured a good hold of the bait he became quite elated and thought that he was about to capture Scossen's big muskinonge. Pulling with all his might he at first obtained an advantage over his finship, but becoming short of wind he slackened up a little, and then began the tug of war. The 'fish' shut his teeth firmly on the bait and started off under full sail, towing the canoe at the rate of forty knots an hour, be the same more or less, and brought its occupant fully half way across the lake before he discovered that a monster mud-turtle had been inveigled by the shiny appearance of his bait. The turtle proved too heavy for him however, and he was compelled to break his line and return to shore using language which, if not eloquent, was extremely strong and soothed his injured feelings.—News.

PORT HOPE.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A young man, about 21 years of age, named Thomas Smithcorpe, a brakesman on a freight train on the G. T. R., and whose parents live in Millbrook, met with an accident on Sunday evening near Trenton, which terminated fatally. It appears that the young man was on top of a box car, attending to the brakes, when the chain broke, precipitating him between the cars, which passed over him. He was not missed until the train arrived at Belleville; when his companions went back they found his body frightful mangled the train having passed over his body cutting him in two. This is the same young man who was struck and nearly killed by lightning, between here and Cobourg about a yeargo.—Guide.

FIRE IN VERULAM.

A fire broke out on the premises of George Bick, Esq., Reeve of Verulam, on Sunday last at about 10 a. m., while all except two of the family were absent at church. The fire was first discovered by some of the neighbours, and was then issuing from the stable, which was only a short distance from the wood-shed connected with the dwelling. Though the wind blew steadily of the house, everything was so dry and the supply of water so soon gave out that it became evident to all the dwellings must go. Those present then used every effort to save the contents, and the greater part, it not all, of the furniture was got out. The loss, besides the buildings, consists of a quantity of shanty ringlet ringing, about twenty cords of wood and ten tons of hay. The value of the property destroyed was about $2,000, and was insured in the Beaver and Toronto Mutual for $1,100. The origin of the fire is unknown, as no fire had been used around the premises. The barn being a long way off, and in the direction towards which the wind was blowing, was of course out of danger.—Preston Pilot Gazette.

RICE BIRDS.—The continued dry weather seems to affect aquatic plants as well as the others. The wild rice on Rice Lake is scarcely one-fourth the crop of former years. This will make a scarcity of one article of food for the Red Man living in that locality.

EXCURSION.—The Town Council and a number of citizens, we understand, visit Midland City, on Georgian Bay, to-day, by invitation of Mr. Hugel. The whole will be in the shape of a Picnic. Councillors go free, but their friends can procure a return ticket for $1.00.

They offer a number of varieties of apples at reasonable prices by the barrel. The Oyster season having commenced they also ask an inspection of their brands which they are daily receiving.

FOOT BALL.—At the meeting in the Hutman House last Tuesday evening, for the formation of a Foot Ball Club, the following officers were elected: President, H. C. Rogers; Secretary, W. Shaw; Captain, G. P. Smith; Vice-Captain, G. C. Rogers; Committee, F. J. H. Beckett, W. Erskine and C. McVittie.

REVENUE SALE OF FARM STOCK, &c.—Messrs. Haggart & Bro. will offer for sale on 12th Oct., the entire farm stock and implements of Mr. Thos. Bullock, near Warsaw, amongst which will be found a very superior four year old matched bay team of general purpose horses, 16 hands high. The whole of the stock is well bred and will repay those who are in want of good animals.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.—Mr. Robert Fairbairn has received the appointment of Agent of the Dominion Telegraph Office. His place of business will be found on Hunter Street, where the Office has been lately removed. Mr. Fairbairn will be found courteous and obliging to all, and a gentleman well known for his business ability and general good management in whatever line he is engaged.

CHARIVARI.—Messrs. Fairweather & Co. have decided to clear out the whole of their stock, which is very large and select, by auction, so that every one can now buy good at their own prices. Attending their auction sales, which commences on Monday next, at 7 p.m., or by private sale during the day. Messrs. F. & Co. are determined to make a clean sweep so that bargains may be depended on as the stock is all first-class both in quality and condition. Read their advertisement in another column.

EXCURSION TO NIAGARA FALLS.—About 200 excursionists availed themselves of this opportunity of paying a visit to the Falls on Thurs day last. The special train left Peterboro about 4 a.m., for Port Hope, where they embarked on the "Norseman," arriving at Niagara at 1 p. m. After seeing the "lions" they again went on board and started on their return, reaching home at 7.30 a.m., Friday morning, after having spent a very pleasant time. Prof. Miller's band accompanied them and added much to the pleasure of the trip.

AGRICULTURAL SHOW.—The annual Agricultural Show of the Townships of Dummer and Douro will be held in the Agricultural Hall Warsaw, on Thursday, 5th of October. The Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society will hold their annual show in Lakefield on Thursday, October 12th. Central Exhibition at Port Hope on September 26th, 27th and 28th. West Riding, at Peterboro' on October 4th & 5th Otonabee, at Keene, on October 6th. South Monaghan, at Hall'sboro, on Tuesday, 10th of October. Burleigh, etc., at Apsley, on Thursday October 12th.

NEW TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.—Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co. have added to their other business a Tailoring Establishment which will be found to be replete with all the newest designs of cloths of every description. Having engaged the services of an Experienced Cutter, and selected their stock in the best markets, those who favor them with a call may depend on getting a first-class article at a moderate figure. The firm is so well and favourably known to the public that it needs but to be mentioned that they have made this addition to their business to ensure them the patronage of the public in their new Tailoring Establishment.

EAST PETERBORO.—Inspector Dunlop had five cases before J. Edwards, Esq., on Saturday for violation of the License Law.—Geo. Rickie for selling on Sunday 3rd, and also on Sunday, 10th of September. Mr. Glover, Mr. Swanston and Mr. E. Calcutt for selling in quantities contrary to law. Mr. Rickey was fined $20 and costs for selling on the 10th. The other cases were adjourned. Mr. Swanston and Mr. Glover pleaded guilty and paid their fines. Mr. E. Calcutt's case was adjourned till the 25th instant, when it and the Rickey case will come up again We understand there are three detectives in the East Riding. If so, there will be either lively or very quiet times for a while.

He is well known for honesty and making good articles, and is obliging and affable. He is now preparing for the Fall and Winter trade, and we can recommend those requiring the best furs, etc., to give him a call.

POPULAR LECTURE.—Professor N. F. Dupuis, of Queen's College, Kingston, has consented to lecture on Thursday, 28th inst., on behalf of the building fund of the St. Andrew's Sabbath School. Prof. Dupuis' known ability as an attractive lecturer on scientific subjects, and his great faculty of making such subjects interesting to minds of ordinary intelligence, give the assurance that the lecture now announced will prove worthy of public attention. It will be remembered, by some of our readers, that a lecture delivered by the same gentleman, a few years ago, was highly prized by those who heard it. We ask those who enjoyed the privilege of hearing that lecture to attend the present one, in the assurance that it will be found to possess equal merit; and to the public generally, &c., can guarantee an instructive and interesting lecture, from one who is always well received, and is highly popular where he is best known, in his city. The lecture will be delivered in St. Andrew's School Building, at 7.30 p.m. Tickets of admission: to adults, 50cts., children under twelve years of age, 15cts. Subject: "The Scientific Origin of the North."

CAMPBELL, Dry Goods Merchant, was brought up and fined $10 for selling goods under the transient traders By-law. Mr. Campbell has appealed the case to last By-law. ROBT. HOWDEN vs. JOHN JOHNSTON.—Howden swore to his having seen Johnston take money out of his pocket on Sunday morning; committed for trial, Wednesday, 20th.—PETERBORO BOATING CLUB vs. W. ROBERTSON.—This was a case of trespassing mill refuse into the river; charge admitted; fined 50cts. and costs. JOHN RITCHIE vs. MRS. BARRING.—Selling liquor without license; Mrs. Barrington admitted the charge and was fined $20 and costs, to be paid within two weeks. JOHN RITCHIE vs. A. MORTON.—Mr. Scott defended this case; the witnesses called on by Plaintiff were Jas. Patterson, John Armour and George Tanner. The two former were examined but proved nothing against Morton. Mr. Ritchie then had Mr. Morton sworn, who gave the following evidence: Morton sworn—Remember seeing Jas. Patterson in my store on Sept. 2nd. Mr. Tanner was there that day; did not give either Patterson or Tanner any liquor that day; am in store most of the time; swear there was not any liquor consumed in my premises that day; none sold under three half pints on that day. The Mayor stated he had called the present meeting in consequence of a letter received by them from Mr. Jas. Dennistoun, in reference to the Auburn Woolen Company.

Mr. Dennistoun's letter was read by the Clerk and on motion it was received, and Mr. Dennistoun who was present was heard in reference to the matter.

Messrs. Cox and Bertram were also heard.

The Mayor was instructed to accept the invitation on behalf of the Council,

An account for filling up the tanks amounting to $8.50 was referred to the Fire Committee with power to act.

Council adjourned till 25th inst.

LITERARY.

PETERBORO DIRECTORY.—The TIMES has just issued a Directory of the Town and County. It contains over 150 octavo pages of useful information, and has been well patronized by the [illegible] found a very useful book of reference to those who have subscribed for it.

RECORD OF THE YEAR.—The October number of this monthly is to hand. It contains a record of every important event of any nature worth preserving, together with a careful selection of choice current miscellany. It is published by G. W. Carleton & Co., New York. Single number 50cts; yearly subscription $5.00.

THE CANADIAN BAPTIST comes to us this week greatly improved in its new dress.—We are pleased to see it looking so well. It is now enlarged to an eight page paper and the workmanship and contents are good. It will compare favourably with the other denominational papers amongst our exchanges. It is published at Toronto, at $2 per annum.

COBOURG.—Tanks are to be sunk for fire purposes in our sister town.

THE CENTENNIAL BUILDINGS have been injured by a storm, and considerable damage done.

ALMONTE had a large fire on Saturday, about $40,000 to $60,000 worth of property was destroyed.

RAIN.—Heavy rain has fallen during the past few days throughout Ontario, accompanied with high wind.

GEN. CROOK has had another skirmish with the Sioux Indians; several were killed and wounded on both sides.

FORTH CENTENNIAL.—Excursions from several points in Canada are now being run at low rates to the Centennial.

HENRY WARD BEECHER is going to lecture in Toronto on the 25th inst., under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., upon the "Ministry of Wealth."

THE NAPANEE EXPRESS is for sale. It is said to be the only Reform journal in Lennox and Addington, and has a circulation of 1,300; also a good advertising and jobbing patronage.

ARREST OF TWEED.—A despatch from Madrid says Wm. M. Tweed and Wm. Hunt who was arrested with him will be embarked at Corunna for Cuba, as prisoners, on Thursday next.

THE REV. W. H. JONES preached his farewell sermon in Grace Church Toronto, on Sunday evening last, having resigned his charge of that parish. The church was crowded on the occasion.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.—There are rumours of peace in the East. Turkey has ceased hostilities. She is to indemnify Christians for the outrages perpetrated on them. The terms of peace are not made known yet, except in this one particular.

RETURNING.—The Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, Toronto, it is said, was to leave England for Canada, on the 20th inst. In a letter to a friend in Canada, Mr. Macdonnell speaking of his rumoured withdrawal, says:—"Nothing could induce me to sever my connection with the congregation of St. Andrew's at the present time."

PASS HIM ROUND.—The Campbellford HERALD says:—"We are informed that a man by the name of C. E. Stuart, who has been residing in this village for the past two or three months, and passing himself off as a "doctor" (and is said to be a quack at that) decamped on Tuesday of last week for parts unknown, leaving some of his creditors to mourn his departure. If he has a best, pass him around."

QUEBEC EDITORS IN TROUBLE.—The editor of the LE CANADIEN announces that in the Charlevoix election case Judge Routhier again found him guilty of contempt of court on Thursday in connection with two articles. He was fined $50 and $10. On the other hand, upon the two rules taken out against him, the proprietor of L'EVENEMENT was fined $40 or 45 days' imprisonment, and $20 for the second offence.

THE "COUNTESS OF DUFFERIN."—The New York SUN says that the yacht "Countess of Dufferin" is at anchor off the New York club house in charge of two keepers. Capt. Cuthbert who went to Canada to get money to pay her bills has succeeded in getting the necessary amount to liquidate the claims. The "Dufferin" will sail in the fall races and will remain at New York until next season, when she will again try for the Queen's cup.

HOW TO REACH THE PEOPLE.—The wholesale trade of Canada is doing more of late years in newspaper advertising. They find it pays them better than travellers or circulars. A newspaper that circulates amongst the general buying community not only in the town but amongst the farmers is the best to advertise in. The EXAMINER is the best circulated journal in the County of Peterborough, of which fact advertisers should make a note.

VICTORIA R. R.—This road is being pushed ahead rapidly. Over five hundred men are on the pay roll, and the grading as far as Kinmount is expected to be finished this month, and the tracklayers will not be very long behind them. We believe that Mr. Laidlaw has been successful in his arrangements with the English Land Co'y, and obtained $8,000 per mile in cash bonus from them for the distance that it will run through their territory. It is expected that the work will be carried on this winter towards Haliburton and the Ottawa.

A REMARKABLE YEAR.—Sixty years ago, says an exchange, was "the year without a summer." Frost occurred in every month of the year 1816. Ice formed full an inch thick in May; snow fell to the depth of three in the interior of New York, and also in Massachusetts in June; ice was formed to the thickness of common window glass throughout New York on the 5th of July; Indian corn was so frozen that the greater part was cut down and dried for fodder in August, and farmers supplied themselves from the corn procured in 1815 for the seed of the spring of 1817.

THE BRITISH GRAIN TRADE.—A leading Grain Circular says:—"In the British markets generally wheat has been slightly dearer, but millers having previously supplied themselves, the demand proved inactive. Meantime growers have continued to offer scanty supplies, partly on account of unfavourable weather for threshing, and partly from unsatisfactory prices. In face of a deficient yield, complaints of which are becoming more frequent, business on the spot has been moderate, without quotable change in prices. In the market to-day there was only a moderate attendance of millers.—Wheat was steady at Tuesday's prices, but the transactions were small. For flour there was a fair consumptive demand. For corn there was a good inquiry, and rates were well supported."

SABBATH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION OF CANADA.—We have received the circular announcing that the Thirteenth Provincial Convention for Ontario and Quebec will be held in the Bridge Street Methodist Church, Belleville, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 10th, 11th and 12th October next. A hearty invitation is extended to pastors and other ordained ministers of Evangelical churches to be present; also to every Sabbath School of fifty scholars or under that number, to send one delegate, and an additional delegate for every fifty scholars above that number, but not in any case to exceed four teachers from any school. Deputations from kindred associations in the British Provinces and from the United States will be gladly welcomed. The different railway companies will issue tickets for the double journey for one fare and one-third to those who present certificates signed by the General Secretary.

THAT REPORT.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—Since Principal Jeffers' report, published in the town papers of late date, will probably have a considerable circulation, I wish to be allowed a word or two concerning it.

It describes at some length, and in a some what egotistical manner, the present organization of the Public Schools and Collegiate Institute, and certainly in tone, if not in actual expression, conveys the idea that the present system is a great improvement on that of the late Principal.

Now, I certainly have not the slightest objection to the present incumbent landing in any terms or to any extent, his own arrangement, for he is quite welcome to his opinions on that point, but when it comes to ill-concealed slurs on the late Mr. DIXON, I for one must protest.

Were it the place, perhaps I might show, that as far as I have seen, the present organization is not one whit better, on the whole, than that of Mr. Dixon even and that in several respects it is not as comprehensive, as thorough, or as free, as that of last year.

I also maintain that an organization of two or three weeks standing cannot be properly judged of; that the proof of a system is its results, not its aims, and that as experiment has been the organization under the late Principal that the mere force of impetus, so to speak, would carry the schools on successfully for some time independent of all improved organization.

If those who talk of improved systems had taken the school where he found it—a badly arranged, badly taught, and very badly conducted institution, numbering only some 200 pupils, and had worked it up as he has done, to be one of the finest schools in the province, and a credit to the town, including a thousand pupils, then I have no doubt the public would very willingly have accorded even heartier praise than is contained in the report.

Let those people who find fault with the late management in the [illegible] remember that it is one thing to run a school successfully, and quite another to work it up to that point of success, and also, that the good which Mr. Dixon has done for the school, cannot be effaced in three weeks, or even in three months, by the most improved organization possible.

There are pupils of Mr. Dixon's that will not forget him whatever others may say or think of him. There are some, too, who will not hesitate to defend him even if there are persons of a different opinion. And I am glad to say there are many honest right-thinking men who recognize in Mr. Dixon a benefactor of the town, whose influence cannot die, and of whom the town ought to be proud.

However, let me not forget to acknowledge the masterly bit of sarcasm against the Auburn worshipers, with which the account of the Board meeting in one of the papers closes.

Respectfully Yours,

JOHN M. LYDGATE.

—ELECTRICITY—

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil. Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Medford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and find it is equally as good for horse as for man."—A. Hayden, Merchant, Wadsworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is spoken of by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Reazen, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. H. Hamilton, Wadsworth, writes, "For while I was troubled with a rheumatic ankle which enlarged me very much. Mr Mayhee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

DEAR SIR:—

We are happy to inform you that we have been so fortunate as to Secure as Cutter,

Mr. J. O. Madison,

A gentleman whose name is familiar to the trade of both the United States and Canada.

MR. MADISON is celebrated as the Inventor of a system of Garment Cutting which has been adopted by thousands of the leading men of the craft, and the demand for which is rapidly growing. For the last few years he has devoted his time to giving instructions to cutters on both sides of the lines. This has kept him almost constantly on the road, and the fatigue of travelling was rapidly telling on his health. Desiring, therefore, to give up travelling, and feeling unable to stand the hurry and overwork of cutting in a large city, he accepted the liberal salary we were able to pay and concluded to settle in our town.

MR. MADISON is in receipt of a considerable amount yearly from a Tailoring Institute in Chicago, over which he has control, where cutters are instructed according to his system, this amount together with what we pay him makes a handsome income.

MR. MADISON is able to fit any person without trying the garment on before finished, and can suit the most fastidious as well as those who are less particular. Such a man was needed in Peterborough and we have no doubt will be appreciated.

As we have an Educator of the city man here, there will no longer be any necessity for any gentleman to send his order to the city to secure superior garments. We can equal in style and cut, any work produced on the continent.

H. LeBRUN,

I have the record of every contract that has been given for the last six years, and I will state to you the general results, and any one wishing to see them for himself can do so. During the last three years of Sir John Macdonald's Government over fifty-one per cent. of the lowest tenders offered were rejected—(hear, hear)—and during my reign only eleven per cent. (Cheers.) I state that there was not a single lowest tender rejected that I am aware of except in two cases, in both of which the contractors had failed in previous contracts, and we declined to consider their tenders at all. The politics of one of them I knew nothing about at the time; I know since that he is a Conservative; the other was a Reformer. So careful have we been in this matter that we have secured the confidence of the contracting portion of the committee. Many contractors have told me of the change we have wrought in that particular. The system formerly prevailing to a large extent was for a number of contractors, say A, B, C, D, and E to put in tenders—A the lowest, B the next, and so on. Each would retire in turn until they came to the fifth or sixth, and work was thus let for $230,000 which should have been let at $220,000, and so on through the chapter. During the discussion on the Pacific Railway matter I went down to the saloon one night and counted no less than seventeen Government contractors. Some of them had the audacity to threaten members of the Opposition if they voted against Sir John Macdonald on that occasion. Let the present Opposition, if they can, find contractors doing that sort of work. Let them point out a single instance that will bear out against me this extraordinary system pursued by Sir John Macdonald and I will resign office to-morrow. (Loud cheers.) The greatest possible pains has been taken in the matter, and I shall take the earliest possible opportunity to call on Sir John to ask for a Committee to investigate his charges. (Hear, hear.) I propose for a few moments to devote myself to one subject which I have never discussed at political meetings since I assumed office, except in the way of merely passing allusion. I was quite willing that the great political crime of which Sir John Macdonald was guilty should be forgotten, but he, it seems, is not willing that it should. I grieve that a public man having so long an experience of the Canadian people should entertain so low an opinion of them as to think that he should be able to convince them that there was absolutely no harm in his transactions with Sir Hugh Allan, that on the contrary they were acts to be praised instead of condemned. I am amazed that the leader of the Conservative party should have the extraordinary effrontery to state that if he were placed in like circumstances he would do the same thing again, and upon that statement to base his claim upon the confidence of the country. Does he think that many of the Conservatives who left his banner in 1873 because of his crime should make a public apology for their desertion of him in that crisis, or does he expect that should go back and serve him without anything like repentance on his part—in truth, with him glorying in the act! Mr. M. Cameron, who never speaks without referring to his own purity—and I know nothing against it—stated the other day in his speech that Sir Hugh Allan showed a vast amount of enterprise in contributing so much to the elections. That is putting it rather fine. Perhaps some of you would show a vast amount of enterprise if you went and robbed a bank, but it would be of a sort that the people of the country would not approve very heartily; they would very likely prevent its recurrence if at all possible. If there was one feeling predominant among the high-minded Conservatives of 1873, it was that of regret that such a transaction had taken place in the reign of their own friends. I repeated that feeling, and dealt with the grave question simply on its merits. In fact I did not need to characterize it as it deserved; I did not need to speak of it in the strong terms which would have been justified under the circumstances; it was simply enough to state the facts. Upon that statement of facts Sir John Macdonald would not risk a vote of the House of Commons, and rather than see his own friends vote against him—which thirty or forty of them at least would have done—he resigned office without having the vote taken. He now essays to the country to justify the very thing his own friends condemned as the time. I may fairly ask any Conservative here—and I know I am speaking in the only locality in this county in which Conservatism is very strong—if he is prepared to condone the enormous offence, and say it was perfectly right for a Prime Minister to enter into an arrangement with Sir Hugh Allan or any other man for a bargain for a huge public work, in order to get a large sum of money to carry the election? The only excuse Sir John made in 1873 was that the Reformers were spending two dollars to his one, and unless he raised money the Government would go out of his hands. I stated in October 1875, that it was not true the Reform party had spent a large sum of money. Sir John Macdonald lately represented me as saying that we had spent no money at all. I did not say so. What I did say was this: "I am not aware that a large fund was used in that direction; I never spent any money in the elections; I never received any money to spend in that way; money was contributed to the central fund to defray expenses to the amount of between three and four thousand dollars; that is the entire amount spent by the Liberal at the elections, to my knowledge." Individuals, perhaps, may have spent it, we didn't. But suppose we had, is that an excuse? If we acted improperly it was his business to arraign us before public opinion, and charge us before Parliament with being instrumental in corrupting the country, and we would have had to stand that as best we could, and retire from public life if it was established against us. If Sir John Macdonald desires an investigation into that and the Pacific Scandal together, by Parliament, I can only say he might be gratified. (Cheers) This proposition is made by the leader of a great party: that the Pacific Railway transaction was a proper one, a party who characterize themselves on every occasion as a "party of gentlemen." My view of that question is is that we are all gentlemen in Canada. (Cheers.) I do not admit any difference whatever. Every man is a gentleman or not, according to his notions of moral propriety, and his good conduct in society. (Cheers.) But they wish to be characterized peculiarly as gentlemen-aristocratic, I suppose. Here we have, by the leader of this party, a deliberate justification of one of the most enormous political crimes that ever a man committed. I don't say that Sir John Macdonald profited at all personally by the matter. I don't suppose he did. I never said he did, or thought he did. But the fact is, that in 1871 it was provided—as I have shown already very unwisely—to build a railway across the continent in ten years. Immediately after the Bill passed the House we find two parties, Mr. Senator Macpherson and Sir Hugh Allan, both contending which should get the contract, and one was played very ingeniously against the other, at which Mr. Macpherson was for a year, and perhaps a month, very angry; but he fell into the traces at last in a very docile manner, and in Parliament was ready to support the men he was denouncing a few months before. The question was, why should get the contract? and by the revelations of some of the confederates of Sir John Macdonald and Sir Hugh Allan, comes forward and gives all the money they ask. They got merciful at last, for when they telegraphed for the last ten thousand they assured him it should be the last time. We know, for he assures us in his sworn evidence, why he came forward. "I wanted to get the thing in my own hands; I wanted to see whom I had to deal with; I saw that Sir George Cartier, who led a compact body of conservative French Canadians, was the person to deal with, and I so arranged matters that he must yield to my demands or cut his throat and go.' And Sir George did yield, Sir George and the agent of Sir Hugh Allan go into a room, and are closeted together, and Sir George Cartier is asked to state how much Sir John will want, and how much Mr. Langevin and himself will want, and how much for Montreal. This was agreed to, and the money was paid at once. As the contest went on various other sums were asked for, as the tide of battle rose high and fierce. We were beating them in Upper Canada, and as the battle waged the demand for dollars grew high, and the dollars came from Sir Hugh Allan. It is said that he was enterprising in this speculation. It was a speculation. He would not give the money till he got his proofs. He

One of the Testimonials!

From Dr DUNCAN McCALLUM, Montreal—

I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but these applications of Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief by a pain and stiffness which I did not expect, since for the last two years, and after eight days' use of the remedy I find myself entirely cured

I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of that genuine article

The Premier at Watford.

FULL REPORT OF HIS SPEECH.

(From the Globe.)

WATFORD Sept. 8.

At the largest, he got Sir John Macdonald's letter from Kingston. Without that he would not move. When he got everything he wanted to prepare the obstacle were removed and without that he would not be justified. A more deplorable specimen of political morality was never witnessed in any country. (Cheers.) And yet we are told by some of the parties who have presented addresses to the hon. gentleman lately that there was not a shadow of wrong in this transaction. Well, I want my friends to make a statement which so forced that transaction—and the country has to deal with these people, and we are in a wheel to fight the next electoral battles on the question as to whether that was right or was wrong. I have no doubt how the verdict of Lambton, or even of Watford, or the verdict of Ontario or the verdict of the Dominion of Canada will be. (Cheers.) Canada cannot afford to endorse such conduct, and will not endorse it, and I am only astonished that it should have been brought up by the Conservative leaders themselves at a time when we were disposed to let bye-gones be bye-gones, and not to discuss the serious injury inflicted on the country at that time. [Hear, hear.] Now, I propose to refer for a moment to the manner in which we have ourselves dealt with the Pacific Railway matter. You will observe that in all the speeches that have been made there has been scarcely a single charge brought against the present Administration except those general ones of belittling the members of the Government, saying very offensive things regarding them personally, and making a few very vague allusions. Except in the case of contracts, where there is a specific charge, there has been nothing, in fact, said which could in any way affect the public interests of the Dominion by those gentlemen in their opposition; but there is one subject in which they have dealt so disgenuously, that I propose to review it at the expense of half an hour or so of your time (Cheers.) Regarding the plan of building the Pacific Railway, Sir James says:—"Had we acted it was proposed that there should be a railway across the Continent, Mr. Mackenzie and his unpatriotic party tried to defeat it, and made a proposition that the road should be built by a company, a proposition which the Government was forced to adopt. A year ago Mr. Mackenzie signified his intention of building the road himself with a company. Now he has changed his mind again, and came back three years afterwards to the same policy as he [Sir John] proposed in 1872. And, as the Mail pointed out some time ago by figures which I have myself disputed, the present scheme would only cost $31,000,000 more than the extravagant scheme of Sir John Macdonald." Well, what was the scheme of Sir John Macdonald? It was to give it to Sir Hugh Allan with $30,000,000 and fifty millions, or rather fifty-four million acres of land, without any tender being asked, without any survey being made, without the slightest competition of any kind; but speaks as if his plan would have succeeded but for the change of Government. Now, without saying about the propriety of giving Sir Hugh Allan the contract, which I have already briefly spoken of, the hon. gentleman forgets that before the Pacific scandal matter came up at all his plan had totally failed, and not only so, but the security which the company were to get—a million dollars for the fulfilment of their contract was given up—was paid back to these gentlemen; and Parliament was informed that the scheme could not be carried out. This was before Sir John fell at all. His plan had failed utterly, and now all he was to build the road with this amount of money and land would be just as reasonable as to insect ten millions in its place. Really, anything more childish can scarcely be conceived. He gave us the land in the country, true to give them this amount of money and land; the company went to England and tried to get capitalists to expend money; they did not succeed in doing so, and they came back with their thumbs in their mouths, simply saying they had failed. Having failed, Sir John gave back the money deposited as security, as the scheme was at an end; yet he speaks of it as a live scheme at the time he was defeated. He says he was compelled that Mr. Mackenzie and his colleagues voted against it. We are anxious to get a road built, but not to impose on the country a hopeless burden of debt to accomplish it, and we will not do it. (Cheers.) On the other hand we were placed in this difficulty. Sir John agreed to build it in ten years. His Government committed themselves to an absolute bargain. It is quite true that within the last six months Dr. Tupper at Renfrew declared that they were intended to build it in ten years. I simply said in reply to that, "Gentlemen, if one of the Ministers of the Crown states deliberately that they had no intention of carrying out the bargain into which they seriously entered, and to which they affixed the Great Seal of the Dominion, I have nothing more to say; but my ideas of public and private morality are not of that kind, because I believe every person should carry out a bargain if in his power." We sent an agent to British Columbia to tell the people that it was entirely out of the power of the Dominion, if we had all the money in the London banks, to complete the road in the time agreed upon. The moment Mr. Edgar went to British Columbia he was assailed by the Tory press, and his mission was misrepresented, every difficulty was thrown in his way in the hope that British Columbia would refuse to listen to him, that the defeat of the Government would be secured, and that Sir John would again come into power. His mission was rendered difficult as possible. A local Government bitterly hostile to the Dominion Government had charge of affairs there, and instead of doing what they could to assist him, and compelled us to withdraw him. Lord Carnarvon then stepped in and offered his mediation. We said it was a matter in which we could not see any reason for mediation, because we could not carry out that bargain. Ultimately it was arranged that we should endeavor to build the road from Lake Superior to the Pacific by 1880, engage to expend two millions a year after the surveys were completed, and that we would complete the road by 1890. Keglenant to Nebalone, a distance of between sixty and seventy miles on the island, where we were not obliged to go. These terms were ultimately assented to by the local Government, and our first act in 1874 when Parliament met was to introduce a Bill to provide for the construction of this branch of the road on the island. We carried it through the House of Commons with difficulty, because many of our friends believed we were undertaking too much; but no serious were we to quiet the people of British Columbia and to show them that we were desirous of doing whatever we could that a considerable majority supported us in getting the Bill through the House of Commons, where even Sir John and Dr. Tupper could not resist the vote. It went to the Senate where Mr. Cameron and Mr. Atkins, two of Sir John's colleagues, raised a strong opposition; and you will bear in mind that the Upper Chamber is controlled by the Conservatives. They succeeded no one but Conservatives during their reign. It was entirely beyond our power to carry the Bill through the House and it was defeated; we were, therefore, unable to carry out the terms of the compact. We then offered to submit to Parliament a proposition to give them one hundred and fifty thousand to be applied either to the building of that road or other local works, in lieu of the Bill which was defeated. That proposition the local Government and the Assembly also declined to accept. Thus the matter now stands. We have remanded the survey with that sum at our possible disposal. It was impossible for us to do more than we have done. The surveying engineering corps of four men have been employed all the summer, and have spent $1,500 per mile, and we have not yet got all the road located, and the consequence is we are only all to be done. This will keep 1000 men employed of whom an enormous it is to contribute a survey for the whole question of Manitoba, to enable us to come to a conclusion as to what we have decided, we have left everything in the hands of the Government of the country. I hope, however, that in the other side will see that we have exerted ourselves to the very utmost accomplish what we have engaged to do by the Carnarvon terms. (Cheers.) If we can do any better, we will be very glad to do it, because it is in the interest of the whole Dominion that we have railway communication with that western country as soon as possible, and to make the Pacific Ocean as familiar to our people as the Atlantic is now. (Hear, hear.) There are several questions which are of paramount importance to this country to which I desire to allude. You are aware I have always been an ardent advocate for reciprocity with the neighboring country. You are aware that no effort of mine has ever been looking to endeavour to accomplish the achievement—for I would consider it an achievement—of having better business relations with our neighbours on this continent; because, no matter what our outside relations, even with England and the continent, may be, we have a boundary of four thousand miles in which the United States have a common interest. But it is impossible that any severe disturbance of trade relations on such a vast line can be otherwise than injurious to both countries. We have therefore always felt desirous as Canadian to have the freest possible inter-course with that people. Sir John Macdonald has endeavored during the last few days to point out to you that in the absence of a Reciprocity Treaty the farmers of Canada ought to be protected just as the American farmers are protected from us. There is a specimen of absolute audacious nonsense in any such advice, for the simple reason, that we raise more cereals than we consume of every kind except corn, and the imposition of some corn is useful to our farmers. They raise more grain than they consume—much more than we raise. They don't grow as good barley as we do; in some districts they raise better wheat for some purposes; but taking it altogether, what I have just taking it altogether, what I have just stated is true. England is the principal country that raises much less of the cereals than she can consume, and the prices of grain in New York and Montreal, and the question of freights is the only one that can affect the relative operations of the Americans and the Canadians. If any one can show me a plan whereby I can raise taxes for the county from the American farmers, I am quite willing to accept it. but it is certainly a new idea that we can remove a depression from our own people by imposing heavier taxes upon their trade. [Hear, hear] One single instance will illustrate what I have said. There is only one grain that the Americans supply us with to any great extent, and that is corn. Mr. Joseph Rymal, the member for Wentworth, made some remarks as came to about how we were affected by the trade of adjoining [illegible] Mr. Speaker, I will show you how the trade varies, by adopting as instance that myself in my own experience. I had forty or fifty [illegible] I had corn and got for $1 a per b

PETERBOROUGH, SEPT., 28, 1876.

THE EASTERN WAR.

From the conflicting accounts which daily reach us, concerning the Turkish question, as the status of the belligerents, it is impossible to arrive at any very definite idea of the probable results hitherto, or the possible consequences. An armistice has been declared, but the principal actors in the Drama are not idle in the meantime, and hence, a few days may bring the intelligence of renewed activity and more terrible bloodshed. It is said that Russia is preparing for a part in the conflict, and that Austria is demanding explanations. Prussia will not look on in silence, and Britain may be compelled per force to take part in a struggle that can add no glory to her but may add largely to her liabilities and fatality to many a Briton.

It is not beyond the limits of possibility that the Turks may cause as much trouble in their exit from Europe as they did on their entrance. A general conflict is not out of the range of possibility, which may convulse all southern and eastern Europe, besides extending to Asia and Africa.

The news received from day to day is indefinite enough to mean this or to mean immediate peace, but the latter alternative is not very probable.

A dispatch to the London 'Times' says: "Two statements apparently contradictory, but from reliable sources, have been received from Russia. One is that an order has been issued that no more leaves of absence be granted Russian soldiers; the other has it that in the military districts of Kiev, Kharkev, and Odessa, preparations are making for the mobilization of troops. It is claimed, however, that this is but a trial of the system of mobilization and of calling in of reserves as is the yearly practice in other countries."

This dispatch may mean Russian interference or merely Russian strategy to test the feeling of the great powers; for there can be no two opinions as to the desire of Russian statesmen to divide Turkey if they can but secure the lion's share, or even a foothold on the Mediterranean.

The great powers are engaged in perfecting, if possible, proposed terms of peace; but as these terms indicate a proposal to return to the status quo ante Bellum, Servia becomes restive, and expressing her unwillingness to accept the good offices of the powers. Her rejection of the terms may appear a small thing if depending on her own strength, but no one can tell whether Russia or Prussia may not be secretly encouraging her to rejection, in order to secure their own designs on the partition that must follow the defeat of either party, should other states be induced to take part in the conflict.

It is rumoured in London:—

"That a general conscription has been ordered throughout Russia, and that the Russian Government has ordered the preparation of a register of all horses liable to seizure in case of war. The report is now creating considerable excitement.

A Berlin despatch to the Times says the Russian Government has ordered the preparation of registers of horses liable to be seized in case of war. The correspondent remarks that the preliminary agreement of the Powers upon the terms of peace being vague enough to admit of different interpretations, Russia's war like measures are evidently intended to support the construction that will shortly be placed on the present arrangement by St. Petersburg diplomacy."

These dispatches only indicate the uncertainty prevailing even in England concerning the state of affairs in the East.

Turkey is taking steps to re-build the villages destroyed during the massacre of the Christians in Bulgaria, and has sent £18,000 to supply the destitute, who have suffered from loss of property; reparation for loss of life is out of the question. This may prevent a repetition of such outrageous disregard of the amenabilities of civilised states.

The great uncertainty hanging over all the doings of the contestants and the doubtful action of the great powers, prevent the acceptance of any information from the scene of the conflicts; and this uncertainty may continue to exist unless the action, or supposed preparation for action, on the pa of Russia precipitates the whole of Europe into a general war; and should this follow them the days of Turkey in Europe are numbered.

THE HIGHWAY TO OFFICE.

The question of the day: How to obtain a seat on the Treasury benches at Ottawa. The way to obtain this very desirable object: get up a picnic, invite Sir John McDonald, Wandering Willie, and Charles Rykert to conduct the show. The showmen in full circus dress, accompanied by a jolly joker, a few hot buns, some punch, and an old speech of the great chief, and at once the whole Conservative party will be as elated as if in office or distributing another $10,000 among themselves. The intuitive glances at Sir John, at Willie looking to Washington, the sly thrust into their pockets to grope for a portion of the spoil, and the evident disappointment in not finding any promise, a pitiful expression of countenance indicating approaching despair if Sir John cannot secure a "benefit" before the closing of the circus season. The time of the meeting of parliament will soon arrive. Fun and antics that produced a laugh on the picnic grounds, when the head was cheered with ——— will fail to prevent the great showman having to answer for his acrobatic feats in his perambulatory excursions through Ontario.

The hey-day of Sir John's popularity is gone. The sunshine of greatness is eclipsed. The pacific scandal like a huge cloud hangs over him, and prevents the radiance of his lustre shining with the brilliancy that once marked his pathway. His sale of Canada's wealth and the source of her influence in the Washington Treaty; his subjugation to Lower Canada in all matters by which he could secure a single vote in the House, and his final grand sale of the Pacific Charter to Sir Hugh Allan, have all combined to overshadow him, and will eventually force him to retirement. His star is setting fast, and will soon go down in forgetfulness, when history will only tell in woeful strains, with sadness and sorrow, of the folly of bartering our high way to the ocean for nought; and of the shame of selling our honor and good name for a few years retention of office. The glory of these pie-nics will not save them from the disgrace of selling their country.

EXCURSION TO MIDLAND.

On Thursday last, as previously announced by handbills, an excursion on a large scale took place along the Midland Railway to Midland, on Georgian Bay. The fare being very low, only one dollar, induced an immense crowd to take advantage of the opportunity of seeing this rising place. The arrangements for cars were not all that could be desired at Peterboro', for the immense throng had to take their stand in box cars, in which were no seats, and in this way arrived at Millbrook, hoping there to be more comfortably provided for. But the whole available cars of the company were literally crammed, leaving scarcely sitting room for the ladies. Mr. Hugel, who was with the party, found that no more could be taken on the train; and therefore telegraphed ahead to sell no more tickets, as the train would have to pass all stations without calling. At Omemee the anxious throng at the station felt their disappointment as the locomotive steamed by at full speed. Lindsay had to be served in the same way, and so with the other stations to Orillia.

The party, numbering about 1000 to to 1,200, arrived at Waubashene, on a bay of the Georgian, about one o'clock. There Mr. Hugel had provided a steamboat, the "Georgiana," two tow boats, a large barge that would seat about 500 persons, and a scow. The rush from the train to the boat and scows was pretty lively. Very soon it became evident that all could not be accommodated safely; and hence those who valued life more than pleasure concluded to stay at Waubashene. About 1000 got on board, and soon were on their way to the future Chicago of Canada, which is situated about 14 miles distant by water, and 13 miles by the proposed route of railway—which, by the way, is underbushed and ready for grading as soon as Mr. Hugel can find sufficient signs of returning prosperity to warrant the outlay. On the way we passed the mouth of the Severn to the right or eastward from Waubashene. At the Severn the Dodge firms have large mills capable of cutting 20,000,000 feet a year. On our left was Sturgeon Bay, there is a mill whose capacity is 15,000,000. At Waubashene the Dodge firm have mills capable of cutting 12,000, and there are other mills at the mouth of the Wye. By the way Mr. Hugel informs us that here is the ruins of the ancient French fort St. Marie, built in the early settlement by them before Lake Ontario had been discovered by the French, and about the time of Champlain's visit to Lake Huron; and when he is believed to have passed down the back lakes, the Otonabee, and the Trent, on his way back to Montreal and Quebec. About four o'clock Midland was reached. It is situated on a very capacious bay of several miles length, sheltered by a headland and peninsula which extends out about four miles, completely defending it from western winds. Penetanguishine is about four miles distant, and the Reformatory there is almost visible as Midland Bay is approached. In the bay the Stars and Stripes were waving, as a large schooner, the "Yankee Blade," was in the harbour being loaded with cordwood for Chicago. The party had to climb over her to get landing; but their desire to reach terra firma, see the city in its splendour, and if possible get something to refresh the inner man, enabled them to surmount every obstacle readily.

Midland is situated on a rising ground sloping from the bay. There are two or three taverns, several stores, waggon and blacksmith shops, a schoolhouse, and a neat church, although we must confess, we saw none. It is about the size of Keene, but somewhat scattered. The ground is springy but easily drained, as there is a splendid fall towards the Bay. Mr. H. H. Cook, M.P., has a very fine saw mil lhere, cutting at present about 130,000 feet per day, and affording employment and good wages for the able-bodied villagers.

After a short stroll we had to obey the whistle, and return again to our vessel, lest we should be forced to remain for a week to take notes of village life and contemplate our own folly. When all appeared to be on board, and the boats were loose from their mooring, a loud laugh indicated that some one was being made the recipient of a practical joke, and looking for the object it was too plain that some of the party had tarried longer at the wine than the time allotted to stay in Midland, and was about to be left on shore. A sail boat on the Bay, however, kindly took the loiterers on board and conveyed them safely to the barge, breathless no doubt, but pleased to be with former associates. The sail to Midland from Wahbashene is beautiful, and Mr. Hugel did all in his power to make it a pleasant one. L. Ross, Esq., M.P., of Port Hope, was also among the party, and assisted the President of the Midland Railway very much in adding to the pleasure of all on board. The party arrived at Waubashene about six o'clock, soon were aboard the train and on their way homeward. There were no less than twenty-two closely packed coaches, and yet not a single accident was heard of during the day. The Peterboro' division of the excursion party arrived at the station at four a.m., in good time to have a morning nap. The only drawback to the affair was the crowded state of the cars and the absence of anything like decent standing places for those who left Peterboro'; but Mr. Hugel assured us that he had made arrangements with the Grand Trunk to furnish several additional coaches for the day, but at the eleventh hour they refused to do so, owing to the demand on their line by parties going to the provincial exhibition at Hamilton. The day's pleasure, however, amply repaid for the inconveniences. Mr. Hugel deserves great praise for pushing the road to Waubashene; and it is to be hoped its terminus will soon be at Midland, with an abundant reward in a large and increasing traffic.

Letter from the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

(From our own Correspondent.)

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 19th, 1876.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—I did not intend when I left Peterboro to write you an account of my trip, but since it has proved such a pleasing one to me, it affords me pleasure to be enabled to let you know something about this beautiful country. Everybody now-a-days is talking of visiting the Centennial, and no other trip in the wide world is thought of. A trip to Philadelphia is a very desirable one in a certain point of view, but for those wishing sea air, healthful enjoyment and a ramble through the most beautiful portion of the Dominion, no trip in my estimation is equal to that of a tour through the Lower Provinces. On my way I stopped off at Montreal and visited mostly all of the "sights" there, but Montreal has been visited by nearly every resident of Ontario and I shall not attempt a description of it; a word or two about Quebec will be more acceptable.

This famous old city has a good variety of interesting places. There are a number of public squares and walks in the elevated portion of the city called Upper Quebec, from which spots did views are obtained unrivalled for their varied and picturesque beauty. In one of these squares is erected a fine monument sixty feet high, to the memory of those illustrious Commanders, Generals Wolfe and Montcalm, who fell in 1759 at the taking of Quebec. A substantial monument marks the spot where General Wolfe fell on the plains of Abraham; it is fifty high, and on the St. Foy road a bronze statute supported by an iron pillar is erected, intended to be commemorate a desperate struggle which took place between the English and French troops in 1760. The Montmorency Falls a few miles out of the city is a magnificent sight. Quebec is very strongly fortified, being surrounded by walls, and otherwise fortified, and it is declared to be impregnable, by military authorities. The ancient citadel, situated on the highest elevation of Cape Diamond, takes its stand as the strongest fortress on the continent of America. Quebec has some very handsome buildings, both public and private, but apart from this, by far the greatest number are dull, antique looking buildings, and this together with the narrow, irregular streets, gives Quebec a dismal aspect. The principal business of Quebec is ship-building and the lumber trade. She yearly launches a large number of full rigged vessels, varying in tonnage from 1000 to 2000 tons, and exports millions of feet of timber.

From Quebec I took the train for Rimouski, a beautiful little fishing village situated on the shores of Bathurst Bay; the salmon fishing here is excellent; the scenery about Bathurst by very beautiful. Grand Falls have attractions for the tourist. In approaching the falls you go thro' a narrow gorge, tall, towering cliffs frowning on either side; it is a very romantic looking place; commercially, the principal product is the canning of salmon and lobsters, of which a very large quantity is exported annually. I have took the train for St. John. Of the 165 hours railroad ride from Point Levi, Quebec, to Bathurst, I cannot speak too highly. The finely finished and well equipped cars that run on the Intercolonial Railway I have never seen excelled, and the road throughout is laid with steel rails and furnished with iron bridges exclusively. The scenery along this line is unsurpassed in magnificence and variety, sometimes passing over a flat level country clothed with rich looking verdure; again we see hills and mountains, sometimes wild and picturesque; through sunny dales and wooded valleys glowing with innumerable tints of the richest and most brilliant hues. The route is by the valleys of the Restigouche and Metapedia rivers, unsurpassed for their magnificent scenery, and by long beautiful shores of the Bay De Chaleur and Gulf of St. Lawrence. St. John is one of the largest—I cannot add finest—cities in the Dominion; it occupies a very commanding position, overlooking its fine harbour and the Bay of Fundy. St. John has a large number of handsome public and private buildings, among the following will be found the finest churches, banks, Dominion buildings, the post office, gaol, court house, lunatic asylum, and the city and marine hospitals; of the Victoria Hotel, it is said that it is excelled by no other in Canada, and I have never seen any hotel in the Dominion fitted out with more taste, being very complete in arrangement and is in all the most elegant and costly hotel that can be found in the Dominion. There are some very nice public walks and parks in St. John, and splendid views can be had of the city and surrounding country from some of the elevated portions of the city. The river St. John enters the harbour through a rocky gorge forming a very remarkable falls at low water; the water of the river is about 16 feet higher than those of the harbour, and are about 5 feet higher than those of the river, occasioning the phenomenon of a fall outwards and inwards at every tide. Spanning the rocky gorge is a magnificent suspension bridge about 60 yards shorter than the one across Niagara, or about 600 feet wide; and from this bridge a fine view is obtained of portions of the city, also of the rushing and boiling waters immediately beneath it.

It is stated that St. John in point of registered shipping stands fourth in rank of all the British Empire. The tonnage of this city in 1874 was 388 vessels, 253,410 tons; this tonnage represents a capital of more than $12,000,000. The vessels are mostly all of the expensive class, and there are no finer vessels afloat on the sea to-day than the larger crafts belonging to this port, and no other port on this continent is known to have so large a fleet of clipper ships and barques on the sea, as St. John. This is something for which Canada may justly feel proud. The lumber export trade is very large. The many advantages possessed by St. John, together with its unsurpassed facilities for manufacturing purposes, renders it a city, now that the Intercolonial is completed, that bids fair to become the leading seaport city of Canada.

The sail up the beautiful river St. John to Fredericton, a distance from St. John of about 90 miles, is one of the most pleasant sails I have ever enjoyed; the scenery along the river is varied and beautiful; the bright sun and dry clear air, with the gentle breeze that always accompanies a sail, is pleasing and refreshing to one who has spent the greater portion of the summer under a hot Ontario sun. On landing I amused myself by taking a ramble through the city. Fredericton, the capital of New Brunswick, is a beautiful little city, pleasantly situated on a level plane facing the river St. John; the streets are all wide and spacious, and mostly all of them have a bordering of green grass. The city has numerous handsome buildings. The following public buildings are all good substantial edifices, remarkable only for their plainness: Provincial buildings, government buildings, court house, city hall, and the exhibition building is a handsome wooden structure covering nearly an acre of ground. On an eminence back of the city stands the University, a substantial stone building; in an educational point of view it is considered one of the best of its class in the province. Alex. Gibson, Esq., one of the wealthiest lumber merchants in Canada has his extensive lumbering establishment a few miles out of Fredericton: the St. John river being thoroughly navigable, Fredericton is becoming quite a port, and its trade with foreign parts is yearly increasing. I visited Woodstock, St. Stephen and Calais, Me. They are all thriving little towns—lumber export trade being the principal branch of business. In my next letter I will give you a description of Nova Scotia.

The climate of New Brunswick is exceedingly healthy; the nights are refreshingly cool and the days are quite free from that almost unbearable heat experienced in Ontario. In an Agricultural point of view, the soil and capabilities of New Brunswick are unexcelled, nearly all kinds of cereals ripen perfectly and are of excellent quality. The potatoes raised here are the best in the world; hay growing is cultivated largely, and is found to be a most profitable crop. Farmers this season speak very favorably of their crops.

Yours, very truly,
PETERBORO MAN.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

In answer to "Alphabetical," in your last issue, for a remedy for consumption in its first stages, I can recommend Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," if taken according to directions, for it has been thoroughly tried in my family, and the results were glorious. "Alphabetical" must not expect one bottle to do the work—my wife took three bottles before she could discover any change, but after the third bottle every dose seemed to strengthen the lungs, and now she is well and hearty. If "Alphabetical" will write to me I will get witnesses to the above.

Important Failure

The Ontario Clothing Store as yet have failed to supply the demand for Ready Made Clothing which they make a speciality of. They have this day received a very choice selection direct from the manufacturer of the very latest styles, which they are offering at a slight advance. They ask no fancy prices on these goods, an examination of the stock and prices will convince you that they are offering and selling suits of Clothes of this seasons style at strictly By-law prices.

In their Over Coat Department many new novelties will be found, of all weights and colours, which they are selling at marvelously low prices, prices which are suited to the times, small profits produce large sales and allow them to carry the choicest and newest goods.

In their Underwear Department they call special attention, this being another of their specialities, and at this season of the year when the weather is so changeable you would save money and health by purchasing one of their suits of heavey underwear which they are selling very cheap.

An inspection of their GENTS' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT is especially solicited this being their great speciality, every thing new in the Neckwear line, entirely new and very inviting.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.—At a vestry meeting of the above church on Monnay evening last, the Rev. Mr. Allen handed in his resignation as Curate of this Parish, having been offered a situation in Port Hope, where he thought his labors would do more good. Regret at his departure was expressed by the meeting. It was also decided by a vote of the Vestry that for the present no steps should be taken towards filling up the vacancy caused by his resignation.

All's well.—The Rev. Mr. Jeaps, of Smith Falls, preached in the Baptist Church, on Sunday last, both morning and evening.

WM. MCCULLAGH employs only First-class Workmen, and uses the best Stock, and warrants all Boots and Shoes in his establishment.

THAT PRINTING.—The Conservative press is making a howl about some printing done in the Lower Provinces in connection with the Post Office Department. It appears after investigation that what was causing so much excitement was done under the system established by Sir John McDonald's Government, and that the McKenzie Government have found it necessary to put a stop to it and get the printing done at Ottawa. It is very odd that this Printing Scandal and Steam Vessel Sale should all have taken place under the Conservative Regime, and yet Conservative Journals are charging the sins of their own party to Mr. McKenzie. Their own sins will find them out notwithstanding their misrepresentations.

TOWN CONSTABLE would do well to give H. Collins a call for Groceries, as he is selling very cheap and has a choice selection of everything in his line of business

JUST SO.—The Mayor and one of our Editors, and a member of the firm, have got into a wow, and are talking very plainly to each other. We are not anxious to take part in the melee, but as the contestants have brought the EXAMINER into the debate, a word becomes necessary in self-defence. The Mayor accuses the Managing Director of of a paper doing certain work, viz: Printing Assessment Schedules and charging twice as much for them as the EXAMINER had done for Assessment Schedules. To this the TIMES replies, saying, "that this shows that work done in one office may be worth more than work done in another office." As this would appear to reflect on us, we beg to state that the truth is, the Proprietor of the EXAMINER did not print any Schedules, as claimed to, and another fact is that the Schedules referred to [illegible] Times office were so miserably done that they were unfit for use and were sent back to the TIMES office again, because unfit for use; so that if they were paid for, it was not for work done, for they could not be called work. We would not have referred to this unseemly discussion at all, had the Managing Proprietor confined himself to dealing with the Mayor and Town Council, but when he turns aside to make untruthful insinuations affecting this office, he may expect to get put right on the matter.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening.

Present.—His worship the Mayor in the chair, and Messrs. Paterson, Dixon, Taylor, Menzies and Rutherford.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read over and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From R. Nicholls, asking to have a sidewalk laid at his new building on Simcoe and Water Streets.—Ordered to be done.

From A. H. White, stating that as he had been away from home this summer he had not an opportunity of repealing at the Court of Revision. As it was he was assessed for $600 of an income while he will not have $100 of a taxable income this year, and hoped that the Council would deal with it.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From T. G. Haslitt, for the Dickson Estate, calling the attention of the Council to the state of the bridge at the east end of London Street, and stating that if any damage was sustained by any of their teams in crossing he would hold the town responsible.—Referred to the Street Inspector.

From Isaac Robinson, drawing the attention of the Council to the state of the approach on George Street in front of his house, as the side walk had been raised and the ditch deepened, and that a team could not enter his yard safely.—Referred to Street Inspector.

From W. H. Flood, Clerk of Cobourg, thanking the Mayor and Council for the handsome manner which they were received during their late visit to this town.—Received.

From John Boyd, Toronto, stating that as he had heard that Peterboro' was about erecting Water Works, they had three engines that were used in the furnaces, in Toronto which were for sale, and would sell one or three, to suit the town.—Received.

From W. Learin, asking for a sidewalk over a deep and dangerous ditch on Bethune Street. The Street Inspector was instructed to give him sufficient old plank and let him lay it himself.

From F. Berube, asking for pay for the damages sustained to a buggy of his while crossing King Street, amounting to $82.75.—Referred to Finance Committee.

From W. H. Ellis, Toronto, stating that if the town were going to erect Water Works he would like to give them a "bid" for the work or get up the plans for them.—The Clerk was ordered to answer him.

From Dennistoun, Bros. & Hall, calling the attention of the Council to the serious damages sustained to Mr. Leudy's Tannery during the high water, and that three things were necessary to have it remedied:

1st.—To clean out the bottom of the creek.

2nd.—Raise the bridge which is too low.

3rd.—Take out the posts in the centre of the stream, which catch ice, mud, and backs the water, and also that the town will be held responsible for any more damages sustained.—Received.

FINANCE REPORT.

Mr. Cahill, Chairman of the Finance Committee, submitted the following report:

To the Mayor and Town Council:

The Finance Committee to whom was referred the communication of J. F. Dennistoun Esq., relative to the Asbarn Mills Bonus, beg leave to report that they have had the same under consideration and have discussed the matter very fully, but Messrs. Dennistoun and Cox who appeared before the Town Committee on behalf of the Company, have failed to show your Committee that the Asbarn Woollen Manufacturing Mills, In view of so desirable a consummation your committee think it not advisable to press our claim, and we therefore recommend the postponement of the suit for the present.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

T. CAHILL,
Chairman.

On motion the report was received and adopted.

FIRE BY-LAW.

Mr. Rutherford, Chairman of the Fire and Building Committee submitted the following report:—

To the Mayor and Town Council:

The Committee appointed to examine into the Fire By-law and other matters in connection therewith, beg leave to report.

They have made a personal examination of the buildings erected this year, and also of buildings in course of erection, and find that they are contrary to the letter of the By-law. Your Committee consider that many of its provisions are too stringent, hence its violation.

Your Committee therefore recommend that a clause be inserted in the By-law providing for the erection of out-buildings such as wood and coal sheds and the like, one story high, in brick 9 inches thick, in stone 18 inches thick; in all cases to have fire or party walls to a height not less than 18 inches above the roof; on the square the roofs to be covered as set forth in clause 17.

They further recommend that a clause be inserted providing for the pulling down of the wooden structures, and the reerection, that is so say, where property owners in the upper fire limits find it necessary to remove wooden structures, they may with the consent of the Fire Inspector or the Council re-erect the same, providing that in their judgment the risk of fire is lessened, and in no case shall such structure be allow erected except they be open on one side and also free from close wooden partitions. We also recommend that clause 16 be struck out of the present By-law.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ARTHUR RUTHERFORD,
Chairman.

Peterboro, Sept. 28th, 1876.

On motion the report was received.

Moved by Mr. Dixon, seconded by Mr. Paterson,—That the Treasurer be instructed to pay Mr. Thornton the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars on account of watering the streets.—Carried.

The Mayor said that there was a person in the hall who had been up on the Victoria Railway and lived in Marmora, and was here without a cent, and wanted to borrow some money to take him home.

Mr. Menzies asked if the Council had any authority to lend money, he for one was not in favour of giving the people's money to, but would assist him himself if the other Councillors would do the same.

On motion the Council went into committee of the whole on the second reading of the Building By-law, Mr. Dixon in the chair.

After some discussion the Committee rose and the By-law left over till next meeting.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Paterson,—That the account of John McDonald be paid as it was referred to the Finance Committee at last meeting, after the Street Inspector had given his certificate as to the correctness of the same.—Carried.

On motion Mr. Beavis was heard before the Council in reference to what he should do to the cases he had before the Police Magistrate for the breaking of the Fire By-law, and also that there were several parties going on building who expected to have the By-law altered.

Mr. Menzies was in favor of having the old By-law enforced.

The Council then ad journed for one week.

EXECUTION OF JOHN YOUNG.

BREAKING OF THE BOLT HERE,

CAYUGA, September 22.—This morning, according to law, at 7 a.m. John Young, the murderer of Able Macdonald, was hung in the jail yard at Cayuga. There were few people inside the yard, but as part of the scaffold could be seen from without owing to the layout of the fence, there were some hundreds outside, amongst whom were several women. The Sheriff and his Deputy had made every effort to have all right, but, unfortunately, owing to the hanging of the king which was in the bolt, the first attempt of the hangman was a failure. The morning was a calm, the sun, and hundreds of the inhabitants of cayuga were thickened from their chambers a few people might be seen wending their way to the jail. The scaffold stood at the south part of the yard, and was about 20 feet in height from the beam to the ground. The rope was the same as the one with which McDonald was hung and the drop was about nine feet. The cell in which John Young was confined looked directly on the scaffold, and as the latter thought he did not like to see it, he offered to change his cell or have the shutters closed, but John would not, and said he wished to meet the scaffold in the course of reaction. This has been the second execution at Cayuga, none having occurred since 1835. At about six o'clock John's brother and brother-in-law called to see Farewell. It was the first time they had visited him since his resupture. John was deeply affected and wept; the relatives also were deeply moved. There had been attendance with John all yesterday and a great deal of last night. In the afternoon he had been visited by the Rev. Mr. Fitz, who had with him a Bible with a clasp lock, the key of which was not with it. Fitz managed to examine the bible, and after the reverend gentleman's departure he took off the clasp and sharpened it with the intention of committing suicide, but at the last moment he repented, or his heart failed him, and he did not do it, and told Mr. Fitz the circumstances in the morning. About half-past six o'clock, those in the yard could hear prayer and the singing of hymns going on in the prisoner's cell, there being at that time with him several ministers. Shortly afterward the representatives of the press were, through the courtesy of the Sheriff, admitted to the corridor. First of all James W. Young was seen, and he looked terribly ill. He was lying on his bed and was but a ghost of the former man. John Young was standing against the wall heavily ironed, in earnest prayer with the Revd's Fitz and Locke.

As the hour approached he got calmer. About seven the blacksmith came in to remove the heavy shackles, and as the heavy hammer descended on the riveted rings the heavy groan in the heart of every one present. John Young was dressed in a white flannel shirt and grey trowsers with no boots. He was cleanly shaved with the exception of his moustache, and his hair neatly brushed, altogether a man more unlikely to be a murderer could scarcely be imagined. As the men were ranging the chamber by gaunt intensity at them and counted to which with interest every stroke. After the shackles were removed the Rev. Mr. Copp, of Detroit, who was paying a visit to Mr. Fitz, entered and engaged in prayer. John had requested him to accompany him to the scaffold, and the revd. gentleman complied with his wish.

THE HANGMAN.

About 7.45 the hangman, a middle-sized man having his face heavily masked, entered the cell and pinioned the prisoner who bore the operation well. John was then taken to my [illegible] to his nephew, James William. Both spoke in a low voice through the little aperture of the cell, and the conversation was hardly heard. John's concluding remarks were, however, "Good bye, James, be a good boy; I'll be happy here for the rest. God bless you." This [illegible].

DEMEANOR OF THE PRISONER.

The prisoner walked with a slight faltering step, and cast very pale; he got his nerves together, however, and ascended the steps firmly. The Deputy-Sheriff, as soon as all were on the platform, read the warrant and asked John Young if he wished to say anything

JOHN YOUNG'S SPEECH.

The prisoner said, 'I hope this example of mine will be a warning to all young men not to follow in my tracks. Yes, I sincerely hope it will be a warning both to them and to strangers as well. I don't think I hardly deserve this fate, but I hope and trust I will meet you all in a better world; I do hope all will take this warning. I thank you all gentlemen, for your kindness to me, especially Mr. Charles, the Sheriff, and Mr. Murphy, the Jailer."

The unfortunate man shook hands with all on the platform, and the executioner proceeded to pinion his legs.

THE EXECUTION.

After the pinioning the wretched man knelt down on the trap-door and the Rev. Mr. Copp engaged in prayer. During this [illegible] over which the cap had been drawn, weakened convulsively, and it was evident that he was breathing heavily. At the conclusion of Mr. Copp's prayer the Rev. Mr. Locke recited the Lord's Prayer, in which all joined, and as the concluding the executioner pulled the lever but the ring connecting with the bolt had broken, and the wretched man remained in his terrible position. The feelings of the spectators may be imagined, but the feelings of the unfortunate man never can be. His hands turned purple and his whole frame vibrated with mental agony. The Rev. Mr. Copp tried to soothe him with prayer, but still the dreadful twitching continued. A heavy hammer was sent for and the bolt tried to be driven back, but still the trap refused to move. At last, however, by a violent blow of the hammer the trap fell, and the in John Young's life took place. He dropped some nine feet and spun round from the vibration, but soon [illegible] a few convulsive twitchings being all that were noticeable. It was with a sigh of relief to all who were present who saw the poor man put out of misery. We do not think, however, any blame can be attached to the officials for the disaster, as the ring which broke was an entirely new one and to all appearance perfectly sound. The greatest care had been taken to have everything in order, and none more deeply regretted the occurrence than those in authority. That he (Young), died without pain was evident from the expression of his face after he was cut down.

THE TRAP DID NOT FALL,

LAST SCENE

AN INCIDENT.

After Young was hung Mrs. Macdonald, the wife of Able Macdonald, came to see the body hanging. She had wished to see the execution, but was persuaded not to.

CUT DOWN.

After hanging about half an hour the body was cut down, an inquest was held before Coroner Deeow, and the verdict brought in that deceased died of strangulation.

—ELECTRICITY—

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil, Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and find it is equally, as good for horse as for man."—A. Mayhew, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is processed by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Ramsay, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. Mr. Magboe of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

3. That said Debentures shall be made payable in twenty years, from the day hereinafter mentioned for this By-law to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer of the said Municipality, and shall have attached to them coupons, for the payment of interest.

5. That for the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said Debentures and the interest at the rate aforesaid, to become due thereon, an equal special rate of Twenty-six One Hundredths of a Mill in the Dollar, shall, in addition to all other rates, be raised, levied and collected in each year upon all the rateable property in the said Municipality, during the continuance of the said Debentures, or any of them.

DEAR SIR:—

We are happy to inform you that we have been so fortunate as to Secure as Outter,

Mr. J. O. Madison,

A gentleman whose name is familiar to the trade of both the United States and Canada.

MR. MADISON is celebrated as the Inventor of a system of Garment Cutting which has been adopted by thousands of the leading men of the craft, and the demand for which is rapidly growing. For the last few years he has devoted his time to giving instructions to cutters on both sides of the lines. This has kept him almost constantly on the road, and the fatigue of travelling was rapidly telling on his health. Desiring, therefore, to give up travelling, and feeling unable to stand the hurry and overwork of cutting in a large city, he accepted the liberal salary we were able to pay and concluded to settle in our town.

MR. MADISON is in receipt of a considerable amount yearly from a Tailoring Institute in Chicago, over which he has control, where cutters are instructed according to his system, this amount together with what we pay him makes a handsome income.

MR. MADISON is able to fit any person without trying the garment on before finished, and can suit the most fastidious as well as those who are less particular. Such a man was needed in Peterborough and we have no doubt will be appreciated.

As we have an Educator of the city men here, there will no longer be any necessity for any gentleman to send his order to the city to secure superior garments. We can equal in style and cut, any work produced on the continent.

We are, &c.,

is office several times, but I never accepted the offers until the time came when my political friends were able without outside assistance, to accomplish the reforms they had always advocated; and I claim for the Reform party that every respectful measure which has been passed since the Union has been passed by means of the votes and brains of Reformers. I mean to say that the scenes of violence which occurred under the reign of our opponents can have no place for the future in the politics of the country; that by virtue of the efforts of Reformers the culminating point of the succeeding system was reached by the present Administration, in giving the electors the security they now possess in depositing their votes for the man of their choice. (Cheers.) This is all due to the reforming efforts of the party with whom I have been long connected, whom I have long served, and who have done me the honour to ask me to lead them; and I cannot see my position for any other purposes than those which I believe to be truly national, and for any than those intended to exhibit and consummate great reforms in the country. Now it may be quite true as our chief opponent says, that we are in the estimation of comparatively incapable of realizing the extent and importance of the duties committed to my trust. We don't care to go about the country as he is doing and, to use a vulgar phrase, engage vigorously in blowing our own trumpet. His whole efforts are directed to one purpose, to get back to office. There in fact a chapter or two blackening—so far as their puny efforts can—the characters of men who have been before the country for the last twenty years. They indulge in the hope that the time cannot be far distant when they will again grasp the reins of power, and use their position as they used it before. (Cries of "Never!") No, not in your life-time or mine, I assure you. Sir John Macdonald, not at all inaptly compares himself and his followers to a swarm of blue-bottle flies feasting on carrion. The illustration is his, not mine, and it is quite him I am perfectly willing that he should use it. (Laughter.) I have only to say in conclusion that I thank the ladies who have come to the meeting to-day, and the gentlemen who have accompanied them, and I hope that in all our meetings we may enjoy the same pleasing intercourse that we have to-day in this village. I thank my opponents many of whom I know are present, for their invariable courtesy to myself here and in other places, and I assure them, however much we may differ in our political opinions, it is my desire that there should be no other difference between us. Let these differences never result in anything more serious than a friendly contest at the ballot-box. If they defeat me I will be content, and if I defeat them, I hope they too will contentedly accept their political fate. With regard to the discontent alleged to exist in this and other Provinces, I am not aware of it. I am aware of this, that I received the support of many Conservative electors in the general election of 1874—gentlemen who had acted with that party in previous years, but who, becoming dissatisfied with what took place at that particular time, left the and have acted with us ever since. I have no doubt that many of these gentlemen, now that that is all past and gone, may desire to condone the offence of their defeat and to see them in power rather than my colleagues and myself. I am quite aware that the disposition to serve one particular party is one that is very strong and not easily eradicated. It is well that it should be so. It is much easier for the Conservatives, however, to hold together for Reformers, because they have been the defensive, while we are always the assailants. We are making innovations which are not agreeable to all, whilst the views of Conservatives always harmonize with those of their leaders; or, as Lord Granville expressed it, they seem to have the faculty of cohesion very strongly developed. It requires more or less effort to keep Reformers together, because some have what are called more advanced views than others and are, perhaps, disposed to press them unduly, instead of waiting patiently to accomplish one reform at a time, and then going on to deal with others. We have already done a great deal, but a great deal more may yet be done by Reformers to promote the prosperity of their country. It will be my duty, as leader of their cause and your member, to endeavour to the utmost of my power to accomplish all that can fairly be done. Do not be discouraged because two or three elections went against us; it is inevitable that, in a time of great depression in many branches of trade, there should be a feeling—no matter how absurd and unreasonable—that a change of Government would be productive of benefit. The present depression exists in the United States with ten times the force that it does here, and the Democratic candidate for the Presidency of that country will, on that account, get a far larger number of votes than he otherwise would. The depression in England is so great that if the present Government went to the polls the result would be influenced materially by that fact, and we in Canada must not expect to be exempt from the ordinary laws which govern public opinion all over the world. I have not the slightest fear but that the great heart of the country is sound to the core in its allegiance to the Government which has delivered it from the thraldom of that oppressive oligarchy which, during its whole history, did nothing but consummate its own purposes, and use the country for its own personal aggrandizement.

The honourable gentleman resumed his seat amid long continued cheers, after having spoken for two hours and forty minutes.

One of the Testimonials !

From Dr Duncan McCallum, Montreal—

I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling. Ten bottles of Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured

I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of that genuine article

MOONLIGHT ON LILY LAKE

(For the Peterborough Examiner).

Lily Lake is no misnomer,
For abundant lilies grow
On each margin, here and only
Passage for the small canoe.

On its sides are waving sedges,
Laving gently the deep water,
Olens behind the drooping willows,
Low down in the water flags.

Not a breeze their leaves now flutter,
Placid stillness reigns serene;
Smooth the water myra placide
Where our light canoe has been.

Ripples that are even wid'ning,
Till they reach the boundless sea;
So through life we leave an influence
Merging in eternity.

Oh, the beauty of the windings
Of meandering Lily Lake;
Little wonder we're bewitched
By the many turns we make.

Now the moon is right behind us,
Soon we need to sunlight face,
Lighting up those ocean waters
With a silver, wide-like grace.

Now our combinations waken
Some poor startled rabbit, who
Sends more shadows; or a musk-rat,
Diving to escape our view.

In this sweet retreat fears hostile,
Fretful feelings are subdued;
For vain show and tinsome fashion
Do not on calm thoughts intrude.

Fitting thoughts these scenes inspiring
Of the One who said that He
Is the Lily of the Valley,
Full of spotless purity.

GRAIN INSPECTION.—Mr. Wm. Bletcher, of this town, has received the appointment of Grain Inspector for this section of the Province from the Dominion Government, and has entered upon the discharge of his duties. Mr. Bletcher's long experience in handling grain well qualifies him for the performance of the duties of the position, and we have no doubt he will give great satisfaction.

PERSONAL.—We notice that Miss Alice Lukes, of this town, took the first prize at the Provincial Exhibition for amateur oil painting, representing still life—not flowers or fruit.

LAYING OF CORNER STONE.—The corner stone of the new Orange Hall, Bethany, will be laid at an early day by Malcomte Bowell, Esq., Grand Master, with the impressive ceremonies of the order. A large concourse of the brethren of the district is anticipated.

NEW SKATING AND CURLING RINK.—Work has already begun on the new Skating and Curling Rink, which is going to be more than twice the size of the one destroyed by fire. It will be so arranged that both skaters and curlers can enjoy their peculiar sport at the same time, without interference with each other. The work will be all completed before the frost sets in.

ACCIDENT.—A farmer from the 9th Con. of Hope, named John Moore, had the misfortune to be knocked down by a passing cab, driven by Wm. Downes, on John Street, at the Base Line crossing, on Monday evening last. He was at once removed to the house of Mr. Sleith, on Queen Street, and Dr. Herriman was called in, who pronounced the injuries very serious, the cheek bone having been broken, and also a slight bleeding in the opposite ear, which indicates internal injuries. We are sorry to state that Moore was under the influence of liquor at the time, otherwise this accident would not have happened, as the coachman states that he called to him before the accident. Moore was walking with a Mrs. Addison, who, although knocked down, was not much hurt.

HORSES KILLED.—On Tuesday last a team of horses attached to a wagon, while on their way to the central exhibition, took fright and run away near Cobourg. On crossing the Grand Trunk Railway track near that place they were caught by a passing train, and both horses were killed.

ACCIDENTS.—Two accidents occurred to brakesmen on the Midland Railway, on Tuesday last, both of which well nigh proved fatal. William Elliot and John Sanderson, each while coupling cars, were caught between the "bumpers" and badly squeezed. It will incapacitate them for work for some time to come.—A little boy of some 3½ years old, son of Mr. T. Henderson, junr., of Kendall, fell into the cistern, and when found was quite dead, having been in the water some two hours before being missed.—On Saturday forenoon last, as Mr. Dunn, of Hope, was coming into town driving a colt attached to a buggy, the animal got frightened, and attempted to run away. In doing so it came in contact with the buggy of Mr. Edwards, Lake Shore Road, who was also coming into town with Mrs. Edwards, the wheel of Mr. Dunn's buggy locked with his, throwing Mrs. Edwards out, striking her head. She was taken up insensible and carried into the residence of Mr. Glidden. A doctor was called, and we are happy to state that Mrs. Edwards had so far recovered from the effects of the fall as to be able to ride home on Sunday. Both buggies were badly destroyed.

A CONFIDENCE GAME.—She was young and handsome, hailing from the classic town of Lindsay; said she was connected with one of the most respectable families in Port Hope, with whom she was staying. She wanted on one of our most fashionable dry good houses on Saturday afternoon last, and wished to see a cloth jacket. Several was shown her; a selection was made. "I will take it to my friend's house for approval, if you will please to put up; will call on my return; my friend has sent me up to the jewellers for her gold specs." She then went up to one of our most attractive jeweller's shops, and asked to be shown a pair of specs. A selection was made as in the former case. "I wish to take them to my friend's house for approval;" and as the friend named was one of the most respectable families in town, her request was granted. The lady nor article not returning as promised a search was made, and a slight discrepancy was found in the beautiful young person's statement. The matter was then put into the hands of our worthy chief, who was seen on Monday morning pearing into the eyes of all the handsome young ladies at the G.T.R. station to find said specs. His search was rewarded, and the specs found astride the nose of the individual person for whom he was looking. Our Chief escorted her to a carriage, and having been handed her check her trunk was secured. She was brought before his Honour on Monday morning, and remanded until Tuesday morning, when further remand was made until Wednesday morning, when the parties declined to prosecute, and the case was dismissed with a reprimand by his Honor.—(Guide: Who was she?

What the Lindsay Post says about it:—THAT CONFIDENCE GAME.—Port Hope editors must have queer ideas about confidence games, or they are easily gulled, or extremely generous in the matter of the "Guide" that the unfortunate young girl "hailing from the classic town of Lindsay" is "connected with one of the most respectable families in Port Hope." From what we can learn of the matter it seems that she was employed a short time in a Lindsay hotel, but was sent home by the Queen given to the Port Hope police court. She is not a resident of Lindsay; neither was she, no matter what her other offences were—ever accused of being an orphanage, or called "handsome," the opinion of the Advance-Times editor of the "Guide" notwithstanding.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.—A serious runaway accident occurred on Saturday, the 16th inst., by which two gentlemen were seriously and another fatally injured. The party, consisting of Mr. Charles Farrer, of Westwood, Mr. Proctor, a retired army officer, bailing from Lakefield, and a Mr. Smith, were returning home from a fishing tour, and in passing the residence of F. Birdsall, Esq., of this township, the horses took fright, and the occupants were thrown upon a heap of logs. Mr. Farrer, had his ancle sprained, Mr. Smith one of his legs broken, and Mr. Proctor a leg broken in two places, three ribs broken, and his head severely hurt. The last named person, being over sixty years of age, survived but three days after the occurrence of the accident.

RAILROAD.—We have been informed upon good authority that the Grand Junction R. R. will be completed, fully equipped, and in good running order to the village of Hastings this winter, or next spring, or perhaps next summer, or probably next fall, or very likely next winter, or at any rate some time not very remote in the future. We hope our expectations in this respect will be realized, as there are numbers of stage drivers in our village now who are anxiously waiting to open up a "through" stage line between here and our ambitious neighbour village.

LIBERAL.—We are glad to learn that the Rev. Dr. Caven carried away with him evidence of the interest taken in Knox College by the Presbyterians of Norwood and Hastings, in the shape of a subscription list amounting to, for Norwood, $239, and for Hastings, $138. Pretty good for hard times.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday last, Mr. Patrick Fox, who resides near the Court House, was driving a team across the G. T. Railway, near the Hon. S. Smith's residence, when he was overtaken by the mixed train going west. The horses being upon the track were struck by the engine and killed; the wagon was damaged, and Mr Fox was thrown out and considerably hurt, though fortunately he fell clear of the track. The crossing is a very dangerous one, as it is shut in by trees on both sides; and Mr. Fox declares that no warning whatever was given by the engineer with either whistle or bell. We presume he has a fair claim upon the Company for damages.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A deplorable accident occurred on Wednesday evening last, resulting in the death of a young man named Matthew McDonald, son of Mr. Pat. McDonald, of this town. The young man left his home at half-past six o'clock, and proceeded to the track of the C. & P. Railway, near the weigh scales, where the evening train had just arrived and was slowly moving towards King Street. It is supposed that he attempted to jump upon the train and fell under the wheels, being immediately found

SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS.—We are willing to offer the EXAMINER for three months for 25 cents to those who wish to take the paper on trial. We also offer special inducements to Postmasters. This is an offer which ought to be very extensively patronized. Three months reading of a Journal like the EXAMINER for 25 cents is an advantage very seldom offered to the Public. We hope our friends throughout the country will make known this offer to their acquaintances and do all in their power to assist us as we are determined to keep the EXAMINER the most reliable journal on all matters in the county.

PETERBOROUGH, OCT., 5, 1876.

CONSERVATIVE INSINCERITY.

When an individual uses arguments or makes statements which he himself does not believe, or in which he has no confidence, this proves not only that he is possessed of a bad case, but also that he is an unprincipled advocate, and yet this is the course adopted by our political opponents.

When they were in power how bitterly and contemptuously did they complain of Reform criticism as lowering and disparaging the character of our public men. Now from all this we had a right to expect something of firmness and dignity from them when they went into the cool shades of opposition. But how has it been? Have they kept to their professed faith? Why, from the chieftan himself down to the lowest camp-follower—mud throwing, and that with a vengeance, has been the sole mode of attack or defence. Nor do we find the Conservative journals a whit better, but from the largest to the smallest they seem to revel in gross personal abuse and besmircking personalities. Mark, too, the difference in the criticism. When Mr. Mackenzie wished to expose any instance of corruption or mismanagement, we find him from his seat in the House, in the presence of all parties interested, moving for papers and making distinct charges as to the matter in hand. Thus he exposed mismanagement in regard to the Intercolonial. Thus Mr. Blake attacked the Washington Treaty. Thus Mr Huntington brought forward and sustained his charges in regard to the Pacific R. R. And thus have the Reformers always done. But how does Sir John and his co-workers? Is it from their place in Parliament they bring forward charges? Oh, no. But at some Conservative gathering, surrounded by Tory hangers on, and with only Conservative hearers, they dare to fulminate their insinuating charges. In the House all is silence so far as they are concerned, none dare "peep or mutter or move a wing."

Again, does their exist a solitary thinking person in Canada who for a moment believes that the present depression, which is felt much more keenly in the United States and on the Continent than in Canada, is in any way chargeable to the present Government? We say emphatically not one. And yet this cry—that the present Administration is causing the hard times—is trumpeted from one end of the country to another in the hope of catching some unwary one—in the hope that somewhere it may do some execution. Surely if men were honest politicians they would not act thus; and surely had they reasonable grounds of complaint against the Reform government they would not thus be putting false issues or false statements before the electors.

The Steel Rails Slander has been completely exposed and the slanderous nature of the attack fully brought to light. Still from Halifax to Vancouver this slander is re-echoed in the vain hope that some one who has not heard both sides of the question may thereby be made a convert. Truly treasury-bench seekers as well as drowning men catch at straws.

MAGISTRATES' COURT.

On Saturday last the adjourned liquor cases of Drain vs. Rickey, and Drain vs. Calcutt were summarily disposed of in following manner: When the time for hearing came, J. Edwards, Esq., and W. C. Nicholls, Esq., entered the Police Court Room, but Mayor Toole forbade them the use of it, and consequently Mr. Edwards, who was acting Justice of the Peace, had no office in which to try the cases. He was proceeding to another room in the same building when Mr. C. A. Weller, attorney for Mr. Calcutt, objected to hearing the case in any room but the one mentioned in the summonses. In this state of confusion the Magistrates dropped the cases and left the Inspector to commence them de novo. This is certainly a strange way of disposing of them, but it is nothing new in town and county when obstacles can be thrown in the way of carrying out the law. The town constables have not been friendly to the present law, and some of them have not hesitated to state the cause of their opposition, viz: "The law is the work of the present Government," and as Mr. Beavis says: "Let them provide a room," and we suppose special constables, for such men as he, will not do their duty even when called upon to do it. It is not long since the same constable Beavis was informed that drunken men were guilty of certain outrages, but he answered "he was not going to see after them, let the Government do after their drunkards," or words to that effect, if our informant speaks the truth, and we believe he does. Last week a list of witnesses was handed to Mr. Edwards to be summoned on these cases referred to. He placed it on his file till he would have time to use it, but when he sought for it it was gone. Did Mr. Beavis (who spends 'the greater' part of his time lounging round the office) see the list? At any rate some of the witnesses were missing on Saturday—absent for the day. Yet these same constables are appointed to assist in maintaining law and order—but forsooth this is a Reform Government, and none of their statutes are to be maintained by Mr. Beavis, and our worthy Mayor thinks that no such cases are to be heard in any building over which he has control. He cannot see that the insult offered was to the magistrates, not to the Government. All this and more in favor of law and order, and especially in favor of a traffic that promotes sound morality, sobriety and order, and by men whose duty it is to promote order and good Government.

IS IT RIGHT?

At the meeting of the Town Council on Monday night an alteration was made in the Market By-law that savors of injustice to the general public. Hitherto the farmer could dispose of his coarse grain as best suited him without being under the necessity of going to the market and paying market fees, but he has been lately deprived of this privilege and now must attend the market. No doubt the seller's loss will be the clerk's gain, and this is just where the injustice comes in. It is taking from a class and at the same time not a single cent is added to the Town Treasury. The desire has long been expressed that a grain market should be cultivated in Peterborough, but this appears to have the opposite tendency, as it proposes to take from the person who should be induced to come here to sell their stuff, instead of going to some other market to do so. Every cent taken from the farmers is just so much less for their produce and a consequent injury to the market and can do no good, as it does not lessen our taxes one cent.

SCHOOL BOARD.

The Board met on Tuesday evening. Present: J. Stevenson, Esq., chairman, in the chair, and Messrs. Edwards, McClelland, White, Robertson, Johnston, Pentland, Edmison, Smith, and Dr. Bunham, sen.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Principal, reporting the suspension of attendance from school of John M. Lodgate; his offence being publication in the Peterboro' "Examiner," of the 21st, of a letter containing reflections upon one of the teachers of the school; and also that he placed him under suspension until he should have published in the same journal such a modification of his letter of the 21st as may justify him in again admitting him in school.—Received.

The Principal submitted his report of the attendance of pupils at Peterborough Schools for September, 1876:—

ACCOUNTS.

Thos. Carter, sweeping Auburn School	$2 00
T. E. Fitzgerald, repairing	4 66

These accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Edmison said that Miss McCready had an average of 78, and Miss Baguley had an average of 84; and it seemed to him that no teacher should have more than 50 pupils, and that something should be done to remedy the matter.

Mr. McClelland said he believed there were parents who were sending children to the school who would rather send them half a day at a time than have them in rooms that were in such a crowded state; and he thought that it would be admissable for them to do so.

Some of the members of the Board requested that the erection of a new school be referred to the Property Committee.

Mr. Edmison said that it was better to have the matter about building a new school discussed before the Board, not before a committee, as it was an important matter, and he would like to hear what other members had to say in regard to the matter; and perhaps it would not be amiss for the Property Committee to report on the necessity of increased accommodation.

Mr. McClelland said that the necessity of erecting a building had been brought before the Board by the Property Committee about six months ago; and on the strength of that report they purchased a school site, and owned it at the present time.

Mr. Smith asked that the Property Committee submit plans to the Board.

Mr. Johnston said that the Property Committee and the Board saw the necessity of building a new school; but he wished to wait till next year, and let the people who voted down the by-law feel the necessity for it.

Mr. Edmison thought that because the town voted down the by-law, it was no excuse for the School Board for not attending to the accommodation that was necessary for the children who attended the schools, and suggested that something be done to have it remedied, as the town voted the by-law down through want of information.

Mr. Edwards said he thought that there were two schools mentioned in the by-law; and also a certain bridge (Smith Street), at the same time, which had the effect of defeating the portion of the by-law referring to the schools.

Mr. Edmison suggested that a committee be appointed to wait on the Council at its next meeting.

On the communication from the Principal on the suspension of a pupil, Mr. Edwards asked that the Principal, who was present, state his reasons for the suspension.

Mr. Jeffers then said his reasons were that a certain pupil in the school had written a letter to the "EXAMINER" reflecting on one of the teachers; and as he believed that the reflections would lead to insubordination, he suspended the pupil until he should publish an apology in the same paper.

Dr. Burnham and Messrs. Edwards and McClelland urged that while they considered Master J. M. Lydgate as a pupil had acted indiscreetly and wrong, the Principal had overstepped his powers so to suspend him without first submitting it to the Board; and also that the offence was not one of those for which a pupil should be suspended.

Messrs. Edmison and Johnston were not strong in their condemnation of the act of the pupil, and wished to censure him only to suspend the action of the Principal until all sparing should be published.

A compromise was arrived at by which the suspension was supported, but at the same time the young man was admitted to the school on his promising not to write any more such letters, to which he agreed for his own sake, as he wished to return to his classes.

The following are the resolutions of the Board on the matter:—

Moved by Mr. Johnston, seconded by Mr. White, That that this Board sustains the Principal in his action in suspending Mr. Lydgate from the school.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. McClelland, that Mr. Lydgate's statement be received, and that he be allowed to come back to the school on his promise not to repeat the offence any more.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Smith, seconded by Mr. Pentland, that the chairman, Dr. Burnham, and Mr. Edmison, be a committee to wait upon the Council at its next meeting to see about the increased accommodation for school purposes.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

ASHBURNHAM SCHOOL BOARD

The School Board met on Tuesday. The members present were Messrs. Bennett, Roxborough, Smith, Wright and Ingram.

Moved by Mr. Roxborough, seconded by Mr. Wright, That Mr. Wand's account for extras on the new school building, amounting to $55 dollars, be allowed.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Wright, seconded by Mr. Roxborough, That a vote of thanks be given to Mr. Wand for the satisfactory manner in which he has completed his contract.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

The occasion of Miss Dowling's retiring from being a teacher in our Union School was taken advantage of to present her with an address and handsome presents. Miss Dowling has been about seven years connected with the School, and during the whole of this time has been a popular teacher, giving satisfaction to the Board, and being much respected by her pupils. We believe she is retiring from the profession, and in doing so the best wishes of her many friends accompany her. The following is the address:—

MISS DOWLING,—We are assembled here today for the purpose of bidding you adieu, and of severing a connection that has existed between us for some six or seven years. You have held the responsible position of teacher in this school with a very great degree of credit to yourself and pleasure to those with whom you have come in contact. We find that the word of farewell is hard to utter, but rest assured that our sincere wishes for your welfare follow you wherever you go. In order to give expression to our regard we ask your acceptance of this testimonial and heartily unite in wishing that it may recall to your memory all that is pleasant in connection with your residence in Peterborough. Our earnest prayer is that "He who doeth all things well" may guard and protect you and yours, and that when our earthly career is ended we may, one and all, meet in that better land where parting is unknown.

Signed on behalf of the Teachers
JESSIE R. H. PANTON, and on behalf of the Scholars
CLARICA MENZIES,
NELLIE MACLENNAN,
MAXWELL DENNISTOUN.

Peterborough, September 22th, 1876.

The present consisted of a valuable cake basket and bouquet holder.

REPLY.

To the teachers and pupils of the Collegiate Institute and Public School of Peterborough.

The very kind address and presentation with which my retirement from the post of teacher in this school has been marked by my fellow teachers and the pupils, calls for my warmest acknowledgements. It would be strange indeed if I could separate myself without a pang from the pleasant work in which I have been engaged in this place for several years, and from those with whom, in that work, my relations have been so uniformally agreeable, and as I take this step with sincere regret, it is gratifying to be assured as I have been by this incident, that I have been so fortunate as to secure, and that I shall carry with me the friendly feeling of those with whom I have been associated. I am free to confess that this assurance is none the less welcome that it follows so closely upon the expression of their approval of my services which the Board of Trustees were pleased to give in very generous terms. While it is a matter of sincere regret to me that, my active connection with this school ceases, I shall continue to cherish a warm interest in its affairs, and to follow with special anxiety and affectionate concern the career of those who were immediately under my own instruction, in so far as I can. Entertaining the most cordial good wishes for the comfort and success of all the teachers, and for the advancement of the pupils, I renew the expression of my thanks for your very kind action on this occasion.

With affectionate regard,
MARIA DOWLING.

Peterborough, September 29th, 1876.

The Detroit Post refers to the Canadian display at the Centennial as follows:—"We cannot claim exclusive honor for the United States in this magnificent exhibition of the fruits on earth. Our neighbors North of the great Falls and the great lakes actually led off in this friendly rivalry. Canada has commanded our respect and challenged our admiration in nearly all the departments of the great International Fair, and has not only done herself great credit, but has shown her respect for the United States in the efforts she has made to be 'counted in.' In fact, the Province of Ontario has in this rivalry of nations shown her full capacity for the position of independent existance as a state, nation or republic, and must have produced the impression on the minds of visitors that she is worthy of far more than Provincial honor. Notwithstanding her high Northern latitude, she is up to the time with her display of fruits and the forwardness of her products is a matter of surprise and astonishment to the visitors."

WHITE'S LETTER.—The Hamilton Times deals with Mr. White's last effusion in the following spicy style:—

"Tom" (by Tory baptism) White has been to the front for about a week or so in an interminable letter in which he proposes to defend his falsehood anent the steel rail charges against Mr. Mackenzie. Tom's first charge in this matter was an endeavor by falsehood to carry West Montreal—wherein he failed because the people knowhim too well to believe him anything but a political humbug. His last effort in the letter lately published is evidently for the purpose of still keeping before the Ontario public his dignified name and sweet memory. The only other effect produced has been that few but newspaper men have read his long-winded document, and they only as a matter of stern and disagreeable duty; and also that of those who have read it, the Montreal Herald has taken the almost unnecessary trouble of going through the whole evidence, and proving that to Tom's first "deliberate falsehood" against Mr. Mackenzie, he has added several more in the way of publishing what he knows to be false, and suppressing what he knows to be true. To Mr. Mackenzie's charge against Mr. White, that what he said was a "deliberate falsehood," in spite of Tom's week and long-winded defence, still remains true.

"I. O. O. F. The Independent Order of Odd Fellows the Grand Lodge of which is at present convened in Philadelphia, made a grand display a few days ago in that City. The Philadelphia Press of last Thursday says the Procession:—The Odd Fellows of the United States are to be congratulated on having given what was unquestionably the finest parade in the Centennial City or in the Centennial year. It was a demonstration which did honor alike to their responsibility, their members and their position as the most popular of all the secret societies in the Union. It is a matter of pride not only to the members of the order, but to the hundreds of thousands who witnessed the magnificent pageant on the 20th, that a society, purely American in its origin, should have given such a display of its power as to impress upon the minds of all the justice of its claims to take the high rank it does as a beneficial society. From its institution in the city of Baltimore on the 26th day of April, 1819, by Thomas Wildey, the organization has steadily grown in power and influence; and no city in the Union has this increase been more marked than in Philadelphia, the city which yesterday witnessed the most imposing demonstration in the history of the order.

It is very amusing, remarks the Toronto Telegram, to hear the Conservative organs piping out jubilations over the smallness of the Premier's majority at Watford and the huge crowd Sir John Macdonald has attracted to hear him at Belleville and elsewhere. What mighty issues must divide the factions when barrels of ink are spilled in writing up this "astounding fact!" The truth is that Mr. Mackenzie would have had nearly as much reason to have been satisfied with an audience of 70 instead of the "miserable 700" at Watford, for he is not very anxious to convert the people of Lambton who are safe to retain him as their member in almost any event. The Premier was talking at them but to the whole country through the Press, and a couple of reporters formed a larger audience for him than all the surging thousands at Belleville. Had Mr. Mackenzie wished to make a local impression he would not have gone to his own preserve. The Conservative organs should not forget that, the next time they dive into this arithmetic business.

WM. MCCULLAGH employs only First-class Workmen, and has the best Stock, and warrants all Boots and Shoes in his establishment.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—To encourage home manufacture has always been my motto, and the insertion of the following few lines may not be uninteresting to some of your readers. Although our cousins on the other side of the lines may boast of their magnificent manufactories, and their superior machinery and implements, yet in my opinion we need not travel so far to be satisfied in both workmanship and material. In our own dominion we can find equally as good as in any other country, and especially in Peterborough, for agricultural implements and machinery is equal to any other place on the North American Continent. I had the pleasure of seeing a thrashing machine the other day that was manufactured by Peter Hamilton, of Peterborough, this season, the most complete machine I have ever seen. It is owned by Donald McNaughton and James M. Kidd, of this township. They have followed threshing for eight or ten years, and they say that this machine is the most complete they have ever used; and the farmers for which they have thrashed say that it is the easiest on teams that they have ever seen. In this respect it will become a favourite with farmers, as they are a class of men who try to save horse flesh as much as possible. The name of the machine is "Life and Ambition;" and no doubt it well deserves the name, for it requires life and ambition to keep the grain to it and take the straw away from it, although this part of the labour is much reduced by the tackers, for they work either in front or on the side. All the farmers wishing to get thrashing done satisfactorily will do well to give this machine a trial.

The Farce of Carrying Out the Liquor Law in Peterboro'.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—On Saturday last two adjourned cases of violating the license law were brought up at the Police Court, before James Edwards, J.P., and W. C. Nichols, J.P. His honour Mayor Toole was there in person and forbid the banns, or in other words, refused to allow the Court room to be used for the purpose of trying the cases. Mr. Edwards then sent the constable to find a room, and one in the same building was obtained; but the county attorney stepped in, and defied the magistrates to try the cases in any other room. It being then late on Saturday evening no further action could be taken. Is this the kind of conduct expected from a mayor and county attorney in protecting the laws of the country? If so let me know in your next issue.

HUGH DRAIN,
License Inspector.

CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly allow me to give a few facts in connection with the Port Hope Central Exhibition, how it happened that my farm received second prize for so doing, you would save me a great deal of loss of time in the busy season coming, as so many of the visitors of the district are assembled at the result. A most unfortunate thing happened with the forwarding of the goods to Port Hope, which were left over night in Millbrook, and arrived on the grounds not before Tuesday 10th a. m.: with so little time left for fixing up, and the small space allowed to me, which I divided with Mr. McCullagh of Peterborough, as otherwise the latter could not have exhibited his goods, as no room could be had for him. The great display of fine Bear Robes I had. I was at a loss to know how to show them. As no time was to be lost, unless resolved not to open the cases, I found myself in a state of perplexity not knowing what to do. I received the consent of the Exhibitors of grain, to hang the robes above their bags of grain on the wall, which space was greatly curtailed by the windows, and gave only room for five robes. The other six were hung like linens on a wash-line some two or three feet above the heads of the passing visitors, what impression such an Exhibition could make, is easy to imagine. The greatest difficulty in getting a step-ladder, as none I could see, save one on the ground, which was given to me here, when I heard Doebler's cry: That's my step-ladder! That's my step-ladder! Bring back that step-ladder! Although I was denied the need of that step-ladder, he did not use it. I was left helpless as before, so that I had to resort to a neck-braking method in putting borres on the bags of grain for to hang my robes. I shall not cast any blame on the Judges, as blunders will happen even in a court of justice, but how is it, that the rules of the Society are not better enforced? If as a rule, Exhibitors have to leave the buildings when Judges award the prizes, how is it, that Doebler could remain, and was allowed to criticise my furs in the presence of the Judges, as I was told.

When the Provincial Exhibition was held in the grand Trunk Sheds in 1866 at Montreal, and my work received first Prize against a good number of competitions for Mr. McIver of such judges as Wm Lemmin Brewer New York as a practical furrier established since 1821. I may well say I felt and earned the envy of a good number of the workingmen furriers in Montreal, and these are facts, with names to prove. Nor did Mr. McIver show himself ungrateful towards me by giving me besides good wages a cheque for $50 for a Christmas present. I shall refrain from making any remarks or criticise the furs Mr. Doebler showed as my goods could not be compared with his, being of a different class of goods. I had neither Rabbit goods nor small ware, such as caps, as I found out by the Peterborough Show, that without glassware there is some risk in a throng. Nor had I rugs, dolls or small stuffed bears with musical instruments. Had I only taken the monkey out of my shop window to Port Hope, he would have grinned Doeblers Show and his first prize to scorn.

If the judges will assure me that for quantity and not for quality, the first prize was awarded, I shall feel perfectly satisfied, as that decision will settle the matter in future beyond dispute and require no judges as a resident of the place were the show is held, will have the best chance to boast of the first prize. Thanking You Mr. Editor for the kindness.

I am yours Truly,
W. LECH.

Important Failure

The Ontario Clothing Store as yet have failed to supply the demand for Ready Made Clothing which they make a speciality of. They have this day received a very choice selection direct from the manufacturer of the very latest styles, which they are offering at a slight advance. They ask no fancy prices on these goods, an examination of the stock and prices will convince you that they are offering and selling suits of Clothes of this seasons style at strictly By-law prices.

In their Over Coat Department many new novelties will be found, of all weights and colours, which they are selling at marvelously low prices, prices which are suited to the times, small profits produce large sales and allow them to carry the choicest and newest goods.

In their Underwear Department they call special attention, this being another of their specialities, and at this season of the year when the weather is so changeable you would save money and health by purchasing one of their suits of heavey underwear which they are selling very cheap.

An inspection of their GENTS' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT is especially solicited this being their great speciality, every thing new in the Neckwear line, entirely new and very inviting.

MILLINERY OPENING. — DIXON BROS. millinery and mantle showroom will be open on Tuesday, Oct. 10th, with all the latest styles in millinery, mantles, etc. Inspection invited.—40

CLOSE SEASON FOR TROUT.—The close season for speckled trout has been fixed between the 15th of September and the 1st of May in Ontario; and the 1st of October and 1st of May in Quebec.

NORWOOD.—This neighbourhood was the scene of an elopement last week. The parties went through Peterborough on their tour southwards. They may have a justification, but not much fun in it.

EARLY MATURITY.—We are informed by a party in Town that they have a Light Brahma Pullet only five months old, laying, and that the weights seven pounds. This speaks well for the breed of fowls.

BASE BALL.—The return match between the Base Ball Club of Peterboro' and the Cavanaji's Club, came off on Saturday last, on the ground of the latter, and resulted in a victory for the Cavanville boys.

DUCK SHOOTING.—The season for duck and deer shooting has now fairly set in. The recent few cool days have brought the game in abundance to our waters, and sportsmen are meeting with great success.

SUNK.—The "Chippewa" struck a snag or sunken rock on Stony Lake, on Tuesday. The captain attempted to reach Mr. Julian Landing, but failed, as she sank before reaching shore. The water is up to her hurricane deck.

IT is rumoured that Wm McCullagh is about giving up the Boot and Shoe business. If such is the case parties wishing to purchase such a business would do well to call on him, as it is one of the best custom businesses in Ontario. 40-1in

WELL SOLD.—Messrs. Haggart, Bro., sold on Saturday last, by Public Auction, the farm of Mr. Bowrie, of Otonabee for $71.75 per acre to Mr. T. Cavanagh. This is the largest sum realized for any farm sold by auction in this county.

I.O.G.T.—The Peterboro County Lodge I.O.G.T., held the regular quarterly meeting on Wednesday, October 11th, in Union Lodge, Smith, at 10 o'clock, a.m. A full meeting is particularly requested, as important business will come before the meeting.

FRUIT SOCIAL.—There will be a Fruit Social held in the Good Templars' Hall, on Friday Evening, October 6th, under the auspices of Friendship Temple, No. 161. The Entertainment will consist of Speeches, Singing, Recitations and Music. Tickets 25 cents.

FISH AND GAME PROTECTION. — The monthly meeting of the county of Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Society, will be held at the Huffman House, on Friday night, at half-past seven o'clock. As business of importance is to be transacted a full meeting is requested.

PRINTING. — The "Examiner" Office has just been supplied with a lot of new type, embracing some very handsome styles. Business men, therefore, who want to secure neat and tasty work, will find their advantage in calling and examine, and see our prices, which are very low.

POULTRY SHOW.—We believe that the Poultry Fanciers of Peterborough intend having a meeting at Mr. Sproule's Photograph Rooms on Tuesday evening, next at 7.30 for the purpose of forming an Association so as to have Poultry Shows, etc., held in proper season and offer prizes so that parties from adistance can compete

RUNAWAY.—On Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock a team belonging to Mr. M. Harkness of Emily ran away from Mr. John Sullivan's Hotel and coming up George Street were stopped in front of this Office. The Buggy was a total wreck. No other accident happened as there was no person in the Buggy when the horses started.

PIGS.—Lately several fat porkers have taken possession of the streets and side walks and pedestrians who are annoyed thereby ask, "Where is constable Beavis, who was lately appointed pound-keeper?" Is this pig by law one of the Ontario statutes that Mr. Beavis cannot dirty his hands seeing after it while he receives his salary from the town.

THE MILL REFUSE.—The Boating Club are prosecuting the mill owners for letting the mill refuse fall into the River. If they protect the owners to remove their Mills to Harwood to avoid annoyance, who will refund the town for the loss and who of the Club will give employment to the men left idle? Fun is fun, but when the public officers, sit heald be curtailed a little.

MCCULLAGH AHEAD IN BOOTS AND SHOES.—Our townsman, Mr. McCullagh, carried off the first prize at the Port Hope Central Exhibition, for a general assortment of boots and shoes. They were run by the best display of that line of goods ever showed in the province. This speaks well for the "Red Boot." His work not only takes first prize, but gives first class satisfaction.

PHRENOLOGY.—The celebrated Prof. O. S. Fowler visits Peterborough on Friday and Saturday next. Friday evening, October 13th, he gives a free lecture in the old Methodist Church, on "Life and Self Culture;" on Saturday evening on "Matrimony," when the admission will be 25 cents. Consultations during the day at the Huffman House. We should judge that he will have large audiences.

We have received a little work entitled "Gray's Elegy. With Notes," prepared by Mr. Earle, English Master in the Peterboro' Collegiate Institute. It contains a short account of the life of the poet, gives selections from different authors casting forth his author's high claims to distinction as a close, polished and refined writer. The poem is given in full, with the lines numbered, to which copious notes are appended.

WE have lately paid a visit to Mr. Henry Best's Store and were much surprised to see such a magnificent display of Marbleized Slate Mantles and Coal Grates, which would be an ornament to the most exquisitely furnished room in any mansion. He has also the latest improved patterns of Cook Stoves, which having taken First Prizes at the Provincial Exhibition at Hamilton last week, need no further comment.—40

AUCTIONS.—Parties getting their auction sale bills printed at this office will receive a notice similar to this, free of charge; which, owing to the very large and increasing circulation of the "Examiner" is worth more than double the price of the bills. When other sales go off badly, these noticed in the "Examiner" are invariably well attended, because having a large circulation it is the paper that reaches the people.

FOR SALE.—A valuable stone house, by auction, on Brock Street, to-morrow at 2 o'clock, p.m., at A. P. Morgan's Hotel. The house is in a good state of repair, and capable of accommodating a large family. Haggart Bros. auctioneers.

MR. THOS. Bullock will sell by public auction, on Thursday, October 12th, at his late residence, lot No. 17, con. 1, Dummer, near Warsaw, at 12 o'clock noon, all his farm stock, implements, etc. Haggart Bros. auctioneers.

A TOWN ORNAMENT.—Mr. Beavis must certainly be for show, not for use, as the sequel will establish. The other Saturday night he attempted to take a young lad, about 15 years of age, who was tipping the light fantastic toe on the sidewalk, in front of Mr. Maunder's book store, to the annoyance of the passers-by; but the boy proved more than Constable Beavis's match, and laughed at him. What is the use of appointing such men to keep the peace? Their attempts to keep it only provokes merriment and gathers a crowd.

CLOTHING.—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher in his Toronto lecture, says:—"Man must have clothing; for although the bear and thatfox discourn the taller and run with their clothing on their backs, man has to be provided with his working clothes, his summer clothes, and his "go-to-meeting" clothes. LeDrum is prepared to supply man with his fall and winter clothes of every description, at very low prices for cash. Call and leave your measure. Mr. McGran is, we believe, a first-class workman, and parties who get their clothes made by him will no doubt get a well done job and a good fit. See his advertisement.

THE SOUTH END.—Last week several cases of insulting ladies who were passing along the side walks in the south ward, were reported. In late case, we understand, the men turned the gas off two lamps; but this, instead of assisting them in their designs, was the cause of baffling them, as in the dark the ladies got away, but pretty well scared. Our informant asks where are the constables when these things can take place and the parties escape unpunished. Perhaps the best answer is in their own words; "Lounging round in the Clerk's office," or concealed somewhere out of the way of danger if anything should arise.

THE BANK OF MONTREAL gives notice that they are prepared to issue circular notes which can be used by travellers all over the world after the manner of the letters issued by British and continental banks. We are glad to notice this important facility; and it was sitting that our leading bank should be the first in Canada to adopt the plan. These notes, we understand, require a letter of introduction to the foreign banker, containing the signature of the bearer, and without this letter the notes cannot be cashed. It will not now be necessary, when our young men of enterprise or our old men of business desire to travel far abroad, to resort to foreign bankers for letters of credit.

M. COLLINS is selling his Groceries at prices to suit the times.

ATTENTION WANTED.—We do not wish to be considered fault-finders, but there are times when patience ceases to be a virtue. Such we think, is the case in reference to the animals that are allowed to run at large through our principal streets, especially in business hours. It is a positive shame and disgrace that a town like Peterborough should have a lot of pigs or cows poking around our front streets, as they parties driving along have to stop their horses to allow a cow or pig to get out of the way. If the town authorities are not aware of this, which can be seen nearly every day, they are only citizens in blissful ignorance. It is high time that people began to question the competency of some of our officials for the duties expected of them.

GO TO M. COLLINS if you want Pioneering Sugar. Lodge let cheap.

NUISANCES.—There are a number of young men and boys who are in the habit of congregating in front of the lamp post on the corner of Charlotte and George Streets, in the evening; and there are also a number who bring out the wood on to the sidewalk in front of Mr. Yelland's and sit there; and if a lady has occasion to pass them, she is sure to be annoyed with not choice language; or when she happens to look at her skirt she will find a couple of tobacco spits upon it. We are of the opinion that some of our town constables should give a crowd of them a night's lodging in the lock-up, without respect to who they are, as some of them are of respectable parents, and know better and an example made of some of them would be a blessing to the ladies of the town.

WM. MCCULLAGH will sell Rubbers and Over shoes at Montreal factory prices.

PERSONAL.—We learn that Mr. Geo. Laidlaw and Mr. C. J. Blomfield will sail from England for Canada on the 5th of October..... Mr. Kennith Mackenzie, Q.C., is to be appointed County Judge of York.... Messrs. R. Hall, R. McKay, W. Davidson, and J. Davidson have returned from the Centennial.... Mr. C.W. Kempt left for the Centennial on Monday last..... Messrs. John Belcher, D. G. Hatton, R. A. Morrow, and Dr. Boucher returned home on Saturday last from a trip down south to Maryland, and returned by Philadelphia, the wonder of the world at present.... Mr. Roper, agent of Bank of Toronto at Cobourg, is about to take charge of the Peterborough branch; and Mr. Hudson, manager at St. Catherine's, will be removed to Cobourg in his stead.... Messrs. W. Stewart and J Bennett, of Otonabee, left for the Centennial on Monday last.

HOUSEKEEPERS will find the best value in Groceries, &c., at M. COLLINS', next door to McKee & Davidson's Hardware Store.

COWS AT LARGE.—Cannot something be done to mitigate the cow nuisance? Hardly a householder in Peterboro' or the vicinity that has not had the experience of finding some morning that a hungry bovine has forced in his gate, and doomed his choicest fruits and vegetables, of which he has taken the greatest care. On the dark nights pedestrians on the back streets are just as likely as not to stumble over a sleeping crumnie, who manifests a disinclination to move; and timid females are not unfrequently scared out of their seven senses. We have heard a great many complaints on this subject, and we certainly think that something should be done in the matter. Surely the public have some rights which brute beasts and the civic authorities are bound to respect. Perhaps our newly-appointed pound-keeper could give us some information on this subject.

THOS. CORTRELL would do well to give M. Collins a call for Groceries, as he is selling very cheap and has a choice selection of everything in his line of business

ONTARIO CLOTHING STORE.—The fall and winter stock is now complete at the Ontario Clothing Store, and embraces some splendid tweeds, fall cloths, overcoatings, and all kinds of ready-made clothing for this season. In this age of show and fraud, when the country is being overrun with travelling humbugs, people require to exercise some judgment in how and where they lay out their money. Those who go to Mr. Taylor may buy with every confidence, as he is establishing an honest business reputation, and is noted for representing goods to be just what they are. The present stock is extensive, and embraces a first-class lot of goods of various lines, including some splendid lots of the latest styles. Prices are also low at the Ontario Clothing Store, and people are satisfied not only at the time the purchases are being made but while the garments are being worn as well. Try one of his "Heart" shirts; they sit to perfection. Read his advertisement in another column and go and judge for yourselves.

ROUND TOWN. — Now put up your stoves..... It is time to put your thanksgiving turkey up to fat..... There are not quite so many drunks to be seen on Saturday. Sobering up since the canal..... People say this is going to be a hard winter. Cheer up, there is a good time coming!..... Pilgrims to the Centennial are returning daily from the great show. There is only a short time left now, and those who have not been should go to avoid being bored to death by those who have been..... The ice-cream and soda-water vendors are despairing..... This is the busy day for attending the Agricultural Show..... The Midland Railway had another excursion to Midland City yesterday..... There are sixteen new styles of bonnets this fall. The most fashionable looks like a last season's pancake hit with a club..... The tax-collector will soon begin to perspirate.—Fall shows are in progress all over the county..... The "shinny" season has commenced, and the voice of the small boy can be heard in the distance calling out, "Shinny on your own side." Knuckles and shins will suffer now..... Thanks, giving Day will soon be announced..... Parties around will do well to examine bills which they may receive, as a large number of bills of the defunct banks may said to be in circulation.

MANITOBA CROP REPORTS.—The Winnipeg "Free Press" crop reports for 1876, gives the total yield of Manitoba:—wheat as 6,000,000 bushels; barley, 176,000 bushels; oats, 300,000 bushels; peas, 44,000 bushels; other grains, 1,000 bushels; potatoes, 600,000 bushels; turnips and other roots, 100,000 bushels. The statistical returns from crop reporters in 34 settlements show an average production of wheat of 24 bushels per acre; barley, 32 bushels; oats, 51 bushels; peas, 23 bushels; potatoes, 250 bushels; turnips, 600 bushels. All the crops are one-sixth less than expected, on account of the very wet weather, and a large proportion of the land was only once ploughed.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening.

Present:—His worship the Mayor in the chair, and Messrs. Cahill, Haggart, Patterson, Hopkins, McClelland, Elliot, Douglass, Montague and Redmond.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read over and confirmed.

CORRESPONDENCE.

From James Wood, asking the town to appoint a solicitor to defend the Market By-law, as he had a case going on before the police magistrate.—Granted.

From James A. Barchard and others, asking the Council to prohibit the use of the Police Court rooms being used by parties outside the municipality.—This petition was granted at first, but through the eloquence of Mr. Cahill it was reconsidered and only received.

From Robert Burgess and others, asking to have the west side of Aylmer Street raised.—Referred.

From J. W. May, complaining that Mr. Beavis was injuring his property by the Town allowing him to cut the road so deep.

Mr. Beavis was heard before the Council in reference to this petition, and said that he was greatly improving the street by what he was doing, and at the Street and Bridges Committee thought that there was any damages done he would certainly have it fixed at once.—Referred to Street and Bridges Committee.

From James Thornton and others, asking to have the grade struck on King Street; and also to have a side cut laid along by his new building to connect with sandy hill.—Granted.

From Mrs. O'Brien, asking to have an outlet made for the water which backs up on her premises and greatly injures it.—Referred to Street Inspector.

From F. Dobbin, asking the Council to say what the day of the fire bell should be in case of fire.—Referred to Fire Committee with power to act.

From James Edwards, Town Clerk, stating that the 6 mos. coupons paid to the Treasurer of Ontario in 1874, had not been received. Had written several times lately and received no reply. Ordered to write again.

From E. C. Hall, asking that Donegal Street be macadamized, as they were called upon very often to build fences, and did not know where to get them.—Received.

From D. Wallace, asking to have the amount that was appropriated against in water tabling, as the water was injuring his garden very much. Referred to Street Inspector.

The accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

The Clerk submitted the figures obtained by the assessors and the Mayor and himself in relation to the exemptions of taxation in the Corporation; and on motion the Mayor and Clerk were instructed to forward the papers to Toronto

On motion a by-law was introduced to amend the fire by-law; and on motion of Mr. Rutherford the Council went into committee on the whole on the second reading, Mr. Haggart in the chair.

After having the by-law changed to suit a few parties who had erected buildings contrary to the old by-law, the Committee rose, and a motion to give it the second reading was introduced. An amendment was then made to leave the third reading over till the next meeting by Mr. Cahill, which was carried.

The Market By-law was altered to compel farmers and others to bring all their coarse grain, with the exception of wheat, to the market before disposing of it.

The Mayor stated a Mrs. Redmond had a child who was insane, and wanted the town to pay her fare to the Lunatic Asylum, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Johnson said that the child that was found in a basket this Summer had died this afternoon, and he had ordered its burial at the Town's expense.

A motion was then introduced by Mr. Cahill that the Building Inspector be instructed not to proceed against parties who have constructed wooden sheds, or who have such still in course of erection under the old by-law, provided that the shingles be laid in mortar, and that such sheds be open on one side and free from close wooden stalls.

The Mayor said that the motion was out of order and had to be dropped.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Dixon, That the thanks of the Council are due, and are hereby tendered to the President of the Midland Railway Co., for his kind invitation to the Corporation and citizens to join his excursion party to Midland City and back; and we further beg to express a hope that the day is not far distant when they will be in receipt of benefits certain to accrue to them on completion of this road, and that a copy of this motion be forwarded to A. Hugell, Esq.—Carried.

The Council adjourned for a week.

WHO IS TELLING THE TRUTH.

PETERBOROUGH, 26th Sept., 1876.

JAMES EDWARDS, Esq., Clerk and Treasurer of the Town of Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly answer the following questions?:—

Are you in a position to say that the implied charges made by me against the manager of the Times newspaper in connection with your office are correct, and if not wholly, how far so?

Would it be possible for me to derive any material advantage from my position as Mayor, without your knowledge?

Is it usual for the Mayor to meet with all committees and thereby become responsible for their acts in the appropriation and payment of monies?

Yours truly,
WM. TOOLE.

PETERBOROUGH, 28th Sept., 1876.

W. H. TOOLE, Esq., Mayor of Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—In reply to the queries addressed to me in your letter of yesterday, in respect of the charges preferred by you against the Managing Proprietors of the Times newspaper, I beg to state that I know that a few of them are substantially correct.

The Assessment Schedules, were sent to the office I believe, and to order them were sent back by me, and afterwards ordered to be paid by the Finance Committee.

The Review Office furnished the Assessment Roll for 1875 and the Schedules, 1800 of the latter, at one cent each.

The Times' account was for 2,700 at 1½ cent each, and a worse lot of schedules I never saw; a great many of them were askew, and unfit for use.

I am aware that the Times has been in the habit of inserting notices for the Corporation without orders, and claiming pay therefore.

I am not aware of your deriving any undue advantages from your position as Mayor.

I have not known you to be negligent of your duty as Mayor; and my impression is that you have devoted more of your time to the service of the town while Mayor, than your predecessor has done.

I cannot be aware of any co-operation with any of the committees otherwise than what you have considered beneficial for the corporation.

The Mayor being ex-officio a member of all standing committees, may meet and vote with the other members, but it has not been customary, nor supposed to be obligatory for him to attend, and he thereby can not be held responsible for the payment of monkeys.

Very truly, Yours,
J. EDWARDS, Clerk and Treasurer.

A contemporary says:—

"Not Just so. The EXAMINER, we are sorry to say, has followed the base example of some of our Magistrates and perverted the truth. Those schedules which were printed in this office were done properly and were not sent back because unfit for use. We can not expect better from a political journal, which, to keep alive must practice such sins in behalf of its party, but we object strongly to their efforts to depreciate our mechanical skill to exalt their own."

Just read Mr. Edwards letter again.

MONTREAL.—Three persons lately escaped from the Montreal jail.

ONLY 15,000 BUSHELS of the new barley crop of Canada have yet been received at Oswego, and none of it is on the market.

THE CENTENNIAL PRIZE SPAN of Dominion bred horses was $15 and $10, owned by Mr. Kennedy, of London township, have been sold for $1,500.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH in Canada has 4 Synods, 28 Presbyteries, 624 ministers, 82,186 communicants, and 37,969 Sabbath scholars. The aggregate collection for all purposes during the past year, amounted to $695,000.

THE GRAND JUNCTION.—The "Belleville Intelligencer" says:—

"We have been informed that the Chancery suit of Bickford against the Grand Junction Railway Company, now in the Supreme Court, is in a fair way of being amicably settled, and that when this difficulty is removed the Company will at once proceed with the construction of the road."

HARD TIMES.—Those who complain of "hard times" in our prosperous country are invited to consider the following extract from the "Chicago Journal":—

"In any city there cannot be less than four or five thousand men looking for work, and fully as many more who are just barely subsisting, on a scanty allowance, while in prospect of steady work for the winter. It will be almost indeed if the main army of the unemployed right at our own door do not create cold, aggressive demand over charity, make heavy calls upon our benevolence, or give us more trouble before the long winter shall have ended."

GOOD.—We find the following in the last number of the "Monetary Times":—"As a further suggestion for the cure of the hard times and other pressing evils, we print below a circular issued early in the Century by a Colonial Governor:—'Owing to the hard times and slow collections, I am obliged to call my constituents to pay all arrears due at once. I will be most happy to receive a settlement of the whole amount, but will settle on 25 per cent. paid before the 1st of the following month. The remainder I will wait for if I must.' The Governor was then left alone with no one to oppose him, and he lived happily behind him ever afterwards. The system of credit is the same now as then, and the Governor's circular is as much needed now as then. Many who have been living on credit will find it hard to pay up, even though they have been receiving high prices for their produce, and will be glad to get off as well."

—ELECTRICITY—

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Mhefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally, as good for horse as for man."—A Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Russan, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weeks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. My Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine.

DEAR SIR:—

We are happy to inform you that we have been so fortunate as to Secure as Cutter,

Mr. J. O. Madison,

A gentleman whose name is familiar to the trade of both the United States and Canada.

MR. MADISON is celebrated as the Inventor of a system of Garment Cutting which has been adopted by thousands of the leading men of the craft, and the demand for which is rapidly growing. For the last few years he has devoted his time to giving instructions to cutters on both sides of the lines. This has kept him almost constantly on the road, and the fatigue of travelling was rapidly telling on his health. Desiring, therefore, to give up travelling, and feeling unable to stand the hurry and overwork of cutting in a large city, he accepted the liberal salary we were able to pay and concluded to settle in our town.

MR. MADISON is in receipt of a considerable amount yearly from a Tailoring Institute in Chicago, over which he has control, where cutters are instructed according to his system, this amount together with what we pay himmakes a handsome income.

MR. MADISON is able to fit any person without trying the garment on before finished, and can suit the most fastidious as well as those who are less particular. Such a man was needed in Peterborough and we have no doubt will be appreciated.

As we have an Educator of the city men here, there will no longer be any necessity for any gentleman to send his order to the city to secure superior garments. We can equal in style

GOD BLESS YOU!

How sweetly fall those simple words
Upon the human heart,
When friends long bound by strongest ties
Are severed by hate to part.
Yes sadly press the hands of those
Who think in love across you,
And send responsive beats to meet,
In breathing out "God bless you!"

"God bless you!" Ah, long memories
I heard the mournful phrase,
When one whom I in childhood loved
Went from my dearest gaze.
Now blinding tears fall thick and fast,
I mourn my long-lost treasure,
While echoes of the heart will sigh
The farewell prayer "God bless you!"

The mother sending forth her boy
To ocean untried and new,
Lays not a studied, stately speech,
For nerving out "Adieu!"
She gladly says between her sobs,
"If there's or misfortune press you,
Come to thy mother, boy come back,"
Then sadly sighs, "God bless you!"

If the world seems cold to you,
Kindle fires to warm it!
Let your comfort hide from you
Winters that deform it,
Hearts as frozen as your own
To their coldness gladden,
You will soon forget to moan,
"Ah! the cheerless weather!"

If the world's a "vale of tears,"
Bathe till rainbows span it!
Breathe the love that life endears—
Other from clouds to fan it.
Of your gladness lend a gleam
Where mists that shiver;
Show them how dark sorrow's stream
Blends with hope's bright river!

USEFUL RECIPES.

HOME-MADE MANURE.—In searching for manures we believe it is a safe plan, in that, as in many other things, to follow the dictates of nature. Nature draws her supplies of fertilising material from decomposing rocks and falling leaves, and while we have not yet learned to extract the potash from the granite, yet we are already drawing large supplies from minerals richer in that fertiliser, though more rare. And we believe as our needs become greater, the supply will be brought to light. Already we derive immense quantities of potash from Germany, and of potash and phosphates from the kyanite of Canada, while the fossil bones of fishes of thousands of years ago, from the swamps of Carolina, are yielding their rich treasure for the fertilization of the whole world. But all these products have their specialities; there is not one universal manure, but one which really costs nothing and is good for all crop; that is derived from the barnyard, the henhouse, and the pigsty. A farmer may go on from year to year raising large crops and selling them, and then buying his manures from the produce of the rocks, the fossil bones of antediluvian fishes, or the medicated bones of the cattle which feed our cities, and he will really be growing poorer every day, though he may be putting money in his pocket. But if he keeps cattle and saves their manure, he is every day adding to his own wealth and to the value of his land. It is the old story of raising at home instead of buying from abroad; keeping cattle and saving farmyard manure is manufacturing your own fertiliser instead of buying it. The amount of grain necessary to keep the cattle would not buy half as much nor half so valuable a manure. Then the pasturage and the return to the soil by the manure is solely in the end the cattle more than pay for all they eat and are constantly yielding revenue and food for the family. —New York World.

SWINE IN THE BARN YARD.—The plan of following pigs to run in a large, open manure yard, and treat straw into manure answers better for young or growing pigs than for those that are fattening. Neither is it inconsistent with the best modern methods of marking and preserving manure; for while there is not a better undressed foot in physiology than that animals must be kept still and quiet during the processes of fattening, and must have their rambling instincts restrained, yet with animals which are young and are growing a very different course must be adopted. If much confined they will get misshapen and rickety, will lose the bloom the health and vigor, and remain small in size and tender in constitution. Exercise is as necessary for them as it is for horses, and the manure heap in the yard will be benefitted by their rooting. the cold corn will be picked up, and the fermenting mass will form a warm and healthy bed, highly suited to the somnolent habits of the pig in winter.

TO INDOOR GARDENERS.—A correspondent of the Farmer says: Plants kept in a sitting-room where frequent sweeping has to be done should be covered until the dust has settled, as dust upon the foliage injuries the plants by retarding their growth and bloom, as leaves are to plant life what lungs are to animal life. Where scale or red spider have accumulated, as they will in a warm, dry atmosphere, or in dark situations, whale oil soap suds showered over the leaves and sponged off on the under side, or turning the bottom up and dipping the whole down into the decoction, will remove the pests. Where plants are crowded into too small space, they will generally have the aphis or green fly, and the thrip and mealy bug. Smoking or washing the plants thoroughly will destroy these also. Above all; give your plants plenty of fresh air and all the sunshine possible. But few plants will grow in the shade, and this class is mostly confined to the begonia family and a few varieties of vines; among them are the similar and the common ivy.

FERTILIZERS.—The grasses, which in their decay annually enrich the prairie, and the leaves which render forest land so fertile, contain not only the three elements, nitrogen, potash, and phosphoric acid, which the chemists consider so essential for plant food, but a multitude of other elements, and especially carbon, which the chemists tell us is not essential in the soil, being profusely supplied to plants from the carbonic acid of the air. Every practical farmer knows that this carbon renders the soil friable and porous and much more capable of absorbing and retaining the moisture and gases of the air. By the aid of muck, which is mainly composed of carbon, we have seen heavy clay lands rendered light, easily worked, and productive, and sandy soils made retentive of moisture, ammonia, and other fertilising gases. Barn-yard manure abounds with carbon, and produces the same effect on clayey and sandy lands. —American Paper.

One of the Testimonials !

From Dr DUNCAN McCALLUM, Montreal—

I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but three applications of Brandreth's Rheumatic and Gout Remedy, gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured

I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of that genuine article

SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco or alcoholic spirits; but the Special Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Impotency and all diseases that follow as a sequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by

FOR THE "EXAMINER."

Reflective thoughts while attending the Funeral of a Mother taken away from a large family.

Am I who can take that mother's place,
Or fill that chair Death vacant left?
Or give the mother's fond embrace
To tender babe of her bereft?
Or who can watch these children dear
With the same feeling, love, or care;
With joyful patience sit and hear
Them lisping o'er their evening prayer?
No other hand so gentle, kind,
To wash their cheeks and smooth their locks;
The mother's love so well defined,
Knows well her part to whip or coax.
When seized with sickness or with pain,
The mother's hand oft gives relief;
Their tear-wet faces smile again.
Her words the balm to soothe their grief.
In joy or sorrow, mirth or woe,
How generous lits their hearts with bliss;
Radiant their youthful faces glow,
As she imprints the mother's kiss.
The breasts that nursed, upon which did keep Watch o'er them in their tender years:
The tongue that oft sung them to sleep,
Rock with that mother disappears.
When the bright sun withholds its beams,
Then gloom and darkness reigns alone:
As such that family circle seems
When from its midst that mother's gone.
The father may perform his part,
They willingly may him obey:
But, ah! his words touch not the heart
As did that mother's passed away.
The stranger may attempt to fill
The breach which cruel death has made,
They lack the love, the power, the will
The mother's loving heart displays.
Mothers all earthly friends excel,
Though they may true and faithful prove;
No pen can paint, no tongue can tell
The depth of a true mother's love;
Love from all other love apart,
'Tis heaven-like, nothing less;
The yearnings of a mother's heart
She shows, but can't express.
Then let us love them while they live,
Nor let death it erase;
No other friend this world may give
Can fill a Mother's place.

WEST RIDING SHOW.

The Agricultural Show for West Peterboro' was held on Wednesday and Thursday last. Owing to its following the Central Exhibition so closely there was not interest enough taken in it to ensure anything like even moderate success. The articles exhibited were not inferior in quality, but in quantity very defective. The show inside the Drill Shed especially was limited in quantity. The prize list will best give the judge's ideas of the successful exhibitors. It is very evident that the central exhibitions are about to supersede the old riding shows. But the township shows should not be lost sight of, as they will attract a number of exhibitors and a kind of local competition, which the larger central exhibitions would not.

PETERBOROUGH, OCT., 12, 1876.

POLITICAL HYPOCRISY.

Spiritualism is at a discount just now in London, England. Why? Has it not been accomplishing as great results as ever? Has it not been making tables dance and pianos polka, and a hundred other supernatural and inexplicable wonders? Oh, yes! But the truth of it is that a certain Dr. Slade, a burning and shining light in this society,—overdid his wonders, and was detected considerately writing the spirit's despatches. We opine that the public will not put much confidence in this spiritualist, Dr. Slade, after this detection; and the fact that he stands convicted as a vagrant by the police court confirms our judgment. Thus let it ever be.

But while we approve of the action of the London police magistrate in this case, we would like to ask, Have we no tricksters to be detected and exposed? Have we in our Canada no artful dodgers to be brought to justice? Unfortunately we have. Unfortunately we have those in this fair Canada compared with whose duplicity the deception of Dr. Slade seems harmless and innocuous. If there be one characteristic more than another peculiar to the Conservative leaders and press in this country, it is insincerity. They knew right well, long before Lord Dufferin said so, that the completion of the Pacific Railroad in the time originally agreed was a physical impossibility. They know that the Canadian Government never promised to build the road to Victoria. They know that Mr. Mackenzie's Government has done all that dare be done, comporting with Canadian dignity, to satisfy the British Columbians. They know that Mr. Mackenzie has pushed on the work connected with the railroad with rare zeal and fidelity; and yet they wilfully fan the local irritations for partisan purposes and endorse the misrepresentations of local annexationists and United State sympathizers.

Conservative papers, too, which with a great show of patriotism denounced the Liberals who criticised and condemned the unprincipled tricks by which Sir John A. Macdonald maintained himself in power, are guilty of disloyal disparagement of Canadian statesmen in the eyes of other countries, now they can find no slander too mean and no misrepresentation too gross to hurl at the heads of honest and conscientious statesmen, who are, by their manliness and integrity, wiping out the stains of national dishonour, inflicted by those recreants who trailed the banners they bore through the mire of corruption, and made Canadian politics a by-word in Europe and America.

Their picnic orators, too, though they know assuredly that the present government have adopted no course having any tendency to produce the present financial stringency, are yet sufficiently regardless of truth and honorable dealing, as to appeal to those who may be suffering from the hard times, and make them, if possible, believe that for their personal suffering the Government is to blame. An honorable and high-minded opposition would scorn to stoop to the mean and wicked business of fomenting the public irritation in a time of general stringency: but patriots of the Liberal-Conservative stripe are not troubled with any qualms as to the method of their political warfare.

The charge of having given a contract for steel rails in a corrupt manner to a firm of which his brother was a member brought by Tom. White against Mr. Mackenzie,—which never had any foundation—has been amply refuted; it is still repealed and dished up in some new form to do duty for the opposition. Sincere men, who had been mistaken, would be glad to find that such a charge was false and abandon it; but they don't wish it to be proved false. They don't want the government to be innocent; they want and desire them to be guilty.

The charges proven against Sir John A Macdonald in regard to Sir Hugh Allen's money have been made to assume as many colorings as the Chameleon possesses. Each orator explaining it from his own stand point, and lessening the infamy of the act. First the burden was hoisted on Sir Hugh Allan Oh! what a wicked man was Sir Hugh. Not for all the gold and ships of the Allans could a Conservative be found who would take the place of the knight of Ravenscrag But somehow it would not rest easily on Sir H's shoulders—G. W. McMullens was the next Sinner.—Then meek thief &c. &c. but soon G. W. was forgotten.—Then we have "The injudicious act, and "The Slight Indiscretion till now with the boldest effrontery we are told, "It was never proven," and this they assert in the face of the report by their own Commission undeniably confirming Mr. Huntingdon's Charges.

Let these men who frame these unscrupulous tactics, who are ready to Scream out any Slanderous war-cry that may catch the unwary and serve a temporary purpose, without regard to truth or fairplay, have, the audacity to ask to be accepted patriots, burning with Zeal to sacrifice themselves for the good of their country. Their intense hunger for the emoluments of office is baptised with the name of Zeal for the public good. But the people of Canada are not quite so gullible as to swallow these noisy professions as unquestionable signs of unselfish patriotic Zeal. They who are so partisan as to be unscrupulous what means they use to injure their political opponents cannot and will not be trusted with the public interests. They are weighed in the balance and found wanting.

LORD DUFFERIN'S SPEECH.

When Lord Dufferin some time ago visited this Province, every one was delighted. His praises were sung from cabin to cabin. The ease with which he adapted himself to every position, and the appropriateness of his impromptu replies to the numberless addresses presented to him, pronounced him at once to be a man of uncommon observation and rare cultivation of mind. His celebrated speech before the Toronto Club is fresh in our memory. But it is not to anything said or done by His Excellency during his memorable progress through Ontario that we wish at this time to direct attention, but rather to his most recent deliverance at Victoria, British Columbia.

If we would thoroughly appreciate Lord Dufferin's address at Victoria, we must consider the peculiar circumstances under which it was delivered, as well as the literary merit embodied in it. Thus regarded it is a most masterly speech. There was a people whose conflicting opinions he had to regard: whose anger, sentiments, favour, and alienations he had to weigh: whose sympathies he wished to gain, and whose seditious utterances must be rebuked, and how well he succeeded in this delicate position the sequel shows.

He first calls the attention of his auditors, the Reception Committee—to the interest he himself had manifested in their country, prosecuting his tour of observation throughout the entire Province with an amount of energy and determination almost incredible. He shows his recognition of the beauties and resources of the Province in language at once poetic and nervous.

"Day after day for nearly a whole week, in a vessel of nearly 2,000 tons, we threaded an interminable labyrinth of watery lanes and reaches that wound endlessly in and out of a network of islands, promontories, and peninsulas for thousands of miles, unruffled by the slightest swell from the adjoining ocean; and presenting at every turn an ever-shifting combinating of rock, verdure, forest, glacier, and snow-capped mountain of unrivalled grandeur and beauty. When it is remembered that this wonderful system of navigation is equally well adapted to the largest line of battle ship and the frailest canoe, fringes the entire sea-board of your Province, and communicates at points sometimes more than a hundred miles from the coast, with a multitude of valleys stretching eastward into the interior, at the same time that it is furnished with innumerable harbours on either hand, one is lost in admiration at the facilities for intercommunication which are thus provided for the future inhabitants of this wonderful region. It is true at the present moment they lie unused, except by the Indian fisherman and villager; but the day will surely come when the rapidly diminishing stores of pine upon this continent will be still further exhausted, and when the nations of Europe as well as of America will be obliged to recur to British Columbia for a material of which you will by that time be the principal depository. Already from an adjoining port on the mainland a large trade is being done in lumber with Great Britain, Europe, Australia, and South America, and I venture to think that ere long the ports of the United States will perforce be thrown open to your traffic. I had the pleasure of witnessing the overthrow by the axes of your woodmen, of one of your forest glants, that towered to the height of 250 feet above our heads, and whose rings bore witness that it dated its birth from the reign of the fourth Edward; and where it grew, and for thousands of miles along the coasts beyond it, millions of its contemporaries are awaiting the same fate. When such facilities of access as I have described to the heart and centre of your forest lands, where almost every tree can be rolled from the spot upon which it grew to the ship which is to transfer it to its destination, it would be difficult to over-estimate the opportunities of industrial development thus indicated."

Nor is he so enwrapped with the Douglass pine that he fails to notice the other products of this inviting country: coal, iron, fish, gold, and silver, are each noted in turn; while "the long vistas of fertile valleys and the noble expanse of pastoral lands" came likewise under his observation?

"I have had opportunities of inspecting some of the spots where your mineral wealth is stored, and here again the ocean stands your friend; the mouths of the coalpits I have visited almost opening into the hulls of the vessels which are to convey their contents across the ocean. When it is further remembered that inexhaustible supplies of iron ore are found in juxtaposition with your coal, no one can blame you for regarding the beautiful island on which you live as being specially favoured by Providence in the distribution of these natural gifts.

But still more precious minerals than either coal or iron enhance the value of your possessions. As we skirted the banks of the Fraser we were met at every turn by evidences of its extraordinary supplies of fish; but scarcely less frequent were the signs afforded us of the golden treasures it rolls down; nor need any traveler think it strange to see the Indian fisherman hauling out a salmon on to the sands from whence a miner beside him is sifting the sparkling ore. But the signs of mineral wealth which may happen to have attracted my personal attention are as nothing, I understand, to what is exhibited in Cariboo, Cassiar, and along the valley of the Stickeen; and most grieved am I to think that I have not had time to testify by my presence amongst them to the sympathy I feel with the adventurous prospector and the miner in their arduous enterprises. I had also the satisfaction of having pointed out to me where various lodes of silver only await greater facilities of access to be worked with profit and advantage."

Having thus established himself with them, he proceeds to touch the much-vexed question of the Pacific R.R. Again we find him a British Columbian, sympathising with them in their disappointment, and regretting their crushed hopes. He is at considerable pains as to the position he occupies amongst them:—

"You are well aware from the first moment I set foot in the Province I was careful to inform everyone who approached me that I came here as the Governor-General of the Dominion. the representative of Her Majesty, exactly in the same way as I had passed through other Provinces of the Dominion, that I had not come on a pidlomatic mission, or as a messenger, or charged with any announcement, either from the Imperial or from the Dominion Government. This statement I beg now most distinctly to repeat. Nor should it be imagined that I have come either to persuade or coax you into any line of action which you may not consider conductive to your own interests, or to make any new promises on behalf of my Government, or renew any old ones. There is, I admit, one mission with which I am charged—a mission that is strictly within my functions to fulfil—namely, the mission of testifying by my presence amongst you and by my patient and respectful attention to everything which may be said to me, that the Government and the entire people of Canada, without distinction of party, are most sincerely desirous of cultivating with you these friendly and affectionate relations, upon the existence of which must depend the future harmony and solidity of our common Dominion. Gentlemen' this mission I think you will admit I have done my best to fulfil."

He next deals with the various charges made against Mr. Mackenzie's government in regard to his management of the Pacific: that Mr. Mackenzie desired to abandon the entire scheme; that Mr. Mackenzie had broken faith with B. C.; that Mr. Mackenzie had connived at the defeat of the Nanaimo and Esquimaux Bill in the Senate. His reply in view of the recent utterances of certain peripatetic picnickers, is worthy of more than a passing notice. He says:—

"It came to be considered in this Province that the new Government was an enemy to the Pacific Railway. But I believe this to be, and to have been, a complete misapprehension. I believe the Pacific Railway has no better friend in Canada than Mr. Mackenzie; and that he was only opposed to the time terms in the bargain because he believed them impossible of accomplishment; and that a conscientious endeavour to fulfil them would unnecessarily and ruinously increase the financial expenditure of the country, and in both these opinions Mr. Mackenzie was undoubtedly right.

How does this meet the case coming from a disinterested but keen observer? What say the Opposition grinders and claekers? Not only was the Premier not wrong in the course he pursued, but he was emphatically right. Further:—

"Nor is Mr. Mackenzie to be blamed in my opinion if, on entering office in so unexpected a manner, he took time to consider the course which he would pursue in regard to his mode of dealing with a question of such enormous importance. His position was undoubtedly a very embarrassing one, his Government had inherited responsibilities which he knew and which the country had come to know, could not be discharged. Already British Columbia had begun to cry out for the fulfilment of the bargain, and that at the very time that Canada had reached the conclusion that a relaxation of some of its conditions was necessary

Then come the new terms, of which he says:—

I find that in this part of the world these arrangements have come to be known as the "Carnarvon Terms." It is a very convenient designation, and I am quite content to adopt it on one condition, namely, that Lord Carnarvon is not to be saddled with any of the original responsibility with regard to any of these terms but one. The main body of the terms are Mr. Mackenzie's; that is to say, Mr. Mackenzie proffered the Nanaimo and Esquimalt railway, the telegraph line, the waggon-road, and the annual expenditure. All that Lord Carnarvon did was to suggest that the proposed expenditure should be two millions instead of one and a half millions, and that a time should be added. In pursuance of this agreement the Canadian Government organised a series of surveying parties upon a most extensive and costly scale. In fact during the last two years two millions of money alone have been expended upon these operations. The Chief Enginer himself has told me that Mr Mackenzie had given him carte blanche in the matter, so anxious was he to have the route determined without delay, and that the mountains were already as full of as many theodolites and surveyors as they could hold. I am aware it is asserted, indeed as much has been said to me since I came here, that these surveys were merely multiplied in order to furnish an excuse for further delay. Well that is rather a hard saying. But upon this point I can speak from my own personal knowledge, and I am sure that what I say on this head will be accepted as the absolute truth. During the whole of the period under review I was in constant personal communication with Mr. Fleming, was kept acquainted by that gentleman with everything that was being done. I knew the position of ever surveying party in the area under examination. Now Mr. Fleming is a gentleman in whose personal integrity, and in whose professional ability every one I address has the most perfect confidence, Mr. Fleming, of course, was the responsible engineer who planned those surveys and determined the lines along which they were to be carried, and over and over again Mr. Fleming has explained to me how unexpected were the difficulties he had to encounter, how repeatedly after following hopefully a particular route his engineers found themselves stopped by an impassable wall of mountain which blocked the way, and how trail after trail had to be examined and abandoned before he had hit on anything like a practicable route. Even now, after all that has been done, a glance at the map will show you how devious and erratic is the line which appears to afford the only tolerable exit from the labyrinthine ranges of the Cascades. Notwithstanding, therefore, whatever may have been bruited abroad in the sense to which I have alluded, I am sure it will be admitted, nay, I know it is admitted, that so far as the prosecution of the surveys is concerned, Canada has used due diligence, yes, more than due dilligence in her desire to comply with that section of the "Garnarvon Terms" relating to this particular.

The Bill was carried in the House of Commons and so on to the end, Confirming the assertions we have again and again made and contradicting in no measured terms, the reckless fabrications of the conservative party. We may take occasion to again refer to this address, its great length occupying two hours in delivery, compels us here to make a break, and in conclusion, we advise our Tory friends to read careful y and ponder this speech, and we opine that they will thereby be led to decide; that, after all Truth is the best weapon.

PETERBORO' FALL ASSIZES.

BEFORE MR. JUSTICE PATTERSON.

The Fall Assizes for the county of Peterborough were opened at the Court House on Monday last, before Mr. Justice Patterson. The docket consisted of a criminal case and 12 civil cases.

In addition to the members of the local bar present, there were H. Cameron, Q.C., of Toronto; John D. Armour, Q.C., of Cobourg; and Mr. J. E. Henderson, of Belleville, who acted as Crown prosecutor.

GRAND JURY.

The following gentlemen were sworn in as Grand Jurors:—

C. A. Boulton, Foreman.
J. Munson.	W. Dixon.
J. Bennett.	S. Edwards.
P. Costello.	D. Grady.
D. Fitzgerald.	F. A. Lewis.
J. Hull.	J. McNicholl.
M. Mansfield, jr.	J. Patterson.
J. Pane.	T. Ritchie.
W. H. Rackham.	Jas. Ritchie.
I. Robinson.	J. Stevenson.
F. Sullivan.	K. Urquhart.
Mr. Curtis.	W. Wood.

ADDRESS TO THE GRAND JURY.

His Lordship addressed the Grand Jury for about fifteen minutes, congratulating them on the light criminal calendar which would be before them this term. He instructed them in their duties and gave the law to be observed by them in dealing with the cases that would come before them.

SEDUCTION CASE.

WASSON v. CHARLTON.—This was a case brought on by Mr. J. Wasson, a labourer, near Lakefield, against a Mr. James Charlton, for the seduction of his daughter, a girl about 27 years of age. The defendant admitted the charge. $200 damages was awarded to plaintiff. H. Cameron, Q.C., and Mr. Hatton for plaintiff; and J. F. Dennistoun, Q.C., for defendant.

SMITH v. CHALMERS.—This was an action for damages against defendant for selling property to Mr. A. Smith and stating that there was no encumbrance on it: but he afterwards had to pay a mortgage on the property, and the case was to recover mortgage and costs. J. E. Dennistoun, Q.C., for plaintiff; there was no defendant. Verdict for plaintiff in full for $360.

ELLIOT v. BULMER.—This was an action for trespass to try the right of the defendant to remove a boundary fence of fifty years' standing. The evidence showed that old Jacob Brunwell had, over fifty years ago, placed a boundary fence between his land (15½ in the 3rd con. of Smith), and Elliot's (W. ½ 16 in the 3rd), on a surveyed line, and had ever since, by himself and his successors, worked up to and treated this fence as the true boundary. Last summer a survey of Brunwell's farm disclosed that the fence was on Brunwell's lot at the north end. Brunwell's patent gave him 144 acres: he actually had 155 acres enclosed, but he contended that if the side line was properly run he would be entitled to 7 acres more off same Elliot's land. On the 30th of June last he commenced to move the fence at the south end, although forbidden by Elliot, whereupon Elliott commenced an action against him. The evidence disclosed that Elliott's land opposite where the fence was moved was only enclosed on the 3rd concession line 17 years ago, the woods always having been treated by the Elliotts as their own. The learned judge thought that as the piece in dispute was woodland, and there was no possession as against Brunwell for 20 years, and he directed non-suit, with leave to the plaintiff to move in Toronto to enter the verdict for him if the Court should think the evidence warranted. D. W. Dumble for plaintiff; J. F. Dennistoun for defendant.

The Court then adjourned till 9 o'clock in the morning.

TUESDAY.

The Grand Jury brought in true bills against John and Michael Perdue for assault, and James Ryan for murder.

(C. A. BOULTON, Foreman.,'

At two o'clock the prisoner Ryan was arraigned, and pleaded "Not Guilty." The trial will take place this morning, at 9 o'clock.

STEPHENS v. STAPLETON.—This was an action for damages for the sale of goods by the bailiff belonging to J. H. Stephens which turned out to belong to his brother in Brockville. The bailiff was indemnified by the creditors. The action was really against Hopkins and other creditors. Verdict for plaintiff $300. This case will be taken to the higher courts. J. F. Dennistoun, Q.C., for plaintiff; John D. Arnour, Q.C. for defendant.

A full account of the Ryan and other cases will be given next week.

COLLINS has a lot of the best quality of Tea ~~very cheap~~. Try it.

WM. McCULLOUGH warrants all his Alligator Boots to be waterproof.

H. CORBOLD is selling his Groceries at prices to suit the times.

THE DUMMER FALL SHOW was held on Thursday last. The prize list will be given in full next week.

BEEF.—Mr. Thomas Coe bought the prize fat cattle at the Warsaw Show from Mr McIntosh, their owner. They are fine animals.

NOT SO!—The Red Boot has no intention of changing hands, but Mr. McCullagh will be found as usual ever ready to attend to the wants of his numerous customers.

ENTERTAINMENT.—Remember the Grand Scottish Ballad and Comic Entertainment, to in the Music Hall on Friday and Saturday Evening October 13th and 14th.

POLICE COURT.—On Saturday morning, D. Crowly, of Otonabee, was arraigned before Mr. Ritchie for fighting on the streets. He admitted the charge and was fined $6 and costs.

☞ You will save time and trouble with your Sewing Machine by using CLARK & CO'S Best Six-Cord Extra Quality Sewing Cotton. Notice the Anchors on Black Spool.

FRUIT FESTIVAL.—The I.O.G.T., No. 69, Hope's Corners, intend holding a Fruit Festival on Monday, the 16th inst., at 7 p.m. There will be addresses, dialogues, and music. Admission 25 cents.

MESSRS. Messrs. Wood & Kells have thoroughly re-tinted their store, terming this "Wood & Kells' Wall Paper Emporium." This block is very substantial and the design chaste, they would be a credit to any town or city in the Dominion.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.—In the delivery of this "Examiner" it is our wish that our subscribers may receive their papers regularly; and we request every irregularity in delivery on the part of our carrier boys may be reported at our office at once.

CASE OF ARSON.—Charles Johnston, who was charged with committing a criminal assault on Friday, Sept. 8th, on Agnes Collins, a young girl about 10 years of age, was sentenced to twelve months imprisonment in the Central Prison.

BEARDS THAT ARE BEARDS.—Mr. Mark Cooper, of Dutton, showed some white pressed brick at the Central Exhibition, Port Hope, and also at the West Riding Show. They were of the best quality and could not be equaled in the Dominion.

SUMMERTIME.—We received a communication this week in reference to a surprise party near Keene, when it said the party that went got surprised; but as it is somewhat personal it is much better kept among our papers than given to the public.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.—Mr. Johnston put a penny bun named Tierney in the Lock-up on Saturday night for about 4 hours for swearing on the streets. He should put in a few more as several young men are beginning to think that there is no law against using profane language in public places.

CROSSING.—The Street Inspector has laid a crossing on Brock and Water streets at the foot of the Court House Hill. He could improve the ways for pedestrians by putting one on George street from Dr. Taylor's to Wm Mercer's, and on Simcoe street from Fairweather's to Dolan's; both of these are out of repair.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Those in need should see the extensive stock of boots and shoes for fall and winter wear at R. Stenson & Son's boot store. The extensive business done at this establishment is a great measure owing to the low prices at which goods are being sold, and the excellent quality of the work.

NOTICE.—The gentleman who sold a goose and four chickens to a lady at the market on Saturday last, and promised to deliver them at Mr. Winch's butcher's stall, will be kind enough to do so, or refund the money to the lady, and save Constable Johnston a trip to his residence as he is well known, and should honor better than to do such an unpleasant act.

WE have lately paid a visit to Mr Henry Scott's Store and were much surprised to see such a magnificent display of Marbleized Slate Mantles and Coal Grates, which would be an ornament to the most exquisitely furnished room in any mansion. He has also the latest improved patterns of Cook Stoves, which having taken First Prizes at the Provincial Exhibition at Hamilton last week, need no further comment. —6

ACCIDENT.—A young man named Thos. Sedgwick in the employ of Messrs. R. C. Strickland & Co., was working on the Belling Saw in the Shingle Mill, the block stuck on the saw when he attempted to relieve it with his foot which slipped and struck the saw, cutting the whole side of his foot completely off. We learn the foot is progressing favorably under the care of Drs. Caldwell and Adams. Mr. Sedgwick cannot be too careful in working with saws running at such a high rate of speed.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH PETERBOROUGH.—His Lordship, the Bishop at Toronto will (D. V.) hold an ordination Service in St John's Church on Sunday the 15th Inst, and preach a Sermon at 11 a m, and the Arch Deacon of Toronto will preach at 7 o'clock p m, a collection in aid of the Widow and Orphans fund, will be taken up after each service, and on Monday evening following the annual Missionary meeting will be held in the Church at half past seven o'clock.

MEDICAL.—We are going to have an addition to our medical staff in the person of R. W. Bell' Esq., M.D. C.M. Dr. Bell is a graduate of Magill College, Montreal, and the son of Robert Bell, Esq., M.P., who represented North Lanark for 12 years. He has been practising his profession in Carleton Place, where his family reside, but has chosen Peterborough for his future residence on account of its central position and a feeling of confidence that it is destined to become a big place. His card will appear in our next issue.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS.—Messrs. Munroe and Dawson have sold their entire interest in the Ontario Grist and Flour Mills to Mr. Edward Clegg, an old resident, whose business qualities and worth as a miller, are too well known to need any comment. The mill has been refitted with new bolt cloths and other improvements. We have no doubt Mr. Clegg, from his long experience and practical knowledge of the business, will be able to supply his customers with a quality of flour not surpassed by any in the market.

FOUND.—The Montreal Witness says: Oren Elsworth who left his home on Thursday evening, last, was found in Montreal on Sunday morning about 1 o'clock by the water police When found he was in one of the flour sheds on the wharf waiting an opportunity to engage on board a ship with a view of seeing a little of the world. This trip may teach him it is not so pleasant as some spasmodic writer represents it. Sixteen or seventeen years, when he attains to a more mature growth, he will see the wisdom of remaining at home where he can be happy and enjoy a much more comfortable than at sea.

INDEPENDENT TEMPLE.—The Independent Order of Good Templars had a very sociable time on Friday evening. Mr. Pentland [illegible] about it Fairbairn, Esq., read a [illegible] for such occasions, and [illegible] young ladies to take a [illegible] temperance movement, the [illegible] gentlemen for interfering [illegible] the lady Templars [illegible] Mr. Fairbairn [illegible] a young woman in [illegible] herself on Monday [illegible] From a letter [illegible] be written by her [illegible] prepared by him as [illegible] family unhappiness, [illegible] drink. The daughter, [illegible] died either wilfully or [illegible] She died a short time [illegible] positive.

SNOW.—The first snow of the season here, fell on Sunday, covering the earth with a robe of white. The weather too was cold with all the appearance and accompaniments of winter except that the trees are still green and covered with their summer foliage, except a few which have changed their green for tints of more variegated hues. Monday morning found the snow still lying on the ground but it soon disappeared as the sun's rays reached the earth. The weather now is pleasant but perhaps what chills the fact that we have had snow is no sure indication of winter being here yet. The beautiful fall weather and Indian summer are yet to come, after that we may expect our usual Canadian Winter.

AUCTION SALES.—Parties getting their Auction Sale Bills printed at this office will receive a notice similar to these below, free of charge, which, owing to the large and increasing circulation of the EXAMINER is worth more than double the price of the bills.

THE SALE OF THE SEASON.—Mr. Joseph Redmond, of Otonabee will sell his stock of horses, thoroughbred Durham Cattle, Fine Class Sheep and Pigs on Wednesday, the 25th at 10 o'clock. Will sell 40 head of cattle, including the famous 3 years old stock bull Prince Arthur. Parties wishing to see a list of the animals offered for sale can have a bill by calling on the proprietor.

Monday 23rd of October—Credit Sale of Farm Stock and Implements, belonging to Mr. W. Lane, Esq., Lot No. 23 in the 1st Concession of Otonabee. Sale at 1 o'clock sharp. Chas. Stapleton, Auctioneer.

Tuesday 3rd of October—Extensive Sale of Farm Stock, Implements and Dairy Fixtures, belonging to James Wood, Esq., Lot No. 1 in the 2nd Con. of Dummer. Sale without reserve and at 12 o'clock noon. C. Stapleton Auctioneer.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening.

Present—His worship the Mayor in the chair, and Messrs. Cahill, Hopkins, Haggart, McClelland, Menzies, and Rutherford.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read over and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From A. Hugill, Esq., President of the Midland Railway, stating that he had the honor to receive the motion passed at the last meeting of Honorable Council of the Town of Peterborough which has his warmest thanks.—Received.

From Thos. Ross, asking the Town to remit the amount he was fined some time ago by a man named Carbolick who was prosecuting on his premises.—Granted if Legal.

From the Town Clerk, submitting his statement of expenditure for the month of September:

Salaries	$ 618 75
Special Constables	25 00
Street and Bridges	1027 16
Miscellaneous	323 91
Charities	28 65
Locks Bridge	13 91
Loans	1269 00
Printing and Stationery	23 00
Water and Gas	225 49
Total	$4164 99

And also from the same stating that $7898.45 had been paid out up to October 1st for Streets and Bridges.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Elliott, That Mr. Menzies get on all communications that Mr. Thos. Thornton, who lately resigned, acted on.—Carried.

Councillor Simcoe came and took his seat.

The Mayor said that the meeting was principally convened to give the Fire By-law a third reading.

And on motion of Mr. Rutherford the Council went into committee of the whole to reconsider the Building By-law, Mr. Dixon in the chair.

Mr. Rutherford said that the former Building and Fire By-laws had not been enforced by the Inspector; and as it was it was only a dead letter, and he was of opinion that the by-law should be a strict one and rigidly enforced; as the wooden buildings, with one or two exceptions had been pretty well removed.

Councillor Haggart said that the Inspector would do his duty if the councillors would only leave him alone. Some of the councillors would go to him and tell him not to prosecute so and so.

The first clause was discussed and carried. The second clause was amended and reads thus: "That wood and coal sheds, and such-like buildings, be one story high in brick nine inches thick, and in stone 18 inches thick, be allowed to be erected within the fire limits; but in all cases to have fire and party walls to a height not less than 18 inches above the roof on the square. The roof to be covered as set fourth in clause 17.

Clause 3, was struck out and amended by adding after the words "twenty-five feet thereof," except upon Chambers Street, where buildings may be erected but one story high. The Committee rose and reported progress.

The By-law was then read a third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. McClelland, Mr. Stevenson was heard before the Council.

Mr. Stevenson said that he and several others were appointed by the School Board to wait up. on the Council and see what they would do in the matter of the building of a new school in the north-west part of the town next spring. He said that the Board did not want to do anything that would increase the taxes of the ratepayers this year; but there were a great many children sent home from school to-day on account of there being no place to teach them; as the place where they had been taught was so cold, and there was no use putting a stove into it. The Board had submitted plans, and the school would only cost about $1,500, as they had the lot and were prepared to build at once. The town is getting larger, and more school accommodation is necessary, and there is no alternative but to have a new building erected. The parents of these children look to the Board to furnish them with school room, and they must do so. The Board are willing to give the Town their estimates soon, and let them submit a by-law to the people near the end of the present year, so that they can issue debentures early in the spring, and Let the contracts this winter, as they could have it erected cheaper than they could in the spring. The Government Grant was small this year to what it was formerly, on account of the illness of the late principal; and there were not as many boys passed the intermediate examination as on former occasions, and therefore they only received a small grant from the Government.

Mr. McClelland urged that the Council do something in the matter, as there were in some of the rooms as many as 80 or 90 children; and no teacher could govern and teach so great a number of small children.

Mr. Rutherford said that it was no use erecting a one-story building. Let them erect a two-story one when they were at it, so that there would be plenty of room for some time to come.

The Mayor said that the Board should give the Council the estimates, together with the expense of submitting the by-law, and the discount on the debentures and they would be attended to.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Haggart, that the Treasurer pay John McDonald's account for lumber when certified to, and the Council will indemnify him for so doing.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Dixon, that the Treasurer pay Mr. Romaine's account if found correct.—Carried.

Mr. McClelland said that the Council should do something with the collector's roll, so that the collector could begin collecting as soon as possible, as no doubt he will find it a very hard matter to collect taxes this year.

Mr. Edwards said that it was better to have them collected at once, but Mr. Cummings was not ready for the roll, as he had splintered his ankle when certified in, and the Council will indemnify him for so doing.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Dixon, that the Treasurer pay Mr. Romaine's account if found correct.—Carried.

BIRDS THAT ARE BEING.—Mr. Mark Cooper, of Dixon, Ahearn, three white pheasants at the Central Exhibition, Port Hope, and also at the West Riding, Show. They were of the best quality and could not be equaled in the Dominion.

SUBSCRIBER.—We received a communication this week in reference to a surprising party near Keene, when it said the party that went got surprised; but as it is somewhat personal it is much better kept among our papers than given to the public.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.—Mr. Johnston put a young man named Tarney in the Lock-up on Saturday night for about 4 hours for swearing on the streets. He should put in a few more on several young men are beginning to think that there is no law against using profane language in public places.

CROSSING.—The Street Inspector has laid a crossing on Brock and Water streets at the foot of the Court House Hill. He could improve the ways for pedestrians by putting one on George street from Dr. Taylor's to Wm Mercer's, and on Simcoe street from Fairweather's to Dolan's; both of these are out of repair.

BOOTS AND SHOES.—Those in need should see the extensive stock of boots and shoes for fall and winter wear at R. Stenson & Son's boot store. The extensive business done at this establishment is a great measure owing to the low prices at which goods are being sold, and the excellent quality of the work.

NOTICE.—The gentleman who sold a goose and four chickens to a lady at the market on Saturday last, and promised to deliver them at Mr. Welch's butcher's stall, will be kind enough to do so, or refund the money to the lady, and save Constable Johnston a trip to his residence as he is well known, and should know better than to do such an ungentlemanly act.

We have lately paid a visit to Mr Henry Best's Store and were much surprised to see such a magnificent display of Marbleized Slate Mantles and Coal Grates, which would be an ornament to the most exquisitely furnished room in any mansion. He has also the latest improved patterns of Cook Stoves, which having taken First Prizes at the Provincial Exhibition at Hamilton last week, need no further comment. —☞

ACCIDENT.—A young man named Thos. Sedgwick in the employ of Messrs. R. C. Strickland & Co., was working on the Rolling Saw in the Shingle Mill, the block stuck on the saw when he attempted to relieve it with his foot which slipped and struck the saw, cutting the whole side of his foot completely off. We learn the foot is progressing favorably under the care of Drs. Caldwell and Adams. Men cannot be too careful in working with saws running at such a high rate of speed.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH PETERBOROUGH.—His Lordship, the Bishop at Toronto will (D. V.) hold an ordination Service in St John's Church on Sunday the 15th inst, and preach a Sermon at 11 a m, and the Arch Deacon of Toronto will preach at 7 o'clock p m, a collection in aid of the Widow and Orphans fund, will be taken up after each service, and on Monday evening following the annual Missionary meeting will be held in the Church at half past seven o'clock.

MEDICAL.—We are going to have an addition to our medical staff in the person of R. W. Bell Esq., M.D., C.M. Dr. Bell is a graduate of Magill College, Montreal, and the son of Robert Bell, Esq., M.P., who represented North Lanark for 18 years. He has been practising his profession in Carleton Place, where his family reside, but has chosen Peterborough for his future residence on account of its central position and a feeling of confidence that it is destined to become a big place. His card will appear in our next issue.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS.—Messrs. Munroe and Dawson have sold their entire interest in the Ontario Grist and Flour Mills to Mr. Edward Clegg, an old resident, whose business qualities and worth as a miller, are too well known to need any comment. The mill has been refitted with new belt cloths and other improvements. We have no doubt Mr. Clegg, from his long experience and practical knowledge of the business, will be able to supply his customers with a quality of flour not surpassed by any in the market.

FOUND.—The Montreal Witness says: "Owen Elworth who left his home on Thursday evening, last, was found in Montreal on Sunday morning about 1 o'clock by the water police When found he was in one of the flour sheds on the wharf waiting an opportunity to engage on board a ship with a view of seeing a little of the world." This trip may teach him it is not so pleasant as some romance writer represents it. He is but 12 years of age; when he attains to a few years more, he will see the wisdom of remaining at home, where he can be as happy and a great deal more comfortable than at sea.

FRIENDLY TRIBUTE.—The Independent Order of Good Templars had a very sociable Fruit Social on Friday evening. Mr. Pentland occupied the chair, R. Fairburn, Esq., read a very suitable piece for such an occasion, and was highly applauded. Mrs. Gordon gave a short address, urging the young ladies to take a decided stand in the temperance movement, she gave Mayor Towle a gentle "rub" for interfering with the Magistracy in the late liquor cases. Miss Gordon received the "Bean Monkey" with good effect for a girl of her age. Mr. Clegg, also, and others whose names we did not learn, gave recitations. The evening was very pleasantly spent.

WM. MCCULLAGH will sell Rubbers and Over shoes at Montreal factory prices.

Housekeepers will find the best value in Groceries, &c., at H. COLLINS', next door to Mellon & Davidson's Hardware Store.

Go to H. Collins if you want Preserving Sugar—Loaf at 10c. a lb.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The Council met on Monday evening.

Present—His worship the Mayor in the chair, and Messrs. Cahill, Hopkins, Haggart, McClelland, Menzies, and Rutherford.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read over and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From A. Hugrill, Esq., President of the Midland Railway, stating that he had the honor to receive the motion passed at the last meeting of Honorable Council of the Town of Peterboro' which has his warmest thanks.—Received.

From Thos. Ross, asking the Town to remit the amount he was fined some time ago by a man named Gay, which was paid, prosecuting on his premises.—Granted if Legal.

From the Town Clerk, submitting his statement of expenditure for the month of September:

Salaries	$ 613 75
Fire	3000
Police and [illegible]	1 [illegible]
Street and Bridges	1022 85
Miscellaneous	393 91
Charities	28 50
Locks Bridge	15 94
Loans	1200 00
Printing and Stationery	22 00
Water Rent Gas	221 00
Total	$4166 90

And also from the same stating that $7666.46 had been paid out up to October 1st for Streets and Bridges.

Moved by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Hilliard, That Mr. Menzies get on all committees that Mr. Thos. Thornton, who lately resigned, acted on.—Carried.

Committee Rooms came and took his seat.

The Mayor said that the meeting was principally convened to give the Fire Bye-law a third reading.

And on motion of Mr. Rutherford the Council went into committee of the whole to reconsider the Building By-law, Mr. Dixon in the chair.

Mr. Rutherford said that the former Building and Fire By-laws had not been enforced by the Inspector; and as it was it was only a dead letter, and he was of opinion that the by-law should be a terror one and rigidly enforced; of parties building with one or two exceptions had not acceded to the By-law.

Councillor Haggart said that the Inspector would do his duty if the councillors would only leave him alone. Some of the councillors would go to him and tell him not to prosecute so and so.

The first clause was then read and confirmed. The second clause was amended and reads thus: "That wood and coal sheds, and such-like buildings, be one story high in brick nine inches thick, and in stone 18 inches thick, be allowed to be erected within the fire limits; but in all cases to have five and party walls to a height not less than 18 inches above the roof on the square. The roof to be covered as set fourth in clause 17.

Clause 3, was struck out and amended by adding after the words "twenty-five feet thereof," except upon Chambers Street, where buildings may be erected but one story high. The Committee rose and reported progress.

The By-law was then read a third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. McClelland, Mr. Stevenson was heard before the Council.

Mr. Stevenson said that he and several others were appointed by the School Board to wait up, on the Council and see what they would do in the matter of the building of a new school in the north-west part of the town next spring. He said that the Board did not want to do anything that would increase the taxes of the ratepayers this year; but there were a great many children sent home from school to-day on account of there being no place to teach them; as the place where they had been taught was so cold, and there was no use putting a stove into it. The Board had submitted plans, and the school would only cost about $1,500, as they had the lot and were prepared to build at once. The town is getting larger, and more school accommodation is necessary, and there is no alternative but to have a new building erected. The parents of these children look to the Board to furnish them with school room, and they must do so. The Board are willing to give the Town their estimates soon, and let them submit a by-law to the people near the end of the present year, so that they can issue debentures early in the spring, and let the contracts this winter, as they could have it erected cheaper than they could in the spring. The Government Grant was small this year to what it was formerly, on account of the illness of the late principal; and there were not as many boys passed the intermediate examination as on former occasions, and therefore they only received a small grant from the Government.

Mr. McClelland urged that the Council do something in the matter, as there were in some of the rooms as many as 80 or 90 children; and no teacher could govern and teach so great a number of small children.

Mr. Rutherford said that it was no use erecting a one-story building. Let them erect a two-story one when they were at it, so that there would be plenty of room for some time to come.

The Mayor said that the Board should give the Council the estimates, together with the expenses of submitting the by-law, and the discount on the debentures and they would be attended to.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Haggart, that the Treasurer pay John McDonald's account for lumber when certified to, and the Council will indemnify him for so doing.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Dixon, that the Treasurer pay Mr. Ronaine's account if found correct.—Carried.

Mr. McClelland said that the Council should do something with the collector's roll, so that the collector could begin collecting as soon as possible, as no doubt he will find it a very hard matter to collect taxes this year.

Mr. Edwards said that it was better to have them collected at once, but Mr. Cummings was not ready for the roll, as he had so much to attend to on the street, and that he will have to get some assistance for a while.

Moved by Mr. Menzies, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that Mr. Cummings be relieved from the duties of street inspector, and that he commence at once to collect the taxes.—Carried.

The Council adjourned for three weeks.

THE Cenchiching Hotel near Orillia was totally destroyed by fire on Thursday night last.

THE Eastern Question is still unsettled. Turkey refuses to accept the terms proposed by the great powers, but she will come to her senses soon and be ready to accept them. This is her only safety.

A WELL-ATTENDED MEETING of farmers and business men of Cobourg last week resolved to form a joint stock company, with a capital of $40,000, to carry on the manufacture of agricultural implements. The name is to be "The Payne Manufacturing Co."

SHOT HERSELF.—A young woman in Toronto, named Fogarty, shot herself on Monday last. It is said accidentally. From a letter read at the inquest, said to be written by her father, the pistol had been prepared by him to take his own life because of family unhappiness, in other words, "strong drink." The daughter, however, got the pistol and either willfully or accidentally shot herself. She died a short time after the accident.

MILLINERY & MANTLES.

SOMETHING FOR THE LADIES.

[illegible] & Co. [illegible] got to be quite a feature in the business of the leading Dry Goods dealers of our town, more particularly those who have the Millinery and Mantle trade in connection with their other business. Messrs. Hall, Lamb & Co. had their Opening Day on Wednesday, Oct. 4th, and intruthful saying the unfavorable weather their opening was well thronged with customers and sight-seers the greater part of the day. As is well known to the finest of our readers—Messrs. Hall, Lamb & Co. well know how to reach them through our advertising columns. The Millinery [illegible] of their establishment is occupied by the Millinery and Mantle Department, and there exhibition was a most gorgeous display of costumes, mantles, hats bilments, laces, flowers, etc., presenting really a fairy scene. No wonder the fair sex are delighted by such attractions and are led to their rooms, to the great delight of those who have to wait on them. It would be difficult to find in any store in the Province a choicer variety of goods than is in this department, made up in the most fashionable styles, suited to every taste and to the capacity of every pocket, than was displayed at their Opening, and those who [illegible] need and cannot be suited there would find it very hard to be suited anywhere. Some of the choicest mantles were sold readily, showing that the "hard times" do not affect the class of people who purchase these goods. This Department is under the superintendence of Miss Grace, a lady of [illegible] experience in the line. On the ground floor may be found a general stock of goods, silks, velvets, laces, hosiery and general staples, comprising the latest styles imported direct from the best European Markets, which have lately been purchased by Mr. Hamo. Thibaudeau, Messrs. Hall, Lamb & Co., made a flag display, and it is gratifying to know that notwithstanding the cry of "hard times" their sales are of a satisfactory character.

W. G. THOMSON'S OPENING.

The approach of another season was heralded yesterday, in a special manner to the ladies of this vicinity, by the great event of the season the "Opening at Thomsons," and to judge from the eager [illegible] throughout the day, [illegible] ally thronging this famous establishment, and to hear the enthusiastic wonder and admiration expressed, we were forced to the conclusion that it is far in excess of other years. it gave us great pleasure to visit this store yesterday and witness the truly magnificent display of new goods for the season and we must say that Mr. Thomson deserves the highest praise for his enterprise in providing for the fashionable taste of the ladies of town and shighborhood. Although this year has been one in which the money question has been freely debated to a great extent, we are told that their business has steadily increased, which is convincing proof of [illegible] by their liberal dealings. Their display of Millinery was very attractive and Miss Curry, manager of this department, certainly displays wonderfully good taste in the arrangement of the rooms. Hats and Bonnets are profusely trimmed with feathers and flowers this season, but as they are of rich dark colors, known to connoisseurs as seal brown, navy cle, phant black, myrtle, etc., the effect is very agreeable and they do not present that undue flashy appearance that one would look for from the quantity of trimmings used. In the Mantle and Costume Department a choice assortment of handsome goods. The pattern system are with the most very neat and stylish. The practice of [illegible] the [illegible] is another feature [illegible] almost [illegible] and [illegible] adopted the fashion of making up two materials of the same color, which we think looks far more stylish than the old gaudy styles.

MISS. E. DELANEY'S OPENING.

The Show Room of Miss Delaney was opened on Wednesday. The arrangement of her Room was very attractive, and was highly creditable to the taste of the management. On both occasions the same [illegible] were [illegible] ingenious of ladies apparel are [illegible] to offer an opinion as the fashions are [illegible] a mystery to us. It is sufficient to say that the ladies all declared the hats to be perfect gems the mantles elegant, and everything so cheap!

W. FAIRWEATHER AND CO'S OPENING.

Messrs. Fairweather & Co., have just completed their purchase of fashionable Fall and Winter Goods. The styles are fashionable, the goods of good quality. In hats, bonnets, ribbons and general trimmings, the most fastidious can be pleased. Give them a call and examine their stock.

DIXON AND BROS OPENING.

DIXON, Bros., opened their Show Rooms on Tuesday with all the novelties of the season in bonnets, hats, mantles, ribbons, laces, feathers, etc. Their goods are of the latest styles and beautiful. They cannot fail to attract the fair sex. Their general stock of Dry Goods, etc., is complete and is very large and varied.

CLELTON AND CO'S OPENING.

This old established house opened their Millinery Rooms on Tuesday last with a very full and rich stock of all the novelties of the season. In hats, bonnets, ribbons, feathers, flowers, etc. The styles are rich and elegant. The newest fashions in Mantles and the richest silk goods are in Stock.

"THE LEAVES * * * WERE for the Healing of the Nations."

In the modest little plant found growing by the roadside and known as Smart-Weed, or Water-Pepper, reside medicinal properties of more than ordinary value. In Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed, these wonderful properties are combined with such a manner as to make it a most efficacious remedy for Colic, Cramps, Summer Complaint, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera and Cholera Morbus. A celebrated medical author says "A friend of mine had an only child dangerously ill with the Summer Complaint. He had employed a great variety of the usual means for relief, but all appeared unavailing. The child was at last given Smart-Weed which was entirely successful. It arrested the vomiting and purging in a short time, and without the use of other medicine entirely resorted the little patient. Dr. Pierce's Extract of Smart-Weed is sold by all druggists.

Una Shtill He Don't vas Happy mit-out dot Shtepladder.—Isn't it

Mr. Editor:

DEAR SIR,—Permit me to insert a small advertisement in your valuable paper, in answer to the one that appeared last week over the signature of "Wm. Loch" William seems to feel bad mit himself, because he came out second best at the Central Show. I can assure him that good judges of furs consider that Mr. Doebler's collection was the best ever exhibited in Canada, and that he could have swept everything before him at the Provincial Fair; and, instead of growling, Mr. Loch should consider that an honor was conferred upon him when he was allowed to exhibit at the same time. And if he, (Mr. Loch) ever took a prize at Montreal he should thank his stars that Charley did not contest it, either for quality, workmanship, or quantity, or he would have been short of that Christmas present. Mr. Loch tries hard to insult the Judges, but as they were composed of such men as the Rev. Mr. Clementi, of his own town, the less he says about that the better it will be for him.

A greater amount of trash and twaddle never before appeared in a paper in this town than that letter of his. He speaks about a "gentleman" that he has on exhibition in his window at Peterboro', and says if he had brought him in he would have "grinned Doebler's prize to scorn. Surely the grinning done by the member of the firm who came here was enough; if that would not do it, bringing in his partner and leaving the store to run itself would not have helped the matter. I learn, upon good authority, that Mr. Loch had two boxes of robes and one barrel of sauer-kraut and roggen shred at the Fair; the latter was for lunch while he remained here. Now, William, instead of making a fuss about Jot ladder, why in the world didn't you put one of the boxes on the barrel of kraut? That would have given you a solid foundation, and you could have reached to the sky light without trouble. And finally take a small piece of advice:—Keep cool and bear your defeat like a little man. Don't try to work off on this part of the country a clap-trap letter, in order to get a cheap advertisement; as, in the language of Shakespeare, "Dot ish too thin; and finally, take my word for it, my boy, that Sam Davidson can't make a step-ladder long enough for you to reach the firstprize in anything but billious letters.

—ELECTRICITY—

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil, Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Burt, Hotel Keeper, West Ilbeford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally as good, for horses as for man."—A. Mayhew, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Russan, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."—A. M. Thornton, Warkworth, writes, "For weks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. Mr Mayhew of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured. It is a most remarkable medicine."

Important Failure

The Ontario Clothing Store as yet have failed to supply the demand for Ready Made Clothing which they make a speciality of. They have this day received a very choice selection direct from the manufacturer of the very latest styles, which they are offering at a slight advance. They ask no fancy prices on these goods, an examination of the stock and prices will convince you that they are offering and selling suits of Clothes of this seasons style at strictly By-law prices.

In their Over Coat Department many new novelties will be found, of all weights and colours, which they are selling at marvelously low prices, prices which are suited to the times, small profits produce large sales and allow them to carry the choicest and newest goods.

In their Underwear Department they call special attention, this being another of their specialities, and at this season of the year when the weather is so changeable you would save money and health by purchasing one of their suits of heavy underwear which they are selling very cheap.

An inspection of their GENTS' FURNISHING DEPARTMENT is especially solicited this being their great speciality, every thing new in the Neckwear line, entirely new and very inviting.

KREE.

BY A. S. GORDON.

My boy Kree!
He played wid you when you was a chile!
You an he
Growed up together? Wait! Lemme see!
Closer! so I kin look in yer face.
Mas' George's smile!
Lord love you, Marster,
Dar 'neath dat eyebrow is whar Kree lies.

Snakerat an' grown!
Mas' George, I shudden ha' know'd you, sun,
'Cept'n o' de beard dat yer face has on,
But for dat ole-time smile o' yours.

"An' Kree?" you say—
Hadn't you heard, Marster,
He 'ceeded de year dat you went away?

Kree an' you,
How de ole times come back onct mo',
Moonlight fishin's, and hyars in de snow,—
Squirrels an' jay-birds up overhead
In de oak trees dat de sun shined through.

Look at me, marster!
Here is me hyar, an' Kree, he's dead!

Pears to me strange,
Now when I thinks on 'em, dese old years.
Mas' George, sometimes de hills' tears
Fills up my eyes
'Cause oh de misery says, an' dewthings.
De sun dims, marster,
To an ole man when his one boy dies.

Did you say "How?"
Out in de dug-out one moonshine night
Fishin' wid your baby brother,—
Wid de yarlo' yaller-like streak o' light
An' de dancing bay blue eyes. Dead, now.
Kree died for him—
An' yearnin' for Kree.
De Lord tak him, marster!
De green grass kiver 'em both from sight.

Heard ob dis tale?
Didn't know Kree was de one dat drowned
Savin' Mas' Charlie? Well, 'twere he.
De chile waxed weaker, his face mo' pale,
Arter de corpse o' poor Kree were found;
Two months later he went, you see.
God bless you, marster.
Nine years has rolled over both underground.

Worn out old grief.
Here I sits waitin', Mas' George alone.
All on 'em's gone,
Marster he' Minnie, an' Charley an' he,
Yes an' me only is left. Some day,
When you've gone back to yer ship on de sea,
I'll hear him say,
Jes as he used to, a fishin,' ter me:
"Daddy, come over!" An' passing away
Dat side de river, again I'll be Wid my boy Kree.

THE FARM.

CARROTS FOR HORSES AND CATTLE.—No food of the root kind is so keenly relished by horses as carrots; indeed, most horses prefer them to oats. Carrots when mixed with chaff, without corn, will keep horses in excellent condition for performing all kinds of labor. They may be fed from December to the beginning or middle of May, to which period, with proper care in this latitude, they may be preserved. They are especially beneficial for horses toward spring, at which time corn may be added for a few weeks. In certain parts of Europe farmers depend solely upon carrots, with a proper allowance of hay, as winter food for their horses, without giving them any grain whatever; and it is asserted that by this mode of feeding farm horses a considerable saving of hay is effected, as compared with the usual custom of the country of feeding corn on hay. Draft and farm horses are given in the proportion of fifty to seventy pounds weight of carrots each day on an average, not allowing them quite so much in the very short days, and sometimes more than that quantity in the spring months. A portion of the carrots are sliced in the cut chaff or hay; the rest are given whole to the horses at night, with a moderate quantity of hay, in their racks; and with this food the horses will usually enjoy uninterrupted health. There are persons who think that carrots only given as food to horses are injurious to their constitutions; but this belief is without foundation other than prejudice. Experiments carefully conducted have proved that teams horses, winter and summer, will perform ordinary work on carrots as a winter food with the assistance of proper soiling in summer, and may be kept the entire year round upon the produce of an acre of land in carrots. Without reference to the many local opportunities of a market for the sale of the carrot, it is the most valuable esculent in the entire range of practical husbandry on account of its superior properties as a general article of food for several descriptions of animals usually kept on a farm. The only reasonable objection urged against the more general introduction of carrots into the regular system of cropping is their expensive and tedious early culture, which objection certainly has considerable weight. Nevertheless, when capital and industry can be combined, carrots offer a surer opportunity of a remunerative return than any other comparative crop, and where introduced will be found a valuable article of food for horses, pigs and poultry of all descriptions. Butter of the most agreeable appearance and exquisite flavor may be obtained for the table by feeding milch cows on carrots, and if stored for them during severe weather in Winter there will be no diminution in quantity, or deterioration in quality of their produce.—National Live Stock Journal.

Why Will you Suffer.—The "Canadian Pain destroyer" instantly and permanently removes all pain from the system, and is decidedly the best medicine known for the cure of rheumatism, pleurisy, neuralgia, tic doulooreux, tooth-ache, colic, burns, frost bites, &c., and is so cheap that all can afford to buy it. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

Dr. Wister's Balsam of Wild Cherry is "a combination and a form it deed" for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of drying up the cough and leaving the disease behind.

Caution to Housekeepers.—Owing to the increasing cost of vanilla beans used in the manufacture of Extra Vanilla, spurious compounds are being thrown upon the market, purporting to be pure vanilla, but prepared principally from Tonqua beans. This nauseating substitute costs the manufacturer less than one-twentieth part as much as the genuine vanilla bean. It can rapidly be detected by its odor. It is used principally by tobacconists for perfuming snuff and cigars, and was never intended to be used as a flavoring for the various compounds prepared for the human stomach. Burnett's Extract of Vanilla is prepared from selected vanilla beans, and is warranted entirely free from Tonqua or other deleterious substances.

Great Condition Medicine.—As a condition medicine for Horses "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," has no equal; its effects in this respect are astonishing; many horses that were supposed to be broken down and almost worthless, have by the use of a few packages been restored to a healthy and sound condition, all traces of the disease having been completely removed, and have been sold for from $50 to $75 more than they would previously have brought, when you want a horse medicine get "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy," we know you will be perfectly satisfied with the result. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Inflammation of the Lungs.

Clifton, N. B., February 17th, 1873.

Sir:—In behalf of my family, I wish to acknowledge a debt of gratitude I owe to Mr. James I. Fellows. My daughter had been ill with inflammation of the lungs, had raised large quantities of blood and purulent matter, attended with every system of consumption. After obtaining the attendance of two eminent physicians, who afforded her no relief, she was persuaded to try Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites. Upon taking two bottles we had every reason to believe she would be cured. Her physician was surprised to find her improvement so rapid, and advised her to continue its use, which she did until her complete recovery. Two years have elapsed, during which time she has neither taken nor required any medicine, enjoying good health, and urges all who are afflicted with any lung or chest trouble to us the Hypophosphites without fail.

My wife, also having been in bad health for some time, and having had typhoid fever in December last, which left her much prostrated, was advised by the physicians to use this remedy to build her up. Before taking half a bottle she found herself much benefited, and still continues to use it.

I believe, under kind Providence, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use, for although it is widely used, I think its value is not appreciated.

Yours truly,
JOSEPH A. EVANS.

H. C. Carwell, Oshkosh Wisconsin, Febry 4ry, 1873, in a letter, says: Hellows' Hypophosphites is doing good work here, and we have already disposed of a large quantity. It stands the test, and every day people express their praise of its virtue. Our physicians are prescribing it, and we have good accounts from Michigan and Illinois.

One of the Testimonials!

From Dr Duncan McCallum, Montreal—

I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but three applications of Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me the relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured

I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of that genuine article

SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcoholic spirits; but the Specific Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing Cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Impotency and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, arise first caused by devi'ating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

FALL ASSIZES.

TUESDAY, 10th Oct., 1876.

BEFORE MR. JUSTICE PENROSE.

PENDRY VS. PENDRY.

This was an action of replevin brought by Bertram & Co., to recover goods from W. H. Pendry, which had been purchased from the assignee of Mr. Charles McDonnell Mr. Bertram had acheived mortgages on certain goods of McDonnell & Dennistal's, carriage makers, to secure a portion of his account for goods supplied to them.

For the defence it was objected that the mortgage given a short time before insolvency would defeat the claims of other creditors; that part of the property was insufficiently described, and other technical points.

Mr. J. F. Dennistoun, Q. C., was for the plaintiff, and Mr. J. D. Armour and Scott & Edwards for defendant.

After hearing the arguments of counsel the Judge reserved his decision.

WEDNESDAY, 11th.

THE QUEEN VS. PERDUE.

Michael Perdue was charged with assault on Michael O'Reilly. The evidence showed that O'Reilly was sitting in Geary's farm house, in Emmamore, when Michael Perdue came in and struck him on the head. John Perdue then struck O'Reilly several times, knocking him down senseless. Some of the wounds were such as would be made with steel knuckles, which it was proved John Perdue had in his possession.

Mr. Hector Cameron, Q. C., defended the prisoner.

The jury found him guilty of a common assault committed with premeditation.

THE QUEEN VS. JOHN PERDUE.

The defendant did not appear and a bench warrant was issued for his apprehension.

WOOD VS. THE TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH.

This was an action to recover damages sustained through certain improvements made by the corporation on Lake Street, turning the water into J. C. Wood's lot and into his cellar.

Plaintiff described the damage done, the illness caused to his wife and family by the stagnant water and other losses and inconvenience he had sustained.

For the defence it was contended that the work done was necessary and did not injure the property of plaintiff, which lay low with higher ground all round it, so that water would naturally flow into it.

Mr. H. Cameron, Q. C., for the plaintiff, and Mr. W. H. Scott, Q. C., for the defendant.

Verdict for defendant.

THE QUEEN VS. PERDUE.

Sentence was pronounced against Michael Perdue to be imprisoned in the jail with hard labor for three months, together with a fine of $35, prisoner to remain in jail till the fine is paid, but the whole term of imprisonment not to exceed six months.

David Curtis who was brought up on a bench warrant for having neglected to appear as witness after being subpœned in the Queen vs. Perdue, was discharged as the subpœna was issued by the court of Queen's Bench, but he was told by the Judge that he would probably be proceeded against by that court and punished.

DILON VS. M'DOUGALL.

This was an action brought by Mr. Jonathan B. Dixon for trespass committed by C. McIlmoyle, bailiff of the Division Court, in seizing at Buckhorn lumber belonging to plaintiff. It appeared that he made the seizure under an execution against W. H. Hall, and plaintiff alleged that he had sustained damage in consequence of the delay thus occasioned.

For the defence it was maintained that there need have been no delay, as he did not prevent the lumber being loaded on the scows.

Mr. D. W. Dumble appeared for Plaintiff, and Mr. W. H. Scott, Q. C., for Defendant.

Verdict for Defendant.

THURSDAY, OCT. 12th.

THE QUEEN v. RYAN.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED ON THE 21ST OF NOVEMBER.

Mr. G. E. Henderson, Q.C., represented the Crown; and the prisoner was defended by Mr. J. H. Cameron, Q.C., Mr. J. D. Armour, Q.C., and Mr. W. H. Scott, Q.C.

Fourteen gentlemen were challenged, and the following were sworn in as

THE JURY.

J. Galvin.	J. Dwyer.
James Ingram.	Henry Smith.
A. Drummond.	Mat. Breckenridge.
O. Macarthy.	J. Gillespie.
E. Allen, jr.	A. Fairbairn.
Simon Sexsmith.	Pat. Logan.

CHALLENGED.—The following Jurors were challenged:—F. Edwards, Jas. McKibbon, R. Kidd, jr., Joan Brown, J. Bell, John Sparze, jr., Wm. Ferguson, Sidney Payne, Michael Clark, Mat. Foley, Wm. Coad, Richard Hope, Thos. Hetherington, John Graham.

Mr. HENDERSON laid briefly before the jury the facts of the case. The charge of murder he said, under any circumstances, was a painful one, but it was more painful when the person murdered was the wife of the alleged murderer, and when the principal witness against the accused was his own daughter. As to the previous history of the prisoner he (Mr. Henderson) was not acquainted, but on the evening of the 8th May the offence with which the prisoner stood charged was committed, or in other words, Mary Ryan, the wife of the prisoner, came to her death by a stab inflicted by a person supposed to be her husband, on that day. Since the 17th or 18th of March, the prisoner, who had been a sober man previously, took to drink, and had continued his drinking habits until the day on which the crime was committed. On that day, as would be shown by the evidence of the prisoner's daughter, the accused was drunk, and in the absence of every one from the house but the prisoner, the wife was stabbed. She rushed out on to the sidewalk, and meeting her daughter Minnie, told her she would never walk on that sidewalk again. The little girl seeing that something was wrong with her mother, screamed, and brought to her assistance several of the neighbours, who would be called upon to give evidence. To one of these and the little girl, Mrs. Ryan, in her last breath, made use of these words, "Minnie, he killed me." Mr. Henderson then went on to detail the circumstances of the inquest, the discovery of the knife under the sidewalk by the coroner, and the subsequent committal of the prisoner. He held that the prisoner could have no justification in committing such an offence, for the deceased was a woman of excellent religious and moral character.

MINNIE RYAN, sworn: Am daughter of James Ryan. I am 8 or 9 years of age, can read God's book. I know the Lord's Prayer and ten commandments. The prisoner is the last is my father; Mary Ryan is my mother. Recollect my mother's death. It was on Monday the last mind the day of the month. It was in the month of May. I was at school on that day; went to school at nine o'clock in the morning. Saw father that morning before I went to school; don't mind whether he had breakfast or not. Returned from school at 3 o'clock. Father and mother were in the house when I returned from school. I had breakfast with mother and brothers, Patrick and George. Do not know where George is; have not seen him lately. There was no one in the house but pa and ma when I came at 3 p.m. Got in at three o'clock and went out to play. I asked ma if I could stay out and play with Maggie Dunlop. Ma said no, and when I was out I heard her scream, about 8 o'clock in the evening. This was about two or three minutes after I went out, and I was on the steps of the door. When I was in before I went out, pa was standing up in the middle of the floor. He was going to drink, and I told him if he would not go down to the other room to sleep I would not give him any. Did not see any whisky with him before on that day. He had been drinking before on that day, so that I could notice it on him. This was about noon. I came home at noon. Pa was going up town at 5 o'clock. I was standing on the steps and heard the bottles rattle in his pocket. Ma was sitting on the rocking chair, and pa was sitting beside her on another chair when I went out. Did not hear the conversation,—they were speaking low. They did not appear to be quarrelling. I am quite sure there was nobody in the house with them, and when I was in at three there was no person in. When I went in at 8 they were sitting in the chairs. Pa did not sit at the tea-table at tea that evening; there was only ma and my brothers; he had gone out. Did not hear any quarrelling between pa and ma that day. They always lived quietly. I was at school nearly all the time. When I went out at 8 o'clock Maggie Dunlop was waiting for me, then I went in and asked ma if I could go out. I heard just one scream, and saw something dark passing the window inside very quick, and ma came out. I met her and asked her what was the matter, and she would not tell me. When she got to the gate she said, "Minnie, this is the last time I shall walk on this sidewalk." Maggie Dunlop was there at the time. Ma was going into Maggie Dunlop's house. She seemed as if she was tripping, and fell back on her head on the sidewalk. Maggie Dunlop lives just next door. I ran and called Mr. Dunlop, and he ran out to me. I was crying at the time. I saw Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Dunlop, Mrs. Phelan, and Mrs. Cole. I saw a knife on the sewing machine in the kitchen. It was about 12 o'clock. Had not seen it in the house before that day. (The knife was here produced, and witness said that it looked like the same knife that was on the sewing machine). I asked ma what was the matter, and she would not tell me. She had her arms folded across her heart. She screamed very loud. I don't recollect whether pa eat anything that day or not. Perhaps he got his breakfast when I was at school.

MAGGIE DUNLOP sworn, said: I mind the day Mrs. Ryan died. It was a Monday. Can't mind the day of the month. Was at school that day. After I came home I went out to play with Minnie Ryan. This was about half past three. Played till a little after five. Recollect Minnie going into the house, I went into the house with her. Saw Mrs. Ryan in the kitchen. Did not see any person in the house. Remained about 15 minutes. It was a little after six. I went to tea. I came back to ask Minnie if she could come out to play. We went on playing till near 8, and then Minnie went in to see if she could come out again. She was in about two or three minutes, and when she came out again I heard a scream in the house. I saw something dark pass the window inside the house. Minnie ran to the door, and just as she got there Mrs. Ryan came out to the gate to where I was. She was staggering, with her arms crossed. She did not say anything that I heard. I walked up along with Minnie. She went to my father's house next door. She fell at the door. I did not hear her speak. I saw her breathe after she had fallen. I know Mrs. Cole. I saw Mrs. Cole there shortly after; and Mrs. Phelan and Mrs. Robertson.

JOHN DUNLOP, sworn: I live on Simcoe Street, Peterboro'. James Ryan lives next house to mine, only a short distance. On Monday, the 8th of May, I heard a child scream outside, and I went out to see what was the matter, and I saw a woman lying with her feet to the door. I then went out and raised her head, and her mouth worked as if she had a fit. I asked who it was, and Minnie Ryan said it was her ma. Mrs. Cole came out from the other side of the house. She was still alive when I saw her. Mrs. Cole asked to get some brandy and rub on her head. Mrs Phelan took the brandy from me. I sent for the doctor. Mrs. Phelan met Dr. Holywell on the sidewalk, and asked him to come in. Dr. Kincaid was sent for. Did not hear her speak at all. I saw the prisoner at the door in the hall of my house standing there. He spoke to me and asked me what was the matter. His little daughter was there, and I was trying to get her out, and she went and raised her hand to strike her Pa and said he had killed her ma. The wound was examined before the doctor came. Mrs. Phelan examined it. When he asked me what was the matter I said Mrs. Ryan had fainted at the door. After she was carried into the house her dress was opened. After I turned round from the door Mrs Phelan shouted that she was stabbed.

To Mr. Cameron—I keep a tavern and had been in the neighbourhood since January. The prisoner was not in the habit of getting anything to drink at my place. On one occasion he drank at the bar. I did not notice that the prisoner was in a constant state of intoxication. Mrs. Cole assisted me and Mrs. Phelan and John Wood to carry the deceased into the house. The only time I left the deceased from the time I heard the screams to the time that I helped to carry her in was when I went in to get the brandy. Up to the time that I went in to get the brandy the deceased did not speak. I heard some one say that she had spoken, but I did not hear her speak myself.

Mrs. MARY ANN COLE, sworn, said,—I live in Murray Street; I recollect the death of Mrs. Ryan; it was on the 8th May. My daughter keeps a store next door to Mr Dunlop, and I was there, I heard a scream and ran to the door, and found that there was something wrong outside Dunlop's; I went and found a woman lying there; when I arrived there was the master I think Mr. Dunlop said she had fainted; Mr. Dunlop said he did not know who it was but Minnie Ryan screamed, "It's my ma, and she is dead." I put my thumb on the deceased's wrist and on her heart, and while I was doing so the screams of Minnie seemed to revive her a little, and she whispered "Ah, Minnie, he killed me." I called for some one to bring some water. Mrs. Phelan took it and began to wash the deceased. Some one then brought some brandy and I administered it. I did not know Mrs. Ryan was stabbed; I thought it was only a faintness. A great many people assembled, and some of them carried the deceased into Mr Dunlops they put a shawl and pillow under her head; I unhooked her dress, and when I did so I noticed the blood under it. I then opened back her dress, and saw blood on her inside clothes. I said, "Oh, they also have been stabbed." Shortly after Dr. Holywell and Mr. Ryan and all the neighbours came in. The deceased wore a black dress, a white waist, and two inside chemises.

To Mr. Cameron—I did not see whether all the clothes were penetrated with the knife.

Mrs. MARY PHELAN, sworn, said—I live opposite Mr. Ryan's. I recollect 8th May. My attention was attracted by the cries of Minnie Ryan. I ran across the street, and assisted to bathe the head of the deceased. I thought she had fainted. I saw Mrs. Cole there but I was not acquainted with her. Mrs. Cole was standing over the deceased. I assisted to wash Mrs. Ryan's underclothes, and I found the wound. Immediately I saw the wound I screamed out that she was stabbed. The deceased was breathing freely then. As I was going home I passed Ryan's house, and I saw him standing at the door. I said to him, "Oh, Ryan, do you know what you have done? You have killed your poor wife." He said, "Is she dead?" I replied in the affirmative; he then gave the door a kick and went into his house.

To Mr. Cameron—I did not hear the deceased speak.

ELLEN ROBERTSON, sworn, said—I recollect the evening on which Mrs. Ryan died. I was passing her house on the way home from work. I met Mrs. Ryan and her little girl coming from the house. The deceased fell as she got to Dunlop's door. I helped to carry Mrs. Ryan in. She was not dead when we carried her in. I saw the wound in her chest. I saw Mrs. Cole there; she was very close to the head of the deceased. I saw the prisoner at his door as I was going away, and heard Mrs. Phelan speak to him. Mrs. Phelan, in reply to the prisoner, said that she (Mrs. Ryan), was dead. He said "Is that so?" and went in and closed the door. Mrs. Ryan seemed very much excited when I passed her.

PATRICK RYAN, a son of the prisoner, said—I am sixteen years of age. I recollect the day of my mother's death. I was home in the morning, at dinner time, and at night after six o'clock. I only remained half an-hour then, but I returned after 8, when my mother was dead. When I went out at six there was no one in the house. In the morning I heard my father coaxing my mother for money, which she refused to give him. In the morning my father seemed to be all right. He did not appear be under the influence of liquor. He wanted to get something to drink. I do not recollect whether my father went to the tannery. He was about the house all the morning while I was at home, and he continually asked for liquor. My mother went out in the morning to do some shopping. My father went out after her. When he came back he told me he had some whisky, but I could not see it. I went away at 10 and returned at dinner time. I do not recollect that my father was at dinner. After dinner I went away and returned about six o'clock. My father and mother were in the house, and no one else was there. I saw my father taking something out of a bottle then which I think was whiskey. My mother was getting the dinner ready in the same room. My father seemed to be under the influ

PETERBOROUGH, OCT., 19, 1876.

LORD DUFFERIN'S SPEECH

It is vastly amusing to witness the efforts made by Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition to explain away Lord Dufferin's speech. Impoled as they are by it, we must expect a good deal of writhing and squirming. One says His Excellency's only object at Victoria was to please the Columbians; and forthwith gives copious extracts from such portions of Lord Dufferin's speech as express admiration for that magnificient country. It is unfortunate for this theory that Lord Dufferin himself says he feels it to be his duty to contradict certain falsehoods which have been repeated against Mr. Mackenzie. Repeated by whom? His Excellency does not say, we will leave it to some of our conservative contemporaries to answer. Another can find nothing in the speech approaching an endorsation of Mr. Mackenzie's policy; and quotes to support his position that that part of His Lordship's speech, wherein he states that he has not come on any diplomatic mission. We were under the impression that this latter statement on the part of the Governor, only gave greater weight and force to all his utterances; and that he had said, that not only was Mr. Mackenzie's policy right and proper but in his estimation, any other course would have been most injurious to both the Dominion and the road as well.

The desperate straits to which the conservative party is reduced, is manifested in the contemptible attacks made by them on every officer appointed by the present administration.

No position is free from their slanderous attacks, from the Governor to the lowest menial, each is in turn assailed with abuse and slander. Mr. Laird is no sooner appointed Governor of Keewatin than the signal is given and the hue and cry is raised, and no term too opprobious can be found to be hurled at him. True 'tis only what we can expect, but some one might be verdant enough to imagine that the gentleman's party knew something of the code of honor. Once one might think 'twas hardly British fair play to buffet a man whose hands were tied. Some one might think that when even a political opponent was appointed to so important an office as Governor of a Province, he would be allowed to commence as it were de novo, and judged in his new position according to the manner in which he discharged his new duties. Not so think patriots of the Liberal Conservative stripe—country, character, position, ability, everything is ignored so that they may get a hit at Reformers.

EAST RIDING FALL SHOW.

The Fall Show of the East Riding was held in Norwood on the 10th and 11th inst. The severity of the weather during both days caused many misgivings on the part of the Directors, but happily seemed not to effect the success of the show. The exhibition was a decided success. The variety and quality of the articles exhibited was a matter of general remark. The long draught of this summer led us to expect comparative failure in the Horticultural department, we were consequently surprised at the very creditable display made in this department. We entered fully into the question of a shrewd farmer who wanted to know "How the world had they managed to take these fellows—huge mangolds and squash—to water during the dry weather?" The exhibition in horses was very good. The draught horses must have been uncommonly fine when such teams as Mr. James Moore's could be surpassed. The ladies of the East did not forget that a large portion of the drill shed was assigned to them—and they occupied every foot set apart for them. Want of space compels us to forego a more lengthy notice. Evidently our Eastern farmers seem determined not to let the Central Exhibition run their show off the track.

FALL ASSIZES.

(Concluded from first page.)

To Mr. Henderson—He did not drink in Montreal. He was at times perfectly out of his mind. The loss of money in business, which was sustained in consequence of his sending butter to Montreal, was the cause of his being out of his mind. The witness' sister was of opinion that he was out of his mind. The prisoner was very wild looking, and he would not buy or sell. These were the reasons why she thought he was insane. She asked him on one occasion if he had been drinking, and cautioned him against it because she knew it would do him harm.

Lucius Sherlock said he had had dealings with the prisoner for some years. He saw him on the evening of the day of the occurrence at a few minutes past six o'clock. He met the prisoner a few paces from his own house. The prisoner raised his hand to his hat and gave a sort of military salute. He was ordinarily very reserved, and would give only a slight nod of the head. The witness saw him a few minutes afterwards and watched him very closely. He looked to the witness like a man who had been drinking very hard, and was on the verge of "delirium tremens." He told some person he thought he would have the horrors before morning.

Patrick Ryan, the father of the prisoner, said,—I am eighty-three years of age. We have carried on business together for five or six years. The fire at the tannery occured about three years ago. My son took to drink after that, and went completely out of his mind He got all right, however, and kept so until he went to Montreal. He went to Montreal in consequence of having sent ninety kegs of butter there and having lost on them. When he came back from Montreal he said the person to whom he consigned the butter had robbed him. Two days after his return he acted strangely, walking up and down, talking to himself, refusing to eat leather, and refusing to buy hides. He never acted in that way before. It was about two weeks after he came back from Montreal that he began to drink. When I saw that he was drinking very hard I proposed to put him jail for a few days to cure him, but his wife refused it. I sent in four different times, but could not get her consent. He drank hard for about two months. I went there occasionally to watch him and to try to keep him sober. On the 26th April Mrs. Ryan sent for me about eight o'clock. When I went over he was raising his wife for whiskey. He walked round and round the room; went from one room to the other, and laid first on one bed and then on another, calling all the time for whiskey. I determined to stay all night with him, as towards evening Mrs. Ryan placed the cross across the door and put a bed on it for the boy and me to sleep in. About twenty minutes after the prisoner had been in bed he got up and I persuaded him to go to bed again. He acted in the same way about half an hour afterwards. Altogether he got out of bed eight or nine times during the night. In the morning I told Mrs Ryan to remember what we had undergone that night and for days before, and wished her to let me have him put in prison, but she still refused. I then said I would not go near them any more and I did not. I saw the prisoner after that every day up to Saturday. I went to look for him at Halpin's on the Sunday. He did not drink, but he was in the barrows and appeared to be completely out of his mind. I went to several taverns and told them to give him no liquor.

To Mr Henderson—He kept drinking. He had not been drinking on the day of the death of Mrs Ryan. I saw him at the gate about four o'clock, but did not see him afterwards.

James Stevenson said he had lived in Peterborough about fifty years, and he had known the prisoner during that time. Ryan always bore a good character and was looked upon as a quiet, inoffensive man. He related that on the morning of the murder he saw the prisoner and accused him of drinking, and did what he could to dissuade him from it. It was quite evident to him that the prisoner had been drinking hard. His eyes were working and he was nervous and tremulous. He saw the prisoner afterwards in gaol and he said that he did not remember anything of the kind (referring to the death of Mrs Ryan) occurring. On the following Sunday in the gaol the prisoner told the witness and Mr. Davidson that he thought he could see things creeping up the wall.

Mr. Henderson objected to the taking of that statement as evidence.

Mr. Cameron quoted a similar case in which such evidence of the hallucination under which the prisoner had laboured was taken.

The witness continued by stating that the prisoner said he knew the snakes and creeping things were not on the wall, but still he imagined he saw them.

To Mr Henderson.—The prisoner appeared to be quite rational in the morning. All that I saw on the prisoner was the result of drink. I did not think he was insane or in "delirium tremens" on the morning of Monday.

J. I. Dawson stated that he knew the prisoner. He saw him a short time before the occurrence and observed that the prisoner looked very wild. The prisoner told him he had been sick and had been taking quinine. He saw him at the gaol with Mr. Stevenson and heard him state that he imagined he saw things on the wall.

That closed the evidence for the defence.

Mr. Henderson then called John Brophy for the purpose of repatting the evidence for for the defence with regard to the hallucination under which the prisoner was said to have been labouring.

John Brophy said he was a brother of the deceased. He remained at the prisoner's house from Tuesday to Thursday of the week before the occurrence.

Wm. Helm was sworn, and said he knew prisoner. He did not see prisoner on May 9th, or 2 or 3 weeks before. About three weeks before he seemed sober. He frequently had conversation with prisoner after March 17th till 3 weeks before Mrs. Ryan's death. He never saw prisoner under the influence of liquor but once during that time.

James McWilliams, the jailer, was sworn, and said he recollected prisoner being brought to the jail, though he did not see him when he first came. When he heard of prisoner's arrival he went to see him and he was lying quietly in bed. In the course of the night he again went to see him, and he was still quiet in bed. He saw prisoner at 6 next morning.

The Crown Prosecutor asked what prisoner said to him.

This was objected to.

Witness continued.—That for 8 or 10 days prisoner sat nothing to amount to anything. His craving was for liquor.

Mr. Cameron then addressed the jury. After referring to the painful nature of the case, he stated that he could not by any means as his own judgment come to the conclusion that the offence had not been brought home to the prisoner at the bar. It was in consequence of that, that, for the defence, the deed was questioned, but it was held that the prisoner was not responsible in law for the act in consequence of his labouring under temporary insanity. He asked if from the lives of the prisoner and his wife there had been anything between them which would entitle the jury to come to the conclusion that there home was anything but a house of peace? There was not a whisper to the effect that anything but harmony existed, and the only conclusion which could be arrived at was that the deed was committed without any malice or intention whatever. The law he point out, recognized that there should be a motive or intention shown before the person accused could be found guilty. In many instances drunkenness was held as an aggravation of the crime, but drunkenness was not a crime, and so long as that was the case there was no offence in either selling or drinking liquor, and there could be no blame for an act which arose out of the selling or drinking of those liquors. Insanity, he held, made a man irresponsible for what he might do, and he showed that the effect of drinking resulted in an affection of the brain which amounted to insanity, for which a person was irresponsible, just as if his insanity was hereditary. Unfortunately no physician had examined the prisoner before he was arrested for the crime, but the evidence of Dr. Kingdon was held to be proof of the state approached delirium tremens, in which he was and had been when he committed the crime. He quoted several instances in which it was held that persons who were led to commit some a crime after constant drinking, when they had not the slightest intention of doing so, were excused on the ground of insanity. Several cases very similar to the present, in which a temporary mental disturbance had existed in the mind of the criminal, were dwelt upon. It was shown that the doctrines as to insanity had been so far modified that jurors were entitled to consider clearly whether the accused was in his right mind or not. He asked the jury to consider first whether the prisoner became intoxicated with a view to the commission of the crime he was not rather in such a state of drunkenness as to be totally unaware of what he was doing. It was evident that the prisoner was not guilty of a premeditated crime. Mr Cameron then reviewed the evidence against the prisoner and pointed out to what an extent it went, to show that he was not in his right mind when he committed the crime. He also pointed out to the event of their acquitting the prisoner of responsibility for the offence, it did not follow that he would be reinstated to his position in society, as it was probable that he would be detained by the law until he was adjudged to be sane, or for the term of his natural life.

Mr. Henderson the Crown prosecutor then arose, and proceeded to argue his side of the case. He said, I am pleased that you have been saved from the annoyance and trouble necessary to prove whether or not the prisoner committed the crime. His Counsel has admitted that point. We must look at the surroundings in regard to the unfortunate matter. I want to show that there is not the slightest thing that entitles the prisoner to a shadow of excuse. As far as the plea of insanity is considered, I am of opinion that it is a poor one, however, we will consider it, as it is the only question at issue. He has never been ill or suffered in any way by which he might lose his reason, only that he he had been drinking very hard. Before you can judge him innocent, you must prove him to be incapable of knowing right from wrong. You must not imagine if you must be sure of it. If you acquitted this prisoner, what drunkard could not advance the same plea on commission of crime? There was no evidence that he had been a habitual drunkard. It was a dangerous position to take and if done in this case may set a precedent that may operate in time to come against the best interests of the people. If the mind had been permanently unfixed by hard and excessive drinking, or that he had suffered from "delirium tremens" there might be some excuse for not holding the prisoner responsible. There was no evidence that he had been indulging in strong drink almost to the very hour he had committed that terrible deed. The jury must look at the case as it really is, and not be carried off by false sympathy for the prisoner. No one would be prouder than I if the Jury would with clear consciences, bring in a verdict of acquittal. I will not try to press the matter unduly, only as far as it is right and proper. If the prisoner did not know the difference between right and wrong, why did he hide the knife? The medical testimony went to prove that he was in full possession of his reasoning faculties, as well as Mr. Stevenson who proved him to be perfectly sane on the morning of the murder. It was a terrible crime, and a great responsibility rested on the Jury. What could be more pitiful and and than to witness as you did, little Minnie, a child only 8 years of age, standing in that hut, giving evidence against her father, who was on trial for his life for the murder of her mother? In this case not a fearful warning to us not to indulge in the accursed drink which has caused nearly all the crimes that occupied the attention of the Courts. It is not my intention to make a temperance speech, but I trust that the fearful example of strong drink which we see before us to-day, will be a warning that will teach us all a lesson. He proceeded in an eloquent manner to admonish and strengthen the case, and finally asked the Jury to consider whether they could conscientiously come to the conclusion that the prisoner was not able to judge the difference from right and wrong when he committed the deed.

HIS LORDSHIP'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the Jury:

You have first to consider whether the prisoner is guilty or not guilty of murdering his wife. There are three results to be arrived at and you must come to one. It has been shown that depraved came to her death at the hands of the prisoner. Then the question arises under what circumstances did that crime commence?

If the evidence leads you to find matter aforethought then the crime was murder, but if not, then you can consider the evidence, and if sufficiently warranted, render a verdict of manslaughter.

Then you have to consider that although the prisoner was committed by the prisoner, was it done while he was laboring under a temporary fit of insanity, and by that state of mind which would render him unfit to judge right from wrong.

Then you have to consider whether he was sane or insane up the time he committed the murder, a position on which counsel differed, and next being no intention to kill of his struck the blow, and knew at the time that he committed an act which was against the laws of God and nature, then he is not insane. If you find from the evidence that he did not know what he was doing, then he must be acquitted on the grounds of insanity. If a person is committed while under the influence of drink when only indulged in that plea does not excuse him in the eye of the law. You will therefore consider whether the plea of insanity is properly proved. If you find it has been established then acquit the prisoner. If, on the other hand, the evidence has failed to show that insanity existed, although drink may have rendered him restless, then he must be found guilty. If the murder had been premeditated only five minutes before its commission then he would be equally guilty

From the evidence you have heard no witness has shown that he did not know what was transpiring around him immediately after the murder, and though his mind may have been impaired through excessive drink yet he had the possession of his faculties at the time of the murder to know right from wrong.

One witness noticed several strange actions on the part of the prisoner, while another having some conversation with him found him labouring under a strange delusion, the prisoner imagined that he had been shut up in a dark room for three days.

The Constable who arrested him says that although under the influence of liquor he seemed to understand what he was doing and made several enquiries about his wife. The question for you to consider is, was the prisoner in his right mind at the time of the murder, and you must then render a verdict accordingly.

The Jury then retired at 6.30 p. m. to consider their verdict, and the Court adjourned for tea, leaving the Jury locked up, with the understanding that the Court would again resume at 9 o'clock p. m. The Jury agreeing at 8 o'clock, the Judge was sent for, on taking his seat, the prisoner was sent for to hear the verdict. He seemed greatly agitated.

The Jury were then admitted into Court and answered to their names.

His Lordship requested the Foreman to read the verdict.

The Foreman stood up and read "Guilty of Murder with a recommendation to mercy."

The crown prosecutor moved the sentence of the Court.

His Lordship asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why the sentence of the Court should not be pronounced upon you.

The prisoner made no reply.

His Lordship then addressed the prisoner as follows:—"The Jury have added to their verdict a recommendation to mercy, which I have no power to deal with, whatever gratification I may feel if it should be carried out and I can only forward it to the proper quarter. The Jury have brought in a verdict which is fully justified by the evidence. My only duty is to pronounce the sentence of the Court upon you, which is that you be taken to the place from whence you came, and that you there be kept until the 21st of November next, when you shall be taken to the place of execution, there to be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

The prisoner received his sentence without any visible change, and immediately afterwards was conducted back to his cell, there to await his doom, unless the Government may commute his sentence.

Prayer for Sunday Schools.

The following call for the observance of special days of prayer for Sunday-schools has been issued by the London Sunday-school Union and other societies in Great Britain, and is widely approved by workers on this side of the Atlantic.—The similar season of last year received general recognition among our schools, and was frequently noticed as the beginning of special spiritual quickenings. The call, without doubt, will be still more generally observed this year, and with increasing gain in the spiritual blessings which such a course will bring to the schools.

UNIVERSAL PRAYER FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

SUNDAY, 22ND OF OCTOBER, AND MONDAY, 23RD OF OCTOBER, 1876.

"In everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God."—Phil. iv. 6.

At a meeting of Representatives of the Committees of the Sunday-School Union, and other Sunday-School Societies, it was decided to set apart Sunday, October 22nd, and Monday, Oct. 23rd, as the days of United Prayer on behalf of Sunday-schools.

The Committee of the Sunday-School Union desire most devoutly to recognise the gracious bestowment of spiritual blessings since their first call to United Prayer in 1873. During that year 9,245 scholars in connected schools united themselves to Christian churches; and this number has yearly increased, until, in 1875, no less than 17,767 are reported to have been admitted into church fellowship.

The spiritual aspect of the work is evidently more clearly appreciated, whilst the increasing responsibilities resting upon the christian church to provide suitable religious instruction for the young, call for more earnest prayer and enlarged efforts on the part of all Christians.

It is suggested that the following arrangements should, as far as practicable, be observed:—

That on LORD'S-DAY Morning, October 22nd from seven to eight o'clock, Intercessory Prayer with Thanksgiving should be offered in private by all Teachers.

That the opening engagements of the morning school should be preceded by the Teachers meeting together for prayer.

That Ministers be requested to preach special Sermons upon the claims of Sunday-schools.

That in the Afternoon the ordinary routine of each school should be varied by the scholars being gathered for devotional exercises, intermingled with singing and appropriate addresses. To this service the Parents of the Scholars might be invited.

That at some time during the Evening the Teachers should, in concert with other Christians, meet for Thanksgiving and for Prayer.

That on MONDAY morning, October 23d, between the hours of seven and eight, teachers met apart a time for again bringing their Scholars in prayer before God.

That in the course of the day the Pastor of each of each School hold a meeting furnished prayer and thanksgiving.

That in the Evening each Church or Congregation be invited to hold a meeting, at which the Minister of the Sunday-school should form the theme of the prayers and addresses.

It being the supreme object of all Sunday-School Teachers to lead their youthful natures into close and vital union with the Redeemer, the personal communion of the Teacher with the Saviour is essential, as well as a devout recognition of the fact that it is the Lord will that each child should be brought to love Him, and to follow His commandments.

The Committee affectionately urge the fellow-labourers to pray unceasingly for the early conversion of each of their scholars to Christ relying on the Divine Word. "If ye abide in Me, and My words abide in you, you shall ask what you will and it shall be done unto you. Herein my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit."

COUNCILLORS are beginning to grow familiar with their constituents, and promises of new sidewalks for next year resound on every hand.

AN IMPROVEMENT.—A new plank sidewalk has been laid from the old post office to Hall, Innes & Co's store, but not before it was needed.

COWS AND PIGS promenade our streets with impunity. If the Pound-keeper could get any hogs out of them he would soon have them up before the P. M.

RECKLESS DRIVING was very common on Saturday last. One gentleman was knocked down on George Street and run over, but luckily was not severely hurt.

THE YOUNG CANADIANS of this town will hold an Assembly in the Orange Hall, on Monday evening, November 6th, when no doubt a good time will be had.

THANKSGIVING.—Thursday, the 2nd of November, will be duly observed as a day of Thanksgiving throughout the Province, having been proclaimed as such.

SIX HUNDRED SHEEP were shipped from Guelph a few days ago for Great Britain, by Mr. Jos Black, of Fergus. The venture is likely to be even more profitable than the shipping of cattle.

CORRECTION.—In our list of prizes for the West Riding Agricultural Show, in the children's work, Mrs. O'Brien got credit for 1st prize for best plain needle work, instead of Miss O'Brien.

ACCIDENT.—A threshing machine accident happened in the Township of Seymour on Tuesday last, by which Edgar Larch, 14 years of age, lost his leg, having had it crushed in the cogs of the machine. Amputation was necessary.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.—MR. W. F. Thompson, sold his farm, in the 1st Concession of S. Monaghan, last week, realizing $8,100 for 150 acres, or about $60 an acre. Land is not decreasing in value in South Monaghan. Mr. Wm Downie is the purchaser.

TO-NIGHT.—Bear in mind that the popular lecturer, Rev. W. B. Allock, will lecture in the George Street Methodist Church, to-night under the auspices of the Good Templars, commencing at 8 o'clock. A small admission fee of 10 cents will be charged to defray expenses.

MIXING BARLEY.—The Cowego Palladium says:—"The honest farmers in Canada "are mixing new with old barley, and selling "the whole as new grain. If many tricks of "that kind are played the Canadian farmers "will have an opportunity to hold their crop "for something else beside better prices."

MCCULLAGH AGAIN.—Mr. Wm. McCullagh, Boot and Shoe Maker of this town, is shipping this week several pairs of boots to Australia, to parties who formerly dealt with him in Canada. This speaks volumes for Mr. McC. and for the popularity of his work, which he feels confident cannot be beaten in the world. There is nothing like leather! especially after passing through Mr. McCullagh's hands.

EVERYBODY should make a point of going to concerts, theatres, &c., after the programme has commenced. Young men should go out for a mouthful of cloves at every intermission, and young ladies should whisper and rustle their programme through the finest passages. Such actions are infallible signs of good breeding, and nothing but an utter lack of self-respect prevents every person from doing as we advise.

INDECENT POSTAL NOTICE.—The Postmaster-General has given notice that hereafter registered letters on which both the postage and registration fee are paid by registered stamps only, cannot be forwarded to their destination, but will be treated as unpaid, and sent to the Dead Letter Office. Registered stamps are to be used exclusively for the prepayment of the registration fee on such letters, and cannot be accepted in prepayment of postage.

BOULTBEE is getting into bad odor, even in his own party. He was one of the "distinguished visitors" at the Simcoe pic-nic, and jumped into one of the carriages provided for the party. But at the pic-nic he was made nothing of; and the MAIL now gives him the coup de grace by stating that it will publish an extra containing the speeches of Sir John. and McDougall at the pic-nic. Hadn't the virtuous Alfred better stay at home?—The World.

MR. CUMMINGS has had his man repairing the necessary bad crossings and dilapidated sidewalks during the past week. Even that old "walk on London Street has had a few plank put in it, and now is not so bad considering the past. He will soon be calling on the people of this town and packing them who complain for their tax. Putting the money spent to such good account, putting the money spent to such good account, putting the money spent to such good account,

Why Will you Suffer.—The "Canadian Pain Destroyer" instantly and permanently removes all pain from the system, and is decidedly the best medicine known for the cure of rheumatism, pleurisy, sprains, toothache, sore throat, colds, bruises, burns, bites, &c., and is so cheap that all can afford to buy it. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is for consumption and a favorite remedy for bronchial and curing diseases of the throat, bronchia and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, instead of drying up the cough and leaving the disease behind.

Caution to Flavor Keepers.—Owing to the increasing use of worthless brass stuff in the manufacture of Extra Vanilla, spurious compounds are being thrown upon the market, purporting to be pure vanilla, but prepared principally from Tonqua beans. This nauseating substitute costs the manufacturer less than one-twentieth part as much as the genuine vanilla bean. It can rapidly be detected by its odor. It is used principally by tobacconists for perfuming snuff and cigars, and was never intended for use as a flavor ing for the various confections prepared for the human stomach. Burnett's Extract of Vanilla is prepared from selected vanilla beans, and is warranted entirely free from Tonqua or other deleterious substances.

Great Condition Medicine.—As a conditioning medicine for Horses, Dooley's Condition Powders and Arabian Horse Remedy has no equal; its effects in this respect are astonishing; many horses that were supposed to be broken down and almost worthless, have by the use of a few packages been restored to a healthy and round condition, all traces of the disease having been completely removed, and have been sold for from $50 to $75 more than they would previously have brought if when you want a horse medicine get "Dooley's Condition Powders and Arabian Horse Remedy," we know you will be perfectly satisfied with the result. Remember, the name and see that the signature of Church & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

Inflammation of the Lungs.

Clarmont, N. B. February 17th, 1872.

Sir: In behalf of my family, I wish to acknowledge a debt of gratitude I owe Mr. James J. Fellows. My daughter had fallen ill with inflammation of the lungs, followed by large quantities of blood and purulent matter, attended with every system of consumption. After obtaining the attendance of two eminent physicians, who afforded her no relief, she was persuaded to try Fellow's Syrup of Hypophosphites. Upon taking two bottles we had every reason to believe she would be cured. Her physician was surprised to find her improvement so rapid, and advised her to continue its use, which she did until her complete recovery. Two years have elapsed, during which time she has neither taken nor required any medicine, enjoying good health, and urge all who are afflicted with any lung or chest trouble to use the Hypophosphites without fail.

My wife, also having been in bad health for some time, and having had typhoid fever in December last, which left her much prostrated, was advised by the physicians to use this remedy to build her up. Before taking half a bottle she found herself much benefited, and still continues to use it.

I believe, under Dead Providence, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter, and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use, for although it is widely used, I think its value is not appreciated.

Yours truly,

JOSEPH A. EVANS.

H. C. Cagwell, Oquawka, Warren Co., Peoria, ary, 1872, in a letter, says: Fellows' Hypophosphites is doing good work here, and we have already disposed of a large quantity. It stands the test, and every day people express their praise of its virtues.—Our physicians are prescribing it, and we have good accounts from Michigan and Illinois.

One of the Testimonials!

From Dr DUNCAN McCALLUM, Montreal—

I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the ankle joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but three applications of Birnbaum's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me that relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and after eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured

I owe this statement to the public, to the profession and to the merits of that genuine article

SPECIFIC MEDICINE

Cures all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Debility, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcholic spirits; but the Special Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Impotency and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Palpitation, Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Diseases of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other diseases that lead to Insanity or Consumption and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating those special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, addressing

BEFORE AND AFTER SCHOOL.

BEFORE SCHOOL.

"Quarter to nine! Boys and girls, do you hear?
"One more book wheat, then—be quick, mother dear;
Where is my luncheon-box?"—"Under the shelf,
Just in the place you left it yourself!"
"I can't say my table!" "O, find me my cap!"
"One kiss for mamma, and sweet Sis in her lap."
"Be good dear!"—"I'll try."—"9 times 9's 81."
"Take your mittens!"—"All right."—"Hurry up, Bill; let's run."
What a slam of the door, they are off, boys and girls,
And the mother draws breath in the lull of the noise.

AFTER SCHOOL.

"Don't wake up the baby! Come gently, my dear!"
"O, mother! I've torn my new dress, just look here!
I'm sorry, I only was climbing the wall."
"O, mother! my map was the nicest of all!"
"And Nelly, in spelling, went up to the head!"
"O say! can I get on the foot-ball nine?"
"I've got such a toothache!"—"The teacher's unkind!"
"Is dinner most ready? I'm just like a bear!"
Be patient, worn mother, they are growing up fast.
These nursery whirlwinds not long do they last;
A still, lonely house would be far worse than noise!
Rejoice and be glad in your brave girls and boys!

—R. I. Schoolmaster.

THE CENTENNIAL.

Written for the Examiner.

Much has been written about the great Exposition of this continent. I presume the few who have seen it will be glad to visit the scenes again with an observer like themselves, and the many who have not enjoyed this privilege, will be content to see them with the eyes of one who would share his knowledge freely with others less favoured in this respect than himself. The description cannot pretend to imitate the elaborate accuracy of the talented staff employed by illustrated and powerful journals. They will simply aim to give in as interesting and instructive a form as the writer can command his own impressions of the principal objects of interest to himself with any information he may have gained with reference to them. It is not even pretendid that the objects most deserving of notice will receive their relative amount of description, or that the exhibitors named are in all cases the best in their class. Other observers are welcome to their judgments upon particular exhibits, and the writer will leave the readers free to accept or reject his opinions, for he will not pretend to be a connoisseur in art, agriculture, music or war. This design will be kept steadily in view, to present, so far as the writer's knowledge extends and his cursory examination permits the products of nature and art peculiar to each separate country. All who are willing to follow descriptions which are likely to be defective as compared with more elaborate productions, are invited (without further explanation) to place themselves, in imagination, before the huge Main Building, and contemplate its massive proportions. In shape this structure is a rectangular parallelogram, 1830 feet from east to west and 464 feet from north to south, exclusive of the annexes. More simply speaking it is a barn-like building 70 feet high and covering 21½ acres. The immense, almost unbroken floor space, except for the 672 foundation piers, wood and glass for the walls, wrought iron for the 672 pillars in the walls and for the girders in the tin roofs. The man of figures will tell you that there are over two million pounds of iron in the columns and five millions in the roof, but it will be enough to say that it required 31,600,000,00 and that it is filled to its utmost capacity with the industrial, scientific, educational and mineral exhibits of almost every land under the sun. The monotony of its regular proportions is relieved by towers 65 feet high at each of the corners and numerous turrets and pinnacles along the roofs from which the flags of all nations are flung to the breezes of heaven. Within, its length is traversed by a central avenue 120 feet broad, and two side avenues each 100 feet broad. Besides these there are numerous side aisles and interesting avenues. The building is said to be the largest ever erected for such a purpose, and these three broad avenues 1,832 feet in length are certainly the longest ever introduced into such a structure. Externally the impression upon the observer's mind is rather that of massive grandeur than of architectural grace. Internally the varied character of the exhibits and the fanciful structures in which they are exhibited resemble more the brilliant conglomeration of a kaleidoscope than the harmonious uniformity of a perfect design. Pavilions, palaces, pagodas, obeliskes and a thousand other beautiful and ornamental designs have been constructed by enterprizing exhibitors to attract the attention of visitors in their wares. As the visitor gazes down the dazzling vistas thronged with beautiful objects he feels himself inspired with broader views of the world than his own little sphere ever permitted. Unless he be the most hypocritical of observers he will abandon himself to the strange fascination of the scene spread out before him, and will pronounce it brilliant, extensive, rich and wonderful. Perhaps, too, he may suffer himself to reflect upon the fabulous value of the articles and the structures. Of the former no approximate estimate can be reached, and of the latter he will be prepared to accept the statement that they represent $7,000,000. He will believe this the more readily when he learns that this is only one of five large exhibition buildings and 150 smaller buildings erected by governments, corporations, states and individuals. In all it is said that 75 of the 236 acres inclosed in the park are under cover, and that the number of exhibitors approaches 30,000. It is worth the while to recall the fact, that in the first of these international exhibitions, viz: that held in London in 1851, under the auspices of the lamentable Prince Albert, only 20 acres of Hyde Park were put under cover.—The cost upon that occasion was about $1,500,000.00, and the number of visitors over $6,000,000.00. The Paris exposition of 1867 will probably bear off the palm from Philadelphia with its roll of 10,000,000 visitors, and the Vienna surpasses it in cost by several millions of dollars, but the latter only covered 50 and the former 40 acres of ground. I believe the Old World Exhibitions brought out a better general display from the world at large and that they were all financially successful. Although Pennsylvania alone has generously raised by private subscription $2,580,000, and by state and municipal appropriations an equal sum, of which Philadelphia alone has contributed nearly $2,000,000.00, and although these liberal appropriations have been largely supplemented by contributions from the general and local governments of the United States there can be no doubt that there will be a very large deficit, variously estimated at from three to ten millions of dollars, to be provided for when the exhibition closes on the 10th of November next. But the result in the promotion of amity and the cultivation of commerce will more than atone for any deficiency, and Christians never likely to unite by the extension to each of the most powerful nations, from the confusion of the Babel-like dialects of the past, as the favorable as they promise to be for the United States have been the largest contributors to the funds, so they naturally occupy the most space in the Main Building, and indeed in most of the others as well. As the space in all the buildings is distributed according to countries we will begin our survey with the U. S. Department, which occupies both sides of the main avenue for some distance beginning at the eastern entrance.

THE UNITED STATES.

Entering by the main entrance on the east we find that the United States occupy all the space on the left hand side of the central avenue as far as the principal lateral aisle, and a corner on the right hand side of the avenue as well, making altogether nearly one-third of the space of the entire building. We shall be under the less obligation to attempt a detailed description of the various objects, because the Americans have done them ample justice and the articles are more familiar to our readers than many others in the building. We were very much struck by the fine display of woolen, silk and cotton goods, in which the various firms strove to excel each other by the excellence of the fabrics and the ingenuity manifested in showing their products to the best advantages. The silks are lighter and very much inferior to the products of French looms, but considerable merit is claimed for the silk thread on account of its fineness of texture and delicacy of hue. It is a very interesting sight to examine the long webs of broadcloth, cassimeres, jeans the coarser articles of men's wear, and the finer articles of ladies' apparel temptingly hanging from the showy cases labeled with the name of the exhibitor. Still I think the Canadian woolens will bear comparison without injury with the choicest products of American skill, while in linens Belfast eclipses any thing shown by the United States in the fineness of texture, clearness of color and cheapness of price. In cottons, however, the Americans seem to be fast bearing off the palm from Manchester, and the prints of American cloth and the muslins of Wamsutta are marvels of cheapness and excellence.—The percentage of cotton in the mixtures is plainly marked, for the exhibitors seem to pride themselves upon their success in producing goods almost equal to clear wool or silk at greatly reduced prices.—As the cloths are shown in every form, in web and garment, so the wools and yarns are displayed in all their stages. In carpets, too, there is a most tempting and extensive display, and it would appear that the Americans are really able to produce ordinary patterns at cheaper rates than foreign carpets can be offered for after paying the protective tariff. In delicacy of color, fineness of texture, and elegance of design, the French still hold the first place, and English Axminsters and Kidderminsters can be woven in one piece to suit the size of the room. Americans fail in this point, entirely, as they do also in the manufacture of carpets requiring the highest kinds of skill. However, the patterns of many of the American carpets are very elaborate in design and finish, and I was pleased with one in which the Capital and Washington, the old Liberty Bell, and other patriotic devices were interwought. Perhaps there was attendency in this as in some other departments, to that vulgarity of taste which is properly designated "loud." I was inclined to think that a picture of an eagle with outspread wings, &c., which one cotton manufacturer proudly asserted to be made of 8464 spools of different colored thread, might be regarded as a little suggestive. The display of Terra Cotta work was large and varied, and a rustic basket of this material was so well executed that it would safely escape detection as an imitation. In books and bindery rickness of finish seemed to be combined with durability, and the large collections exhibited by some of the book binders and publishers were most attractive. There was here something to suit every taste, use and price, and there was evidently no intention to allow the great feature of the nineteenth century to be eclipsed by more showy rivals. I fancy Solomon might say with increased fervor "of making many books there is no end, if he could but see the Centennial display. Among the numerous contributors the American S. S. Union occupies no mean place with its exhibit of curious blocks and "gifts" for the kinder-garten system. It was pleasant to observe that the old Bible was not forgotten in the flood of literature. It was stated that the good book was translated into 200 languages and dialects, and they showed a pamphlet with the text, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son," printed with appropriate characters in 130. Some of the paper mills exhibited wonderful reams of paper nearly 20ft. long and 4 broad, of great smoothness throughout. In jewelry, Gorham and Tiffany of New York made a magnific

PETERBOROUGH, OCT., 26, 1876.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The war cloud in the East remains about as dark as ever. The great powers appear to be nearer an understanding, but no one can foretel what selfish scheme of Russia or persistent folly of the Turk may upset all their plans or percipitate the evils so much dreaded.

Late fighting has resulted favourably to the Turks; yet this is no strong indication of final success. Nor can any one at this distance from the scenes of action speak confidently of the truthfulness of the reports that reach the best informed journals on this side of the Atlantic. Britain is reported as likely to send her iron clads to Constantinople with a view to controlling the Bosphorus. This could be easily done, so far as her own interests are concerned, but the insatiate folly of the Turkish Government and people has left them without the sympathy of the British people, and, consequently, without that active sympathy of men, and money so necessary in case of a protracted war or strong combinations against them. A six week's armistice, perhaps one of six months, will be agreed upon. The Porte promises reforms that may be acceptable to the Christain element of the Turkish Empire and may satisfy the great powers in the mean time. Few, however, would regret the dismemberment of Turkey, if that dismemberment would only ensure a more enlightened policy of government, liberty of mind, and a more liberal religious policy in Turkey and Southern Germany. In the mean time it is not wise to receive even the latest news without confirmation. Any moment may bring intelligence of either a satisfactory peace or the commencement of a terrible war.

The Father of Confederation

Under this heading our Conservative contemporary asserts, with his usual regard for truth, "That whoever first entertained the idea, it was Sir John Macdonald and his Government who carried it out successfully." We would like to know if our opponents really believe this statement? If this oft told tale is at length believed by the authors; If they do not know the statement to be untrue, then are they culpably ignorant, and deserve not to be trusted; they are unsafe guides—blind leaders of the blind. If they know it to be false and yet repeat it as truth—which we strongly suspect—then are they criminally guilty, and fully merit universal condemnation.

There is one saving clause in the above sentence—"Whoever first entertained the idea." Why does the REVIEW hesitate to ascribe all to him? Surely none but the heaven-born statesman, whose rule is another name for The Golden Age! and whose regime is synonymous with prosperity and purity; surely none but he could conceive of a scheme so magnificent! It is just possible that the writer of the above quotation may have had some indistinct notion of a work entitled "Votes and proceedings of the House." It is quite possible too that there, anyone may learn, who it was that strenuously opposed and voted against the measure. There, too, may anyone learn who it was that after failing to defeat the scheme, eat his leek, and accepted his opponents' measure. They'll learn that it was not the Hon. Geo. Brown, and that it was the Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald.

It is a favorite statement of the Conservative press that Geo. Brown was a member of John A's Government; but he never was. Had he been willing to accept office under John A. he might have been a Crown Minister during the last ten years, and by this time have become a heaven-born statesman only inferior to our Chief. But Geo. Brown thought differently; and the country says he thought right.

Our Public School Teachers.

Admiration for the Ontario School System is not confined solely to our own Province, wherever the name of ontario is known the one feature of our country, with which more than another the foreigner is familiar, and of which he speaks admiringly is the school system. and whether we consider how admirably adopted the system is to meet the needs of the country, or the great benefits which the province derives from an educated population, we feel there are great reasons for the many congratulatory utterances we hear from time to time in reference to our educational matters, the fact of its being so popular and so efficient does not, however, preclude the possibility of its possessing defects and evils which call for a remedy.

We submit that the majority of the teachers now teaching in this province, has been so situated as not to be able to secure any instruction in the profession, till formally installed in office. Let us look at the position of things in our own county, our teachers are chiefly of the third class, now what instruction have these teachers had in regard to the best methods of teaching the different subject in the revised Programme? Where have they got any hints on organization? What do they know at the outset of discipline? These are surely matters of importance to engage their attention. Normal Schools is suggested as the panacea for all these ills, but were there two more Normal Schools which we are free to confess the country imperatively demands, not even then would all the teachers be in a position to avail themselves of the advantages thereby presented. Teachers who have capital sufficient to invest in a two year Normal course will demand and can obtain salaries higher than many of our backwoods and rural sections can pay, and shall the youth of these sections because of the poverty of the section, be left to more juveniles who have just been able, with hard scratching to obtain a third class certificate, and who knows nothing whatever of the developing of the reasoning powers or the drawing forth of the thinking faculties? By no means. Why can there not be formed in our Union High Schools and Institutes, a Normal class, comprising those pupils who purpose being candidates for certificates, each member of such class being compelled in turn to do a certain amount of teaching under the direction of an experienced teacher. We submit that the paying of such experienced teachers, only a part of whose time would be occupied in instructing these pupil teachers, out of the grant for superior education would be a much better application of the fund than had they (the teachers) been employed in cramming classics into the heads of boys intended for the merchants desk, or tradesman's bench. Nearly all of our third class teachers previous to examination attend some High School; there usually being a high school within moderate distance, hence the comparative ease with which this idea could be carried out. In fact one of the arguments for the continuance of Country High Schools is that they educate the bulk of the teachers. This may be true so far as the acquisition of mere book learning is concerned, but as yet they give no practical instruction in the work of teaching. For them it is from the High School class to the alphabet and Second Book: from Natural Philosophy, Algebra, Euclid to it is an ox and the story of Book-keeping. We remember a teacher grinding a class reading in the Third Book—in Sangsters formulum for falling bodies and by way of explanation saying to the Inspector: "He always liked Natural Philosophy, and, besides, It was taught in the High School!" We write not in the interest of the pupils but much more in the interests of the teachers. We feel that the assistance which an honest teacher, desirous of improving, and yet not possessing means sufficient to enable him to attend the Normal School, would receive in such training classes, would be inestimable.

NOT SURPRISING.

The appointment of Mr. Kenneth MacKenzie, Q. C., to the County Judgeship of York, rendered vacant by the death of Judge Duggan, is at once sufficient to the eyes of Tories to damn him forever. No case could more clearly show the conteptible nature of Tory tactics. Mr. MacKenzie held the County Judgeship of Lennox, Addington and Frontenac for some nine or ten years, and discharged the duties devolving upon him there with rare ability—so much so, indeed, that the Bar of Kingston, in terms of the highest commendation, expressed their recognition of his services. After his resignation he was employed as Queen's Counsel by the Government, for which he was paid. This is the only charge to be brought against him. But with a spirit that fain would state, but fears, they insinuate that there is something corrupt in this; not that the fees were larger than those received by any reputable lawyer for similar cases; not that he failed in the conducting of the cases committed to him, O, no! but it is anything "to get a hit at McKellar." Mr. Mills, of Borthwell, who takes Mr. Laird's place in the Cabinet, likewise comes in for a fair share of obliquy. Go on, gentlemen; we have no fear but that this kind of warfare will in the end work its own cure!

JAMES RYAN.

This unfortunate man now awaiting the carrying out of the death sentence, or commutation thereof, cannot be envied. He is not a man void of feeling, and therefore must be enduring a mental agony almost equal to capital punishment. He is about 52 years of age, and received a fair common school education, can read, write, and cast accounts readily and intelligently, and kept himself acquainted with all matters of importance in the daily and weekly press. He is enjoying good health and confidently expects the commutation of the death sentence to imprisonment in the Penitentiary. A very largely signed petition has been obtained and is to be presented to the Governor-General in favor of commutation. Mr. Armour, his Counsel, has undertaken to present it, but no one can yet even opine the result. Few, very few, if any, desire to see him executed. This arises in part from an increasing feeling against capital punishment. Whether this sentiment is based on logical data or not does not affect the question at issue; one thing is certain that either sympathy for his family or an increasing sentiment of this kind has been strongly manifested as is evident from the number of signatures to the petition.

PORT HOPE.

—From the "Times."

OBITUARY.—We observe with regret the death of John Wade Esq, J. P., who has lived between Port Hope and Cobourg for the last 57 years. He was a native of Yorkshire, England, and came to this country with his father, the late Robert Wade, and family; he soon made himself known as a prominent agriculturist, and took great interest in the formation of agricultural societies, and was also an active member of the Council in the old Newcastle District. He was with his father, brother to late Ralph Wade and uncle, amongst the first to import stock horses to this country, and they were very successful in exhibiting during our first Provincial Exhibitions. He was one of the most active in getting up the Provincial Exhibition at Cobourg, and was President of the Provincial Exhibition in 1860, when the Prince of Wales visited Canada. Mr. Wade was much loved in private life.—

BETHANY.

BURGLARY.—The store of Messrs R. & J. Grandy, of Bethany, was broken into on Thursday night last and a large quantity of ready-made clothing, together with the contents of the jewellery case, was stolen the whole being estimated in value at about $600. The Midland Railway Station at Bethany, was also broken into on the same night; we hear also, that several other robberies have been committed in that neighborhood. At present the culprits have not been discovered.—Times.

CAVAN.

THE CAVAN SHOW.—The Cavan Show, held last Thursday and Friday, at Millbrook, was well attended. On Friday the show of horses was most excellent, and would compare favorably with almost any of the County show. The show of cattle, sheep and pigs was only meagre. The display of grain, roots and vegetables was also slim. Butter was well represented. We bought a basket of butter from a lady who said it ought to have had the first prize, we thing so, too. The usual display of patch quilts, rag-carpets, tidies, etc., was made, for which the outsiders had to pay, so deadheads, not even one reporter. G. R. & Co. showed a lot of plows, a wood-sawing machine, and some other machinery, W. H. Armstrong made a splendid display of plows and machinery of various kinds with one of Edgar & Co's portable steam engines, in his own shop, which was far ahead of any on the ground. We regret that want of space prevents us from giving a more lengthened notice.—Guide.

LINDSAY.

SERIOUS STABBING AFFRAY.—Monday afternoon last about 2 o'clock, a serious stabbing affray took place at the new office of Mr. Cheadley, lumber agent, on Peel-st., between Geo. Masters, a shoemaker in the employ of Dr. Wm. White, and John Kells, carpenter, which nearly ended fatally to the latter. As near as we can learn several altercations have taken place between the parties on previous occasions, arising from disputes about women of improper character. Masters, who is industrious when sober, had been drinking on Saturday and when he went to the shop on Monday was under the influence of liquor. This was observed by Mr. White and in consequence he was refused a steady job. He expressed a strong desire to go to work and a small job at cobbling was given him. After he had completed the job he went out and returned about noon in an advanced state of intoxication and proceeded to the back shop where he was seen by the men sharpening a shoemaker's knife. He left the shop by the back door and made his way to Mr. Cheadle's office where Kells was at work finishing the inside of the building. As soon as he appeared at the door Kells told him a short time before he did not wish to be bothered by him, or hear his abuse. Masters continued the abuse and accused Kells of having consorted with a woman of indifferent character. This enraged Kells and he picked up a lath and pursued Masters across the street, but before reaching him Masters threw a large pebble which Kells avoided, and then thrashed Masters across the shoulders with the lath. A scuffle ensued in which Masters drew a knife and made athrust at his assailant. Kells threw up his arms to avert the blow and received a deep cut in the muscles of the arm below the elbow severing an artery. Kells walked over to the office and told Mr. Cheadle that he had been stabbed, and becoming faint through loss of blood was carried to the Dominion Hotel, and afterwards to his home on Ridout-st. Three surgeons were in attendance during Monday night and much difficulty was experienced in stopping the flow of blood. Masters was arrested immediately after the act was committed and placed in the lock-up. He was brought up for trial Tuesday morning and being asked by the Police Magistrate if the charge was true he said he was acting in self-defence. He was remanded for eight days to await the result of the deed and to secure evidence.

MILLBROOK.

PRESENTATION.—Several little girls belonging to the Methodist Sunday School, Millbrook, called at the Parsonage on Monday evening, 23rd instant, and presented Mrs. Barker with a beautiful Lady's Work-box as a token of esteem. They also left a memento for each of the children.

REVIVAL SERVICES.—Revival Services have been conducted at two appointments on the Millbrook Circuit by the Rev. W. R. Barker and Rev. R. McCulloch. Upwards of 70 during the last six weeks have professed faith in Christ.—COM.

TRADE MATTERS.—In their latest circular, Dunn, Wiman & Co. say that the signs of vitality and a return of healthy trade are much further distant in Europe than in America. The failuries abroad have been quite as numerous in proportion to the number engaged in business as on this continent and the extent of liabilities has been much greater. They are confident that American trade is now steadily reviving, and will not suffer any serious depression for some time to come. The failures in canada are thus reported:—First quarter of 1876, number 47, liabilities $7,618,030; second quarter, number 361, liabilities $6,276,396; third quarter, number 366, liabilities $3,091,914. Thus it will be seen that the liabilities of insolvents are constantly decreasing. In the first 9 months of 1875 the failures were number, 1,509, liabilities, $21,911, 544; first 9 months of 1876 number, 1,256 liabilities, $17,786,150. The report for the United States shows improvement, but not so great comparatively as that in Canada.

A Trip through the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

(From our own Correspondent.)

BEAR RIVER, N. S., Oct. 16th, 1876.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

I must not leave New Brunswick without referring briefly to its geological resources. New Brunswick contains valuable deposits of bituminous matter; the Albert Mine is considered the most valuable deposit of the kind on the continent, and the beds of coal are said to extend over 10,000 square miles.

Iron ore is abundant. A large deposit of copper has been discovered near Bathurst, on the banks of the Nepisiquit river; the supply of manganese is said to be inexhaustible; a large deposit of the latter has been discovered within a mile of the city of St. John. There are abundant quantities of limestone, freestone and grindstone, also gypsum, of which a large quantity is annually exported.

I will now pass on to Nova Scotia, from Calais, Me. I came by steamer back to St. John, N. B., via Eastport, thence by Intercolonial to Halifax, N. S., a distance from St. John of something less than 800 miles.

Halifax, the capital of Nova Scotia, is a fine city of about 35,000 inhabitants.—It has many handsome buildings, both public and private, of which the following are the most noticeable: Provincial buildings, banks, club houses, hospitals and Asylums; it has some handsome churches; some of the stores, and especially the wholesale establishments, are fine specimens of architecture. The city of Halifax has one of the finest harbors in the world; capacious and safe, with sufficient depth of water to float the largest ships. It is the nearest city of the Dominion to the coast of Great Britain, and must eventually become the Winter port of Canada for exports, passenger and mail traffic.—The completion of the Intercolonial Railway gives it direct land communication with all parts of Canada, while it has steamship connection to all parts of the United States and British provinces: it has every facility for an importing and exporting business. The large amount of trade done in this year of depression gives satisfactory evidence of the solid basis on which its commercial prosperity rests.—The imports reach the large amount of about $9,300,000 and the exports about $4,200.000. I did not obtain the correct figures, but as far as I can ascertain those given are very near the mark. The city and harbour of Halifax are protected by eleven different fortifications armed with powerful Armstrong rifled guns, hence the port of Halifax is considered one of the safest in the world. The citadel, a very strong fortress, is situated in the centre of the city on a hill which appears to have been the work of man more than nature, it slopes down so regularly from the summit; from it a fine view is obtained of the city. harbour and surrounding country. The portion of the army stationed at Halifax is mostly composed of a fine looking class of men, who have little more to do than to keep their accoutrements in good order. The royal artillery are remarkable for their fine military bearing, and clothed in their handsome uniform, present a very soldierly appearance; each barracks possess a band or more, either brass, fife and drum or bugle. The band of the 60th Rifles is considered the finest military band in Canada. The public gardens at Halifax are unrivalled in Canada for beauty, variety of flowers, and taste in arrangement; it attracts a large number of people, and especially when the band of the 60th rifles plays a selection, (which it does twice a week) large numbers flock to hear the sweet music and enjoy the refreshing fragrance of the flowers while promenading through the walks. One of the finest dock-yards in the British Provinces is situated at the north end of the city for the accommodation of Her Majesty's ships of war.

Taking the steamer at Halifax for Yarmouth, N. S., I was enabled to observe the country along the coast, which is variegated by ranges of majestic hills and broad valleys, dotted over by large comfortable looking farm houses, giving evidence of the agricultural worth of their country, although the centre of Nova Scotia is said to be composed of better farming land than that along the coast.—The steamer stopped long enough at Liverpool and Shelbourne to enable me to take a walk through the villages. Liverpool is a pretty little town of some 2,000 inhabitants; it has a fine harbour, does a good shipping business, and an excellent lumbering trade.

Shelbourne is one of the prettiest villages in Nova Scotia: it has a pleasant location and is quite a resort for those who desire to spend a summer in retirement away from the heat, noise and bustle of city life. A large ship building trade is done here.

The day was just dawning when the vessel sailed up to Yarmouth wharf, about 4 a.m. A brighter sun never shone on the pretty town of Yarmouth than that which rose in all its glory on this cheery September morning. The sky was unsullied by a cloud, the air clear and bracing; nature seemed to have just awakened to new life and vigor, causing every one who chanced to be up to feel light and joyous. Having a few hours to spare before breakfast, I passed away the time by rambling about town. I could not but admire the neatness and taste displayed in building, and nearly every private residence can boast of its flower garden and shade trees; it has a number of handsome churches, and three fine school houses, equal if not superior to any in Nova Scotia. The inhabitants are considered a very enterprizing people. A large fishing trade is carried on, and annually a large number of vessels are launched. mostly all of the finest class of sea-going vessels. A fine looking ship, just completed was about sailing, when I arrived, built at an expense of about $60.000; another is being built, much larger, which will probably cost $70,000. About 85,000 tons of shipping is owned here. When the Western Counties Railway is completed between Annapolis and Yarmouth, which is expected next spring, it will do away with the fatiguing stage drive of about 90mls. and add materially to the commercial importance of the place.

All along the stage road to Digby, large handsome farm houses are plenty, and the country viewed from the road is covered with fertile and rich looking fields.

Digby is situated on the shore of a beautiful bay or basin, entered from the Bay of Fundy on the left and by a narrow isthmus, and on the right by the Annapolis river. The scenery around Digby is very beautiful. The bay, or basin, is surrounded on all sides by lofty, rugged hills, covered mostly by woods, and at this season of the year a stretch of woods on the face of a large hill, is a most beautiful sight, covered as it is with rich and beautiful hues: the village in itself is not a very prepossessing place, notwithstanding its pretty location. I am informed that a large ship-building trade is done, and that its facilities for this branch of business are equal to those of Yarmouth.

The steamer from St. John, N. B., calls here on its way to Annapolis, where it connects with the Windsor and Annapolis Railway for Windsor, Halifax, &c.

Proceeding by stage through a rich, but rather hilly country, we come upon the small but pretty village of Bear River. It is surrounded on every side by high hills, ascending the steepest and highest of these I gained the highest point possible. Looking down into the valley the village looks very pretty; a river runs through the centre of the valley. Bear River is a warm place in winter, being sheltered from the piercing winds by the surrounding hills. Large vessels can be floated up the river at high tide, a distance of about 4 miles from the sea. A ship of 1,000 tons is about to be launched. The ship-building trade here is very extensive.

I cannot close this letter in a better way than by telling you that this country—from Yarmouth to Bear River—is a strictly temperate, or rather total abstaining one, and although an occasional case of drunkenness can be found, yet the people hope that eventually the whiskey nuisance will be totally done away with.

Yours, very truly,

PETERBORO MAN.

COBOURG.

ACCIDENT AND DEATH.—An accident which resulted in the death of one individual and injury to another occurred on the night of Saturday last, on the road beyond Baltimore. From the particulars we have been able to learn three men Parker, Wright and Corey, together with a woman, left the town and proceeded homewards, all went well enough until at the hill beyond Baltimore, the team was brought to a stand still; Wright and Cory were standing up in the waggon lighting their pipes; during this operation another team came up behind and was about to pass them, when Wright said to the owner of the horses, Parker don't let them pass, Parker touched his horses with the whip and they being spirited, suddenly sprang forward and the two men who were standing up went over the end of the waggon, Wright alighting on his head and breaking his neck, the other received some bruises but not severe, Parker got out and pitched Wright into the waggon and drove on. At some distance from the place of accident, Parker was going to drive the woman home, the road diverges at this point, and left the two men on the side of the road until he would return, or that they might go home themselves, supper being ready at the house where he went, he stayed there and forgot his friends; he says he left them there to be off. After a time Cory went to the young man's friends to get assistance, in the mean time Mr. George Hogg and others were attracted by the groans of the suffering man, knowing the party they took him home where he expired on Sabbath morning. An inquest was held, and the jury gave a verdict of "Accidental Death." The conduct of Parker was most unhuman, he says that the others were drunk, we think that he was either in that state himself or he was lost to all sense of feeling when instead of driving the man home he took him out of his waggon and left him on the side of the road to perish, as he likely would have done had the parties not fortunately come along to his assistance.—World.

Newspapers at the Centennial.

The Special Correspondent of the London Times says it would be difficult to find an apter illustration of the big way in which the Americans do things than that furnished by the "Centennial Newspaper Building," in the Exhibition grounds. Here you may see any one, or, if you like, all of the 8,129 newspapers published regularly in the United States, and see them, one and all, for nothing! You are not only permitted as a favor to see them, but invited, nay, pressed, to confer the favor of entering the building and calling for what paper you like. It is about as cool and agreeable a place—quite apart from its literary attractions—as a visitor to the Exhibition could wish to be offered a chair in. He may at first wonder how, among 8,080 papers, among them such mighty sheets as the New York Herald, he is to get at the small, but loved print of his home, thousands of miles away, it may be, over the Rocky Mountains. But the management is so simple that, by consulting the catalogue, or even without the aid of the catalogue, any one can at once find whatever paper he wants. They are pigeon-holed on shelves in the alphabetical order of their States or Territories and their towns, the names of which are clearly labelled on the shelves. The proprietors of each Newspaper Building are advertising agents, the largest in all America—Messrs. G. P. Rowell & Co., of New York. This enterprise will cost altogether about $20,000, or £4,000, including the building and the expenses of "running" it for six months. The 8,000 and odd American newspapers are declared, by the same authority, to exceed "the combined issues of all the other nations of the earth."

THE last report from the Board of Trade shows that the total emigration from the United Kingdom during the past year including British subjects, foreigners, and others whose nationalities cannot be distinguished amounted to 173,809 persons. Of those 105,046 went to the United States, 17,378 to British North America, 35,526 to Australasia, and 15,860 to all other places. An analysis of nationalities shows that of the total number above mentioned, 140,676 were persons of British origin, 84,540 of whom were English, 14,686 Scotch, and 41,449 Irish. Canada does not appear to be getting her share yet, but the Pacific Railway will change all that.

MODERN WOMEN.

It is a sad commentary upon our boasted civilization that the women of our times have degenerated in health and physique until they are literally a race of invalids—pale, nervous, feeble and back-ache, with only here and there a few noble exceptions in the persons of the robust, buxom ladies characteristic of the sex in days gone by. By a very large experience, covering a period of years, and embracing the treatment of many thousands of cases of those ailments peculiar to Women, Dr. Pierce, of the World's Dispensary Buffalo N. Y., has perfected, by the combination of curtain vegetable extracts, a natural specific, which he does not extol as a cure-all, but one which admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most positive and reliable remedy for those weaknesses and complaints that afflict the women of the present day. This natural specific compound is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The following are among those diseases in which this wonderful medicine has worked cures as if by magic and with a certainity never before attained by any medicines; Weak back, nervous and general debility, falling and other displacements of internal organs, resulting from debility and lack of strength in natural supports, internal fever, congestion, inflammation and ulceration and very many other chronic diseases incident to women, not proper to mention here, in which, as well as in the cases that have been enumerated, the Favorite Prescription effects cures the marvel of the world. It will not do harm in any state or condition of the system, and by adopting its use the invalid lady may avoid that severest of ordeals—the consulting of a family phy-sician. Favorite Prescription is sold by dealers in medicines generally.

Wheeler and Wilson Victorious!

Again the WHEELER AND WILSON SEWING MACHINE triumphs over the world. The Centennial Commission have officially announced the awards and decreed for the New Wheeler & Wilson Machine two Diplomas of Honour and two Medals of Merit. This is a double victory, also the highest award which it was in the power of the Centennial authorities to bestow. No other COMPANY RECEIVES SUCH A DISTINCTION IN THIS DEPARTMENT. More than thirty of the best professional machines in this and other countries entered for competition, and at Philadelphia in 1876, as at Paris in 1867, Wheeler & Wilson head the list. After a careful, rigorous, and exhaustive examination, the judges unanimously decided that the superior excellence of these machines deserved more than one medal and diploma, and, consequently they recommended two of each. The Centennial Commission unanimously ratified the action of the judges and the public will doubtless endorse the decision of the ablest of mechanical experts. A CLAIM FOR SPECIALLY DISTINGUISHED HONOUR BY ANY OTHER SEWING MACHINE COMPANY IS ONLY AN ATTEMPT TO ROB WHEELER & WILSON OF THEIR WELL EARNED LAURELS. Read the following, which stamps the "New Wheeler & Wilson" as the Standard Sewing Machine of the World.

[From the Official Report.]

The Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, OCT. 26, 1876.

COLLINS has a lot of the best quality of Tea very cheap.—Try it.

WM. MCCULLAGH warrants all his Alligator Boots to be waterproof.

QUERY.—When is MR. MORRISON'S Company going to open the New Hall?

WHAT about the Snow By-law, and the South Stone Bridge? Are they both in running order?

THEY SAY that all the rheumatic voters in town are dodging candidates who shake hands now-a-days.

THE Bank of Montreal has a capital and surplus of $17,000,000—the largest of any bank on the continent.

OUT OF WORK.—A large number of labourers and tradesmen are out of employment in town at the present time.

THE "NATIONAL" dupes Mr. Alfred Boultbee "a Political Parasite," and advises the Conservatives to get rid of him.

CARMR HOUSE.—This house is now open for the reception of guests. The house has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted in a manner that cannot be surpassed. We will refer to it next week.

PRIZE LIST.—We have received the prize list for the Show held at Warsaw. It will appear next week as it was too late for this issue.

NOW'S THE TIME—and now's the hour for new subscribers to get the EXAMINER to the end of next year for $1.50. The investment will never be regretted.

A CHICAGO MAN advertises for a wife with a knowledge of music, and remarks that no "Madam's Prayer" or "Silver Threads" kind of a girl will answer.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES will be conducted on Thursday, Nov. 2nd, in the George Street Methodist Church, at 11 a.m., and in the Charlotte Street Church at 7 p.m.

PUGILISTIC.—We learn that a very pre-eminent footage of the Fair held at Lakefield, was the unusual number of pugilistic encounters that took place therefrom evening.

TRADE.—There have been a great many tramps in town during the past week seeking employment. But strong drink appears to be the matter with the most of them.

LOVELY WEATHER.—The weather of the past week has been delightfully fine as compared with that of the previous couple of weeks. In fact it has commenced to freeze now!

MORRISTOWN, opposite Brockville, is troubled by an unknown animal that prowls about the streets at night. Can it be the "beste" known in Canada as Conservative Reaction?

NEW WATCH.—MESSRS. Muncaster & Sanderson have erected a new sign of a watch in front of their store on George Street. It is very neatly painted and cannot fail to attract attention.

THE CONSERVATIVES do not appear to have much to say about the election in Beauce—that county which "the Ministry was afraid to open." Where is the boasting of the Conservative press now?

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Remember two things: Be brief—write as you write telegrams, as though every word cost something; and sign your name, not for publication, but for our assurance of your good faith.

MILLINERY.—MRS. E. BROWN is now prepared to show a very fine assortment of Millinery and other articles of ladies apparel at her store, opposite the office, in Cox's new block. Call and see for yourselves.

"IN THE SWIRE FAR AWAY."—This is the name of a new song just issued. The words are lovely, and the music charming. It is for sale at Mathies' Bookstore, where you can be supplied with any piece of music promptly.

MINSTRELSY.—Heywood's New York Serenaders give their first performance in this town in the old Methodist Church, on Monday evening, next. The troupe come well recommended, and no doubt will give a first-class performance.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.—Revival meetings have been going on in the South ward Methodist Church the past three or four weeks. The services are being carried on by the Rev'ds Messrs. Willoughby and Watson, and are pretty well attended.

THE EDITOR of the Morriaburgh HERALD has received a grant of $20 from the Council "as a modest recognition of the sacrifice he must have made in order to attend the sittings of the Council, and report the proceedings."—We don't care for any!

SOME PERSON went into T. Dolan & Co's store on Sunday night, or early Monday morning and went up stairs and took a new coat which had been made for a customer. This is the only thing missed. Perhaps the fellow needed one—it is getting cold.

MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES should bear in mind that this year, the last Monday of the year falls upon the 25th of December, therefore it is necessary that the Municipal Nominations must be held on the preceeding Friday, a fact of which all Municipal Clerks should make a note.

TAX SALE.—It will be seen by advertisement that the sale of lands for taxes for the County of Peterborough, will take place at the Court House, on Tuesday, the 28th day of November, when the lands will be sold for any sum that can be realized. Sale to commence at Ten o'clock, a.m.

REV. EGERTON RYERSON YOUNG.—We are pleased to learn that the Rev. Egerton Ryerson Young, who has lately returned from the far North-West, where he has been employed in Missionary work for some years, will attend the Methodist Missionary Anniversary services in this town on the 4th & 5th days of November.

AVELEY'S LECTURE on Thursday evening last, was very largely attended. The new Methodist Church being well filled up the coze sion. The subject was: "Wine, water, wisdom, women," and afforded abundant material for one night's discourse. The lecturer did himself justice and was loudly applauded several times.

THE NEW POSTAL LAW.—This is how a country paper visits its wrath on its subscribers because of its disapproval of the new postal law: "Delinquent subscribers, who have received numbers, are requested not to overlook them altogether, but pay up. We shall not send our papers without payment when the postage has to be prepaid."

THE CONSERVATIVES squeal about having to pay the costs in the Lincoln and Victoria election cases. They went into the thing on speculation. Dr. Tupper has jumped over Mr. Thos. White and Mr. Mackenzie Bowell, and has gone to Toronto to work into position as Conservative Leader. Nothing could be more pleasing to his opponents.

FOR ONE dollar and a half new subscribers can obtain the EXAMINER to 31st December, 1877, for one dollar and a half. Come along and give us your name.

SHERIFF OF THE TIMES.—MR. GEO. A. COX is determined to leave nothing undone to secure for the Canada Life and other Insurance Companies for which he is the Agent, the patronage which they deserve. He has got the windows of his office in his new block painted very nicely, and they look well, attracting attention at a great distance.

A COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER handed a merchant upon whom he called, a portrait of his better-half instead of his business card, saying "that he represented her establishment." The merchant examined it carefully, remarked "that it was a fine establishment," and returned it to the astonished and blushing traveller, with a hope that he would soon be admitted into partnership.

ASSAULTING HIS WIFE.—On Saturday evening Bart Downer, of Ashburnham, was arraigned before the J. P. in Ashburnham on an information laid by his wife that he had beat her, and had also threatened to kill her. He was remanded till Tuesday and spent that term in the stone castle on the hill. On Tuesday he was allowed to go, on promising to drink no more for twelve months.

WE HAVE lately paid a visit to Mr. Henry Best's Store, and were much surprised to see such a magnificent display of Stoves of White Mountain and Coal Grates, which would be an ornament to the most exquisitely furnished room in any mansion. He has also the latest improved patterns of Cook Stoves, which having taken First Prizes at the Provincial Exhibition at Hamilton last week, need no further comment.—6

AN HONEST FARMER.—We are told of a farmer who delivered some potatoes last Saturday for three bushels, but after going home ascertained his bag had accidentally spilled some from the top, so he promptly brought it on the following Wednesday another peck to make up the deficiency. It is needless to say this is not the man who sold the geese and four chickens, received his pay, and never delivered them.

INDIAN SUMMER.—Without doubt we are now enjoying Indian Summer, which by many is considered the most pleasant time of the year. The days are warm, as pronounced by Mr. Vennor, and the nights are pretty clear, with a slight frost. Mr. Vennor's predictions for the coming winter will be eagerly looked for, as, from the correctness of his prophecies so far, he has come to be considered a veritable clerk of the weather.

ONTARIO FREE MASON.—We have received the second number of this monthly magazine, published at London, and devoted to the interests of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Ontario. In addition to Masonic news, which is large and well selected, there is a choice collection of tales, humorous reading, poetry, etc. It is neatly printed, and is published at 75cts. per annum. Address "Companion Publishing Company" London, Ontario. Sample copies 5 cents.

ASHBURNHAM.—On Saturday night, about 8 p.m., some person or persons unknown broke one of the windows in the new school house in Ashburnham, and tore down two new linen shades and made off with them. This is the first case of theft in the village that has come to our knowledge in several years, and it is to be hoped that the parties will be found out and duly punished for their covetousness. The Trustees offer $10 reward, for the conviction of one or both of the parties.

M. COLLINS is selling his Groceries at prices to suit the times.

A GOOD IDEA.—Hotel-keepers complain that they have been served with notices from wives and others not to sell liquor to their relatives, on account of their being "habitual drunkards." They should urge that the notice be accompanied by a photograph which they might hang up in their bar-rooms as a guide to the bartender. It is not likely the tipplers would care about figuring in the "Drunkard's Gallery" and the fear of occupying a position so degrading might serve as a detriment from this too prevalent vice.

GO TO M. COLLINS if you want Preserving Sugar—Large lot cheap.

BRUIN GETTING BOLD.—On Tuesday last Mr. T. Fitzgerald, of Smith, shot a bear on the farm of Mr. R. McNabb, his near neighbor and only about four miles from town. The farmers would do well to fold their lambs and young pigs, or they will be missing. About a month ago, Mr. James Weasco, of South Dummer, saw one not far from the boundary line between Dummer and Asphodel. Mr. Weasco was on his way to town at the time. The bears are either getting bold or tame, or in need of winter stores.

WM. MCCULLAGH will sell Rubbers and Over shoes at Montreal factor prices.

THE CROSSINGS.—Farmers, and even many of our townspeople, should bear in mind that the street crossings were not intended as places of stoppage for vehicles, but were built solely for the convenience and use of pedestrians. We have noticed lately several instances where ladies and gentleman, in order to go from one side of the street to the other, were compelled to walk through the mud to avoid the vehicles which were standing on the crossings. Owners and drivers of rigs should bear in mind that crossings were made for pedestrians; and that there is a law preventing the obstruction of such walks.

HOUSEKEEPERS will find the best value in Groceries, &c., at M. COLLINS', next door to McKee & Davidson's Hardware Store.

GRIP last week shows the united attack on the "Traitor" Goldwin Smith sits down with the organ strapped to his back; John Ross Robertson, of the TELEGRAM, being somewhat opprobriously depicted as the monkey perched on the organ. Hon. George Brown and Sir John A. Macdonald with hands in each other's hair, advance with GLOBE and MAIL batons ready to smite the organ grinder. T. C. Patterson, in his usual guise as a cur, snarls from beneath Sir John's feet. Nicholas Flood Davis balances his black-thorn skilfully, and drags the tail of his coat along the ground, inviting the "Traitor" to tread on it, but the attention of the common enemy is bestowed altogether on his other assailants. Altogether, the cartoon is a good one—one of GRIP'S best.

WM. MCCULLAGH employs only First-class Workmen, and uses the best Stock, and warrants all Boots and Shoes in his establishment.

CAUTION TO GRANGERS.—An exchange cautions farmers against a swindle which is thus described:—"A farmer in Homer, by the name of Erastus Brooks, has been swindled out of $750. Two men called upon him, and sought to sell him a half interest in a canning mill. He declined to purchase. They then requested him to lend his influence to induce a neighbor to purchase. He was to give his note for the amount. This was to be shown the neighbors and, after he had, by his influence been led to buy the other half interest for $750, his note was to be returned to him, and with it $140 as a bonus for his trouble. He has not seen the parties since. They raised the money on his note, and he is out his bonus, and has heavy obligations to meet when it becomes due.—Strange it is that any one should be misled by such a scheme of fraud."

THOSE CONCERNED would do well to give M. Collins a call for Groceries, as he is selling very cheap and has a choice selection of everything in his line of busines

POLICE COURT.—BEAVIS VS. BURNHAM.—This was an action against Mr. E. Burnham for breach of Fire By-law. It appeared that Mr. Burnham got leave from the Town Council to take down some old sheds that were erected back of his block, in rear of the Ontario House, and build new ones with the shingles laid in mortar, and while he was building the sheds and had them erected all but about 20 feet, the Council then extended their By-law which came into effect, before he had his sheds finished; then Mr. Beavis brought him up for finishing his shed as a breach of the Fire By-law. The case was however remanded till to-morrow.—E. N. RODDY'S case for breach of Fire By-law also came up, but on account of Mr. Roddy's illness, the case was remanded till Tuesday.—RITCHIE VS. JOHN ADLER.—This was a case for assault, and also for being drunk and disorderly, and using blasphemous language on the streets. Fined $5 or 21 days in jail with hard labor. The Magistrate explained him that if ever he came up again for 5 similar offences he would send him to the Central Prison for six months.—On Tuesday morning Mr. Roddy's case was again brought up and he was fined $5

Teachers Association for Eastern Ontario.

We have received the following circular in reference to the formation of an Educational Association for Eastern Ontario. It explains itself:

DEAR SIR,—Taking advantage of the presence in Ottawa of the Educationalists who had assembled to welcome the Honorable Adam Crooks, Minister of Education, the Normal School Masters, Inspectors, High, Public and Separate School Teachers, held a meeting in the Court House, on the afternoon of the 20th ult., to consider the expediency of organizing an association for forwarding the interests of the profession in Eastern Ontario. The meeting, which was not only large, but also influential by reason of its thoroughly representative character, adopted the following resolutions:—

1st Moved by the Rev. J. May, A.M., P.S.I. for Carleton, seconded by W. R. Riddell, Esq., B. A., Mathematical Master, Normal School,—"That, in the opinion of this meeting, it is desirable to form an Educational Association for Eastern Ontario."

2nd Moved by the Rev. T. D. Phillipps, M.A., Mathematical Master, C. S. S., Ott., seconded by R. O'Reilly, Esq., Superintendent R. C. Separate Schools, "That a Committee be appointed to communicate with Educationists in Eastern Ontario and, if warranted by the encouragement received, to draft a constitution for the proposed organization, to be submitted to a meeting of all interested, at a future time to be named by the Committee, and that the following compose the Committee, viz:—Messrs. McCabe and Riddell of the Normal School; Messrs. Thorburn and McMillan of the Collegiate Institute; Messrs. May and Glashan, Inspectors; Messrs. Smirle, Parlow, Duncan and Lee of the Public Schools; together with the mover and seconder."

In the discharge of the duty thus imposed upon them, the Committee do not deem it necessary to dwell minutely upon the obvious advantages attendant on such organization. The following, however, will naturally suggest themselves, inter alia, as material benefits derivable from Association:—

(a) The reading of papers on educational subjects.

(b) The discussion of questions that arise in the daily life of the teacher.

(c) The adoption of such measures as experience may, from time to time, prove to be necessary or conducive to the well-being of the profession.

Inasmuch as the successful working of the contemplated association will depend entirely upon the countenance given it by those in whose interest it is proposed, the Committee hereby invite your cordial co-operation in giving effect to the scheme; which it is desirable to carry out in a spirit at once comprehensive, and regardful of the varying circumstances and requirements of the several localities which are to be embraced in the range of its operations.

This circular is addressed to all engaged in the work of education in the Eastern Counties of Ontario, beginning with Northumberland and Peterboro.'

We remain, yours truly.

J. A. MACCABE, THOS. D. PHILLIPS,
Chairman of Committee. Secretary

FAIRBANKS SCALES.

[From the Boston Daily Advertiser Aug. 19, 1876

An important advantage to be gained by the exhibition of manufactures at Philadelphia is the making known to the world the results of ingenuity that is practical. The plan embodies the idea that those men are the successful competitors for public favor by whose investive and enterprise the world receives the most positive benefit. For this purpose of the Exhibition he who teaches us to save time and labor, and to practise true economy in regard to what we use and what we do, is the man who is to gain laurels.

In the ordinary course of newspaper correspondence the almost wonderful display of wares which is made by E. & T. Fairbanks & Co., St. Johnsbury manufacturers, has been commented upon in the most complimentary manner. The encomiums were all deserved. For a long series of years the Fairbanks Company has sought out new inventions and applied its unequalled facilities to the making and furnishing the most accurate weighing apparatus, in the most numerous variety of pattern and style. It makes scales that will justly weigh anything and everything, suitable for and adapted to the system of all countries.

On their scales the Exhibition at Philadelphia has been weighed, buildings and merchandise. A Fairbanks track scale was placed on the grounds by the contractor, and all the material for all the buildings were weighed upon it. Goods that were received for exhibit and articles taken or given out by terminal agencies were weighed on Fairbanks scales.

Their own main exhibition of their beautiful wares, extensive though it is, comprises not all their display at the Centennial. They have twenty-eight exhibits in all, showing their scales in twenty-three foreign departments, in each case the register of weighing adapted to the standard of the respective country or kingdom.

The value of a scale consists in its being correct in the beginning, and, in despite of use, remaining so. The present owner of dormant scale No. 149 states that it has been in his store over thirty years. Nothing has been done to injure he has been there, it has been constant use, it turns very quickly, and stands test of the official sealer. The records of the manufactures show that this scale was made in 1833, and has been in use forty-three years, and without repairs. The present shop number of that class of scale is over 278,000.

We some another instance of accuracy and service, that of Fairbanks railroad track scale that has been in use by the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and which has weighed 24,000 000 tons of material,—often 60,000 tons per day,—and has never required repair in any particular. These track scales are from 15 to 125 feet or more in length, and a loaded train may slowly pass over one of them and each car, without uncoupling, be weighed without loss of time.

The company have a process for the making of steel that is as keen as a razor-blade upon its edge, and tough as Norway iron. The use of this insures the most perfect delicacy of action in the balance and power of resistance to heavy weights. The greatest care is given to the finish of all the working-parts of its scales; they are sensitive and durable throughout; the strain upon them when weighing is distributed over the levers properly placed in most exact position to insure this result; everything used in their make is of the best quality, and the American system that details interchangeability of parts is adopted in its great factory, all parts of its numerous varieties of scales being made to standard gauges so that any part of any scale owing lost or broken may be at once replaced.

That the Messrs. Fairbanks have studied the interests of the place in which their very extensive works are located is proved by the handsome Athenæum building, containing a choice library of about 8000 volumes, a reading-room with the leading papers and periodicals, and a handsome lecture hall; by the schoolhouses and other pulic buildings, and by other edifices of thrift and taste and means for culture such as few towns of 5000 inhabitants can boast. The reading-room and library are free to all.

A few statistics concerning this immense business may be of interest.

The company gives employment to nearly 900 men. The shops, built of brick, cover a flooring of 6½ acres. They have 93 tenement houses, run their own saw-mill, and own 600 acres of timber land. The consume 4000 tons of coal annually, using 5000 tons of iron 2,000,000 feet of lumber, and large quantities of copper, tin, nails, screws, etc. The annual freightage is 30,000 tons, and the factory produces 15,000 scales yearly.

They hold 28 patents upon scales and scale machinery, many of them of recent date, and new patents as recent improvement are being applied for, while their position as the largest scale manufacturers in the world has been gained and is held; not by force of their patents, but by strict adherence to their principle to allow only perfect goods to bear their name.

The company has a world-wide reputation to maintain, and it is certainly safe to assert that all improvements in designs for needed purposes have been or will be adopted as soon as found to be of real worth.

In the exchange of nearly all commodities weighing is of primary importance, and only the most perfect and accurate weighing apparatus can safely be used. Herein, with especial regard, the motto, "Quality is the test of cheapness," has been acknowledged by the whole weighing world.

It is of the greatest consequence to the community that such a house leads in the manufacture of articles so essential to everyday life. It exerts a moral influence for good. —ELECTRICITY—

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are but a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Eclectrical Oil, Read the following be convinced:—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West Shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, etc., and think it is equally, as good for horse as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes, "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."—Joseph Russan, township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas Eclectric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three o four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit.—A. M. Hamilton, Warkworth, writes, "For weks I was troubled with a swelled ankle which annoyed me very much. Mr Maybee of this place induced me to try Eclectric Oil, and before one bottle was used I was cured It is a most remarkable medicine.

THE COLORED SUBSCRIBER.

The editor was off (and the darkey)
And the editor—he was mad
For his rent and a host of small were due.
And his scouts were naught but
and a cough;
But a visitor came to this
It was Pompey, the boot-black
the door,
Wagging wisely his head with its African kink
While a pair of eleven just covered the floor.

"Massa bum, he remarked in mellifluous tones,
"I'm excluded to 'scribe for dis paper of yourn;
Buckumstances is sich, dis
cold in my bones
Will acquire me to cut the partnership I go on;
An' dese fac's, Massa bum, hab suggested to me
Dat a more proper ting could hardly be did
Dan to hab a good paper to read and to see,
An' dat's why I'se come up for to make you a bid."

Then the editor rose with his face all aglow.
And his eyes had the gleam of that heavenly fire
Which the poor and the great can and know,
When necessity and genius combine to inspire
"You are wiser my boy, than most of your race,"
Said the editor, bright with a smiling cheer.
"I will find your name in my book a good place.
I suppose you will want to subscribe for a year?"

"Well, I tell you, Massa bum, was the halting reply,
"De condition ob de country is mighty taboose,
An' de fokin in de 'ristocratic billiard as I
Hain to watch an' to scratch putty tollable close;
But I'se gotto make haste—it is mighty nigh night,
An' I'se got to go back all de way to de creek;
But I'll do the de paper what's fair an' all right.

USEFUL RECIPES.

AN EXCELLENT JELLY FOR THE SICK ROOM.—A correspondent of the Germantown Telegram says: "Take rice, sage, pearl barley, farr-berry sharvage, of each one ounce; simmer with three pints of water till reduced to one, and strain. When cold it will be jelly, of which give a portion dissolved in wine, milk or broth, in turn with other nourishment."

CRAB APPLE JELLY.—Cut the eyes and stalks of the crabs, halve them and put into a preserving kettle with enough water to prevent burning; cook until soft, then strain through a sieve and a tarward through a muslin bag. To every pound of liquor put one pound and a quarter of sugar. boil gently for twenty minutes.

QUINCE WINE.—Grate the best and ripest quinces just as for marmelade, strain the juice through a muslin bag, then carefully through a flannel one, and to every gallon of juice allow three pounds of loaf sugar; if liked very sweet allow four; stir well after adding the sugar; let it stand in jugs or kegs, filling up from one another as it froths over. When quiet, bottle it. The longer it stands the more sparkling it becomes.

TO BANISH RED OR BLACK ANTS.—A correspondent of the New York Times says red and black ants may be driven away by a line or solution of corrosive sublimate drawn with a brush around the outside of each ball or leg standing upon the floor. No jar or vessel of any kind should be allowed to touch the side walls, or the ants will use such vessels as bridges to cross the line of poison. I always use the preparation myself to insure its being thoroughly done, and to prevent accidents from the, carelessness of so deadly a poison.

GRAPE JAM.—Take seven pounds of grapes and three and a half of sugar. Stem the grapes, weigh and wash them put in a kettle over a moderate fire, stirring occasionally to prevent burning; in 40 or 50 minutes or less the seeds will rise from the skins; then rub through a colander and return to the kettle with sugar. Boil from one to two hours, according as it is thickens, stirring it all the time or it will burn. If it is desired to make a sauce for cold meats etc., to this quantity add two tablespoonfuls of cinnamon, one of cloves, and a half pint of vinegar just on taking from the fire. Any kind of grapes will do.

SWEET CUCUMBER PICKLE.—Take large yellow cucumbers, pare them thin, take out the cores and soak in salt and water two days; then pour over them boiling water; let them stand over night and they are ready for the pickle, which prepare as follows:—For each quart of sharp vinegar take one pint of hot water, two coffee cups of sugar, one tablespoonful each of ground cinnamon, cloves, allspice and mace or nutmeg. Add a handful of raisins or ripe grapes. Scald altogether and boil until they are easily penetrated with a fork.

ACTION OF LIME OR SOILS.—Mr. E. H. Libby of the Scientific Farmer, draws the following conclusions regarding the action of lime in the soil, and the best methods for applying it as a fertilizer:—"Soils, rich in organic matter, even though they already contain it in considerable quantities, drained peat swamps, stiff clays and coarse heavy soils, and especially those destitute of it, are all benefitted by an application of lime. Good results always follow its use on light soils after an incorporation of organic matter, as green manure muck, or a thick sod or green crop ploughed under. Sterile soils are rapidly rendered more fertile by its application. Wet lands show the least effect from treatment with lime. Hence such lands must either be drained, or receive an extra amount. Clay should also have organic matter applied in connection with lime. It acts most effectually near the surface. The apparent effect is greater the second season than the first, so the most satisfactory results are obtained by sowing broadcast in the early fall, with at most only a light harrowing or brushing. It should be applied in an airslaked, fine mechanical condition. The most profitable quantity to apply depends much on the land; wet soil those well filled with organic matter, the clays, taking most—from ten to forty bushels being recommended, according to circumstances."

PULMONIC DISEASES.—Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, Dec. 9th, 1871.

JAS. I. PERLOW, Esq.—Dear Sir,—We are receiving orders almost daily from the Outports for your invaluable Syrup of Hypophosphites, and the sale steadily increasing. I firmly believe it has done more good than any medicine yet discovered in the cure of consumption, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, and kindred diseases. It is the only medicine we have which cures these diseases by strengthening the nervous system: and as it is also what we call a sound chemical preparation, I predict for it a more extended demand than any other remedy in existence.

Yours, very truly,
W. H. THOMPSON.

Life has five Chalybeate for the Dyspeptic, which is not to be wondered at when we take into account the amount of bodily and mental suffering that this distressing malady generates. The Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) has cured thousands who were suffering from this disease.

The Human Hair.—To give its strength and lustre, to improve its texture, to prevent its falling out and quicken its growth—in short to make it as intended, the crowning personal charm of both sexes—this is the work Burnett's Cocoaine will accomplish, if faithfully used. There is a stimulating property in this preparation, which greatly assists the growth of the fibres, at the same time rendering them smooth, silky and elastic.

Loss of memory is ever the first indication of a disorder or degeneration of Nervous element. The rapidity with which the mind is restored by the use of Pellock's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is perhaps the best proof of the power in re-establishing the strength of the nervous system.

A World in Trouble.—The world is in trouble, nations are convulsed: thrones are trembling; governments are agitated; people are excited, and the whole social organization of civilization appears to be sensitively influenced by something premonitory of a great change; now for nervousness there is nothing like that "Canadian Pain Destroyer," which also cures rheumatism, neuralgia, the dysentery, cramps and pains in the stomach, &c. Price 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A Good Horse.—"There is much pleasure and profit in the service of a good horse, and but very little of either in a bad one," no person from choice will retain a bad horse; many, however, are compelled to do so, who would not be [illegible] if they knew of any means of bad blood that their condition can be improved and rendered more valuable and useful for their owners, to effect which, there is nothing equal to "Darleys Condition Powder and Arabian Horse Remedy; it has effected astonishing results in thousands of cases. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

One of the Testimonials!

From DR DUNCAN MCCALLUM, Montreal—

I the undersigned have been suffering very much for the last two years from Rheumatism in the noble joint, so much so that I was often prevented from attending to my calling, but during application of Burnham's Rheumatism and Gout Remedy gave me then relief from pain and stiffness which I did not experience for the last two years, and other eight days' use of this remedy I find myself entirely cured

I owe this statement to the public as to the profession and to the merits of that genuine article

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE AMERICN CENTENNIAL, 1876.
Wheeler and Wilson Victorious!

Again the WHEELER AND WILSON SEWING MACHINE triumphs over the world. The Centennial Commission have officially announced the awards, and decreed for the New Wheeler & Wilson Machine two Diplomas of Honor and two Medals of Merit. This is a double victory, and the highest award which it was in the power of the Commission authorities to bestow. No other machine has ever received more than one award, and that is usually for excellence in some special attachment. A CASE FOR SPECIALLY DISTINGUISHING IT AT THE EXPOSITION. More than thirty of the best producers of machines in this and other countries entered for competition, and at Philadelphia in 1876, as at Vienna in 1873, and at Paris in 1867, Wheeler & Wilson head the list. After a careful, rigorous, and exhaustive examination, the judges unanimously decided that the award for excellence of mechanism should be divided more than one medal and diploma, and, consequently four recommendations for each. The Centennial Commission unanimously ratified the action of the judges and the public will doubtless endorse the decision of the ablest of mechanical experts. A CASE FOR SPECIALLY DISTINGUISHING IT AT THE EXPOSITION. MACHINE COMPANY IS ONLY AN ATTEMPT TO MOODWINK THE PEOPLE. Read the following, which stamps the "New Wheeler & Wilson" as the Standard Sewing Machine of the World.

[From the Official Report.]
AWARDS TO WHEELER AND WILSON.

TO IONE.

All day within me, sweet and clear
The song you sang is ringing;
At night, in my half-dreaming ear
I hear you singing, singing.

Ere thought takes up its homespun thread,
When early morn is awaking,
Sweet melodies hover round my bed,
And cheer me when awaking.

The sunrise brings the melody
I only half remember,
And evening seems to smile for me,
Although it be December.

Through drifting snow, through dropping rain,
Through gusts of wind, it haunts me,
The tantalizing old refrain
Perplexes, yet enchants me.

The mystic chords that bore along
Your voice so calmly splendid,
In glimmering fragments with the song
Are vaguely joined and blended.

I touch my instrument and grope
Along the keys' confusion
And deep within the chords in hope
To catch the sweet illusion.

In vain of that consummate hour
I count the full completeness,
The perfume of the hidden flower,
The perfect bloom and sweetness.

A stilled melody
The theme, the air, the chords have passed:
They mock my voice and fingers.

They steal away, as sunset fires
Lose one by one their flashes,
And cheat the eye with smouldering pyres
And banks of gray-cloud ashes.

And yet, I know, the old alloy
That divine and discontents
The golden visions and the joy
Of hope's resplendent fancies

Can never touch that festal hour
In song and sense recorded,
Though scattered rose-leaves from your bower
Alone my search rewarded.

The unconnected strains alone.
Survive to bring you nearer,
As when our queen of song and tone
Made vassals of each hearer.

Yet through the night and through the day
The mystic chords are ringing;
Their song will not pass away;
I hear you singing, singing.

NEW YORK CITY.

By J. A. CLARKE, M. A.

(Special correspondence to the EXAMINER.)

The opening of the Seventeenth Century saw the nations of Europe possessed with a fever of exploration and colonization. The gallant Raleigh planted the first English colony in America in 1607, and named it Virginia, in honor of "Good Queen Bess," the Virgin Queen. The great Gustavus Adolphus sent out a colony of Finns to settle New Jersey in 1627 and the Dutch found their way to that colony and Delaware at the same time. The Swedes also settled in Chester, in Pennsylvania, in 1631, and made a lodgment in Connecticut about the same time. From these possessions the Swedes were displaced by the English, on the pretext of encroachment upon the very extensive charter limits of Virginia and Connecticut. Maryland was separated from the former for Lord Baltimore, and settled by his son, Lord Calvert, in 1634. No doubt the fact that European thought and enterprise were throwing off the lethargy of the middle ages will in part explain this unwonted activity, but religious and political persecution largely swelled the ranks of the colonists. So the Puritans, having first escaped the intolerance of the Stuarts, by flight to Amsterdam in 1607, there enjoyed the ministrations of their beloved pastor, Robinson. In 1620 they returned for a short time to England, and sailed from Plymouth on the 6th of September. On the 21st of December the "Mayflower" landed on the soil of Massachussetts those men whose names have been handed down to posterity as champions of religious and political freedom, under the general title of the Pilgrim Fathers. At this time the Dutch ranked among the foremost maritime nations of Europe and they were not disposed to be laggards in the race for wealth and possessions. In 1609, an Englishman, Henry Hudson, under Dutch auspices, explored the Hudson River, and in 1614 a Dutch colony was planted on Manhattan Island. True to their national instincts these bulky lovers of dikes first settled at Communipaw, and the flats of New Jersey, but the musical mosquitoes and the terrible "shakes" probably proved too much for even their tobacco clouds and phlegmatic constitutions.—Manhattan Island is 14 miles long by about two broad, making about 14,000 acres, but only its southern point was occupied by the settlement of New Amsterdam. A fort was also erected higher up the Hudson, and for a time the colony of New Holland flourished greatly, and its population was swelled by political refugees from the Stadtholders domains.—Shortly the colonists became involved in Indian wars and domestic broils, so that the Governor was obliged to surrender his rights to the English. These, acting under the instructions of the good natured but profligate prince, Charles the second, renamed the two Dutch forts New York and Albany, in honor of the king's brother, afterwards James the Second.—New York thenceforth became a leading spirit among the infant colonists, and Dongan, one of her governors, maintained the supremacy of the British and their protectorate over the Iroquois, or Five Nation Indians. It was Governor John Winthrop, of Massachusetts, however, who anticipated the confederation of the colonists by a proposal to combine all the colonies, Dutch, French and English in a commercial and defensive alliance. In the wars against the French and their Indian allies, New York always did her part well, and when attachment to the British crown was quenched by the impolitic acts of the British Ministry, her sons left their record on many a blood field. Now, after a career of 250 years, fraught with marvellous changes in politics, science, and arts, New York still ranks in population and manufactures the first state in the Union, and her chief city has kept pace with the progress of the age. If we regard her teeming and diverse population, her commerce by land and by sea, her civic organization and peculation, her favourable situation and connections, or a thousand and one other points, we must award to New York the first place on this continent and ranks her near the cosmopolitan London of the Eastern Hemisphere. The city has to be approached in all directions by ferries, but travel suffers hardly any interruption from this isolation, while its insular position makes it, like Tyre of old, a natural trader. The ocean may be reached by East River and the Sound, or by the Narrows at Staten Island and Sandy Hook to the south, and nothing gives a better idea of the vast commerce of New York than a view of the thousands of strange crafts from the staunch ocean steamer to the rude barge or the lively conseited tug hurrying hither and thither in every direction — Nor are the interests of pleasure forgotten for thousands of citizens are hurrying out to sea side resorts away from the sweltering heat, while trim little white sailed yachts are scudding before the wind bearing their wealthy owners away in search of health and more ease. The Jersey, at the Pennsylvania or N. Y. Central depot, the runs on Broadway about 11 a.m., and 6 p.m., the clamor on Wall Street Stock Board, the roar of engines, tugs and steamers, the rattle of cabs and stages, and the confused Babel of medley sounds, all bespeak the busy and varied life of a great and bustling centre of trade. I cannot pretend to have mastered the traffic or topography of the city in a visit of three days, and I shall hold myself open to correction in many points. Never theless I will endeavor to explain the location of the streets, then point out some of the prominent buildings from a convenient summit, and after-ward visit a few attractions which I may not be able to describe sufficiently en passant. The passenger by the Pennsylvania is ferried speedily over from the Jersey City depot to Courtland street, and a few steps along this will bring him to the Merchant's Hotel, where he may safely register his name to secure comfortable quarters. A few steps farther will bring him to Broadway, opposite the post office, where he will find street cars waiting to take him in any direction along the avenues and side streets or omnibuses to take him up Broadway itself. The passenger by the N. Y. Central is landed at the Grand Central Station, on Fourth Avenue, convenient to the business portion of the city, which may be easily reached by the street cars.—These may well be used by the tourist as soon as he has mastered their various routes, and they will be found less crowded than the omnibuses. Several times in the course of the day the President calls the members to order to announce the ruling quotations and then a general auction ensues, during which the speculator who has made or marred a fortune has time to conceal his exultation or despair. The same general features mark the operations on the Gold Board just around the corner, but to the uninitiated the management of a "corner," with the "bearing," or "bulling" of stocks is a hidden mystery. How changed manners and morals from the days when a "wall" of defence from the East the to North River was actually required to protect the struggling settlers from their savage neighbors on the northern parts of the island! Near to Wall street the noble structure erected by the Equitable Life Assurance Society shows the extent to which the Americans use this precaution against disagreeable contingencies. One would be surprised to find how many of these who occupy marble offices on Broadway and brown stone fronts on Fourth Avenue leave their families dependent upon the proceeds of [illegible] north of the last, must represent its brain centre, or at least one of the ganglionic nerve centres of which anatomists tell us That is the head-quarters of the Western Union Telegraph Company, whose touch often sets the pulses of trades throbbing violently. In the basement ordinary messages are received and transmitted to an upper story through a pneumatic tube. The messages from the city branch offices are shot into this room in the same way, and boys are busy uncoiling the slips of paper from the inside of cylindrical cups about four inches long and two across. These cyps make a peculiar click as they pass a small opening in the close fitting pneumatic tube, and are immediately released by the pressure of a lever in the hands of the recipient. There are here relays and machines of about every pattern for repeating and transmitting messages, and the noise of their working is like the roar of distant thunder. Among the gliphabetic machines several pertorate the long, narrow strips of paper with the letter of the message ready for delivery. Duplex machines for sending and receiving messages by the same wire are in common use, and I understand that the power of this invention has recently been increased four fold by the use of ground wires and other ingenious appliances. In the garret I saw 11,000 batteries of very simple construction, and several workmen found constant employment in cleaning these out in rotation by means of a stream of water supplied by hose from the water works. The glass cups of the batteries were about the size of patent pail, and in these were suspended a carbon and a zinc plate upon which the blue vitrol (copper sulphate) disolved in water acted as required. Only the heavier work is done by men, and of the 150 operators ladies from the large majority. Nearer to us the grave aspect of old St Pauls and its brown spire seem to reprove the costly grandeur and the magnificent neighbor the new Post Office. The latter is a most convenient and elegant pile facing by its southern front one of the busiest spots in the city at the meeting of Broadway and Park Row. The history of its erection is as full of extortion and peculation as that of its gorgeous neighbor the City Hall. Of the latter it is said the carpets cost enough to furnish the whole city area with the best Brussels, and the man who received the contract for putting a pane of glass in the City Hall expected to make his fortune by the "extras." No wonder both are so one knows how many millions, and that Conoly, Tweed and others of the Tammany Ring had to be repudiated by the Democratic party.

Lest I should fall into the error which I committed last week, in giving you too much at once, I will just ask you, dear readers, to wait for me at the City Hall, and I will call around and take up our ramble just from that point. One more excursion about New York, and then—Ho for the Centennial, with your voluble guide.

A BEATUIFUL IDEA.

It cannot be that this earth is man's only abiding place; it cannot be that our life is a bubble, cast up by the ocean of eternity to float for a moment on its waves, then sink into nothingness. Else why is it that the glorious aspirations which leap like an angel from the temple of our hearts are forever wandering about unsatisfied? Why is it that the rainbow and clouds come over us with a beauty that is not of earth, and then pass off and leave us to muse upon their faded loveliness? Why is it that the stars which hold their festivals around the midnight throne are set so far above the grasp of our limited faculties, for ever mocking us with their unapproachable glory? And finally, why is it that the bright forms of human beauty are presented to our view but for a moment and then taken from us, leaving the thousand streams of affections to flow back to Alpine torrents upon our hearts. We are born for a higher destiny than that of death; there is a realm where the rainbow never fades—where the stars will be spread out before us like the islets that slumber on the ocean and where the beautiful beings that here pass before us like shadows, will stop in our presence forever.—Anonymous.

PETERBOROUGH, NOV., 2, 1876.

THE FATHER OF CONFEDERATION.

The ancestral line of Confederation is troubling the peace and quiet of our dear Town neighbor. To his mind he has proved that John A., the chieftan, the man of clean hands, is the veritable parent of the great Dominion. This one thing is certain, he is the veritable parent of its shame and disgrace. But as to the genuine parentage, the Review quotes from the Mail to prove that John A. i.e. Sir John, is the parent of it, because George Brown left the coalition before its manhood. Well this may be the true idea of a parent, one who cherishes to maturity. Taking even this definition, John A, that is Sir John, cannot be considered the parent, for he was forced to retire before he nourished the tender offspring to a six-year-old. He managed it in the fourth year, when a more skilful nurse had to be sought for it. The Mail quotations however don't go far enough back, they only go back to the coalition to mature the Confederation scheme, for which Mr. Brown agreed to enter the Government for a season. Will the Review tell its readers the cause of John A. and George Brown forgetting their past differences for the period referred to? Was it not because of a dead lock in the public business and because George Brown sought for some remedy for the political evils that were crushing Upper Canada, while Lower Canada was sucking the life's blood of the western and more wealthy Province, and this too with the consent of John A. Macdonald who consented to rob Upper Canada to bribe Lower Canada. George Brown sought for representative institutions and personal control of Local affairs as a remedy for those evils. John A. Macdonald denied them any redress, and hence the confederation scheme advocated and shaped by the Hon. George Brown and his friends in the coalition. It was after it had been completed that Mr. Brown left the Government, as he stipulated on going in, that parties would return to their former status. But Sir John with an eye to the spoils, bribed Willie MacDougall, Mr. Howland, Aitkins and others by fair promises, and induced them ot remain in the Government and thus thwart the man he so much dreaded. He succeeded in the latter object at a fearful sacrifice of principal, but the recoil of public opinion was soon so terrible that he had to retire. How then can he in any sense be said to be the "father of Confederation"? but he truly may be called the "father of the Pacific Scandal" and all the little urchins that that fearful folly brought in its train. He is truly the father of Canadian shame.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

News from the East is more exciting than usual. The Turks gained decided advantages in their late contest. These advantages induce them to protract negotiations, and in the meantime push forward as fast as possible in gaining footholds in the fortresses of Morava slopes leading to Servia, with a view to having a better base of action at the conclusion of any armistice that may be agreed upon. To prevent Turkish success, Russia it is said has placed her ultimatum in the hands of the Turkish Government, and in consequence a six weeks armistice has been agreed upon by the Porte. The English suggestion for a conference of the Powers is likely to be adopted, Turkey not to be in the conference. Turkey has been forced to accept the Russian ultimatum in the matter of the Armistice, if late telegrams are to be relied on. The object Russia has in view is to checkmate any advantage gained by the late battles.

Servia intends continuing the struggle to the end, whatever that may mean. Changes are anticipated in the Turkish ministry that may avert further loss of life, unless the ambitions of some of the Powers prevent wise counsels prevailing. The uncertain state of this eastern question has caused a decline in Stock in England, but after all, this is no destruction of either peace or protracted war.

M. Graham is selling his Groceries at prices to suit them.

THE MARKETS.

There is almost a lull in politics. The chief combatants are gone to their corners, awaiting an opportune time to renew the combat. The parliament of the provinces and of the commons will not be long till they meet, and then will be looked for the beginning of the great struggle for ascendency. Sir John wants to be re-instated and allowed to indulge in his old feats of statesmanship, but he will not realise his wishes this session, nor yet another. The opportunity, the golden one, has not yet arrived, nor is it possible for a few years to come.

The Lincoln election case is relieving the ennui a little. As the scrutiny proceeds the most unheard of schemes and plans to carry the election, are being unearthed. Mr. Rykert it appears actually copied the revised voters list for St. Catharines, and in such a case it is easy to imagine what freaks he might be induced to make to secure his objects.

Outside of that, however, there were agencies enough at work to destroy the moral influence of the best men in the Conservative party in Lincoln; Mr. Rykert's own servants, hotel-keepers, and hangers-on innumerable, were at work doing all in their power to bribe simple-minded colored people whose pockets were low and wants numerous. Young men were put on the voters lists whose income had never been $400 a year, and when the time came round, their taxes were paid by Mr. Rykert's friends.

It is more than strange how many were influenced by such doings. Mr. Rykert was sufficient for all, so long as he could find the means to satisfy the impecunious. The pity is that the very law that re- not still exist, and a second time disqualify him, for it will not add to the honor or respectability of his party to have him return to the House on any conditions.

He that Doubteth, Etc.

We believe we are safe in saying that one of our town newspapers is controlled by a man who doubteth the Good Book, and who delights to have a "fling" at the "ignorant and cruel Jews," and at the "Mosaic Spirit, etc." It may please men of small minds and of narrow intellects to scoff at THE BOOK of Books, and by doing so they may fancy they are making themselves heroes. Notwithstanding the word of "truth" standeth sure, and the Lord will hold "Scoffers in derision." But an infidel newspaper in Peterboro: What do ye think of that, Christian people? No wonder Mayor Toole trembles.

RYKERT'S SCRAP BOOK.

The Lincoln Election case is revealing several scraps of importance from Mr. Rykert's new book. The most unblushing cases of bribery, wholesale purchasing of votes, treating and general corrupt practices prevailed to an alarming extent, and, were it not for late legislation, Mr. Rykert would be again disqualified. Should he by any means obtain a seat in the Legislature, it will be a lasting disgrace to the people of Lincoln and of Ontario.

Dummer and Douro Agricultural Show.

The Fall Exhibition of the Dummer & Douro Agricultural Society was held in the Agricultural Hall Warsaw, on 5th of October. The Exhibition though in many respects inferior to those of former years, was fully as good as the officers anticipated, the excessive drought and heat telling most unfavourably in roots and later sown grains. The annual dinner was served by Mr. Myers of the Union Hotel, and was got up in a style that reflected the greatest credit upon the house. The following is the Prize List.

Mr. R. Hagarty was awarded first prize for professional painting, and Miss Noble first and second prize for amateur oil painting, any subject.

A protest from Mr. A. Choate, against John Greer, of Cavan, for exhibiting a fraudulent bag of wheat, was considered, and the following resolution adopted:—

"That John Greer's prizes be forfeited, that he be debarred from exhibiting for three years, and that his name be published."

Objections having been made to certain premiums awarded to John Heaslip, Robt. Scarf, Paul Oke and Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, it was resolved that the prizes be withheld unless they make an affidavit to the effect that their entries are in conformity with the printed rules.

The extra entries were then taken up and considered, and prizes awarded as follows:—

LITERARY.

New Dominion Monthly.—This popular Magazine is to hand for November, and contains a great deal of interesting and useful reading matter. It contains sketches from Canadian History, the story, "Tecumseth Hall," by the author of "Gipsy's Governess," etc., "Foot Prints," by the author of "The Holy Land," and a large amount of suitable reading matter for families. This is one of the best magazines published. It is published by John Dougall & Son, Montreal, at $1.50 per annum or 15 cents per copy.

Ballou's Magazine.—The November number of this Magazine is issued, and a capital number it is in all respects. The illustrations are fine, and the reading matter is equal to any published in any monthly magazine in the country. Each number contains a Sea Story, Domestic Stories, Adventures, Poetry, and a Children's Department. In the latter can be found that remarkable story by M. Quad, the great humorist, called "That Taylor Boy," which will be continued in the December number. It is published by Thomes & Talbot, 23 Hawkly Street, Boston, and is for sale in nearly all bookstores.

FIRE.—On Sunday last a very destructive fire took place at White's Island Rice Lake, by which two Houses the property of Mr. Omer have been destroyed. The property consisted of two houses, one a sleeping house, and the other an eating house, fitted up for the accomodation of American Tourists, the fire commenced in the eating house but the two buildings were soon enveloped in flames, about two thirds of the furniture was saved but the two buildings were totally destroyed, we understand the property was insured for about $300.

We had heard some time ago that Mrs. Drummond was in a dangerous state we are sorry to hear that she died on Sunday last, to the great grief of a very large circle of relations and friends. She was a sister of James Millar Esq., the respected Reeve of the Township. The funeral took place at Keene on Tuesday and was very largely attended.

"DAN TO BEERSHEA."—The great English Humourist Thackary once wrote a 'Journey from Cornhill to Grand Cairo,' perhaps somebody will writes a similar work a "Journey from Keene to Lakefield by way of the North Pole." A Traveller from this place a short time ago was asking his way to Lakefield which "mine host" undertook to give him, and to make his directions plainer he made a rough map of the route. The Traveller has not since been heard of, and mine host thinks he may have gone wrong, as on attempting the journey himself, a few days afterwards, he wisely determined to return. Should any one meet with the Traveller who probably may be wandering in the Arctic Regions, we should like to trade for that map, with an eye to its improveing, we took upon the matter but could do nothing with him, as he insisted that he had drawn the map all right, but might have turned it the wrong way."

ENNISMORE.

—From our own Correspondent.

The Root crop now gathered in is not so bad as was expected during the dry weather in summer, they will be about a two third crop.

A farmer's Grange is now fully organized on our western Boundary for the east side of the Township of Emily, and the west side of this Township, however severely we may criticise any body of men forming themselves into a Society in antagonism to the country at large. Still when circumstances for mutal protection or individual benefit causes them so to unite we must after considering all things camely not be too hastey in an opinion no doubt circumstances combined, causes farmers to consult with each other, whither by any lawful means they can find a remedy for such acts as those lately passe, by the council of the Town of Peterboro'd compelling the farmers to go to the market and pay Toll on all their course grain, not having the privilege of selling all at once, and delivering when convenient as formerly, as by the late decision in your Police Court, this is evadeing the market, consequently although all sold at once the farmer must go and pay his Toll By the establishment of granges farmers can meet such acts on equitable ground.

COBOURG.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A telegram from Cobourg says:—"A man named Wm Platt met with an accident in Haldimand on Wednesday last, which resulted in his instant death. He had been to a neighbor's for a load straw, and when coming down a steep hill the load was tipped and he was thrown off against the fence, when a stake penetrated his neck, severing the cartorid artery, causing instant death. The body was conveyed by the neighbors to his parents in Trenton."—Intelligencer.

FIRE.—On Thursday night of last week, the Fire Brigade turned out in response to an alarm, and found that a stack, the property of Mr. Joseph Stevenson, V. S., in the East Ward, was in flames. The stack was in a vacant lot, in rear of the new residence of Judge Boswell, on King Street; and from its position, and the circumstances of the burning it was evidently fired by an incendiary, it was entirely consumed.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Saturday night last the wife of Mr. N. Jewell was found dead at the foot of the stairs in her house on D'Arcy Street, East ward. The medical opinions was to the effect that death resulted from apoplexy; and it was decided that an inquest was not required.

NORWOOD.

BEARS.—Our neighboring townships Belmont, Methune and Dummer, are reported to be pretty thickly populated with bears this season, and are doing mischief among the sheep and cattle of the farmers in these places. A few nights ago, a well developed bruin entered the yard of Mr. David Burgess, of Belmont, and partly drew behind the carcass of a large hive of honey. Mr. Burgess, on missing the honey and knowing the nature of his nocturnal visitor, determined to play sharp on his bearship, and accordingly, on the following night, placed lighted a candle on the hive, to guard the remaining contents; but the solitary light didn't scare old bruin worth a cent. He paid no attention to the nautical, quietly opened the hive, and finished the honey, and then departed in peace, feeling thankful no doubt for the thoughtfulness of the kind gentleman in providing him light for his lunch. We have heard of a number of bear hunts in our neighborhood, but of no capture.

LINDSAY.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE M. E. CHURCH.—Extensive improvements have for some weeks past been going on in the Methodist Episcopal church, Pool st., under the direction of the pastor, Rev. B. L Hinton. The building has been raised a dozen feet, and a basement the full size of the church with a height of eight feet is being constructed. A large gallery capable of seating about one hundred persons is being placed in the church, and the entire building is undergoing thorough renovation and painting. The enlargement has been found necessary owing to a rapidly increasing congregation, mainly due to the energy of the pastor. The basement will be ready for occupation by the 5th prox., but the church will not be ready for some weeks later.

BAULKY.—For three successive days a Peterboro man has endeavored to drive home but when he gets a mile or so from Lindsay his horse goes to work methodically and smashes the buggy. Wether the horse is in league with Lindsay waggon-makers, or, having never had a decent feed until he tasted Lindsay oats and is therefore determined not to leave them, is as yet undecided. Peterborgers should keep better horses and feed them more.

A GOOD PLAN.—When any one is run over in St. Petersburg the carriage causing the accident is confiscated, the horses are taken to the fire brigade for public use and the driver is imprisoned and flogged.

FOR HER O'KEEFES.—According to a newspaper paragraph there is a fortune of $24 000,000 for the O'Keefes, to be had by addressing Geo. Carrington and Wm. Guigley, barristers, Calcutta, and proving relationship with one Charles O'Keefe, late of Allahabad, India. What do our friends in Ops say about it? If they can substantiate a claim for the whole or even half we shall expect a million or two for this paragraph.

Mr. Snyder of Peterboro' will this winter remove his mill from Astberly to Hog Bay situate on the Midland Railway between Waubaushene and Midland city, and increase its capacity to 50,000 ft daily. The change he says will be a saving of 75 cts. on every 1,000 ft of lumber he can cut. He is about commencing operation in the woods of Digby.—Post.

AMONG THE TOMBS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In the last number of the Review, I see a short communication from the pen of B. A., who is so well known in this community, on Sepulchral Monuments. I know it is difficult for a man of his erudition, refinement and taste for the beautiful in art, to refrain from writing when he sees or even imagines that he sees the Stone Mason take the place of the Sculptor, or when the relatives of departed ones relegate to the Mason their tastes and designs for ornamentation. It is a matter for sincere congratulation to the whole community that we have in our midst a gentleman of such refined and cultivated tastes. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, if his sense of the beautiful should be offended as he reviewed the relics of barbaric ages hoisted aloft on monuments to the memory of Christian friends. Alas! alas! what a rude uncultivated age we live in. How deeply affected he must have felt, and how sadly mournful must his meditations have become as he roamed among the dwellings of the dead. The very thought that Stone Masons were now forming the tastes and directing the designs of art in the matter of memorial stones for dear departed relatives was enough to vex him more and more, and to drive him to the columns of the newspaper to correct those tastes by offering his matured suggestions. What small things disturb the peace and rest of great minds? An Urn on a monument in a grave yard is sufficient to suffuse his eyes with tears and cause his heart to melt with sorrow. And yet after all this what is there, now, in an Urn? Simply nothing but an ornamentation, unless when superstition makes it more.

Is it not much to be regretted that B. A. could not see this, and avoid raising a question of no importance to either the living or the dead?

His remarks, he says, are suggestive, nothing more. It is needless to say that they suggest very bad taste in the writer, in singling out particular monuments as indicative of bad taste and as relics of paganism.

They are suggestive also of his desire to secure memorial devices, which a superstition has almost deified. Simple, beautiful and appropriate, though a Latin Cross may be, how many of the human race have made it almost, if not altogether, an object of worship—placing as much, nay more confidence—or faith if he will, in it, than they do in the atonement made upon it. Yet he is willing, nay suggests, that this object of adoration should be introduced into our Cemeteries where the tender hearted and sorrowing often resort, and where it might become the means of extending this cruciolatry. And what a monotonous appearance a whole grave yard would assume if no object but a Latin Cross were visible?

The form or design of a monument for B. A. will require to be peculiar, if it but indicate his hopes or characteristics of mind. I dare not suggest one, for fancy would run wild in the attempt. I might, sir, suggest with your permission, that he, during the future of his mundane history, trouble not his soul with other men's matters. For his suggestions, I am sure, will have no more weight with the living in shaping tombstones than his preaching has upon the lives of those who hear him, or read his lucubrations in the newspapers.

"O, wad some power the gifte gie him, etc."

I am, yours, &c.,

A. B.
